JULY 5.

The arrivals from sea during the last week will be found under our Shipping head. By the American Ship Atlas, from Penang the 3d of June, we have received the Journals of that Island, from which we have extracted the nautical intelligence which they afford. Sir THOMAS RAFFLES on the Indiana, and a small fleet of transports, with three Companies of Native Infantry, had proceeded from Penang for Singapore. Accounts had reached Penang of the prevalence of a destructive fever at Malacca. We have, as usual, made such extracts as have been supplied to us by the Madras and Bombay Journals, but they contain little intelligence of a local nature—and the European news, has been anticipated here by the arrival of the Waterloo.

The Supreme Court has been occupied the whole of the last week, Monday and Thursday excepted, with the trial of felonies and misdemeanors. Several persons have been convicted of Forgeries; and a native man and woman have been found guilty of an assault, accompanied by circumstances of peculiar cruelty and atrocity.

NAUTICAL NOTICES.

Isle of France. By the arrival of the Anglica from this place, we regret to state that accounts have been brought of the loss of a Dutch 74 Gun ship homeward bound with an Admiral on board near Diego Garcia; the Admiral and most of the crew had reached the Isle of France in an American Brig.

The Honorable Company's ship General Hewitt, from Ceylon had put in with the loss of her rudder.

Much bad weather had been experienced in the vicinity of these Islands during March and April.

The Endeavour Grab Brig, who sailed from Bombay in December last, laden with Cotton, had not yet arrived; it is supposed she foundered in the hurricane, in the beginning of March.

His Majesty's Ship Liverpool remained alone on that station. The Magiciene having proceeded to Europe.

The following is an extract of a letter from the agents to Lloyd's at Batavia, dated September 2:—

"We enclose an extract from the log of an American ship lately arrived here. Describing the situation of a rock seen on the passage from Baltimore, supposed to be the Telemachus rock, the existence of which was doubtful. The situation, if accurately laid down, is extremely dangerous, being directly in the track of ships running down their coasting."

Extract from the log of the ship United State, of Baltimore, Sherbail Wilkinson, commandér, from Baltimore, to Batavia, July, 20, 1819:—At 1 p.m., passed a rock within 50 yards, about 6 feet above the level of the sea. We plainly saw the shells and small stones in the holes of the rock when the sea left it: it is about the size of a large ship's hull, and not perceivable till on the top of it; the ship at that time was going 11 knots by the log. I just had time to hullo to clear it. I supposed to be that called the Telemachus Rock, to lie down in 33. 50. S., but by four observations, with good instruments, we found it to be in 33. 12. S., and by the run afterwards to St. Paul's, to be in 29. 00. E. from the Meridian of London.

(Signed) "SHERBAIL WILKINSON, Commander.

The Charles Grant, on her Voyage to this place ascertained the Latitude and Longitude of Juan de Nova to be 10.11 S. and Longitude 50.54 E. and bearing from Cape Amber N. E. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. 140 miles.

The Castlereagh, of this port who proceeded on her Voyage to China, on the 1st, returned back on the 1th.

The Free Traders Waterloo, John Taylor, Hyperion and Cerberus. The America, L'aimble Peggy, and several other ships are under sailing orders, and only await the springs.

The (Free-Trader) Stakesby, Captain William Henderson, from the Downs the 12th of February, anchored in the Harbour late yesterday evening, the Passengers by this opportunity are Lieut. Robinson, R. N. Mrs. Robinson, Mr. Martin, Asst. Surgeon, and Mr. D. Victor, Cadet. She brings but few Letters and from the late hour of her arrival, we were not fortunate enough to get a single paper of any kind.

Madras

The Indiamen have brought a very considerable number of Letters which have been in course of delivery since Sunday.

The Richmond sailed on Sunday for England.

Passengers: Mrs. Farren and Child, Mrs. Griffiths, Mrs. Kane and 2 children, Doctor Lloyd, Captains Stace, Read, Halme, and Towell, Lieutenants O'Neill, French, Lawlor, and McGregor, Rev. Mr. Knell and Rev. Mr. Griffiths, Missionaries; Mr. Mayer, Mr. Ipinny, and Master Richie.

The Lady Agent is not expected to sail much before the end of the month.

The Surrey, Captain Aldham, is returning to Madras, and was to leave England about the 20th of March. The Ships Pilot, Captain Owen, Catherine, Capt. Knox, and Surrey, Captain Hurt, are mentioned in the English Papers of the end of February as also coming here—the probable time of their sailing is not stated. The Sappho, which left England before the Indiamen, may be hourly expected.

Bombay.

The Monsoon has set in very mildly, and the indications of its approach, have been by no means so many as usual, a little lowering over the land for a few evenings have been the only ones.

The Rains have fell during the last few days with great violence and our Monsoon may be now stated to have fairly set in.

Gulf of Persia. Reports from this part of the world are often we are convinced fabricated by interested persons for the purpose of misleading the public mind. Several rumours are now in circulation of a ship having been seen on fire off Cape Rassellhad; and of a ship top gallant mast and sails floating about; which would indicate any thing less than a ship having been burnt.

The Imam is afloat in his new ship and appears to be at last in earnest, as to the final overthrow of the Joosmees and if assisted by us, and the Pacha of Egypt, their reign is drawing to a close. How far we shall aid the Imaum in his scheme of converting these pirates, and bringing them again to the true faith, we cannot be supposed to have any knowledge of; but such we hear are his plans.

Yesterday morning, the Hon'ble Company's cruiser Benares, Captain Batwell, and the private ship Alexander, Captain Rogers, arrived here, from Bushire the 25th May, and Muscat the 3d June. The Hon'ble Company's cruisers Ternate and Vestal were left at Bushire; the ships Francis Warden, Governor Petrie, Sophia and Volunteer at Bussorah; and the Ahmoody, Uday, Bussorah Merchant, Malabar, 5 Arab vessels and 3 of the Imaum's ships at Muscat.

We are happy to confirm the statement that there are no European females whatever in the hands of the pirates; the accounts which were received of there being some in captivity, proved totally unfounded. Two native females, released from captivity at Kasa al Khyma, came passengers in the Benares.

The only news we hear from Persia is the arrival at that Court of M. Mazarowitch, a Russian chargé d'affaires, with two secretaries.

The Asia and Streatham arrived in the river on Saturday, with the Officers and Men of H. M. 11th Regiment of Dragoons. It is said, that these Ships did not touch at any port, after they left England, on the 1st of March. A list of their passengers will be found under the usual head.

It is said to be in contemplation to erect a Cathedral at Chowringhee, and that plans of the intended edifice are in a state of preparation. We are not, however, accurately informed, whether the measure has yet been determined, in the quarter whence the intention originated;—and the rumours respecting the fund, which is to defray the expense of the building, are at present so vague, that we shall not venture to publish them. Should a Cathedral be erected, we trust that in point of scale and design, it will resemble similar edifices in the Mother Country, so far as may be consistent with the climate of India.

Sir THOMAS HISLOP reached Madras on the 28th ultimo. The Pilot Vessel Eliza which conveyed His Excellency, has arrived in the river, having left Madras the 2d instant.

PRESENTMENT

OF THE GRAND JURY, FOR THE THIRD SESSIONS
OF 1819.

To the Hon'ble Sir Edward Hyde East, Chief Justice, and the other Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature, at Fort William in Bengal.

Previously to their discharge, the Grand Jury are desirous of submitting for the consideration of the court, the sentiments with which they have been impressed, by a careful attention to the various cases which have come before them at the present sessions.

The jury have derived considerable gratification in perceiving, that although the calendar presented an unusual number of offences, few of them were of a heinous nature, and that in the solitary charge of murder, therein recorded, the accused party was not, properly speaking, domiciled in Calcutta.

While, however, the jury have thus had less duty of a painful nature to perform, than has occurred in many previous sessions, they have observed with much regret, an augmentation in the lesser crimes of theft and fraud.

The Grand Jury have noticed with sentiments of deep concern, the various cases of forgery brought forward in the present sessions—forgery of the most aggravated description, commenced by the parties, with the deliberate intention of supporting, by perjury, acts of fraud, and extortion against the most helpless part of the community; and it is on record that they frequently obtain their iniquitous end by means of such perjury, through the process of a court of justice.

The jury apprehend that the crime above alluded to has been carried to a considerable extent. It would seem that the constitution of the Court of Requests, where so many and various causes are daily decided, is inadequate to prevent the combinations of deliberate and complicated villany, which it is feared, are but partially represented in the calender of the present sessions.

If it should appear, on inquiry, that one cause of the evil above noticed, exists in the multiplicity of business in the Court of Requests, rendering it impracticable for the commissioners minutely to investigate each particular case, and that the present number of commissioners is insufficient for that purpose, the jury would suggest an increase of their number.

The jury are of opinion, that if the commissioners of the Court of Requests, were armed with a power of instantly committing for trial such deliberate and hardy miscreants, as dare to clothe their iniquitous acts of forgery and perjury, with the authority of that court, a judicious use of such delegated power might tend to prevent similar delinquencies.

The jury concur in opinion with the Hon'ble and learned Judge, from whom they received their charge at the opening of the sessions, in believing that the crime of forgery would be more effectually prevented, were the penalty of the offence, either hard labour, or solitary confinement for a limited period, instead of transportation. And the jury are also of opinion, that the fundamental principles of justice require, that no criminal should in any manner reap the benefit of property, nefariously acquired, which is unavoidable, under the present mode of punishment by transportation.

The latest accounts from England encourage the expectation that a revision of the criminal code, especially as relating to forgery, will soon take place: lest, however, that revision should not be extended to this country, the jury would beg to suggest, that a communication be now made on this subject to the proper authorities at home.

The Grand Jury respectfully submit to the consideration of the court, these observations, regretting however, that the necessary occupation of their time, with the numerous cases contained in the calender of the present sessions, has not enabled them to deliberate more maturely upon the subject.

For and on behalf of the Grand Jury, by their Foreman, (Signed) J. MACKILLOP.

Calcutta; 3d July, 1819.

The notes of an intelligent correspondent, to whom we have been indebted on a former occasion, have enabled us to give a rapid sketch of the present appearance of the celebrated city of Jeypoor. The Rajah JAY SING is well known for having been a great encourager of European science, and it is mentioned at Jeypoor, that the plan of the city was laid out by an Italian who had gone thither in his early youth, and who was specially sent by the Rajah to Europe to be instructed in the knowledge of the arts and sciences necessary for the completion of his plans. The Italian was amply supplied with the means of obtaining every sort of information, and after several years, returned to Jeypoor. It is added, to his honor, that he brought back with him a very considerable portion of the money that had been advanced to him, and that he died in the City which his talents and ingenuity had principally formed. It is possible that this story may not be correct in every particular, but it is certain that the arrangement of the buildings and streets of Jeypoor is superior to the genius of a Rajpoot, or any other native of India. In 1779 Jeypoor became the refuge and sanctuary of Hindoo learning, and it was from thence that Colonel POLIER procured the first complete copy of the Vedas, which he afterwards presented to the British Museum. The manner in which they were obtained is related in the memoir of that distinguished character published in our paper of the 22d of January 1818. Don PEDRO DE SILVA, was, at that time, Physician to the Rajah, and many other Europeans were entertained at Court for the cultivation of scientific pursuits. With such a disposition, there can be little doubt that the Rajah availed himself of European taste and skill, for the purpose of improving and embellishing his city. The liberality and magnificence of his patronage seem to diffuse over the period in which he reigned, though in an inferior degree, the charm which gave importance to that of AUGUSTUS.

The annexed account is the result of a very short visit to the splendid capital of the Rajpoots.

The city of Jeypoor is enclosed on three sides by hills of a moderate height, surmounted with several Forts and other works, but at such a distance from the town as not to afford it much protection. The hills, though apparently destitute of verdure, have with their white Forts a very pretty aspect; the town has also a good and lofty wall of stone, and the gate are double, with large open courts between. To the west the city is open, with the exception of the wall, but here are several old castle-like Forts, by which the plain is overlooked and commanded. As these fortifications are frequently met with in Rajpootana, they do not denote the vicinity of a Royal Residence, nor does any thing else in the neighbourhood—the few villages scattered about, having the usual appearance of meanness and poverty, and the country is particularly desolate and unpleasant from its deep sand, a belt of which seems to encircle Jeypoor to the extent of three or four kos. On first entering the city by the western or Ajmer gate, the breadth of the street as well as the apparent regularity with which the houses have been built, excites some surprise, but here, as in all the outer parts, much ruin prevails.—It is not until we reach the main street or Chouk, that the extraordinary beauty of Jeypoor strikes the stranger, as much with delight, as with the utmost astonishment, to behold an Asiatic city so agreeably different to all he has seen before. Instead of narrow miserable streets across which as at Benares and elsewhere, one might almost leap, and large houses crowded with the filthy huts, here is one which for extent, width, and regularity, might be considered noble in any part of Europe. It is two* miles long, with a breadth of between 90 feet. The houses from end to end on either side have the most exact and pleasing uniformity, except at the corners, where other streets run into this, and here, in some places are the Rajpoot Temples, and in other situation ornamented cupola-building opposing each other, which give a gay and tasteful variety to the scene.

This Chouk is wholly a series of shops or ware-houses, and the buildings are confined to the ground floor, but above them rises a sort of balustrade, or open screen, of fretwork masonry, and this again is crowned by very pretty light turrets. The whole is white, and the general effect singularly beautiful. It is somewhat in decay towards the extreme ends of the street, where the population, as in the suburbs, generally had become scanty, from the miseries suffered in this country, but already are repairs in several quarters carrying on. From the Palace, which forms apparently almost an entire quarter of the city, rises a lofty minar of a very elegant form, overlooking the Chouk, into which run other streets of almost equal width to that already described, regularly meeting each other at a central point, where the Chouk forms several squares, and in the middle of these, are large Reservoirs of masonry, now dry, as also the channel of the canal running through the City by which they were formerly supplied. The works however appear throughout in the most excellent order, and add greatly, even without water, to the beauty of the City, which, it may be here observed, presents a rare and most pleasing appearance of cleanliness. The Chowringhee-road is not neater, and when a street of nearly the same length, perhaps of greater breadth, and the most pleasing uniformity in its buildings, is brought before the eye, accustomed in other Asiatic Cities to all that is disagreeably the reverse in every respect, the very powerful and lively effect of the contrast may be easily conceived. There is one drawback to this in the number of little temporary sheds for the sale of goods in the very centre of the streets; they are of wood, or the common grass reed (surpui) and also abound in the squares, where they are covered over with white cloth and filled up with bales of goods, like a large Fair. Although the eye is somewhat hurt by this Indian custom, the space is so ample that no inconvenience arises from it, while it gives a busy trading character to the city, and affords protection to the inhabitants from the sun. The Temples are of stone and in them the most elaborate curious workmanship is thrown away on figures, without taste or proportion; yet take these buildings altogether, viewing them from a little distance, their forms, though somewhat grotesque, are by no means destitute of beauty. They would be gladly adapted to give an Oriental feature to an European park. The ringing of their bells in the evening, the cries of the wandering traders, and the hum of the busy multitude collected in the Chouk, with the display of all sorts of merchandize, from the gay kinkhab, to the musk melon, (of which the neighbouring sandy plains give great abundance), form with the pleasing situation a most lively picture. The gates only of the Palace present themselves to the streets, (with the exception of one building,) and the interior could not at this time be seen. The Palace is said to possess within itself spacious tanks, groves, &c. and to have many buildings of fine white marble—that just alluded to, is the Hawakhana. Intention or imagination has given it the form of a peacock's tail, full spread, and certainly looking for such a conceit it comes home to the eye without much exertion of fancy.—It is a pretty light building, but has no character of magnificence, abounds in little windows, seeming to mark the gaudy spots of the tail, and is crowned with small gilt spires, &c.—The rooms must be very narrow, as one can from the street almost see through them.

This fine extensive city, once the great mart between Delhi and the south of India, has a vast number of large houses very superior to what is commonly seen among natives, yet not without the faults they usually display; such as low rooms, small windows, &c. But to this there are exceptions, and throughout Jeypoor, there prevails a comfortable cleanliness, and a taste so striking in its plan and style of decoration, that the stranger involuntarily, when he reaches its interior, stops to gaze with the most agreeable satisfaction and surprise.—Though all without has a cheerless desert wildness, here all is life and bustle; and the Bazar appears to be excellently provided. Considering the many miseries to which this city must have been subject, during the long period MEER KHAN was encamped near it, and possessed in effect the whole province, its present appearance may be just cause for wonder.—The place where the Chief just mentioned breached a wall, running from the town up the hills to the Fort, is observable from the new work by which it is filled up. At the distance of six or seven miles from Jeypoor is the Rajah's Country Palace of Amber, said to be very beautiful; but as the interior could not be seen at this period we did not go so far. The country between Ajmeer and Jeypoor has all that cheerless, half desolate aspect, common to Rajpootana, but that its state is already greatly improved must be evident to every observer. Few Villages now are seen in total ruin; much cultivation prevails in parts, and the traveller falls in occasionally with passengers and loaded cattle, which was by no means the case fifteen months ago. Ajmeer is certainly a more agreeable province than Jeypoor. It is not so sandy, the towns and villages appear to have suffered less, and fine groves with pieces of water are often met with, refreshing the heart and eye. The near cantonment Husseerabad (the British "local habitation" with "a name") has already within a few months assumed its proper form, by dint of the most preserving exertion, for shelter, and this it abundantly exhibits in all the varieties of taste and fancy. The cantonment is about eight miles from Jeypoor. The situation is high, and promises to be very healthy, and indeed it has hitherto been so. At a distance rise the hills of Ajmeer, near which the first British Ambassador had his presentation.

NAPAI.—Accounts from the Residency at Katmaulloo, in Napaul, dated the 24th ultimo, inform us that the earthquake, felt here on the 16th June, was also experienced in the valley of Napaul, and continued for some time. The cholera had appeared there, although from the climate of the happy valley, we should expect that it would be as much exempted from the visitation of this dreadful scourge, as the Eastern Montebler, upon the Nilgherry mountains. Only two cases, however, had occurred at the Residency, one of which proved fatal. The rains had not commenced in the Napaul country, although their setting in had been expected before.

The Dianna and Samarang of this port arrived at Liverpool on the 5th and 8th February; the former ship left Bombay on the 31st of August, the latter on the 11th of October.—The Victory who left the same day, was spoken off the Start, by the Stakesby on the 18th February. The Thomson, bound to this port, was also spoken with on the 20th of March in Lat. 1° N and 17° W.

The ships under dispatch, as noticed in our last number, proceeded to sea on Thursday, Friday and Saturday; the weather being unusually favorable, they all got clear without much difficulty. Many other ships are loading for various parts of the world, but no departure can be calculated on until the 20th or 21st.

The Barkworth, is under dispatch for England, and will sail tomorrow if the weather should be favorable. On the next springs some of our ships will sail for China, and other for Bengal.

When our paper went to the press, a Ketch was off the Harbour, which we suppose to be the Mira, Skene, from the Isle of France.

Madras

To the Editor of the Madras Gazette.

SIR,

I take the liberty of transmitting to you the annexed report of an analysis of a Chalybeate Mineral Water, taken from a Well, situated in the Cantonment of Bangalore.

One Pint of 28,875 Cubic Inches contains,

Carbonate of Lime, an exceeding small quantity,

Carbonate of Iron, 7-10 of a grain,

Muriate of Soda, 2 grains,

The Carbonates of Lime, and Iron, are held in solution by a small quantity of Carbonic Acid.

It immediately occurred to me, that this Water might with facility be rendered a very excellent substitute for the celebrated Cheltenham Water; and be administered with every reasonable expectation of its possessing equal medicinal virtues.

It may not be amiss in the first place to premise that the salts sold in England, and sent out to India, under the Title of "Cheltenham Chalybeate Aperient Salts," are nothing more than direct preparations of Sulphate of Soda (Glauber Salt) and Sulphate of Magnesia (Epsom Salt) respectively. It is further absolutely impossible to prepare Salts from these Waters, which shall retain the Carbonate of Iron.

To prepare the Bangalore Water, add to one Pint, the moment it is taken from the Well; a quarter of an Ounce of Crystallized Epsom Salt. The Water should be drunk at the Well, and care taken that it be not shook; as the Carbonic Acid is liable to become expelled, and the Iron precipitated from its solution.

A fortnight, or three weeks course of this Water, attending to the precautions enjoined at Cheltenham, would, I have little doubt, afford relief to numbers of Valetudinarians, who often having in vain racked the Materia Medica, would be compelled to confess at last that here presides the Hygeian Goddess.

I am, Sir,

Your Obedient Servant,

Madras, 1st June, 1819.

The letters by the Sappho were in course of delivery on Saturday. They were very numerous.

The following Passengers came by the Sappho.

FOR BENGAL:—Mrs Catherine Bruce; Capt. R. R. Bruce, Native Infantry; Mr. P. Stewart, Assistant Surgeon; Messrs. George Carey; and William Glasgow, Cadets.

The Free Trader Nestor, sailed from Deal for Madras at the same time with the Sappho.

The Surrey, Captain Aldham, the Pilot, the Catherine and the Surrey, Hurt, were all expected to leave England in the course of the month of March.

The Troop ship Lady Nugent, will probably get ready to go to Sea about Sunday next. The drafting of the 8th Regiment of Foot is nearly over, and the remainder of that Regiment is expected to embark about the end of the week.

His Majesty's Ship Eden, Captain Loch, arrived Friday last from the Gulph and Bombay. She brings no news that we had not previously obtained through the medium of the Bombay Journals.

His Excellency the Admiral has returned to Trincomalee.

The Euphrates came in on Sunday from Bussorah, and the Malabar Coast—She tried to get into Bombay, but the setting in of the monsoon prevented her.

The Address to the MOST NOBLE THE MARQUIS OF HASTINGS will remain at the Exchange for signature untill the evening of Saturday next, when the book, we hear, will be finally closed.

The two following Resolutions were adopted at the Meeting of the Committee held on the 16th of June.

Resolved:—That the Subscription Book (for the Star) be circulated at the Presidency.

Resolved:—That Signatures or Subscriptions be received by "the Secretary to the Meeting" if properly authorised by Gentlemen to affix their names.

(Signed) A SCOTT, CHAIRMAN.

The Country is greatly in want of rain, every thing is parched up; the state of the atmosphere, which has been cloudy and oppressed for the last few days, gives promise of some heavy showers which will afford great relief.

The Epidemic, we regret to say, is still amongst us.—We lament to add that several Europeans have been attacked by it since our last, and that one or two of the 13th Dragoons just landed, have fallen victims to this dreadful scourge.

Our readers will be pleased to learn that a third series of those popular works, "TALES OF MY LANDLORD" are already in the hands of the Publisher. The next Ships will no doubt furnish us with copies of them. The title is "MONTEGOMERY" and reports speak as loudly in praise of the third series, as of any of the former works of this prolific author.

Bombay.

The most remarkable occurrence of the past week, that we have to record, is a slight shock of an earthquake, which was very perceptibly felt in various parts of this island at about 20 minutes past seven of the evening of Wednesday. The shock did not last above a minute, and caused no damage; indeed the concussion was so slight that many persons did not notice it, and entertain doubts of its having taken place. So many people, residing in different parts of the Island, however, have related that they felt, about the same instant of time, a slight shaking of their dwelling house, accompanied with an unusual tremulous motion of the lamps, that we have no doubt on the subject.

Very little rain has fallen in this neighbourhood for the last ten days, and the cultivators on Salsetty begin to entertain apprehensions for their crops in consequence of this unusual dryness of the season.

We have been favored, with the perusal of a private letter dated Indore 15th May, giving some account of the marriage of His Highness Mulhar Row Holkar to Chanda Bye. The celebration of the marriage ceremony took place on the 3d ultimo, on which occasion the Resident with Sir John Malcolm, accompanied by a number of officers, were present, and made the customary presents to the Maharajah, to his mother Kyrera Bye, and to his two consorts Jejee Bye and Chanda Bye. From the durbar, they accompanied the Maharajah in procession to the bride's mansion, where he retired to a separate apartment in which the marriage rites were performed. The bride being of Rajpoot extraction, and of a higher cast than the bridegroom, a peculiar ceremony was in consequence observed. In Hindoo marriages, it is the custom for the bridegroom to stand on one side of a suspended cloth, the bride being on the other side; upon the Brahmin's clapping his hands, the cloth is dropped and the bride advancing to her husband, throws a garland over his neck, they are then constituted man and wife. But on this occasion, a sword was substituted in the place of the Maharajah, and the bride was formally married to the sword. The signification of this strange ceremony is said to be, that the sword of state prevails over the consideration of cast.

After the Maharajah had returned to the assembly his young bride was brought in, veiled in her bridal attire, and seated by his side. She was between nine and ten years of age, and very good looking and fair, of which she allowed the assembly to judge uncovering her face without any affection of reserve.

The new married couple went from the bride's house, seated on the same elephant, in procession round the city with great pomp and parade, and the ceremony was not terminated till midnight.

On the 7th ultimo the Maharajah gave a marriage entertainment to the Resident, Sir John Malcolm, &c., and this has been succeeded by series of entertainments given daily to the various officers of government, the principal citizens, Brahmins, Marattas, Mussulmans, &c. &c.

JULY 19.

We are not aware of any local intelligence that has reached Calcutta during the last week. The Madras and Bombay Journals are chiefly filled with European extracts. Throughout India, peace and tranquility seem to prevail—and we have neither wars nor rumours of wars. The Pretender of Ceylon appears to be forgotten—and APPA SAHEB is scarcely noticed in the letters of our country correspondents. The particulars of the late Embassy to Acheen have gradually lost their interest: and unless the writer from Penang who seems to be possessed of vast political secrets, shall supply Calcutta with another dissertation on Eastern Policy, there is danger of our losing sight of his brilliant and extended views.—It is also time, that we should hear something more of the new Emporium at Singapore: and learn how far that place is likely to rival the Netherland's Establishments.—The return of the Lieutenant Governor to Bencoolen, will probably produce many subjects of communication to the Journals of India: and the important discoveries made in the interior of Sumatra, cannot fail to afford future information and amusement. These advantages however, rest wholly on expectation: for, as our readers must perceive, these excellent materials for papers yet unpublished, are not in possession.

The discovery of a spring of Chalybeate Mineral Water at Bangalore, is a matter of just congratulation to all who may be within the reach of that delightful station. The excellence of its climate has been long known, and invalids from Madras have been in the constant habit of resorting to Bangalore for change of air, and to avoid the heat of the land winds: now, if to the enjoyment of a mild and salubrious climate, be added the medicinal advantages of the Cheltenham springs, we may expect that Bangalore will soon become a place of resort for many whose constitutions require that relief, which seems to be now attainable without a voyage to Europe. We may add that by the meritorious exertions of Major WAUGH, many European fruits have been brought to a great degree of perfection at Bangalore; and that as his garden, has been purchased by Government, every part of India is likely to benefit by his skill and labours.

To such of our friends as are either afflicted with the Gout, or are apprehensive of hereafter experiencing a visitation from that disorder, we present the following paragraph, which we have taken from a late English paper. We have not seen the article in the Monthly Magazine, but if the writer of it is serious, and correct in his deductions,—a gouty subject, in the climate of Great Britain, has only ‘to abstain from the use of Wine and Cyder—which cannot be said to be any great privation, when he may freely indulge in good eating. It is not stated whether this abstinence will be equally beneficial in the climate of this country.

“Gout.—It is maintained with great confidence, by a writer in the Monthly Magazine for the present month, that gout in this country proceeds from one cause,—the acid of wine or of cider. That good eating is not productive of gout, is proved, he says, by the middling classes, tradesmen, farmers, &c. who eat of animal food plentifully, never having the disease, unless inherited from wine-drinking fathers. That want of exercise does not produce gout, is proved by the sedentary poor, mechanics, tailors, shoemakers, &c. never having the disease:—that exercise, and a spare diet, do not prevent the disease, is proved by its frequency among the peasantry in the cider countries. Many gentlemen of gouty constitutions have subdued the disease, by abstaining from wine, though they have indulged in luxurious eating; and to their comparative temperance in wine-drinking is to be attributed the almost total exemption of females from the disease.—Intemperate malt-liquor drinkers suffer from one train of symptoms, and spirit-drinkers from another; but they never have gout. The writer, therefore, considers it as clearly proved, that the acid of wine, or of cider, is necessary for the production of the disease in the climate of Great Britain.”

NAUTICAL NOTICE.

The weather has been so favorable during the last Neaps, as to offer no obstacle to ships departing; a very unusual occurrence, as there has been no fall of rain to cause any outlet. The Castlereagh and Bannerinan, sailed for China on Sunday, leaving but few vessels, to take advantage of the springs.

The Lady Borrington, and the England, are the next ships for London.

Madras

The time fixed for the departure of the second Fleet of Indiamen, was the 17th March: The Ships are now generally ready at the time appointed, and should the wind have been fair for these to get out of the Channel, we may expect to see them almost immediately.

Accounts from the Isle of France, which have reached Calcutta, state that a Dutch Line of Battle Ship, homeward bound, and having an Admiral on board, had been lost near Diego Garcia; and that the Admiral with most of the crew, had reached Port Louis, on an American Brig.

* From an American Ship which was bound to Batavia, a Rock is said to have been discovered "about the size of a Ship's Hull"—(and not far from the supposed situation of the Telemaque Shoal)—its Latitude being 38d 50m S. Longitude 22d East. An Extract from the Log states, "we plainly saw the shells and small stones in the holes of the rock when the sea left it."

The weather at the Presidency has been very unusual for the season; the land winds we have had, have not been hot—nor have the showers expected at his time of the year, fallen,—but sea breezes or southerly winds, generally commencing at an early hour, have prevailed.—To the northward about Masulipatam, they have had Rain, attended by some severe Thunder Storms; in one of these, the Lightning struck a Bungalow, in which were three Gentlemen—the electric fluid was seen in the Hall for an instant after it had struck through the thatch—appearing like a large ball of fire, which almost immediately burst with the report and in the manner of a 14 inch shell—the Bungalow was in flames in a moment, and was burnt to the ground—but fortunately no one was hurt—the sound, however, our correspondent writes, did not cease to din the ears of those who were in the building, till next day, so that they could not hear the Thunder, which is described by others to have been tremendous. The Land Winds are stated to be over and the weather cool.

An Earthquake, a Phenomenon very unusual we might, we believe, say almost unprecedented in this part of India, occurred on the 16th instant in various parts of the Peninsula. We have heard that it was experienced in a slight degree at Pondicherry and at Pulicat, and an obliging Correspondent in the district of Coimbatour, has communicated to us some account of this extraordinary occurrence in that quarter. He justly observes, "it may not be uninteresting to hear that one took place on the evening of the 16th instant at Triviar in this district. In our account received from the district Moonsif, he states, that at about half after seven P. M. when holding his Cutcharee, the Earth suddenly became convulsed, that all present became as if intoxicated and could not stand, that the pillars of the building shook and threatened its destruction, Boxes, &c. were moved from their places—that the Pagodas and Town remained in motion for about four minutes. He states that the Tanedar was also at his duties at the time, and was thrown down, as was also the Peon who went to assist him. These Persons with many of the Town People experienced violent vomiting but no accident happened. So little known in such a visitation that the Moonsif quote, his Hindoo Shasters as foretelling that an Earthquake would some time happen. The state of the atmosphere before and after the shock is not mentioned, nor if it was attended with any noise."

We trust we need not assure our Correspondent that we always feel greatly obliged by communications from the country situations, and particularly those relating to the Phenomena of nature. Our arrangements though very extensive for the supply of information cannot necessarily operate in the Provinces, and we are therefore mainly dependent upon the kindness of our friends for any knowledge of the occurrences of the interior. The "Madras Courier" has particular reason to be grateful for such communications and to be thankful for the constant attention of friends, for it has always in a pre-eminent degree enjoyed the advantages of a numerous correspondence. We are aware this remark is rather out of the way of our present subject, but we were led to it by the observation of our Coimbatour "Subscriber" that "should this be acceptable, if I hear any further particulars I shall inform you."

The Packets for the homeward-bound Troop Ship Lady Nugent, were closed yesterday evening. The Troops, consisting of the last Division of H. M. 81th Regiment of Foot, embarked on Saturday morning, and the Ship is expected to get under weigh immediately.

The Heroine will be the next Ship for England. She is now on her way from Calcutta, but cannot, we apprehend, be expected to reach this Port before the middle of next month. She will continue her voyage, we hear, early in August.

The Free Trader Seaforth, from Liverpool direct, anchored in the roads on Friday evening. She left that port on the 5th of February, and of course brings no news. She spoke none of our homeward-bound.

Bombay.

By the arrival of the Myra, from the Isle of France, we have been kindly put in possession of a few more particulars respecting the loss of the Dutch 64; and we are concerned to state, that we have also the accounts of two other Shipwrecks to lay before our readers.

Shipwrecks.—It appears that this Dutch Ship sprung a leak soon after she left the straits of Sunda, that she ran for the Island of Deigo Garcia, but fell to leeward, they then made signals to an American Brig at anchor in the harbour who immediately ran out to them and took all her crew on board; they had just received them all on board, when a Gun was fired from the deserted ship, a boat was immediately sent, and she returned with a single drunken sailor; sail was now made on the Brig and she had scarce got a mile from her, when the ship, caught fire and was burnt down and sunk in deep water. The Brig returned to the Island where she landed such part of the crew as she could not accommodate, and proceeded to the Isle of France with about 260 of them, and then returned for the purpose of bringing the remainder.

It is satisfactory to know that the sufferers received from the British Government, every assistance that was necessary to alleviate their misfortunes.

The long expected Free Trader the Thames from London the 1st of February, anchored in the harbour yesterday, and brings the melancholy news of the loss of the Leda, Capt. Lamb, on a shoal about 9 miles to the S. W. of Mayotta. The Shipwreck took place a little after 8 P. M. on the 14th of May; they appear to have been steering under easy sail, expecting to have made Johanna, rather than Mayotta, when the ship struck on a bank of Mud and Stones. The first sea made a complete breach over them, and every idea of saving her, was abandoned; the crew quitted her at day break in the boats, and proceeded to the Island, when to make up the sum of their wretchedness, they were plundered and otherwise ill treated. The intention of proceeding immediately to Johanna, being made known to the chief (for the King had absented himself,) it was opposed, and they desired to remain three days, they however prepared for the voyage, and having paid a visit to the wreck, they found her beam ends with the sea making a breach over her, they however procured a cask of provisions and some other necessaries; and again returned to the Island. In the Bay was a Johan Boat, from whom they procured a Compass and some oth trifles, and after remaining two days proceeded on to Johanna, where they arrived safe after a passage of 48 hours, and where they found alleviation from their misfortunes in the kindness with which they were received and treated by all the inhabitants of this little Island. Captain Lamb, also testifies to the general good conduct of his crew, during these trying scenes, and it is satisfactory to know, that the whole have arrived here in good health.

Earthquake.—Accounts from all parts of the Island confirm the fact mentioned in the last Courier of a slight shock having been felt. But it appears to have been so slight a convulsion, and of such rare occurrence, that most people doubted the evidence. The West side of the Island, seems to have been most affected, for we have been informed that at Cambala, the undulations were distinct, and in the houses in the vicinity of the retreat, the lamps shook violently. It was felt at Sion, and along the East side of the Island but less distinctly and its duration was only of a few seconds.

This is also further corroborated by the following extract of a letter from Surat, dated 17th June.

"At 20 minutes past seven yesterday evening, I felt a strange trembling sensation; I looked up, and observed the wall shades shaking violently, and the chandeliers swinging. There was not a breath of air, though not a minute before the wind was blowing very pleasantly. I ran down stairs out of the house, fully expecting it would fall, but this not happening, I ventured upstairs again being desirous of observing the barometer.

"The quicksilver was moving up and down rapidly, but this I am convinced, was occasioned merely by the motion communicated to it by the shaking of the wall, to which it was suspended. I remained however, no longer than was absolutely necessary to observe this, and ran down again, my speed not a little accelerated by the increased velocity in the movement of the wall shades and chandeliers, the latter of which swung to much as to throw all the tumbler glasses off their stands, against the sides of the shades. When I reached the open air, the earth still moved, and it is my belief that the shock must have lasted nearly a minute and a half; I did not return into the house, for some minutes after the trembling ceased. When I did so, I went directly to the Barometer but no change had taken place in it. It remained as before the earthquake commenced. The thermometer at 83.

"I really never experienced any thing so truly awful, and most earnestly hope I may never meet with another. It is strange that my servants did not perceive it. I met them on the stair case bringing up the dinner and sent them all back again to their great surprise, and not till they stood quietly outside, did they observe the motion of the earth, though it must have been in that way, when they passed over it not three seconds before.

The inhabitants of the city I hear made the best of their way into the open streets where they remained for a considerable time. I cannot well describe the sensation of the earth moving under me. It was a sort of helplessness, and I felt as if undetermined whether I should stand or lie down."

Cotton Market.—The holders of cotton still continue to demand high prices; in fact nothing has been done since our last. Pepper and Coffee, labour under the same prohibition.

(From the Bombay Courier.)

A very valuable addition has been made by the late arrivals from England to the library of our Literary Society; several rare and esteemed old editions of the classics, works on theology and biblical criticism, church history, ancient geography, oriental literature, &c. with many excellent new publications have been just received.

FORT WILLIAM; 17th JULY, 1819.

The revised organization of the Ordnance Commissariat Department, having introduced new ranks of Warrant Officers, and fixed the allowance of this class of Public Servants, without specifying the net pay of each rank, which generally regulates the Furlough Pay, as well as the Invalid Pension; the Most Noble the Governor General in Council, adverting to these circumstances, deems it proper to lay down a scale of Furlough Pay and Pensions to Warrant Officers, with attention to the rates already sanctioned by the Honorable the Council of Directors, in the cases of Deputy Commissary and Conductor of Ordnance.

JULY 26.

On Saturday last, the Address of the Inhabitants of Madras to the Governor General, was presented to His Lordship at the Government House. Captain BLACKER, of the Madras establishment, had the honor of offering this testimonial of the respect of the principal persons of the sister Settlement. We understand, that the address and His Lordship's reply, will be published in the Official Gazette; and in our next number we hope to be enabled to lay them before our readers. We are happy to add, that the Governor General, has been voted the thanks of both houses of Parliament, for the wisdom and firmness of his administration in India: and our readers, have already seen that the Court of Directors, have evinced their sense of His Lordship's public services, by a pecuniary addition to his income. The following extract, which is taken from a London Journal, refers to a subject, which is familiar to our military readers, who will be happy to find, that His Lordship's generosity has been duly appreciated in England:—

“A trait in the princely generosity of the Noble Marquis's character deserves to be known. As Commander in Chief, he became entitled to a very large share of the rich booty acquired in the late campaign. No one could in his military character possess a fairer title to this property; for the Marquis both planned and directed the whole war in its general outline, and almost in its minutest details: he took the field in person; he met the most alarming contingencies with coolness and promptitude; he kept the whole machine in regulating and equable movement, accelerating or restraining, as occasion required, the daily movements of the separate detachments. If, under such circumstances, Lord Hastings had declined to suffer the allotment of his legal share to be made, he would perhaps have compromised the rights of his successors in command.

“Accordingly, the Noble Marquis directed the usual division of the booty to be made: but reflecting that he had in his own person united the supreme civil and military authority—that as Governor General, he had resolved upon the war, which, as Commander in Chief, he had directed—a feeling of personal delicacy precluded him from benefiting by this great accession of fortune. He was unwilling that even those who in the present or in future times might be most ignorant of his real character, should ever have the slightest ground to suspect that his public measures could have been in any degree affected by his private interest; and he therefore most magnanimously threw the whole of his share into the portion of the subalterns and privates!”

Letters from Kurnaul, dated the early part of this month, mention the arrival there of the 2d Battalion of the 5th Regiment, and the 6th Regiment of Cavalry; the former commanded by Major PATTON, the latter by Major THOMPSON. The season appears to have been unfavorable in the neighbourhood of Jionpore, and along the north bank of the Ganges west of Chuprah. Nearly all the Indian Corn, and other grains, as well as the Indigo plant, have perished from the want of rain: and grain of every description is scarce.

for enormous prices. A letter from Jionpore, states that many ryots have emigrated in a northerly direction, and that it is supposed they are proceeding to the Turra-ee.

Speculations are entertained in the Upper Provinces, respecting future military operation, but we apprehend that these rumours have originated with persons, accustomed to an active life, who impatient of their present inactivity, are planning future employment, and who talk and write of what they wish, rather than of that, which they have any reason to expect.

We have inserted several extracts from the Bombay papers, descriptive of the effects of the Earthquake, which was slightly experienced at this presidency on the 16th ultimo. It appears to have committed irreparable injury to some of the long admired antiquities of Ahmedabad.—It appears from a notice in the Bombay Courier, that ALI ALI FERAZ is about to publish his answer to the critiques, which have appeared at this Presidency on the Desair.

From a Penang Journal received during the last week, we have published an extract of a letter, dated Pedier Roads, which contains an unvarnished account of the present condition of the Sultan JOWHAR ALLUM—of whose history, and political power, much information has been submitted to the Indian public, through the Calcutta Journals. The Court of this Prince, who is now, we believe, an ally of the British Government, did not come up to the expectations of Colonel O'HALLARAN, who, it is said, landed in State, to pay his devoirs to the Great Sultan. What will be the result of the operations contemplated against the City of Achcen, time alone can discover, but we may expect to hear of great events—as soon as the Monarch shall be provided with the Sinews of War—and shall obtain “a Book on drill,” to discipline the new levy of 600 men! We must not conclude that the plans of JOWHAR ALLUM are speculative and incapable of execution, because they appear improbable or desperate. The March to Paris, some years ago, was considered a visionary threat—but the March to Moscow, enabled the Prophetic Peer to see his prediction verified. We have never recommended the perusal of the letter from Pedier, to the grave consideration of the Politicians, who have entertained such sanguine expectations from the influence recently established at Achcen; and as the letter has been published at Penang, whence all our former information has been derived—we may presume, that the supplies expected by the Sultan, had not been dispatched. It will be seen by our Shipping list, that two vessels, have arrived from Singapore. We may therefore expect some interesting information, respecting the state of this infant establishment; but on this head, we must borrow from our contemporaries, as we have no regular correspondents, at the new settlement. Should Sir THOMAS RAFFLES have reached Singapore, before the departure of the vessels alluded to, we shall doubtless have accounts of his reception—and perhaps, of his future plans. We have not yet heard, whether any changes are contemplated, to insure the numerous advantages, which are said to be attainable at Sumatra.

CIVIL APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. W. Harington, Junior, Assistant to the Secretary to the Board of Revenue.

Mr. E. Bannerman, Head Assistant to the Collector and Magistrate of Masulipatam.

Mr. F. Lascelles, Head Assistant to the Collector and Magistrate of the Zillah of Cuddapau.

Mr. P. Grant, Register to the Zillah Court at Nellore.

The Address to the Marquess of Hastings was closed on Saturday last, with no less than 320 signatures—an immense number for such a Society as that of Madras. This fact alone, loudly proclaims the high estimation in which the Noble Marquess is deservedly held at this Presidency and confirms in the most satisfactory manner, the opinion we have uniformly expressed on this gratifying subject. The Address has been forwarded to Calcutta; and we shall impatiently wait for the result, which shall be communicated to our readers, the moment we have received accounts of its being presented.

A Mutiny occurred on board the Ship Admiral Drury, which left Madras on the 26th May, in the course of her voyage to Trincomallie with Stores. She had upwards of 40 Native Passengers on Board. The Captain and Officers were put in confinement, and the command assumed by a Seacunny. They attempted to make the land, but, not succeeding after several days, the Captain was desired to navigate her to the nearest shore. Captain Johnston, accordingly, steered for Masulipatam, and finding the Ship Palmer there, the Mutineers were accused and are now on their way to Madras to be tried.

Yesterday afternoon His Excellency the Commander in Chief held a Public Levee at his office in Fort St. George, which was numerously attended.

A rather considerable fall of rain has taken place every morning since Wednesday last, which has rendered the climate of Madras very agreeable. Hitherto the season has been exceedingly mild. We do not recollect a season so little hot during our sojourn in these parching regions.

The Lady Nugent, Troop Ship, did not get to sea before Wednesday. The following are the names of the Officers who went home on this vessel:

Bombay.

The Earthquake. The accounts which have been received during the past week, describe the effects of the Earthquake we mentioned in our last, to have been more seriously felt to the northward than about this neighbourhood.

It appears to have extended under a vast tract of country, and to have been felt at nearly the same instant, of time at Surat, Broach, Brodera, in the camp at Copergaum and in the city of Ahmedabad.

In the last mentioned place, it was most severe. About 7 o'clock of the evening of the 16th inst. three successive shocks, in such immediate succession as to appear like one, were experienced. Considerable mischief was done in the city, and nearly all its beautiful minarets are levelled with the ground. Amongst the others, the remarkable shaking minarets, so celebrated for their unrivalled beauty and the singularity of their construction, which were the greatest ornament and wonder of the place, are now a mass of ruins; the beautiful minarets of the Behee's Masjid are also destroyed. In short, of these very splendid and singularly curious monuments of Mahomedian architecture, scarcely one remains either within or without the city. We copy the following extract of a letter giving some particulars of this catastrophe.

" Ahmedabad, 17th June.

Yesterday afternoon at 7 o'clock precisely, a severe shock of an earthquake was felt at this city. The swell came from the direction of S. W. there are various opinions as to the time the shock lasted. I think about 2 minutes.

Happily no lives have been lost, but the damage which has been done has been considerable. The minarets of the Juma Masjid, the highest and most beautiful in the place, were thrown down; various other minarets outside the walls have shared the same fate, and many of the mosques have been otherwise shattered and much injured. One of the gates of the Town has also fallen, the walls of the Adalut building have been cracked by the shock in many places, and several private houses have been destroyed. Several shocks have certainly been felt during the night, and again very sensibly this morning.

The following Extracts are from a letter, dated Surat, 17th June.

" At 20 minutes before yesterday evening, the city of Surat, its vicinity for some miles round, and the opposite banks of the Taptee, were visited by the phenomenon of an Earthquake in a very awful degree. The vibration of the couch I was lying on was so great that I was glad to get off of it; the house was considerably agitated; the furniture all in motion, a small table close to me kept striking the wall, and the lamps swung violently. I ran down stairs and got out of my house as fast as possible. This occupied about the space of three minutes. On getting on the outside, I found a number of people collected, gazing with astonishment at my house, which stands alone, and was so violently agitated that I expected it to fall down. The earth was convulsed under our feet. The shock lasted about 5 or 6 minutes, and appeared to me to run from east to west. There was not a breath of wind, and the sky was serene.

On enquiry this morning I find that some damage has been done. At the village of Omer, about 2 miles west, several houses were thrown down, and one side of a Parsee pagoda fell down; report says one man was killed. I likewise felt two slight shocks about half past 8 last night and 10 minutes past 10 this morning. This last shock stopped my watch. The glasses containing the oil in the lamps were upset in several houses, and the water in the well of the jail, which is ordinarily about four feet from the surface, overflowed. The water in the river was also much agitated, and the water from the tank in the Bazar also was thrown out."

We also insert two other letters descriptive of its effect at Broach.

SIR,

The occurrence of an Earthquake in this part of the world is happily so unfrequent as to render it as curious as it is awful, and I am thence induced to hope that the following memoranda may not be uninteresting to your readers.

On the 16th of June, about 19 minutes past seven in the evening (the time corrected by observation) a violent shaking of the earth was perceived throughout the town of Broach; such of the houses as are elevated, and at all loosely built, creak'd like the masts and rigging of a ship in a gale, the venetians and window frames rattling violently and the buildings threatening immediately to fall; a considerable lateral motion was impressed on every thing that admitted of it; after this more violent concussion had lasted a minute or upwards, it was succeeded by an oscillatory motion of a more equable character, which continued for more than a minute and a half, making the whole period of the convulsion nearer to 3 than to 2½ minutes; the direction of the vibrations of such objects as could be distinctly observed was between west and east, and this direction was particularly well marked in Mr. Shubrick's garden by the projection of some water from the brim of a large earthen jar, two or three feet to the eastward of it; the jar was about 2 feet high, about the same diameter at top; after the commotion the water stood about 5 inches below the brim, and this is of course the height that some of it must have been raised to escape over the side. It appeared to many that the southern parts of buildings began to shake before the northern, and it is thence conjectured that the general course of the Earthquake was from South to North or nearly so, but all are not agreed as to the facts.

During the greater part of the time, it was difficult to stand, and many were obliged to seize hold of a fix'd object, as they would on board ship when the vessel rolls; this can scarcely be ascribed to the absolute quantity of the motion, but is rather to be accounted for partly by the great giddiness that seiz'd on every one at the commencement of the convulsion, and partly by the novel and surprising preception of a very evident vibration in the surrounding bodies which had never before been regarded in any other view than as steady and immovable.

It is remarkable that those in palankeens were scarcely, if at all, sensible of the convulsion, and two gentlemen who were in a carriage without springs, were so little aware of it, that they were not easily persuaded that anything extraordinary had taken place. A gentleman riding through a narrow street at the time, was not conscious of the motion in his own person, but was alarmed by seeing the houses on both sides of him shaking violently; the tiles falling from the roofs, and the people, with one instinctive movement, quitting them and flying to the open spaces.

The sense of giddiness remarked above was so great that many amongst the natives imagined they were attacked by the epidemic cholera, and lay down gasping.

On the 17th, at one minute before 10 in the morning, another shock was perceived, but it was over in an instant, and appeared to consist of two slight undulations; four minutes afterwards there was another, still slighter; of 6 people in a room only two perceived the former of these shocks, and only one the latter, but they were both remarked distinctly in other situations.

There was nothing unusual in the state of the atmosphere; the day had been cool and showery, Fahrenheit's thermometer ranging from 81° to 85°.

Branch 17th June 1819,

We had last night about a $\frac{1}{2}$ past 7 o'clock, a very severe shock of an Earthquake, the ground moved just like the waves of the sea, it was with the greatest difficulty I could keep on my legs, the wall of the house moved backwards and forwards and the lamps went with a very quick motion, the water in our well rose many feet with a great noise and did not subside for an hour after all was over. Europeans and Natives all ran into the streets; many Native houses were thrown down, and several boats upset by the extraordinary motion of the water. It lasted about three minutes. I never in my life felt such an awful moment, every one expecting instant death.

This morning at 10 we had another slight shock for a few seconds, I sincerely hope it will be the last."

Extract of a Letter from Ahmedabad, dated the 18th of June, 1819.

On Wednesday, the 16th day of June, a few minutes before 7 o'clock P. M. the city was visited with an earthquake, of unusual violence and duration for this part of India. It commenced gradually with a slight trembling of the earth attended with a rumbling noise: this increased every second, and was succeeded by a strong rushing noise, with a violent undulating motion, so that it was with difficulty we could keep on our legs. At this time, all the disagreeable sensation was experienced of being tossed in a ship at sea in a swell, and the rocking was so great, that every moment we expected the earth to open under our feet. From its commencement to the termination of the shock, it could not have been less than four or five minutes.

The sky was overcast, dark and cloudy, and the Thermometer an hour before, was at 90°. Nothing peculiar however was observable which was not to be apprehended at this season of the commencement of the monsoon, which set in mildly ten days before, though little rain had fallen three or four days previously. To assist Philosophers in accounting for this wonderful phenomenon of nature, they should be informed of the state of the weather for the last twelve months in the Province of Guzerat, as compared with former years. The rains of 1818 were late, and at the close immoderate. The cold season exhibited ice, it was so cold, and the hot season was actually insufferable. Although the present rains have set in mildly and without much violent thunder and lightning, yet a great quantity of rain has fallen, especially to the northward of this. The river Saburmuttee, which runs under the walls of Ahmedabad, had a high fresh in it, which rendered it impossible for many days before the shock, a circumstance quite unusual at this early period of the monsoon.

The rocking motion affected persons in various ways in different situations: those indoors experienced all the horrors attending the awful suspense in which they felt themselves, the walls of the houses shook and were rent in various places, the beams and roofs cracked, and appeared to be ready to fall on the inmates, and crush them to atoms in an instant. People in wheel-riages were nearly thrown out by the shaking of their vehicles, and numbers of all kinds, in a stationary position, felt confounded and became restless. Persons in motion, or on horseback, were however unconscious of the shock.

This city is justly celebrated for its beautiful buildings of stone and other materials, and was not less so for its numerous shaking-minarets, which were admired by every stranger. Alas!
the devastation caused by his commotion of the earth, is truly lamentable. The proud spires of the great Mosque, the Juma Muzjid, erected by Seoltan Ahmed the King of Guzerat, and the founder of the city of Ahmedabad, which have stood nearly four hundred and fifty years, have tumbled to the ground, within a few yards of the place where they once reared their heads!
The mosque itself has sustained less injury than could have been expected, and the handsome arch which divided the minarets, has escaped unhurt.—Another Muzjid, of elegant structure,
denominated the Beebee's or Unchunt Kosukee ke Muzjid, has shared the same fate. A gentleman while riding out saw the minars come down: the tops were thrown to a distance, and immediately afterwards the stones came tumbling down one after another.—The only remaining shaking minarets, which are at all worthy of notice, and much inferior to the others, have,
I hear, been sadly fractured; they are situated in the Goomteepoora, to the East of the city, outside the walls. The mauldeums (Kozas) and places of Moohummudan worship have suffered considerably, both in the city and surrounding country. Hindoo Temples are few in number, and of recent build in the city, since its conquest from the true believers seventy years ago by the Mahrattas; consequently a very small number have been damaged. The walls of the Udalut, an old building, erected by the Mahrattas, and the palace of the Peshwa's Viceroys in Goolat, has been much injured, and the walls rent in many places.
The magnificent towers also forming the grand entrance into the citadel have been much shaken, and cracked in several places, especially the one on which the flag staff has been placed. Many private houses have been reduced to ruins, and 'tis most fortunate amidst all our disasters, that not a single life has been lost, and but few accidents.

Between the hours of 12 and 1 the same night we experienced two or three slight shocks, and the following morning (the 17th) another at 6. At a quarter before 10 we had one very severe, which shook the houses and caused the windows and doors to rattle violently. We were now on alert, and quitted our houses in haste, but the shock did not continue above a few seconds, and was trifling when compared with the one of the previous night.
At $\frac{1}{2}$ past 10 o'clock we were again visited slightly, but intervals during the whole of the day. The last which I felt occurred about $\frac{1}{4}$ past 12 in the night and since then I cannot say that I have experienced any more, although fancy has frequently led me to pause, and expect a return of this terrible visitation.

I fervently trust that providence, in its goodness, will spare this afflicted city from all calamities, until it can recover the damage it has sustained from the iron grasp of the Mahratta under their bad government, which the mild influence of the British Government is calculated to effect in time. In its condition, it is hardly probable that it will ever recover its only the hand of a liberal Prince, at the seat of his Empire, that could restore or rebuild the magnificent edifices; which it is the boast of this city to have once possessed.

It reports from your mention, that the grand shock was experienced there at quarter six, and that it lasted only 37 seconds; two persons were killed by the falling of their houses, and a good deal of damage has been done there. The Udulut has suffered, and the walls rent; the Jain Temple opposite to it has also received a terrible fracture. With respect to the difference of time between the two places, I do not know whether it is exact or not. Our watches vary much, having nothing but the Sun and Bombay Calendar to regulate us, which the Schmin looked at; it however, tends to show that the course of the Earthquake from this, was Southerly. Kaira is distant from Ahmedabad eighteen or twenty miles.

I now come to the close of this letter which must prove interesting to you. Our friends at the Presidency, who have been from year to year putting off their cold weather excursions to this quarter, have cause to repeat their procrastinations. * * *

Our correspondent from Baroda, being a native, expresses himself as follows. "Last night I came from office, then we get hurles up, ground so much shook, water jar is broken, Dinner spoiled, all women and children, run away. No man said anything, only God, Lamp is cracked, Goat is gone, all the persons is much frightened."

Cotton Market.—The holders of Cotton still keep up their demand for high prices: but how far with the probability of beneficial results we are at a loss to conjecture. To China, Cotton can be considered only as a remittance; and, as a specimen of the English Market, we quote, in the words of our Correspondent, a sketch of the general impression after the sale of the 14th January, which we gave in our last Number. "Such is the hopeful state of the Cotton Market, which is entirely caused by the enormous importations of Bengal; and Surat cotton during the last year. The good people in India, when prices get up a little, run wild till they knock them down again. If they would suit the supply to the demand, they might expect a regular and profitable sale. There is enough of East India Cotton on hand now to last 18 or 20 months consumption, without a pound more being imported, and further importations are announced every week. The Americans, that flocked to Bombay the beginning of last year, have brought their Surat Cotton to Liverpool, by which they must lose greatly."

Penang.

I am obliged to a friend for the following Extract of a Letter written from Padier Roads, by a passenger on board one of the Transports.

June 2d, Padier Roads.

"You will hear by the James Scott, ~~my~~ return to Penang, of the abominable weather that has forced us all back into this place. We hope to be able to try our luck again in a day or two, and are in the mean time very busy collecting such supplies for the Sepoys as this miserable place affords.

"Our touching here may prove of some public use, as it will give us an opportunity of taking to Calcutta the latest and most authentic intelligence respecting the state of this country, and of the affairs of its Sultan Johor, Allum. Colonel O'Halloran, whose ideas of a Sultan were of course all founded on Nabobs of Lucknow and other great Princes of India, landed here in state shortly after our arrival; his surprise and embarrassment were rather amusing when he saw a poor creature surrounded only by a set of half starved coolies, sitting in a wretched common Artap House. The King, however, behaved with much civility, and talked a great deal about his future plans and operations. He said (which I can scarcely credit) that the late Commissioners had promised by the Treaty to send him immediately from Penang a Load of Rice, and a large supply of Military Stores; and that his Friend ~~the~~ had gone to receive them. He applied to the officer of the 20th Regt for a Book on Drill, saying that he was going to raise a Corps of 600 men, and that the moment his Military Stores arrived, he intended to march, with his great guns in front, all along the sandy beach from Padier to his good city of Acheen! I dare say he will never be able to execute one half of his present intentions, for he does not appear to have one respectable native near him, and seems to possess a considerable portion of that kind of good nature which generally goes by a harder name. I make no doubt, if his story about the money and Military Stores be true, the former will soon be squandered away, and the latter share the same fate with the handsome service of porcelain which Lord M^{rs} sent him some years ago, but the greater part of which was shortly after ~~marked~~ about Penang for sale."

I. All Boards, or Public Officers having occasion to recommend the repair or construction of Public Buildings, are to address Government, on the subject, through the Secretary to whose Department the building may belong.

II. Should Government see fit to sanction, generally, the proposition, the Secretary will instruct the Superintendent of Buildings to furnish, through the Military Board, a detailed Estimate and Plan of the proposed work, with such remarks on it, for the information of the Board, as may appear to him useful, or necessary.

III. The Military Board having revised the Estimate and Plan, will forward them to the Secretary to Government in the Department to which the building belongs. When the final orders of the Governor General in Council, in regard to the execution of the work, are passed, the Superintendent will receive instructions to commence the work directly from the Secretary to Government, who will, at the same time, approve the Accountant General of the amount of credit which will be required on account of it, and communicate the necessary information to the Military Board, returning to that Board Plan and Estimate.

IV. The Superintendent, on receiving the orders of Government as above, will grant assignments in favor of the Executive Officer for such advances as may be required by them in the following form.

If, in any case, it shall be found necessary to make a disbursement in excess of the estimate, the Superintendent shall submit the application of the executive Officer to Government through the Chairman of the Military Board, with such explanation as the case may require; and when such additional disbursement is sanctioned, a communication will be made to the Accountant General, by whom the necessary credit will be given to the Superintendent, as directed in regard to the amount of the original estimate. No assignment shall be granted by the Superintendent in excess of an estimate, without the previous sanction of Government.

When the repairs or erection of any particular building shall have been completed, the executive Officer is to send a bill for the same through the Superintendent to the Military Board for Audit, and if the amount of the bill does not exceed the estimate, the Board is authorized to pass it without reference to Government.

X. The Bill, when audited and passed, is to be sent by the Secretary to the Military Board, either directly to the Accountant General or through the Military Auditor General to the Accountant to the Military Department, as the Charge may be, Civil or Military; in order that the executive Officer may receive due credit for the same, and be enabled to get the ultimate balance of his account settled without delay.

AUGUST 2.

Yesterday during the performance of Divine Service, the Governor General was compelled to leave the Cathedral from indisposition. The anxiety for His Lordship's health was shortly afterwards happily relieved by the publication of the following Bulletin, which appeared in a Government Gazette Extraordinary. We understand that His Lordship had been unwell before he proceeded to the Cathedral, and that the heat of the weather increased his indisposition.

"It will be satisfactory to the Public to learn, that the indisposition of the Most Noble the Governor General is of a trifling nature, and that his Lordship is already greatly recovered,

"J. MACWHIRTER, M. D."

Letters from Nagpore, dated about the middle of last month, state, that a famine prevails in that neighbourhood. The difficulty of procuring grain for seed is stated to be very great, and the price of it is six times the amount of its ordinary value. The scarcity is therefore likely to be prolonged for the land cannot be supplied with seed to provide for the future wants of the population.

The Madras Gazette of the 17th ultimo, contains the most deplorable accounts of the Epidemic in the neighbourhood of Arnee and Vellore to the Westward of Madras. It is said, that whole villages have been depopulated,—but the Editor expresses a hope that most of the inhabitants have deserted in consequence of the appearance of the disorder. There seems, however, too much reason to believe that the mortality has been very great in these quarters.

The Rose had not reached Madras on the 22d ultimo, when the Mermaid left the roads. It is conjectured that the former vessel has touched at the Cape. Her stay at Madras was likely to be very short, and we hope to announce her arrival in this river, before our next regular publication.

The Bombay Courier of the 3d instant, contains a long reply to the Critique, which appeared in the Calcutta Government Gazette of the 14th of January last, on the DE-SATIR, as translated and published by MULLA FIROZ, at Bombay. The reply professes to be written by the Translator, and is authenticated by his signature. MULLA FIROZ, has assigned several causes for the delay in publishing what he calls “his defence against the attack” contained in the critique alluded to,—some of which, are much to be lamented—but, if the Reply, has really proceeded from his own pen, and is in truth his own defence, it would appear very extraordinary, that he should be “totally ignorant of the English language.” This, however, is one of the causes, to which he has ascribed the “procrastination” of his defence. As the Criticism alluded to, was republished in the India Gazette, we should have been glad if our limits would have enabled us, to print the reply; but it is so lengthy, that we can only refer to some parts of it. MULLA FIROZ, in the first place controverts the assertion of the Critic respecting the name of the work, an assertion, which is treated as a contrivance by which the Critic has attempted to shew the work to be modern. Much learning and research has been employed to prove that "Dustoor" is a word purely Persian and not originally Arabic,—and the Reply, in very sweeping terms, impugns the authority of RICHARDSON'S Persian Dictionary, on which the Bengal Critic is supposed to have rested much of his reasoning, against the authenticity of the Desatir. The Reply contains French and Latin quotations, and declares that the Writer is "averse to the task of hunting, or of being hunted like a verb, through all the numbers, persons, moods and tenses of a language, that has been dead for ages." It then gravely adds, that if the Bengal critic "had ever ventured so far North as Edinburgh, his ear would have soon become familiar to a language, every word of which should differ in sound from the same word and meaning in English;—what would he say to "gae awa mon" instead of "go away man!" It is truly wonderful that MULLA FIROZ who is supposed to have penned this reply, should be totally ignorant of the English language, and yet be not only conversant with French and Latin authors, but acquainted with the difference between Scotch and English pronunciation. We shall only remark further that if this production is from the pen of the Translator of the Desatir, it contains several palpable contradictions which no ingenuity can reconcile; and that if it be a defence undertaken by a friend or advocate, it should have been published in a different form: and then, it might have been dealt with accordingly. The reply exhibits attempts at playfulness and humour, and contains allusions to Guy Mannering—Rob Roy—Allan Ramsay and Robert Burns; and of "frisks from Formosa to the Highlands;"—which appear to be wholly inconsistent with the gravity and distress—and necessity for religious observances, which are said to belong to the character of the writer,—and which seem to prove that whatever share he might have had in translating the Desatir, he has had very little in shaping this defence of its authenticity. The Bombay Courier contains the following observations, which are addressed to ourselves; on which we shall simply remark, that if MULLA FIROZ does not deem it necessary to shew "that the original of the Desatir is not a fabrication,"—or "to support or deny the authenticity of the work," we are perfectly satisfied by his silence!

“ THE DESATIR.

“ Some discussions have lately appeared in the Calcutta newspapers regarding the authenticity of the Desatir. In one of them, the India Gazette of the 7th June last, it is contended that the public have a right to know from the translator and publisher whether the original is or not a fabrication; and the translator of the Desatir is emphatically called upon, to support or deny the authenticity of that work.

“ The translator of the Desatir desires us to state that he has always regarded the duty of a mere translator to be to translate his task faithfully. The examination of the authenticity and merits of literary works belongs to critics and historians, to writers of much higher pretensions than the drudge of a translator. His exclusive and humble task is to transfuse the sense and meaning of a work from one language into another, and there it ends. This the translator has done in the best way that circumstances permitted, and he undertook for nothing more.

“ The translator of the Desatir having given this perhaps unnecessary explanation, will not consider himself as bound to enter into any discussions on the subject, they being altogether out of his province.

“ The Bombay Gazette, received on Saturday, furnishes several melancholy details of the most serious mischief occasioned by the late Earthquake—at Booj, Baroda, Anjar, and other places. The City of Booj, and the Fort of Booja have suffered most—and the former is described to be a heap of ruins. It is said that 2000 of its late inhabitants have been destroyed by this awful visitation. It appears that a Volcano has opened in a hill about thirty miles from Booj, which, it is hoped, will relieve the neighbourhood from a repetition of this calamity. The following are the particulars, which are said to be selected from numerous communications on the same distressing subject:—

Camp near Bhooj. 17th June, 1819.

We are at present in a shocking state of alarm; last evening between six and seven o'clock, we were visited by a dreadful Earthquake. The wall that surrounded Bhooj is almost levelled with the ground, and the few Towers which are left standing are merely broken remains; the houses generally unroofed, others in ruins, and most of the larger buildings including the Palace greatly injured, the wall of the Hill fort down in many places, and a complete breach near the gateway. The right of our Camp rests a short distance on the left of the latter, fronting the town and extends along the bottom of the Hill, to a little beyond the large Tower on the Southwest point. I am happy to say, that we have had no one materially hurt, four Sepoys only bruised who were on duty in the Town; but I fear that a great many casualties have occurred among the poor Natives; some hundred are said to have lost their lives; there is at present, so much confusion that the numbers cannot be ascertained.

We had several shocks during the night; and they have continued at intervals, this day; the last one about two hours ago, when I could scarcely keep upon my legs, the sensation is horrible while it lasts. They have suffered we understand in the same way at Amjar.

P. S. 3 P. M. There is a slight shock at this moment. I trust in god, they will cease altogether.

Extract of a letter from Jooria, dated 17th June.

It is with sincere regret I have to inform you that this place was visited by an Earthquake yesterday evening at 10 minutes before 7 o'clock. The effects of the shock which lasted nearly two minutes, have been the levelling of the Fort wall to the ground: not a hundred yards of the wall remain in any one spot, and Guns, Towers, &c. all hurled in one mass of ruin.

The destruction in the Town has been distressing and awful, not a quarter of the houses are standing and those that do remain are in ruins. I cannot yet state the particular of the losses, but I may in one word say that a flourishing population has been reduced in one moment to wretchedness and misery, I fear we shall have to lament the loss of upwards of one hundred people besides those hurt.

Reports from the Country state similar disasters in all the villages round about, and letters from Bhooj, inform us that, that Fort is much in the same condition as Amjar.

Slight shocks still continue to be felt, and I shall on the first leisure moment report such particulars as I may be able to collect.

Translation of a letter from a respectable native to a correspondent at Baroda, dated the 18th June, from Jooria.

I have sent you letter, and given you an account of every thing that has occurred here; yesterday the 9th of Jest Vud, the 10th June, in the evening, a noise issued from the earth like the beating of the Nobut, and occasioned the trembling of all the people, it appeared most wonderful and deprived us all of our senses so that we could not see; every thing appearing dark before us, a dizziness came upon many people so that they fell down, the walls of the Fort of Jooria in many places were completely overturned and the guns fell from the Bastions, the Inhabitants ran home to their Houses, many of which fell down. For one hour this remained, the buildings in the Town, some fell and the others appeared as if falling, the walls of the Fort that remained after the first shock appeared in a ruined state. For an hour and a half, the Inhabitants did not know each other, after that time all was hush and still; and we then returned to our houses, at night a trembling seized our bodies and on Wednesday morning some Horsemen who arrived came to me and reported, that in the fields the earth opened and threw up water; to see which Captain B. and I went there, and such was the case, and the water came up from the earth in many places, and it appeared like the rushing of water when drawn from a well, it remained all night in the fields, and in three or four places, the earth had given way and sunk one hundred feet in depth, which space was filled with water, many of the wells that had before this plenty of water were left empty.

and many wells that formerly were dry, were now filled with water; the like of this was never heard or seen before. When I returned into the Town the Inhabitants reported to me, that during my absence the Earth again was shaken, and when I was walking my body afterwards I felt two or three violent shocks again, and the house I was in was much shaken. After this People did not seem willing to remain in the Town, I therefore left it and encamped one coss off. Captain B. came to my camp with his attendants, here I received accounts from Nowanugar that the Forts of Balumbar, and Amraw, have fallen down, and some People had died, as likewise had some cattle; the same has occurred at Jankaria—I have received the news from the Country round for sixteen coss and beyond the Run at Joo-nah Bunder, the same has also happened. This is the wonderful decrees of Almighty God, which I don't understand. For your information I have written this small account all that has occurred it is impossible to describe. To-day between 12 and 2 o'clock the same has happened. On Wednesday night some people assert that the Earth was again shaken, I have this moment received accounts from Moorvee that the same has occurred there, that some of the houses and part of the wall of the fort have fallen and the people suffered great losses. I do not know to what extent damage has been done.

Camp Booj, 19th June.

At 7 o'clock, on the evening of the 16th of June, an Earthquake destroyed the whole district and country of Kutch; accounts that have been received mention, from Luckput Bunder, to Butchchao, the whole of the towns and villages, are more or less in ruins, and the towns of Mandavie, Moudria, and Anjer, have suffered extensively and severally, the City of Bhooj and the Fort of Boojia between which our Force is encamped, are reduced the former to ruins, and the latter so breached as to be useless as a fortification, this however is the least, at the moment of the crash, it is apprehended, and I fear not any way exaggerated, that 2000 of the inhabitants were buried in the mass.

Even, now, the effects of this horrible visitation, are felt, (not three days since the first shock.) constant and hourly vibrations of the earth.

The inhabitants have been obliged to forsake what were once their halls, and encamp outside upon some small hills, and their distress cannot be well described,—bruised, maimed, and agitated with fear, they go daily into the City to work upon their several houses, to try and extricate the mangled remains of wives, children, and relations, whilst in their pious labour, the putrid stench near exhausts them: cattle which have fallen in numbers add greatly to the noisome evil. The walls are, from the sandy nature of the stone, crumbled in a mass, and the narrow streets of Bhooj entirely lost, thus adding the difficulties of the sufferers. The upper stones of the Palace fell, and buried amongst others the Mother of the deposed Rao; what houses stand, are so shattered as to be liable to fall in the rains, and the very complete wreck of the wall on Southern side, as well as the demolition of nearly all the Towers and Gateways, render it impossible for Bhooj to be a City again.

The loss of lives cannot be confined to the City, I fear in all the towns and villages, mortality has been great. I am inclined to think from the circumstance of a Volcano, having opened on a hill thirty miles from Rhooj, that the country will not experience a repetition of the evil.

From our Camp being in a plain, no very material damage has been sustained, the tiles of a few temporary erected houses knocked off, and the walls shattered.

I shall attempt to give you the sensation felt by those, both in Camp and City; In the latter, I was informed by a Gentleman, who nearly suffered by a house falling over him; that riding on without an idea of what was to happen, upon the first notice, a heavy appalling deadened noise, the motion of the earth, walls of the houses on each side of the street, tottering and falling outwards, impressed upon him an idea, and he called out that a mine was sprung; whereas another Gentleman imagined, the bank of the Tank was forced by the water; these ideas accompanied with an unpleasant giddiness of the head, and sickness of stomach, from the leaving of the ground,

"In one wild roar expired!

"The shattered town—the walls thrown down,

"The waves a moment backward bent—

"The hills that shake, although unrent,

"As if an Earthquake passed."

Byron's Siege of Corinth

In camp a similar sickness and giddiness was experienced, and an ignorance until the shock was over (which lasted a minute) of the nature of the noise below the earth. People sat down instinctively, others threw themselves down, the situations of several were ludicrous. One was paying work people in a circle, and upon seeing him squat, the whole followed the example and sat round him,

"The very Picture of Despair."

The sensation I felt was a giddiness and horror at perceiving a small Hillock close to which I was riding, (a short distance from camp) completely agitated and at the same time my Horse plunged from the ground moving. This was the case also with an officer I was riding with.

On reference to the subject of earthquakes, I am decidedly of opinion that it was of the mildest kind, "that occurs without any other effect than the overturning of slightly built edifices, an undulating or shacking motion and a deadening sound" different from horizontal or perpendicular earthquakes that are more to be dreaded. I have also on enquiry ascertained that many years ago, and in the remembrance of the oldest inhabitants, an undulating motion has been felt before in Kutch, but never I hope will again be attended with such a horrible catastrophe; the distress of which has been so great upon the inhabitants that I confess I fall short of ability to describe it.

Penang Journals to the 12th of June, have been received by the brig Adventure, but they contain no political intelligence of importance. The loss of the Frederick of this Port, on one of the Cumberland Islands, is mentioned, and we learn with great concern that several of the crew perished. Captain WILLIAMS, the passengers, and 13 of the crew were fortunately saved, having been picked up by a Free Trader.

and landed at Timor. It is also stated in a Penang paper, that a Dutchman, named THUNDERWOLD who was formerly a resident at one of the out-ports of Java, and whose property had been confiscated for some offence against the Netherland's Government, has turned Pirate, and with two brigs and six prows, has committed great depredations in the Eastern Seas. A Dutch 74 and a Frigate, were cruising in search of THUNDERWOLD's squadron, which is represented to have sunk two Cruizers. The only accounts from Singapore that have been published, relate to the exertions of Major FARQUHAR to fortify the new settlement,—and to the increase of its population. A rumour has been noticed, in one of the Journals of the last week, that the Government of Bencoolen was likely to be transferred to Singapore; but we consider this to be a mere rumour, unfounded on any authority. The town of Padang has been delivered to the Netherland's authorities, in pursuance of the treaty with that government's and it is said, that double duties on exports and imports were immediately imposed.

Address.

TO

THE MARQUIS OF HASTINGS.

On Saturday the 24th instant, at 10 o'clock in the Morning, the Gentlemen, deputed to present the Address from the Inhabitants of the Presidency of Fort St. George, to the Most Noble the MARQUIS HASTINGS, attended, by appointment, at the Government House, and after the usual formalities, Captain BLACKER of the Madras Cavalry, read and delivered to his Lordship the following important gratifying testimony of public applause and admiration.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, THE MOST NOBLE FRANCIS, MARQUIS OF HASTINGS, K. G. and G. C. B. Governor General of British India, &c. &c. &c.

MY LORD,

We, the European Inhabitants of Madras, deeply impressed with a sense of the benefits conferred on the British Empire in India, by the wisdom of your Lordship's Councils, beg leave respectfully to offer these our cordial congratulations on the eminent success which has distinguished the measures of your Lordship's administration.

Though remote from the immediate scene of your Lordship's splendid achievements, we have nevertheless, viewed with profound interest, the bold and honorable policy, by which they have been guided: and, when we contemplate the situation of British India, at the period your Lordship first assumed the reins of Government, we cannot forbear expressing our admiration of the wisdom and energy, which have conducted public affairs to their present unparalleled state of prosperity.—Your Lordship found our territory invaded on one hand, by a brave and hardy race of mountaineers—on the other, menaced by a lawless host of rapacious freebooters—while the Native independent Princes evinced a disposition to take advantage of existing circumstances, and attempt measures hostile to our power.

The repeated aggressions of the Government of Nepaul, proceeded to an extent that demanded the prompt application of the Military resources of the state,—To chastise an active and daring foe, intrenched in the fastnesses of a mountainous Country, nearly impervious to the usual mode of warfare, was an arduous and doubtful enterprise. The contest was novel and interesting, and our troops encountered an enemy worthy of their prowess; but all obstacles vanished before your Lordship's well-concerted plans, and the struggle terminated in a treaty, glorious to the British arms.

The measures adopted by your Lordship, to repel the destructive incursions of those predatory hordes, who for so many years desolated a considerable portion of our possessions, proclaim the same talent and energy by which the war in Nepaul was conducted.—The faithless policy pursued by some of our Allies, paved the way for great and beneficial changes. The late Mahratta war ensued, and the perfidious conduct of the Native Princes met with merited punishment. It was a war of peculiar character, carried on against myriads of lawless and mercenary troops, whose wild discipline, and wide-spreading desolation, in vain attempted to evade the influence of scientific movements. It became in a moment a war with States—but the Heroes of Mahidpoor and Corygaum, Seetabuldy and Kikee, gallantly asserted the British honour, and reaped unfading laurels. In the siege of Hatrass and Asseerghur, conducted according to the strict rules of the Art, success was secured by wise precautionary measures.—Thus, the strength of the enemy, which lay in their mountains, their swarms of freebooters, and their fortresses, opposed no permanent resistance to the efforts of disciplined valour.

The state of licentious misrule, which produced those migratory Banditti, no longer exists. Order is established, and vigour infused into every department of the state. The Husbandman has joyfully resumed his labour, the great source of wealth and power,—confidence revives, and trade flourishes with renewed activity. The Peasant reaps the fruit of his useful toil, beneath the broad Ægis of British power, and blesses the arm which sustains that shield, under whose protection reposes the destiny of so many nations.

The most accomplished statesmen, while they provide for the defence and security of the realm, neglect not to cherish the arts of peace. To cultivate the province of the human mind—to call forth its latent powers, and direct its energies to the improvement of society—to give a character and colour to the morals, intelligence, and spirit of the age, has justly been considered essential to the welfare of the political system. On Agriculture, on Arts, and Commerce, liberal knowledge exerts a powerful and permanent influence—it adds to the resources of a people, while it increases their happiness and is intimately connected with the vital interests of mankind. Your Lordship's attention to this important branch of legislature, has not escaped our notice: and the numerous institutions formed for the instruction of the Native population, are illustrious monuments of British Generosity, consecrated by the wisdom of your Lordship to the prosperity of the Empire.

While contemplating this important subject, it must have occurred, that to the attainment of truth freedom of inquiry was essentially necessary; that public opinion was the strongest support of just Government; and, that liberty of discussion served but to strengthen the hands of the executive. Such freedom of discussion was the gift of a liberal and enlightened mind; an invaluable and unequivocal expression of those sentiments, evinced by the whole tenour of your Lordship's administration.

Such are a few of those prominent features of a Government, whose character and conduct form a brilliant era in the History of our Country. At this particular period, we are enabled to view the subject with peculiar advantage. We see clearly developed, the springs of that able and intricate policy, by which effects have been produced which must excite the admiration of posterity. We see the grand object of those operations which embraced so wide a field of action; and, can duly appreciate the merit of those masterly combinations, by which such glorious success has been commanded. We now contemplate in tranquillity that extensive coalition, directed by a crafty and deceitful policy, which has disappeared before our banners.—The reign of peace is restored—security and justice established, and a gradual system of improvement, introduced into every department, conducive to the happiness of society. In a word, when we look back to the period under review, we cannot fail to acknowledge, that those stupendous projects, which led to such splendid and happy results, were conceived by a powerful and intrepid genius, carried into effect with consummate judgment, and concluded with unprecedented success.

We intreat your Lordship to accept of this imperfect expression of our sentiments, and of the assurance of our profound respect. That your Lordship may long continue to guide those Councils, whose measures embellish the proud annals of our Country's Glory, is the earnest prayer of,

MY LORD,
Your Lordship's Most Obedient Humble Servants,
(Here follow the signatures.)

FORT ST. GEORGE, 26th May, 1819.

GENTLEMEN,

I can have no reserve in manifesting the peculiar satisfaction with which I meet this expression of the favorable construction put upon my measures by the British Inhabitants of the Presidency of Fort St. George.

The gratification is an honest one—a desire to stand well in the opinion of one's Countrymen must be a laudable anxiety, because its tendency is to produce endeavours beneficial to the Community. It is true, Public Applause may be sometimes sought by oblique dexterity, and may be sometimes bestowed by giddy partiality; But, when it is established as an object of keen Ambition, it will much oftener be the legitimate reward of the useful conduct to which it is the incentive. Hence I avow all my pleasure in receiving the testimony of kind estimation conveyed by this address. I speak thus of the Approbation as far as it regards myself alone—I have a still more ardent sense of it where I am to participate it with those thro' whose admirable energy the advantageous results noticed in the Address were substantiated. The Heroism of every branch of the Army is justly extolled; and the Praise is to be understood as applicable not to Valor only, but to every other quality that can pre-eminently distinguish the Soldier. It can scarcely have failed to be remarked how studiously I have forborne any labored panegyric, any high colored description, respecting the achievements of the Officers and Men whom I had the happiness to command. I feared that any such Phraseology would look like the Compliments of ordinary usage, and might lead to an indistinct appreciation of the real merits,—a common place Acknowledgment implies a common place Claim. The Public, when left to judge for itself, and the prominent facts before it, could not err in measurement of the recognition due; while the glow of my gratitude towards my fellow Soldiers ran no risk of being doubted: The tone of this Address proves the justness of my confidence: My gallant Comrades enjoy the full meed of their Fame!

The time which elapsed before this Address was agitated has been fortunate. A sufficient term of trial has been exhibited to satisfy us whether what we have effected is solid.—How answers our experience? From Cape Comorin to the Mountains of Tartary, from the Indus to the Burrampooter, all India displays deferential attention to the wishes of the British Government. Our power, undoubtedly, in a great degree sways this acquiescence with many; Yet it is pleasing to believe (as there is every reason to be assured) that trust in our moderation, and a conviction of the beneficial nature of our purposes, contribute far more generally to the efficiency of our influence. The necessity which occurred for our reducing Asseer Gurh is no contradiction to this representation of tranquillity. That operation, in reality, belonged to the period of struggle. In the contemplation of measures requisite for securing the public quiet, we had included the surrender of a Fortress which had for many years been the receptacle of every profligate out-cast from the neighbouring countries, the Commander and Garrison of which consequently identified themselves with every predatory gang, and would ever be ready to shelter the Banditti, if not to cooperate with them. The transfer of this Fortress to us had been early stipulated by Treaty, but considerations intervened to prevent our insisting on the fulfilment of the article. I will not regret having strained delicacy beyond convenient bounds. The forbearance was befitting the undisputed superiority which the British Arms had assumed. We thought our generosity needed not to be circumscribed by strict prudence. Tho' the Commandant had been guilty of overtacts of hostility to us by his intercourse with Bajee Rao, still as the Ex-Peishwa was at the time in the Field, we had the excuse of considering this conduct as only a vacillation during an undecided contest; and we resolved to spare Scindiah, the Sovereign to whom Asseer Gurh belonged, and who was on a footing of Amity with us, the pain of seeing captured. When Bajee Rao had thrown himself on our mercy and all warfare was at an end, the invitation and protection extended to our fugitive Enemy, Appa Sahab, was unequivocally criminal. It was a direct indication of resolution to support any effort for the revival of convulsions in Central India. We had no longer an option. We applied to Scindia to change the Commandant and Garrison. His Highness's Order for the purpose was contemned: and the place, with its defenders, stood in the light of asserted independence and of hostility wilfully exercised against us. The ready subjugation of a Fortress which the childish fancy of the Country had pronounced impregnable, and the total absence of any ferment in Central India during our enterprise, which the speculation of the Natives deemed likely to plunge us into embarrassment, served only to prove more clearly on how firm a basis the New System of our Supremacy was founded. We have fitly availed ourselves of that evidence as you have remarked. You have observed my exertions to diffuse Instruction thro' the extensive Region with which we had become thus suddenly intimate. I cannot take credit for more than the having followed the impulse communicated by every British voice around me. Yes, we all, similarly confessed the sacred obligation towards a bounteous Providence of striving to impart to the Immense Population under our protection, that Improvement of Intellect which we felt to be our own most valuable and dignified possession.

One topic remains—My removal of restrictions from the press has been mentioned in laudatory language. I might easily have adopted that procedure without any length of cautious consideration, from my habit of regarding the freedom of publication as a natural right of my fellow subjects to be narrowed only by special and urgent cause assigned. The seeing no direct necessity for those invidious shackles might have sufficed to make me break them—I know myself, however, to have been guided in the step by a positive and well weighed policy. If our motives of action are worthy, it must be wise to render them intelligible throughout an Empire, our hold on which is opinion. Further, it is salutary for Supreme Authority, even when its intentions are most pure, to look to the control of Public Scrutiny: While conscious of Rectitude, that authority can lose nothing of its strength by its exposure to general comment.—On the contrary, it acquires incalculable addition of Force.—That Government which has nothing to disguise wields the most powerful instrument that can appertain to Sovereign Rule.—It carries with it the united reliance and effort of the whole mass of the governed : And let the triumph of our beloved Country in its awful contest with Tyranny be known to France, speak the value of a spirit to be found only in men accustomed to indulge and express their honest sentiments.

Say to me, Gentlemen, to those who have deputed you, that I accept with unfeigned warmth and cordiality, the proof of good will which they have honored me ; and I entreat you to believe that I am justly sensible of the manner in which you have fulfilled your delegation.

Madras

To us who have laboured with such ardour and perseverance to expose the ruinous and oppressive system lately adopted in the transmission of letters to this Country, it is a source of great satisfaction to find that the remonstrances so unflinchingly forwarded from India upon this distressing subject are about to be attended to. Letters from the highest authority, we understand, have been received stating that the Government at home have it in contemplation to revise the present system of the Post Office, as far as its regulations affect this Country, and that the greatest advantages may be expected to the community at large, from the revision that these will undergo. We congratulate the Public upon this prospect of redress.

Several free traders lately employed in the India trade have been taken up for one voyage by the Honourable Company.

The Catherine, Captain Knox, is one of them, and she is expected to reach this Port in the course of the next month. She will be despatched home direct in September next. We understand she has excellent accommodations for Passengers.

His Majesty's Ship Conway is expected here shortly, prior, we hear, to her departure for England.

The Honourable Company's Ships General Kyll, and Windsor, will sail for China about the end of the month.

The homeward bound Ship La Belle Alliance, Captain Wolfe, with the Head Quarters of H. M. 25th Dragoons on board, which left this on the 15th of April touched at Port Louis on the 19th of May. She was to sail again in a few days.

All the accounts we have seen describe the dreadful state of Commerce in Europe.

A Military Brevet was spoken of in political circles as likely to take place on St. George's Day.

The Minerva, it appears, has brought Packets. Nine boxes of letters have been landed and sent to the General Post Office. The Minerva parted company with the Role to the Westward of the Cape.

We are authorized to state that, the fine new Ship the Catherine, burden Eight Hundred Tons, is freighted to the Hon. United East India Company, and is commanded by Captain William Knox:—she may be expected to arrive at this Port in August from England, and to be despatched home direct in September next; she has excellent accommodations for Passengers.

Bombay.

The dependency so proverbial amongst Englishmen in the month of November, appears to attack the natives of this part of the world at the setting in of the rains, for during this last week several inquests have been held on people, who have destroyed themselves, without much apparent cause.

The weather has been remarkably fine hitherto; the ships have not been in the least interrupted in the business of loading, nor has there been any accident, except the solitary one mentioned in our nautical notices.

Gulf of Persia.—We are now daily expecting a fresh supply of Europe intelligence by this rout. At this time last year we had accounts to the 1st of April.

Cotton, still maintains its high prices, and some purchases have been made, that will not allow of our quoting,—Freight to China higher than 25 Rupees per Candy.

Penang.

By the arrival of the Adventure, Capt. Robson, from Batavia the 18th May, and Malacca the 22d ultimo, we are in possession of Batavia Gazettes to the 1st May.

We are concerned to state, that the Fever, which we lately noticed as prevailing at Malacca, continues with increased violence, and that the daily victims to its destructive ravages were numerous.

The Ship Mary Anne, Captain J. Webster, from Singapore the 16th ultimo, came to anchor on Wednesday last.

The Catharine, Capt. Foster, is the vessel engaged to convey the followers of the 2d battalion 20th Native Infantry to Ben-

BATAVIA GAZETTE, THE 1ST MAY, 1819.

It is well known that Mr. Dupuy, who was sent last year to take possession of the Dutch Settlement of Padang, on the West Coast of Sumatra, refused to receive that place on the conditions prescribed by the British Lieutenant Governor of Bencoolen, and that this Office, consequently unsuccessfully returned.

The Government have since received information from the British Supreme Government in Bengal, that positive orders to deliver the Residency of Padang to the Dutch Authorities, have been forwarded to the Lieutenant Governor of Benccoulen.

Mr Du Puy has in consequence been appointed a second time Commissioner as well as Resident of Padang, and sailed for that place on the 26th ultimo, in His Majesty's Frigate the Vestalmina, under Command of Captain Dibbets, Knight of the Military Order of William. On board this ship are also several Civil Officers and Troops for the Garrison of Padang.

On the 24th April last sailed for St. Petersburg, the Russian Ship Kutusoff, Captain Lieutenant De Hagemeister, from the N. W. Coast of America. This ship touched out ward bound at Rio de Janeiro; sailed round Cape Horn, visited Lima and all the Russian possessions on the N. W. Coast of America: she remained some time at Oonalaska and sailed thence direct for this place.

The Kutusoff has received here several interesting curiosities for the Cabinet of the Emperor of Russia; Batavia, the 14th May, 1819.

Major Nahuys, Knight of the Military Order of William, who in November last was sent by the Commissioners General to the Island of Borneo, has lately returned. He has entered into contracts with the Rajahs of Potiana, Sambas and Mampauva, by which the interests of the Dutch Government and that of the Rajahs are closely connected together. The Settlement of Banjermassing which he visited was found to be in a state of prosperity.

AUGUST 9.

We are truly concerned to say, that late letters from Meerut, Allahabad, Juanpore and other places, contain most unfavourable accounts of the season and the weather. At Meerut the weather has been particularly hot and oppressive, and much sickness has prevailed. H. M. 14th Regiment has suffered much in Officers and Men. At Allahabad very little rain has fallen—and apprehensions of a scarcity have been seriously entertained. At Juanpore, the want of rain had actually produced such a dearth of grain, that the poor people in the neighbourhood were actually selling their infant children! Considerable sickness had also prevailed at Benares, particularly among the European part of the population: and the dread of an approaching famine, is stated to be very generally entertained, unless—a considerable fall of rain in the present and next month shall avert the calamity. Letters from Ghazeepore are also filled with gloomy anticipations, and a correspondent from Dinapore, says, that there has been no rain in that neighbourhood except on the 23d of June, and two slight showers in July. He observes, that Bhoot Gram was selling at 23 Seers per Rupee—and that the trading part of the population were continually complaining. To these distressing statements, we may add, that gram and other grain have greatly increased in prices at Calcutta.

• ——— •

A letter from a gentleman at one of the upper stations mentions the following curious circumstance. 'A few days ago a number of poor Moghuls passed through this place, saying that they had been driven from house and home by the cruelty of Runjeet Singh's soldiers, who had plundered and burned their villages, and put 18,000, particularly women and children, to the most barbarous and cruel deaths. They also declared that they were on their way to the Presidency, to represent their miserable plight to the British government, from which they hope to obtain redress. To what credit this story may be entitled I know not, but they were literally starving, and appeared most thankful for a little money, bread and victuals, which some European gentlemen gave them.'

Extract of a Letter, dated Gurrawarrah, July 18, 1819.

Yesterday evening, about 6 o'clock, we were visited by one of the most dreadful Thunderstorms that I ever remember to have witnessed—The flashes of lightning were remarkably vivid, and almost incessant; for the space of an hour and half, and were instantaneously followed by peals of thunder, which sounded as if the heavens were bursting over our heads.

The lightning struck a Bungalow, which notwithstanding every exertion made to save it, was entirely consumed. Owing to the very prompt assistance rendered by the Sepoys, the whole of the property was rescued from the flames, but I am sorry to say, that a considerable portion of it was spoiled from being exposed to the heavy rain, which fell soon after.—Had it not been for this rain, some other Bungalows must have shared the same fate, as the wind was very fresh, and blew the sparks exactly in their direction.

One of the bells of arms in the lines, was also struck with the fluid, and burnt down.

It is melancholy to state, that a Havildar of the 15th Regiment was killed by the lightning, and also an unfortunate Bheesty.—I have no doubt, that several people must have been killed in the Villages round about, of whom we have not received any account.

Several Officers received shocks similar to those felt from an electrifying machine, but I am happy to say, not one was hurt.

A considerable quantity of hail fell, and some of the stones were of a very large size.—The storm passed over about half past seven, and near nine, was succeeded by another, which fortunately was neither so near nor so severe as the first.—Although the lightning was very vivid in this second storm, I am not aware of any accident having occurred from it.—The rain fell in torrents, until about 12 o'clock, when it gradually ceased, and the storm cleared off.—The impression made on our minds by this truly awful visitation, will not, I think, quickly wear off.—The lightning was so vivid, and the thunder so loud and continued, as to create a general sensation of alarm; no one knowing but that his own house or his own life might be the next object, which would fall a sacrifice to the fury of the element.

I do not know if you are aware of the situation of this place, which lies about half way between Jubbulpore and Husseinabad.

I forgot to insert that the Officer who was standing at the door of his house, at the time it was struck, was knocked down by the violence of the shock, as was also his tailor, who was at work in the verandah.

The devastation occasioned by the late Earthquake at Anjar, Kutch and other places, where the great violence of the convulsion was experienced, is much greater than the information communicated to our readers has detailed. At Anjar 166 lives have been lost, and double that number severely wounded. A third part of the houses in the Town have been entirely destroyed,—overturned from the foundation! The Fort has been so much shaken that it is not expected any part of it, will remain after a fall of rain. The Town of Kowrah is said to be entirely swallowed up. This place, we believe, was situated in a hilly country, and yielded large quantities of Iron ore; which, consistently with some of the theories of earthquakes, may account for the melancholy calamity. It is stated that although, before this awful visitation, there were upwards of two hundred Forts of different kinds in the province of Cutch, there is not one remaining. During the convulsion, the beds of rivers, previously dry, became filled with water—the ground opened in several places, and water, sand and other substances were forced to the surface. The water in the wells assumed a white colour.—And although the shock lasted only two minutes—in that brief period—solid buildings which had stood for ages, “fell to” the ground like houses of cards.” The misery of the survivors of those who suffered at Anjar is painted in the most gloomy colours—and the people who lately were the richest and most respectable of their class, “are seen sitting, surrounded by their families, “on the spot, where their houses once stood, in the most “hopeless and destitute condition.” It is stated in the Bombay Courier, from which, we have taken this melancholy detail, that it is in contemplation to make a subscription for the relief of the Anjar sufferers.

A few days ago a report was received from Delhi, that Runjeet Sing had succeeded in the invasion of Cashmeer, after a desperate battle, in which several of his principal Sirdars were killed, and a large portion of his troops. Victories, however in that part of the country are not unusually claimed by both sides, and the circumstance of the Sikh army having suffered so considerably, may afford some reason to conclude that Runjeet has not been so successful as is represented. The report does not mention that he had actually entered Cashmeer.

We believe that Mahomed Khan, the Governor of Cashmeer, is now at Peshawur, having captured that city from Shah Mahmood, in hopes of placing Shah Shooja on the throne, on terms chiefly advantageous to himself. But Shooja disdained the proffered arrangement, and retired among the Khyberrees, till he could collect an army sufficient for the objects he had in view.

We have no information to whose hands the defence of Cashmeer had been intrusted in the absence of the Governor.

In our number of the 9th ultimo, we announced to our readers, that a discovery had been made of the individuals concerned in the late forgeries on the Bank of Bengal, &c. We are gratified in being now able to add that the active and judicious measures of Mr. Barwell, the Magistrate of the 24 Pergunnahs, have been successful in developing fully the proceedings of these gentry, and gaining possession of the implements with which they carried on their schemes. It appears from his investigations, that the association consisted of six natives, three of whom had directed their talents to the engraving part of their business; two others managed the copper-plate press, and the sixth, a podar, disposed of the forged notes at such rates as would ensure a speedy sale. Every thing was carried on systematically, and great care had been taken to avoid detection at the scene of operations, (the residence of the above persons, a little to the Eastward of Kalli Ghaut,) as well as to deceive the eyes of the unwary by the fabricated notes. A forged impression of a lottery ticket was also found, as well as of the Stamp Office Seal, so that the firm appears to have contemplated carrying on business on a very large scale, and according to a regularly organized system. The copper-plates, seal, forged notes, &c. were found buried in various parts of the compound, within which the houses of the individuals were situated, on the 28th and 29th ultimo.

All the six persons concerned have been apprehended and are now in jail. One plate, from which Bengal Bank notes for 500 rupees were taken, was sent to the Bank of Bengal, the treasurer of which, we understand, immediately paid a reward of 500 rupees to be distributed amongst those who discovered the offenders. Another plate, purporting to be of the Bank of Hindostan, for twenty-five rupees, was also sent to that establishment. Thus has been detected and crushed a complicated scheme of roguery, entirely of native origin and management, which might have occasioned the most serious injury and alarm to the public, had it continued for any time in activity without being brought to light; and the statements from which we gather the above abstract, sufficiently demonstrate, that the warmest thanks of the community are merited by the active magistrate, whose talents have been well exerted and displayed in sifting the matter so thoroughly as he has done—Hurk.

On Monday, the ship Wellington, Captain Wasse, arrived in the roads from England the 1st March—She touched at Madeira, whence she sailed on the 25th—The Wellington spoke the homeward bound ship Europe, Captain Ashton, on the 1st April, all well—in Lat. $2^{\circ} 18' N.$ Lon. $21^{\circ} 40' W.$ —Passengers by the Wellington:—Lieutenant and Miss Ternon and Mr. Bell.

His Majesty's 13th Regiment of Light Dragoons are on their march for Arcot. Orders are out for the immediate drafting of the 22d Dragoons, which will shortly return to England.

It is with great regret we state, that though the cases of Gastritis, as our correspondent very properly terms the prevailing Epidemic, are not so frequent at Madras as they were some time ago, the accounts from the Villages in the immediate neighbourhood of the Presidency, as well as those from the interior, are truly distressing. According to our information the mortality amongst the Natives is really frightful. Some Villages indeed are stated to be actually depopulated, but this is probably an exaggeration occasioned by the timid character of the Natives.

Signals for Ships from the Southward were flying during the whole of Sunday and yesterday. The first in the order of arrivals was the free trader Bristol, from the Port of Bristol the 1st of March. She brings of course no news.

Passengers—Mrs. R. Buchanan; Miss R. Buchanan; Rev. P. Naubore; and Rev. D. Roser

The next was the Mermaid from Bombay. The Reliance, from Pondicherry followed. The homeward bound Ship Heroine, also came in yesterday from Bengal. This succession kept all our hopes alive for the H. C. ship Rose, but they were disappointed.

Passengers per Heroine.—Henry Villebague. Esq.; C. P. Dennis, Esq.; Misses H. Boscawen and C. Boscawen, Masters L. Francis, Rouche, and C. Rouche, for England; and Lieut. H. Mantell, for Madras.

H. M. Ship Conway, came in yesterday morning, from Trincomalie. She remains in the roads only a short time, and then returns to Trincomalie, from whence she will be despatched for England. Packets are open at the Post Office for her. They close on Wednesday.

H. M. Ship Carron, from Trincomalie came in on Saturday.

The Ships for China will not sail, we hear, before the middle of next month,

Bombay.

On Wednesday morning the Hon'ble Company's cruiser Antelope, Lieut. Arthur, from Bushire 9th and Mocha 29th June, and the country ship Jessey, Langdale, from Mocha 25th June, arrived here. The former ship sailed in company with the country ships Francis Warden and Sophia, which have since arrived here. The Jessey left the H. C. cruiser Aurora at Mocha; the H. C. cruiser Prince of Wales had proceeded to Judda.

H. M. ship Curlew, Captain Walpole, arrived at Bushire on the 1st June, with a Jowassme Bottella, which she had captured.

These vessels have brought no news of much public importance, the date of the European intelligence is anterior to that received by way of Madras. The plague was raging in Egypt; but we are unhappy to learn that Sir Miles and Lady Nightingall, with their suit, had reached Alexandria in safety, and would embark from that port for Malta about the middle of April.

H. M. S. Eden, which left this port with nearly 30 cases of cholera on board, has arrived safely at Madras, and we are happy to hear that two days after the Eden put to sea, no symptoms of the cholera remained.

The H. C. ships Lowther Castle, Capt. Mortlock, and Charles Grant, Capt. Scott, with the country ship Ann, Captain Ridgock, for China; and the free trader Stakesby, Capt. Henderson, for London, proceeded to sea last night. The Lady Borringdon returned to re-stow part of her Cargo and will proceed again as soon as she is in proper trim. The Brampton, Captain Green, for London, will sail, we understand, on Sunday.

The third sessions of over and terminer and general jail delivery, &c. for this town and island, &c. will commence on Wednesday next, before the Hon'ble Court of the Recorder. We are informed there are no cases of much interest likely to be tried.

NAVIGATION OF THE RED SEA.

A person well acquainted with the navigation of the Red Sea desires us to mention as a warning to all Captains of vessels trading in that quarter, that it is extremely dangerous to carry a press of top-sails in the upper part of the Red Sea from Conseir upwards, as frequent gusts of wind are often met with, which blow suddenly from a directly opposite quarter to that which they have been before sailing with. From a neglect of this precaution, one ship was lost and another near sharing the same fate this season.

Calcutta. MILITARY.

GENERAL ORDERS, BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE MOST NOBLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM; 31ST JULY, 1819.

The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the following Extracts of General Letters from the Honorable the Court of Directors, in the Military Department, be published in General Orders, for the information of the Army.

General Letter, dated 11th November, 1818.

Para. 2.—In consequence of a communication we have received from the War Office, suggesting that in future no Pensions may be paid to the Widows of Officers of His Majesty's Service, dying in India, unless they shall have obtained the Royal authority for receiving the same, we desire that you will and in future authorize the payment of any such Pensions, unless such authority shall have been obtained, in conformity with this suggestion.

General Letter, dated 27th November, 1818.

Para. 2.—Our attention has lately been directed to the subject of the Pensions granted to Officers for Wounds received in action, and we find it necessary to revise our orders on that head, in so far as respects the continuance of those Pensions in certain cases.

3.—In all those instances, where the injury is of a permanent nature, as for example, where the party has actually lost an Eye or a Limb in action, or has suffered such permanent injury as may be equivalent to the loss of an Eye or a Limb from a wound received in action, there can be no doubt of his being entitled to the Pension for life, conformably with the spirit and letter of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent's Regulations, bearing date the 20th June, 1812, but cases may occur, where, though at the expiration of a year and a day after the wound has been received, (the period at which those Pensions commence) the individual may, to all appearance, have sustained an injury deemed equal to the loss of a Limb, yet, by skillful Medical treatment, and the efforts of a sound constitution, he may, in a few years, be restored to his pristine bodily strength.

4.—In instances of this kind, when we consider the liberal scale of allowances granted to the Company's Officers, it is impossible for us to consent to continue the Pensions; and we therefore direct, that in all cases of recovery, if within three years from the injury originally sustained, the Pension shall be discontinued.

5.—In order that this Resolution may be strictly attended to, and that a careful distinction may at the same time be made between such cases and those of Officers laboring under permanent injury, from wounds received in action, and equivalent to the loss of an Eye or a Limb, we direct that every Officer of our Army receiving a Pension for wounds, shall be examined, at the expiration of three years from the time of the wound being received, by two Medical Practitioners, who shall certify upon honor the actual state of the wound, and its remaining effects, to enable you to judge, whether, in conformity with the instructions now conveyed to you, the party be justly entitled to a continuance of the Pension; and we further direct that you will transmit to us regular reports of all such examinations.

6.—Applications having been made from some of our Officers in the country for an increase of the Pensions granted them, in proportion to the advanced rank they have received, conformably with a Regulation adopted in His Majesty's Service, we have to inform you, that that Regulation has been discontinued in His Majesty's Service, as you will observe on perusal of the Circular Letters of the Secretary's War, dated 30th June and 25th August 1817, of which we herewith transmit you Copies.

7.—And being of opinion that all the circumstances of our Service duly considered, especially the advantages derived by the Company's Officers from the liberal allowances they receive, in addition to their Pay, the Pensions granted, or to be granted to our Officers, under the Regulations which accompanied our Despatch of 29th March, 1815 are sufficient in amount, we do not think proper to accede to the recommendation contained in the 257th and 258th Paras. of your Letter of 29th December 1815, for an augmentation of those Pensions.

(COPY)

CIRCULAR, No. 362.

War Office, 30th June, 1817.

Sir,

GENERAL ORDER.

HORSE-GUARDS, 26th November, 1818.

His Royal Highness the Commander in Chief is pleased to direct, that the following copy of a Letter, which by Command of the Prince Regent, acting in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, has been addressed to the General Officer Commanding at Portsmouth, respecting the Conduct of certain Officers of the 25th Regiment of Foot, shall be entered in the General Order Book, and read at the head of every Regiment.

By Order of His Royal Highness

The Commander in Chief,

(Signed) HARRY CALVERT,
Adjutant-General.

(A true Copy)

THOS. McMAHON,

Col. Adjutant-General.

(COPY.)

HORSE-GUARDS, 20th November, 1818.

MY LORD,

I have laid before the Prince Regent the Proceedings of the Court of Enquiry, of which your Lordship was President, held at Portsmouth on the 26th September, 1818, and continued by Adjournments until the 1st of October following, for the purpose of investigating certain pecuniary Transactions, and other Matters, stated to have taken place in the 25th Regiment, by the Report of which it appears, that Brevet Major Baillie, and Paymaster Smith, of that Corps, have been principally concerned in very disgraceful Impositions upon the Bankers of Daventry and Portsmouth, by procuring Money from them under false pretences; and I am to acquaint your Lordship, that it has appeared to His Royal Highness, that the whole Tenor of their Conduct in these pecuniary Transactions partakes so directly of a swindling nature, as to render them both unworthy of holding Commissions in His Majesty's Service, exclusive of the considerations to their prejudice, arising in the prominent share they appear by the proceedings of the Court, to have had in the dissensions and insubordination, which have been so discreditable to the 25th Regiment, for a long time past.

Under these circumstances, the Prince Regent has been pleased to command, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty, that Brevet Major William Baillie, and Paymaster Philip Smith, shall be dismissed from the Service.

It has appeared in the Investigation of these Transactions, that Captain Tripp and Lieutenant Hamilton, though not implicated to the same extent, have nevertheless been guilty of aiding, encouraging, and abetting the Practices which have enabled Paymaster Smith to commit, what the Court have so properly termed "his depredations" upon those who have confided in the honor of British Officers; and His Royal Highness remarked, that the Conduct in which these Officers are involved, as set forth in the whole of the Proceedings of the Court of Enquiry, is so discreditable and ingenious, as to the character, honor and discipline of his Majesty's Service, as to merit the severest Punishment; but as there appears a distinction in their favour when compared with the more heinous Offences of Brevet Major Baillie and Paymaster Smith, His Royal Highness is pleased to adopt towards them (Captain Peter Tripp, and Lieutenant R. Hamilton) the more lenient measure of Removal from the 25th Regiment to Half Pay Establishment.

Lieutenant Kean appears to have advanced considerable Sums of Money to Paymaster Smith, and hereby to have aided that Officer in his disgraceful irregularities, and his name also appears implicated with the others in the Party Dissensions which have so materially disturbed the Harmony and Discipline of the Corps; but in consideration of the Losses he has sustained from being only the dupe of others, the Prince Regent has graciously commanded that no further Punishment shall be visited upon Lieutenant Kean, than a severe Reprimand and Admonition for the share he has had in these Transactions.

Captain M'Dougall's name also appears in the Proceedings, as having imprudently associated with the Parties concerned in these irregularities, though not actually implicated in them, and His Royal Highness has commanded, that he shall be admonished in the manner best calculated to make him feel the necessity of more circumspection in future.

You will therefore acquaint me with the day upon which the Prince Regent's pleasure is made known to Brevet Major Baillie and Paymaster Smith, as from that date they will cease to receive Pay in his Majesty's Service; —and also in regard to Captain Tripp and Lieute- nant Hamilton, who will accordingly be removed to the Half Pay establishment; and you will carry into effect the severe Reprimand and Admonition adjudged to Lieutenant Keen for his Conduct, and warn Captain McDougall how ill calculated the imprudence he has been guilty of is to promote his future success in the Profession.

I am, &c.

(Signed) FREDERICK,
Commander in Chief.

AUGUST 16.

The Eclipse from the Downs the 2d of April and Columbo the 28th ultimo, has brought a detachment of H. M. 59th Regiment, from Ceylon: and we understand that the remainder of that Corps, which has been doing duty at that Island, will return very shortly to this Presidency. The Eclipse has not brought any article of European intelligence, later than those that we have received via Madras, and no local information that we have been enabled to collect, except, that the ship Layton from Cork, the 27th of January, with "the Head Quarters of H. M. 45th Regiment," had arrived at Point de Galle on the 6th ultimo: but was compelled by the currents to proceed to Trincomalie. The passengers by the Eclipse, will be found under the usual head.

The Madras Courier of the 27th ultimo, contains the following account of the Epidemic:—

"We regret that the distressing subject of the Epidemic is again as it were forced upon our notice. During the last week our Correspondent's letters from the Southern extremity of the Peninsula are filled with alarms excited by the second approach of this dreadful scourge.—Several of the Privates of the 89th Regiment of Foot, had been attacked by it, and a few had been carried off. The mortality amongst the Natives is described as dreadful. The alarm occasioned by its peculiar malignancy in Travancore is very great. The Epidemic had extended to Khodamungham, one of our inland stations, where it was committing dreadful ravages. As if it was not misery sufficient to be troubled with one plague, a malignant fever had broken out and was carrying off such as the Cholera passed by."

Private accounts from Trincomalee inform us of the following melancholy occurrence. A Lieutenant Rushworth, belonging to one of His Majesty's ships laying there, had been on shore shooting, and considering a jackal that he had shot, to be quite dead, was employed in cutting off his tail, when the animal turned round and bit his foot severely through the boot. Disregarding the wound, he joined a shooting party again on the following day, but in the evening, his foot became exceedingly painful; however, in the course of a few days more the pain subsided, and the wound was apparently healed. Some time after, Mr. R. was seized with a locked jaw, which proved fatal, and no doubts were entertained of its having been produced by the above wound.

Letters from the Cape and St. Helena, have yielded us some items of intelligence beyond what we were before possessed of. The most interesting article of these has reference to the fate of the ship Oswin, giving an account of the catastrophe and its consequences, on the authority of the commander himself. The following statement, therefore, of the circumstances attending her loss, may be regarded as perfectly correct.

She had got round the Cape before the 29th January, on which day she sprung a leak, having before experienced a heavy sea on the Lagullas Bank, which occasioned her to make water. The leak was very serious, and both pumps were kept constantly going for twenty-four hours, without being able to gain upon it. On the contrary, at noon on the 30th, there were five feet water in the hold and the greatest exertions that could be used were unable to prevent its increasing fast. In this critical situation, the only chance that remained for those on board of escaping her inevitable fate depended on their preparations for quitting her, and accordingly the long boat was got out, and water, bread, as well as such necessaries as could be readily got at, were put into her. Embarking in the boat, the commander and crew steered for Saint Helena, and were from the 31st of January to the 12th of February, exposed to great sufferings and anxiety, until they reached St. Helena. During this time they ran about 1400 miles, and were particularly fortunate in making the Island to a mile. All who had been on board were saved, with only the clothes that they wore, as nothing could be brought away besides, with the single exception of the Mail. They afterwards proceeded to England, as we have already stated, in one of the Company's China ships.

The Thomas, Kegg from Calcutta for Liverpool, was at St Helena in the middle of February.

The H. C. ship Murchioness of Ely was spoken, all well, on the line, early in March: and about the same time our accounts state that the Prince Regent was at St. Helena.

The Rockingham, Waugh and Coldstream, Coxwell, sailed from the Cape for England about the 5th of April.

The Hyperion, Captain Galloway, arrived at the Cape in the beginning of April, after rather a tedious passage, although she experienced extraordinary fine weather all the way from the Sand Heads—The passengers, and indeed all on board, were quite well on the 4th of April, last, which is the date of Captain Galloway's letter.

Bread and flour were scarce articles at the Cape, at the time the Hyperion was there neither were procurable except for the sick, and not even for those, unless upon an application made to Government, through the Colonial Secretary, accompanied by a sick certificate.

NAUTICAL NOTICES.

The Jessy, from the Red-Sea, and the H. C. Cruiser Antelope, from the Gulf of Persia, anchored in the Harbour late on Tuesday night, having been a day or two off the harbour without being able, from the badness of the weather, to ascertain the entrance.

The Ships that went to sea, during the week had much difficulty to encounter, the wind had increased to a perfect gale, and the sea was so high that the Pilots, on quitting the ships, were in a very perilous situation. The Ahmedy Grab returned on the morning of Monday, being unable to keep the sea.

The Jessy, left in the Red-Sea the H. C. Cruisers, the Aurora, and Prince of Wales, but no English Merchant Ships, if we except the Anglo Indian vessels of Surat.

Several Free-Traders, are under dispatch, both for England and Bengal.

The ships left in the Gulf of Persia, by the ships lately arrived from thence, were as follows, viz.

H. M. Brig Curlew, H. C. Cruisers, Ternate, Nautilus, Mercury, Vestal, and Teignmouth.

The Curlew, had captured a Joasmee pirate Batella, and taken her to Bushie.

Letters from Malwan, of the 8th July, mention that a large ship had been at anchor for two days near Atchera, and that it was feared she would ultimately be wrecked, as the Monsoon had set in with great violence.

The departures and projected departure of the present springs will be most numerous, they commenced yesterday, with the England, and Brampton, Free Traders for London and the Hi-bernia Brig for the Isle of France, they will be followed to-morrow by the Indianen for China.

We may look daily, for the Wellington, Bombay Merchant, Orient, Ann, Bombay Castle, and Diana.

The Upton Castle, Surat Castle, and Lushington had arrived in England, but no account of the Hannah.

The weather during the last week has been more than unusually stormy and the rain has fell in torrents.

In to-morrow's paper, we shall give our readers such articles of intelligence as we may collect from our despatch, with the most interesting extracts we can collect from our files. As the period of regular publication is so near at hand, we do not think it necessary to withhold our present Supplement until we collect the heads of intelligence.

We have but few Shipping notices of any interest to give in our present number. No arrivals from Europe have taken place, but we expect the present and the next week will not pass over without producing the Honorable Company's Ships.

The probabilities are that they were despatched before the 20th of April, and we have no doubt they were clear of the Channel before May day. We are therefore justified in expecting their arrival every hour.

Bombay.

The arrival of the Jessy from Suez and Mocha, on Yest Tuesday, has not at all increased our stock of European Intelligence; she has however brought a file of Malta Gazettes, bringing down the English news to the 1st of March. The Malta papers speak only of localities, and if we except the very long and able speech delivered by His Excellency the Lord High Commissioner on the 4th of March at the opening of the second session of the first Parliament of the United States of the Ionian Islands, they contain no articles of interest.

Mocha—Accounts from this place brought by the Jessy, mention that an Earthquake had been experienced there on the 5th of June; the shock, though slight; was felt all over the adjacent country and in the factory at Mocha, its effects were such as to overturn chairs and tables. Coffee was scarce, and the price high, and we find that the lateness of the Cotton crops in the Northern parts of Guzerat and Kutch, had prevented their receiving their usual supply of this article, the prices of which were nominally high. The annual import of this article to Mocha, Judda, and a few other ports in the Red-Sea, is stated to be about 2000 Candys.

Suez.—Two more Travellers in the paths of Belzoni have made their appearance in Egypt, the one a Mr. Bankes an English Gentleman, and the other a Chevalier Fredini, who has already visited Mount Sinai, and the Coptic monasteries in the vicinity of Tor. The fact of Mr. Belzoni being still alive must rejoice every lover of scientific research, and the more so when we consider, that he will now have an opportunity of correcting the errors, respecting the antiquities of Egypt into which we have been led by a cotemporary traveller.

On the arrival of the Jessy at Suez, the mortality at Cairo, was about 150, and had increased to upwards of 200 some days prior to her departure.

Sir Miles and Lady Nightingall, has turned their Journey through Egypt, and left Alexandria some time in April for Malta.

Wahabees.—Though we find that the Wahabee chief Abdallah, and some of his officers were beheaded at Constantinople in December last, and that another Victory, had also been gained over them, in which the Chief slain who succeeded Abdallah was slain, yet we find their measures still vigorous and their courage still unshaken. The Daughter of a former chief, has now the supreme command, and, as she is a woman of extraordinary talents, she has infused into her followers an enthusiasm, that will again lead them to victory.

Cairo.—The accounts from this place to the early part of May, mentioned that the plague had been raging their with great violence; our travellers from Bombay where de aimed some weeks by it, but had left it for Alexandria, some days before the Jessy left Suez.

Gulf of Persia.—The arrivals from this part of the world, no less than three during the last week, have brought nothing new; the Pirates are not numerous, and the trade has met with but little interruption.

Kutch—For these several years past this devoted country has been visited both by famine and pestilence which added to intestine broils has very much thinned its population. Twenty years ago with the exception of the Boatmen, and the Brattias, there was not a native of Kutch to be seen, but now they have commenced agriculturists, and form a very prominent portion of the inhabitants of Bombay; and we have but little doubt but this last dreadful visitation, will induce many more to emigrate, should not the fostering hand of the British Government not only afford present aid, but future instruction; in pointing out to them, the natural resources of their country, now useless for want of energy in the inhabitants. We allude to its Iron and Coal mines; some small quantity of the former is occasionally brought to Bombay, and specimens of Coal found on the surface, lead us to suppose that this substance might be found of good quality. This is by no means a visionary speculation, for it is a well known fact, that the price of fire wood, and consequently all other kinds of wood, have been annually increasing.

We had entertained hopes, that we should have had but little more to record with regard to the misery caused by the Earthquake in this devoted country, but we have been favoured with a letter from Porebunder, giving us more details of the devastation.

“ POREBUNDER, 17th June.

We yesterday experienced in this Town and Fort, one of the most awful scenes in nature, that of a violent and destructive shock from an Earthquake.

The weather was close and sultry, the thermometer ranging at “65” at sun set; and a dense perceptible air was sometimes felt from the South-west.

Lieutenant L. and myself were taking an evening walk on the Ramparts of the Fort, and had nearly gone all round, when at 40 minutes past 6, we observed to each other, ‘how excessive close and oppressive the atmosphere!’ and five minutes afterwards, I heard a distant sound from the Westward, not unlike that of a cannonade at sea, a thought had scarcely past the mind, as to what could have given rise to it, when I felt a violent shock beneath my feet and instantly exclaimed ‘an Earthquake!’ then looking to ward, saw the stone parapet, at two yards distance, violently bend in a noon, with a quick wave like motion, and with a vibration of about a foot; this appalling sight, extended as far as I could see, on an oval five yards in length, and the whole height of the parapet; I was attended with a hissing, cracking noise.

Had the parapet been made of whale bone, and shook in anger by any power, less than nature, the agitation could not have been so great, as that which we witnessed.

There was nothing appeared more surprising, than that solid masonry, should have received the pliability of the most elastic of all substances,

I thought it impossible that the works could stand, and expecting their immediate fall, instantly descended as quick as possible, but as the Rampart was a perpendicular height of seventeen feet, I was obliged to run back towards the nearest ramp, which was a flight of stone steps at the distance of 75 yards. Lieutenant L. followed: As we passed along, at a quick run, the sensation felt, was similar to that hazardous and disagreeable one, of running a long, an elevated and elastic plank, the ends alone of which were supported. I every instant expected to fall with the works, or, to be precipitated from them, but, reaching the steps, ran down as fast as I could, each step apparently meeting the descending foot, when I sincerely believed it did in reality, and the whole flight, was violently agitated. While passing down, I expected to be overwhelmed by the works, who were touching my right shoulder, and were partly above my head.

Although the rampart and parapet are ten feet thick and twenty feet in height, yet this wall of masonry, waved to and fro like a sea.

Fortunately, the steps were broad: had they been narrow, as is frequently the case, it is doubtful, so great was their agitation, if we could have got down without having been thrown over their side, for, as they joined the works, they were not only affected by their own motion, but also by that of the wall to which they were attached.

Arrived at the bottom of the flight of steps, we did not cease running, until we had got a sufficient length from the works, to prevent their falling on us. On stopping, we were surprised to find, that the works had not fallen after having been agitated by so extraordinary a violent and sea-like motion.

On reaching a spot of comparative safety, for then no place was safe, the attention was directed to a vast cloud of black dust, arising at about 300 yards distance, and from the sea face of the fort, which ran at right angles from that which we quitted. The danger being past for the shock was now over, my curiosity became excited, and approaching the cloud of dust, I found it to proceed from the fall of nine Towers (1) and large parts of the Curtain, (2) leaving twenty-one breaches of forty, and sixty, yards wide. This devastation extended for 500 yards, and over a part of the fort which I had been walking on, not five minutes before.

I do not imagine, that a twenty-four hours fire from ten pieces of heavy ordnance, could have produced so extensive a destruction as was thus effected in a minute and half!!!

We conjectur'd, that the shock had not lasted more than the above short period. But its effects were sufficiently powerful to have destroyed the work of ages.

We now directed our attention towards home, and the first occurrence we met with near it, was the Horse keepers, with our Horses in their hands, standing in the open air, having, as they said, been apprehensive, 'that the stables would have fallen, and killed them.'

On entering my house, the servant informed me, that while making the bed, in the upper apartment, he had been thrown down on the floor; recovering himself, he attempted to escape out of door, but before he could reach it, he was thrown down a second time; he then got up, and ran quickly into the open air.

Doctor and Mrs. A. on hearing all their tiles violently agitated, and cracking, as if in a fire, and observing the whole of their furniture in a rocking motion, immediately ran down into the open air, the former with his Infant in his arms. He informed me, that though his stairs are broad, and built of pukka masonry, yet he experienced much difficulty in descending, from the violent agitation of the steps, and that of the house, to which they were joined.

Lieutenant L's house is a strong pukka stone building, of about 40 feet high: as it stands by itself, the shock appears to have shaken it more than most other houses. The Sepoys describe it as 'having rocked, from side to side, like a tree in a high wind.' On examination, there was found so many rents in its walls, that it was deemed advisable for Lieutenant L. not to sleep beneath its roof.

I believe there are few houses throughout this large City, which have not been more or less injured: some have fallen, and blocked up the streets in which they were situated.

I am happy to say, that but one life has been lost in this Town, a circumstance which appears almost miraculous, from the danger which existed.

(1) The Towers were 30 and 40 feet high,

(2) The Curtains 22 and 35.

The Rajah and principal Inhabitants are now encamped outside of the fort, rather than trust themselves beneath men unsate roofs, which, should they fall, would prove most destructive, since they are made (as is the case of all upper floors also) of a thick terrace supported by stone, on large Timbers.

The Earth opened, and water issued from the cavity, over an extensive piece of ground, in a plain, distant fourteen miles hence.

The atmosphere to-day, has been impregnated with a strong smell of sulphur; and there has been several other shocks between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. which brought some old houses down, and violently shook the seats of those who were seated within doors, which caused them to run out of their houses; but these inferior alarms are not to be compared with yesterday's awful phenomenon.

It was observed that all animals were much frightened during the great shock; the dogs laid down on their bellies and would not be moved.

The Earthquake has been felt far and wide, but its effects appear to have been less violent in the interior, than on the sea shore. I fear not all the line of Towns and Fortresses situated immediately on this Coast have suffered much.—I am this moment informed, that fifty men were killed by the fall of walls at Mangrore, on this Coast, which is distant 60 miles, in a S. E. direction.

The great shock appears to have proceeded from West to East.

The injury which this fortress has sustained, is estimated at half a lac of rupees.

There is nothing in nature, more awful, than to see the proudest works of men, in an instant, vanishing, and becoming a heap of shapeless Ruins.

P. BUNDER, 18th June 1819.

I have viewed the whole extent of injury at this place, since writing to Colonel B. and am sorry to inform you it far exceeds the estimate which I had formed;—were I now to address the Colonel, I would rather say, twenty pieces of Cannon, could not have produced so much destruction. I have corrected my heights and distances by measurement, which are, as are now mentioned, though in some places, they differ from the original letter.

As Doctor A. and myself, yesterday morning, at day break, were riding on the borders of a Lake, we were alarmed by a strong smell of sulphur, and an appearance of smoke resting on the still waters, on the opposite side of the Lake, is a jungle, beyond and above which, is a range of sand hills; we thought we saw on these, a line of black flame, about three feet high, but the distance was too great, to allow of our being positive. I am the more inclined to believe that what we saw was a flame, as I am this morning informed that, at a place on the S. E. Coast, distant hence forty miles the Earth opened, and a flame issued from the cavity.

I am informed, that, at a place, distant hence sixteen miles N. W. by North, what was a rising ground, or small hill, has become a level.

That part of the parapet which I described as having been so violently agitated, now leans considerably on one side, and retains its wave-like shape.

Doctor A. and myself experienced a pain and weakness in the knee joints, immediately after the inferior shocks of the 17th; these unpleasant feelings troubled us all that morning.

A person Eighty-two years of age, on being questioned, as to the physical operations of nature, during his remembrance, says, he has neither seen nor heard of any thing, so terrific, and destructive, as that which he witnessed on the 1st:—He recollects four Earthquakes, but the worst was not more violent, than to cause the shaking of a vase, to be visible to the sight.

From the account of Consuls who felt the shock at Gundel, in the interior, distant hence eighty miles, in a N. E. by East direction, and the centre point of this peninsula, it is evident, that the Earthquake was much less violent inland, than on the Coast, for, although the Consuls mention the fall of houses at many places in the interior, yet they did not witness the ruin of fortresses though they passed several. They state, that the Town of Kooterauna has suffered severely, but not so much as Porebunder, it is distant 20 miles East, of the, and sixteen from the sea.

Every hour brings some afflicting account, particularly from the Coast, of fortresses fallen, lives lost, and injury sustained, from the awful Catastrophe.

P. S. Myself and Doctor A. have just returned from a visit to the sand hills on which we thought we saw flame, and found the shrubbery which was on them, much scorched, and divested of its vegetation.

BROOJ, 23d JUNE, 1819

The loss in lives has not been correctly ascertained. Bodies continue to be dug out of the ruins, and almost 100 have been already found; seven thousand houses, have been overturned, and few or none, in the City left uninjured. Although, the whole of Kutch has suffered pretty equally, in regard to loss of houses: the proportion of lives lost in different places, bears no affinity; perhaps Brooj, as 1st as many as a whole of Kutch put together. In Mandavie 16 and in Luckput 150, are said to have suffered.

A number of Phænixes, are said to have occurred, at the moment of the shock, but I scarcely remark those which appears the most striking. The Kunwar Bano, on the North of Kutch, between that province and the isolated District of Kawra, which was quite dry, was suddenly filled with a sheet of water, the extent of which, East and West, was not known, but its breadth was generally about six miles; and its depth gradually increased to upward of two feet, after which in a few hours, the water subsided to about half that quantity; horsemen who crossed this tract, on the day following the shock, describe a number of cones, of soft sand, elevated above the water, the tops of which were bubbling with air and water, when they passed. As far as I have learnt the sandy bed of every dry river in Kutch, was filled for a short space of time with a flood of water; these waters have the colour, and taste, of the soil from whence they were ejected.

We have been favoured with some notices respecting the Chevallier Frelin mentioned in a former paragraph.

This Traveller departed from Italy in the autumn of 1817, and proceeding to Egypt, was the second who entered into the Pyramid of Cephrenes, and accompanied Lord Belmore into Nubia. He has also travelled to Idumea, Philicia, Judea, Samaria, Galilee, Phenicia, Syria and Mesopotamia. After having performed a very dangerous journey and visited the ruins of Thebes, Memphis, Ascalon, Tyre, Sidon, Antioch, and Jerusalem, he reached Balbec and Palmyra.

Returned into Egypt, he crossed the Red-Sea, and visited Mounts Hreb and Sinai.

He now meditates proceeding to Babylon, and from thence through Persia into India.

The arrival of the Roberts, Captain Brown, from China, has not put us in possession of much interesting intelligence. A few Americans remained at Whampoa, but not a single English ship. The commercial accounts are consequently dull.

The weather during the last week has been very favourable for the crops, the rain having fallen in abundance; and we have for the first time since the setting in of the monsoon experienced an interruption in the regular receipt of papers from Calcutta and Madras, our latest dates being, from Calcutta the 22d June, and from Madras 29th June.

Our readers will observe in another column of our paper the subscription that has been opened for the relief of the distressed people in Anjar who have suffered from the late Earthquake; and we feel it a pleasure to state that no sooner was the idea of opening a subscription agitated, than the sum of about 5000 Rs. was most liberally forwarded to Capt. MacMurdo for immediate distribution among the unfortunate sufferers.

We mentioned in our last paper the rumour which had reached us of its being in contemplation to raise a subscription for the relief of the unfortunate persons who had suffered so severely from the late earthquake at Anjar and other parts within the Honourable Company's territories in Kutch, and we have now the satisfaction of stating that a subscription has been set on foot, which promises of being sufficient in the end to afford every essential relief to a "once flourishing population which was reduced in one moment to wretchedness and misery."

The Government of Bombay has, with its usual liberality, subscribed the sum of four thousand rupees on account of the Honourable Company, independent of the relief, which we understand, it has afforded by directing the suspension of all taxes and assessment of every kind on account of Government as long as it may be found necessary.

The following further sums have already been subscribed:

Sir E. Nepean, Bart. 500	Henry Meriton, Esq. 250
Alexander Bell, Esq. 250	Maj General Baillie, 250
G. L. Prendergast, Esq. 250	Sir W. Keir, 250
Francis Warden, Esq. 250	James F. Smith, Esq., 150
Wm. Newnham, Esq. 200	Capt. Jas. MacMurdo, 500

Subscription will be received by Messrs. Shotten, Malcolm and Co., and the amount remitted to Captain MacMurdo, the Resident, for the purpose of being distributed in the manner he may think most advisable.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY THE MOST NOBLE THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

In all future instances where Officers Commanding His Majesty's Regiments in India, think proper to recommend thro' the prescribed channel that leave of absence may be granted to any Officer, they shall state in addition to the cause on account of which leave is solicited, and the period for which it is recommended the distribution of the Officers belonging to the Regiment, shewing the manner in which they are employed, and the number who are absent, according to the form annexed.

To avoid the trouble which in some instances has lately happened of returning applications for leave of absence, in consequence of the want of the prescribed accompanying declaration, the Commander in Chief enjoins the strictest attention to the General Orders of the 25th February 1812, an Extract from which is here recapitulated.

"In obedience to the Orders received from His Royal Highness the Commander in Chief, the Right Honorable Lord Lake directs that in future all applications from Officers in His Majesty's Service for leave to return to Europe, shall be accompanied by a declaration upon their honor, that it is not their intention to retire from the Service at the expiration of such leave."

"No leave is in future, to be granted until the determination of the Officer making the application (whether on Sick Certificate or otherwise) shall be made known."

The declaration to be written and signed by the Officer soliciting permission to proceed to Europe at the foot of the application for leave of absence, which is to be prepared on paper of the Foolscap size, and according to the form prescribed.

The two Boys per troop formerly allowed on the Establishment of His Majesty's Regiments of Cavalry being discontinued, no recruits of that description are in future to be enlisted.

The enlistment of Boys of five feet four inches in height, for the King's Regiments of Infantry stationed at and to the Eastward of the Cape of Good Hope, is likewise to be discontinued.

The Most Noble the Commander in Chief, publishes for general information to His Majesty's Forces, that His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in the name on the behalf of His Majesty, has been pleased to direct that those Regiments shall be disbanded to which Soldiers adjudged to General Service have hitherto been attached, and as it is now impossible to carry into effect the Provision of the 6th Clause of the Mutiny act, it becomes expedient that some other punishment shall in future be adopted by Courts Martial, in preference to those sentences of General Service, which have heretofore been passed upon the Clause above mentioned.

By Order of the Most Noble the Commander in Chief.

THOS. McMAHON, Col. A. G.

AUGUST 23.

The College disputations took place at the Government House on Thursday morning last: a particular account of which, we presume, will be published in the Government Gazette. In the evening the Governor General entertained at dinner, the Lord Chief Justice, the Lord Bishop, the Hon'ble the Judges, and Members of Council, with the College Officers, and many of the principal persons of the Settlement.

We understand the Atlas, Capt. MAYNE, and the Streatham, Capt. HAVISIDE, will take their departure for China, the first week in September. These Ships will touch at Penang, and proceed through the Straits, up the Pallawang passage, and it is expected, that they will reach China in all November.

CONVERZATIONE ASSEMBLIES.

Or fair readers will perceive that Calcutta is again to be enlivened and amused by the establishment of regular Assemblies at the Town Hall. The following arrangements have been made by the Stewards for regulating and conducting these Entertainments; and the names of the Gentlemen who have kindly undertaken the management, afford the best founded expectations that the intended Assemblies, will largely contribute to the gratification of Society.

At a meeting of Gentlemen of the Society of Calcutta at the Town Hall, on Thursday, the 29th July, 1819, it was proposed to re-establish the Conversazioni, as they were established in March 1817, and to solicit the patronage of the Most Noble the Marquis and Marchioness of Hastings.

This proposition being unanimously assented to, and the wished for patronage obtained, the following Gentlemen were proposed and elected Stewards, and the following Regulations approved of.

We understand that letters have been received during the last week from several stations in the Upper Provinces, where the apprehensions of an approaching famine have been entertained, announcing a considerable fall of rain, and expressing strong hopes that the threatened calamity will be averted. We have been assured that in the neighbourhood of Gornepore, the rain fell for eight hours successively, and has greatly refreshed the Country and raised the expectations of the cultivators. Similar accounts from other quarters, have been published in the Journals of the last week, and we sincerely hope, that a few days will bring us further intelligence, that will entirely remove the gloomy anxiety, which appears to have generally prevailed on this subject. The prices of grain of every kind continue to be very high in Calcutta: and we have been informed, that the price of Paddy was increased 25 per cent. in one day, during the last week.

Our letters from Madras states, that the Marchioness of Ely, or Prince Regent, had not reached England on the 22d of April, when the Carnatic and Grenville left the Downs. The Hannah, whose arrival in England is announced, left the Cape about ten days before the first mentioned Ships.

The following has been sent to us by a Correspondent :—
 “ The friends of Colonel JEREMIAH JOHNSON will be glad to hear, that the William Dawson, the ship on which the Colonel embarked at Calcutta in November last, arrived at Liverpool on the 24th of March, after an expeditious voyage of four months.”

We have been favored by a friend with the following Narrative, which too plainly demonstrates the cruelty of the Joasmee Pirates towards their Christian Prisoners. The authenticity of the document is vouched for; and it is believed that the capture of the Schooner mentioned in the following statement, gave rise to the rumour which long prevailed, respecting European Female Captives being in the possession of the Pirates :

Narrative of CHADDAYAPPAH, a Store Lascar, who was detached from the Arsenal of Fort St. George, with Military Stores for the Stations of Quilon and Cannanore: shewing how the Vessel on which he sailed was driven in the Coast of Arabia; with an account of his Capture by the Joasmee Pirates. and his subsequent escape from Slavery.

I sailed from Madras on board the schooner Mary, X. D. Rozario master, on the 18th of February, last year. The crew consisted of the master, his son, who officiated as mate, one seacunny, and five lascars; Mr. Conductor Hugh Ross was in charge of the stores; another Store lascar named Periamootoo Gungaram and myself, were under his command; an European Soldier named McCarthy, of His Majesty's 89th Regiment; and an elderly Portuguese man, the father-in-law Mr. Ross, were passengers; making altogether 13 souls aboard the vessel.

Days after leaving Madras, we anchored at Nagore, the Captain landed some cargo; we remained there night, and proceeded on our voyage the following day. progress round Ceylon was extremely tedious; neither the Master, nor any of the crew appeared to be acquainted with their duty. There was no nautical instrument in the vessel, not even a Compass, and had there been a Sextant, there was no person on board that would make use of it.

At the end of about forty days (that is to the best of my recollection, for I cannot pretend to speak accurately as to time and dates) we found ourselves off Point de Galle, on the Island of Ceylon. Here we unfortunately encountered a dreadful storm, and were driven very considerably to the westward: we suffered very much for want of provisions, and more especially for water. In course of about five weeks, we made an Island called Cardiva*, where we anchored, and procured a supply of cocoanuts and fresh water. The inhabitants told us that we were about ten days sail from Cannanore, but the master of the vessel said he could sail there in three days. We proceeded to sea again, and days and weeks elapsed without any appearance of land—that is, of continental land; for after leaving Cardiva, we passed several islands. Our provisions were soon expended, and we were reduced to the greatest possible extremity for want of fresh water. I cannot tell how long we were in this dreadful situation: I eat a few grains of raw rice every day, and latterly our drink was salt water. Mr. Ross was much reduced by a dysentery; almost every person on board was sick, and I may say that the vessel was allowed to take her own course. At last we observed land, which we endeavored to reach, but our attention was soon directed to ten sail of vessels that were approaching us, and some of them soon commenced firing at us. We judged that they were pirates, and we determined to run the ship on shore, and endeavoured to save our lives by getting into the country. The pirates, however, were on shore as soon as ourselves, and we were all made prisoners. Mr. Ross, McCarthy, Mr. Ross's father-in-law, the Master of the vessel, the Mate, and the Seacunny, were put to death by being shot immediately: the lives of the remainder of us, that is, the five ship Lasca, my comrade Store Lascar, and myself, were spared. A young lad stabbed me in the belly, and would have put me to death but that some of the pirates interfered on my behalf. We were put on board the Pirate vessels, and brought to a place called Munguymat, where we were landed. Mr.

* One of the Maldivas, situated in 5° North Latitude, and 75° East Longitude nearly.

† On being questioned, he says, that the rising sun was in the morning on their right. It is wonderful that it did not occur to Mr. Ross or to Mr. Ross to sail towards the rising sun.

‡ By a reference to H. M. ship Eden, it has been ascertained that this depot of Piracy is situated near to Cape Musseldam, at the entrance of the Gulf of Persia, on the Arabian shore.

In a Memorandum received from Lieut. Moffat, of the Eden, the Narrator is stated to have been picked up off Keda, a port westward of Cape Musseldam. In many maps and charts, the place is spelled Massoudom.

comrade lascar was sold to a merchant for 250 dollars, and I was sold to the Minister or Secretary of the head man of the place for 150 dollars: the ship Lascars were sold to different individuals. Most of the stores were removed from the schooner Mary; after which she was scuttled and sunk. My duty was to attend on board my master's vessel, and to help, to work it, and to keep it clean. I received every day for my support a handful of dates, and a few shrimps. Soon after being made captive, I was forced by my master to submit to the operation of circumcision, and subsequently I was constrained to marry, according to the rites of the Mahomedan religion, a slave girl selected for me by my master.

Nine days after my marriage, the vessel I was attached to, and several others, were directed to put to sea, in order to take prizes; but after being a long time out, we returned without meeting a single vessel. On gaining the port, the Pirates were dismayed, and astonished at observing an English Ship of War at anchor. On perceiving us, she immediately weighed, and stood towards us; she discharged a few shot at the Pirates, and one shot struck the vessel I belonged to. The Pirate vessels retired to the shallow water near the shore, and many of the crews ran to the land. Three Muscat men, who were prisoners on board the vessel I belonged to, and myself, availed ourselves of the general consternation: we cut away a boat, and pulled for the English ship, which I hailed calling "Captain Sahib, Captain Sahib." We were all received on board His Majesty's ship Eden, and I was questioned by a Gentleman who could speak the Hindostany language; by his means I made the Captain acquainted with the circumstances of my case, and he asked me if it was practicable to approach the Pirate vessels, which were now close to the land. I informed him that the attempt would probably cause the loss of the ship, owing to the shoals and sand banks with which the Coast abounded; and that the Pirates only were acquainted with the safe channels. The Captain accordingly abandoned the idea of attacking them. The Muscat men were landed at Muscat.

I proceeded to Bombay, and subsequently I arrived at Madras on the *Eden; and I humbly acknowledge that I was rewarded with the greatest humanity and kindness by all on board His Majesty's Ship.

* A reference has been made to H. M. ship Eden, and it appears that the circumstance of the escape of the Narrator is correctly stated above. He is a young man of very good character, and there is no reason to suppose that he has deviated from the truth in any part of his story.

We noticed in a former paper the expedition of RUNJEET SING to Cashmeer, and the occurrence of a battle between his troops and those of the Governor. It now appears that the former was defeated on the occasion, but rallying again, he succeeded in routing the enemy, and his standard is said to be now flying in the Province which had so long been the object of his anxiety and ambition. In gratifying his pride by the accomplishment of this arduous scheme, he has however exposed the provinces of his southern and western frontier to great hazard, for as their allegiance is not the result of reciprocal interest, but a compulsory acknowledgement of superior force, the moment the pressure is removed to another quarter, they will make a renewed effort to gain their independence. This conquest of Cashmeer will probably operate ultimately to the advantage of SHAH SHOOJA MAHOMMUD KHAN, the Governor of Cashmeer, now in possession of Peshawur, may turn his views to the recovery of his province, and in that case Peshawur will be easily captured by SHOOJA. We have no accounts from Caubul.

GENERAL ORDERS, BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE MOST NOBLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM; 21st August, 1819.

The rule laid down in the 5th Article 2d Section of the Medical Code, published in General Orders under date the 19th of April 1816, for providing Detachments of European Troops with subordinate Medical Officers, appearing to the Most Noble the Governor General in Council in some respects objectionable, the following modification is directed in the existing regulation on that subject.

1st For a Detachment of 24 men, and upwards, but not exceeding a Troop, or Company, an Assistant Apothecary and Steward in one person.

2d For a Detachment of more than a Troop, or Company, but not exceeding half a Regiment of Cavalry, half a Battalion of Infantry, or half a Battalion of Artillery, an Assistant Apothecary, and an Assistant Steward.

3d. For a Detachment exceeding half a Regiment, or half a Battalion, an Apothecary and Steward.

The other descriptions of Hospital Establishments laid down in the clause of the article under consideration, to remain unaltered, and the Apothecaries now attached to detachments, which by the proposed modification will be entitled only to an Assistant Apothecary and Steward in one person, to be continued until they can be otherwise disposed of, when they will be replaced by those of the lower rank.

His Lordship in Council further considering, that an increase to the number of subordinate Medical Officers, would greatly promote an efficient System of Hospital Management, is pleased to authorize three Assistant Stewards and eleven Assistant Apothecaries to be added to the Establishment. The Assistant Stewards to be stationed, one at the Presidency General Hospital, one at Cawnpore, and one at Meerut, whence they will be ready to accompany any Detachment of European Troops proceeding from those Stations, and when not required for detached duty, will be employed in their respective Hospitals.

Assistant Apothecary,
For Artillery at Dum Dum, 1
ditto.

goons, at 1 each, 2 ditto,

GENERAL ORDER.

At a General Court Martial held at Secunderabad on the 24th May and on subsequent days, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Nineteen, Ensign Charles Deane of His Majesty's 30th Regiment, was arraigned on the following charge, viz.

"For ungentlemanlike and unofficerlike conduct in paying in the presence of Major Murray, H. M. 30th Regiment, Lieutenant Garvey, and Lieut. and Adjutant Atkinson, H. M. 30th Regiment and others, at different periods, that I was a Coward, Liar, and Blackguard, and this at a time when I was not present with the Corps to defend my character against such harsh expressions."

(Signed) WILLIAM SULLIVAN,

Lieut. H. M. 30th Regt.

Upon which charge the Court came to the following decision.

Sentence.—"The Court finds the Prisoner, Ensign Charles Deane of H. M. 30th Regiment, Guilty of the charge preferred against him with the exception of "Ungentlemanlike conduct," of which the court fully acquits him;—for that part of the charge in which the Court have found him Guilty, it doth sentence him to be reprimanded in such manner as the Officer confirming this Sentence may be pleased to direct.

Lieutenant General Tripaud deemed it expedient to make the following observations.

"If the prisoner knew any circumstances implicating the character of Lieut. Sullivan, it was his duty to represent it officially to the Commanding Officer of the Regiment, but his conduct in resorting to private aspersion is highly reprehensible."—"I confirm therefore the Sentence of the Court, and in pursuance thereof most severely reprimand Ensign Deane of H. M. 30th Regiment of Foot accordingly."

"Ensign Deane is to be released from arrest, and return to his duty."

The Most Noble the Commander in Chief directs that the foregoing Order be entered in the General Order Book and read at the Head of every Regiment in His Majesty's Service in India.

AUGUST 30.

The ship Aberdeen, after proceeding as far as Saugor Point, parted from her anchors on the 22d instant, and was driven back to Saugor Roads, when, she was brought up with her only remaining anchor. The Pilot on the 24th attempted to take her to the Company's moorings at the New Anchorage, but when abreast of the vessel in charge of the moorings, the cable parted, in the act of bringing up: and the state of the wind and tide rendered it necessary to run the ship on shore nearly opposite Kedgerce. Signals of distress procured prompt assistance from H. M. ship Dauntless, and from the H. C. ships Minerva, Atlas, and Streatham, and by judicious arrangements the Aberdeen was kept upright, and prevented from being strained, when the tide receded,—and at midnight she floated and was secured at the moorings, without having sustained any apparent injury from the accident. These particulars we have collected from an article in the Bengal Hurkaru, in which, laudable commendation is bestowed on Mr. LURCHER, the master of the Dauntless; Mr. APLIN, Chief Officer of the Minerva, and the other officers and men to whose prompt and energetic assistance, the preservation of the Aberdeen has been ascribed by the Pilot.

The death of the late NABOB of the CARNATIC has been officially announced in the Madras Government Gazette. We have not heard what arrangements have been made in respect of the succession. Several members of the family of the late Wallajah still survive—and we believe the late NABOB has left Children.

We have learnt with much concern the death of Sir ALEXANDER ANSTRUTHER, Knight, late Recorder of Bombay. His death happened, we understand, at the Mauritius, whither, he had proceeded some months ago in the hope of re-establishing his health. Sir ALEXANDER came to India in 1798, and accompanied his brother-in-law, Sir THOMAS STRANGE, then Recorder of the new Court established at Madras. In the Recorder's Court, and afterwards in the Supreme Court at Madras, Sir ALEXANDER practiced many years as an Advocate: and when the latter Court was established, and Sir BENJAMIN SULLIVAN was raised to the Bench, Sir ALEXANDER was appointed Advocate General to the Madras Presidency. On the retirement of Sir JAMES MACKINTOSH from Bombay, Sir ALEXANDER was appointed Recorder of that Court, and received the honor of Knighthood. In the early part of his professional career, and before he quitted England, he published three volumes of Reports of cases decided in the Exchequer. He also published a small work on "Light, Heat and Electricity," which was written, we believe, during his Voyage to India.

Letters from Madras state that Sir GEORGE COOPER, Knight, the Junior Puisne Judge of the Supreme Court at that Presidency, was about to proceed to Bombay to act as Recorder, until the appointment from England of a President to the Recorder's Court. This will be third instance of Judges proceeding from Madras to preside in the Court at Bombay.

A Letter dated Saugur in Bundelcund, 5th of August mentions that the country had been blessed with plentiful showers of rain since the 10th of the preceding month, and that the weather was then extremely pleasant, the climate resembling that of Kumaon and the district being free from the Cholera, though it had been committing ravages in parts not very remote from that station. At Cawnpore also we are happy to hear that they had experienced a considerable fall of rain, and that some light showers had fallen at Allahabad, at which latter place the Bunias had actually shut up their shops refusing to sell any grain, when the showers above alluded to produced a fortunate change. They appear however to have been very scanty, and by no means sufficient to raise the hopes or spirits of the poor, who were living on a species of flour made from the pounded kernels of mango stones, and other food of the most unwholesome qualities.

We understand that General Sir David Ochterlony has lately dispatched, as a present from the Nuwab of Bhawalpoor, a beautiful wild Ass of that species called by the natives Gori Khur. This elegant creature is described as being between eleven and twelve hands in height, of a beautiful light fawn or cream color with long ears, and large black eyes. In disposition it is untractable, and in this as well as in every other respect, excepting the color resembles the Zebra. It is said to be a complete model of strength, beauty and agility.

It appears that private letters confirm the report of the expulsion of the Dutch from Palembang. Mr. MONTINGHE, the Resident, had arrived at Batavia. The Malays are said to have opened a battery of thirty pieces of cannon on the Dutch soldiers, who three times stormed the strong hold, in vain, and with the loss of 117 men and 1 officers killed.

Another account states that the Dutch at Palembang made the whole of the British subjects, whom Sir STAMFORD RAFFLES deputed to Palembang, prisoners, and sent them to Batavia; and that it was a few days subsequent to this apparent outrage that the Malays rose upon the Dutch, who escaped under cover of the night.

According to private letters, the son of SYUD HUSSAIN, one of the late rival kings of Acheen, has been ordered to Penang. The successful candidate and the people here said to be anxious to place themselves under the protection of the British Government.

On Tuesday the last Drawing of the Twentyfirst Calcutta Lottery took place. The Prize of 100,000 Sa. Rs. fell to No. 5527, which is said to be the property of Major-General CHARLES STUART of this Establishment.

COLLEGE OF FORT WILLIAM,

PUBLIC DISPUTATIONS.

On Thursday the 19th instant, being the day appointed by His Excellency the Most Noble the Marquis of Hastings, for the public disputations in the Oriental languages, the President and Members of the College Council, the Officers, Professors, and Students of the College, met at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Government-house, where the Honourable the Chief Justice, the Right Honourable the Lord Bishop of Calcutta, the Honourable George Dowdeswell, the Honourable James Stuart, and the Honourable John Adam, Members of the Supreme Council, and the Honourable Sir Francis Macnaghten, Judge of the Supreme Court, with Major General Wood, and many of the civil and military officers at the presidency, and others of the principal European inhabitants of Calcutta, as well as some respectable natives, were also assembled.

The Marchioness of Hastings, Lady Macnaghten, Lady D'Oyly, Mrs. Middleton, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Udny, and several other ladies of the settlement, likewise honoured the College with their presence.

Soon after 10 o'clock, the Most Noble the Visitor, attended by the officers of His Excellency's suite, entered the room where the disputations were to be held. When the Visitor had taken his seat, the disputations commenced in the following order.

FIRST.—PERSIAN.

POSITION.—An eminent superiority of the literary compositions of the western ancients, over those of Asiatic Writers, will be found in the purity and elegance of the former, when contrasted with the glare of figurative exaggeration of the latter.”

Respondent, Mr. C. Lindsay.
First Opponent, Mr. B. H. Hodgson.
Second Opponent, Mr. W. Page.

SECOND.—HINDOOSTANEE.

POSITION.—A translation of the popular works of Europe into the colloquial languages of Hindoostan, would tend to expand the minds of the natives, and facilitate the extension of civilization and science.”

First Opponent, Mr. E. Bury.
Second Opponent, Mr. J. C. Brown.
Moderator, Major J. W. Taylor.

THIRD.—BENGALIEE.

POSITION.—The Bengalee language merits assiduous cultivation, not only from its utility in business, but from its conciseness of expression, and elegance of style, which render it highly applicable to literary composition.”

Respondent, Mr. W. R. Clarke.
First Opponent, Mr. B. H. Hodgson.
Second Opponent, Mr. J. Hunter.
Moderator, Rev. Dr. W. Carey.

FOURTH.—SANSKRIT.

POSITION.—The Sanskrit language, though at present shut up in the libraries of the Brahmees, and appropriated solely to the records of religion and literature, was probably once current over most of the “Oriental world.”

Respondent, Mr. A. Grote.
First Opponent, Mr. W. R. Clarke.
Moderator, Rev. Dr. W. Carey.

When the disputations were concluded, the President of the College Council presented to the Most Noble the Visitor, the several students of the College, who were entitled to receive degrees of honour, medals of merit, or other honorary rewards, adjudged to them at the public examination held in June, and read the certificates granted by the Council of the College to each student about to leave the College.

The Visitor presented to each student entitled to receive a degree of honor, the usual Diploma, inscribed on vellum, and at the same time expressed the satisfaction which he felt at conferring it.

The prizes and medals which had been awarded to the several students, were also distributed to them respectively; after which His Excellency the visitor delivered the following discourse.

Gentlemen of the College of Fort William.

It is with gratification, though not altogether unqualified, that I meet you on the present occasion. The deductions from my satisfaction are not indeed weighty; still they are such as I feel bound to express.

The returns of the late examination do not exhibit the extraordinary display of acquirements, which has done honor to the College of Fort William at many of our former anniversaries.

The honorary rewards distributed on the present occasion are fewer in number than those of even the last year, which I was forced to complain of as inferior to any preceding year in its product of eminent learning.

I turn from this unsatisfactory view of the result of the examination, to remark on the other hand, with great pleasure, that of our sixty-six civil students who have been examined, no less than eighteen have been found qualified to discharge the duties of the public service, by a competent proficiency in two of the languages taught in the College.

Of these, one student, Mr. William Rarkes Clarke has qualified himself in less than five months; three, Mr. Lindsay, Mr. Hodgson and Mr. Simson, in nine; and two, Mr. Page and Mr. Barlow, in ten.

In this view of the subject, the aggregate proportion of qualification for the public service yielded by the College this year, seems inferior only to the produce of 1816, which in this respect appears to have been singularly distinguished beyond other years.

I am happy to have it in my power to remark, that the attendance of the students at the lectures has been more regular during the past term than it had been during many former terms, and to this amendment must in great measure be attributed a success in the present year extensive, if not strikingly brilliant.

I have also much gratification in noticing those instances of individual merit which the reports of the College have brought under my inspection.

Among the students reported qualified for the public service, Mr. Hodgson by his general proficiency, stands first. After having been attached to the institution for the short period of nine months, he has obtained a degree of honor for high proficiency in the Bengalee, and a medal of merit for rapid and considerable progress in Persian. He holds the rank of second scholar in Persian, and second in Bengalee. It does not take from Mr. Hodgson's merit to observe, that on his admission into the College, his acquirements in Bengalee and Persian were already considerable.

Mr. PAGE is the second student in the order of general proficiency. Two medals of merit have been awarded to him for diligent application and rapid progress in the Persian and Hindoostanee languages; in the latter of which he stands first, and in the former, on a level with Mr. Hodgson. His knowledge of those languages appears to have been acquired almost entirely at the College of Fort William since August last, at which period he entered the institution.

Mr. LINDSAY is ranked the third in the list of general proficiency, and stands at the head of the Persian class. He was admitted into the College subsequently to Mr. Hodgson and Mr. Page, and after having been attached to it little more than two months, obtained a medal of merit for progress in the Persian language. To the honor of Halesbury College be it mentioned, that when Mr. Lindsay joined the College of Fort William, he was superior to any Persian Scholar in the latter. It is doubly praise-worthy in Mr. Lindsay that he brought so much knowledge with him, and that he has been able to keep his place with competitors of more than common talent. He has also obtained a medal of merit for rapid progress in the Hindoostanee Language, in which he is the fourth scholar.

Mr. CLARKE, who holds the fourth place in the general list, stands first of the Students of Bengalee, and has attained a Degree of Honor in that language. He has also acquired considerable proficiency in Sanskrit, and is the second Scholar in that tongue. Mr. Clarke's progress in the short period, little more than four months, during which he has been attached to the College of Fort William, has been rapid and honourable, and it is alike creditable to him and to the Sister Institution of Halesbury, that he brought with him from England a considerable portion of his knowledge of the Bengalee language.

Mr. SIMON, the fifth on the general list, has distinguished himself by rapid and considerable progress in Persian and Hindoostanee, and has obtained medals of merit in both languages.

Mr. GROVE, who was admitted only in January last, and is not yet reported qualified for the Public Service, has gained great credit by distinguished progress in Bengalee, in which language he has obtained a medal of merit, and by great proficiency in Sanskrit, in which he is the first scholar.

Two medals of merit have been assigned to Mr. Thomas Temple Blackburn, for superior specimens of penmanship in Persian and Nagree Characters, and a medal of merit to Mr. Garrett, and one to Lieutenant Fletcher, the only Military Student at the College, for a similar distinction in penmanship in the Persian Character.

I am sorry to find it incumbent on me to mention, that two students, Mr. MOLONY, and Mr. STANFORTH, have this year suffered the disgrace of removal from College; and that Mr. Walter Blackburn and Mr. Henry Smith, are reported as having exposed themselves to a similar penalty.

There is another student whose conduct has not been creditable, but whom I forbear indicating more distinctly, in the hope that his future amendment may justify this mark of lenity.

The only Degrees of Honor conferred this year are two; both for proficiency in the Bengalee language. The number last year was four, all in the Bengalee language. So that in two successive years, no Degree of Honor has been conferred, either in Persian or Hindoostanee, or in any other language than Bengalee.

I am at a loss to account for this undue preference to the provincial language of Bengal, at the sacrifice of those more extensively useful languages, the Persian and Hindoostanee.

I am apprehensive that the name of the language must mislead the Students at the preparatory College of Halesbury, destined for the Bengal Presidency, under an erroneous supposition, that because, they are nominated to Bengal, the language of that province is the one which they should take the greatest pains to acquire.

A short experience in this country, Gentlemen, will show you that they have done wrong who have neglected the study of the Persian and Hindoostanee languages, in order to devote their principal attention to the Bengalee.

I trust that you will not misunderstand me, nor suppose that I undervalue a knowledge of the Bengalee language.

To those who serve in the Province of Bengal, it is indispensable as a qualification, but Persian and Hindoostanee are not less necessary even in Bengal.

Such therefore as wish to obtain employment in Bengal, but without relinquishing the honorable emolument of being qualified for employment in every part generally of the territories under this Presidency, should endeavour to obtain a competent knowledge of Persian, Hindoostanee, and Bengalee.

They again who wish preferably to be employed in the Provinces beyond Bengal Proper, should understand, that, if they confine themselves to the study of two languages, the Persian and Hindoostanee are those which they will find most generally useful, the Hindoostanee for colloquial purposes, the Persian for correspondence and business conducted in writing.

While on this subject, I must say a word respecting the study of the Arabic and Sanskrit languages. These hold the highest rank in erudition: and those students who propose to profit by this institution, in order to obtain great acquisitions in Oriental Literature, or with a view to arrive at a more radical knowledge of Persian, Hindoostanee, and Bengalee, and the other languages of India, will do well to apply themselves to Arabic and Sanskrit. Those on the other hand whose object is to qualify themselves as speedily as possible for the ordinary duties of the Public Service, and to quit the College as soon as they be reported qualified, will accomplish their object in the best manner, by directing their principal attention to Persian, Hindoostanee, and Bengalee, reserving the venerable, but less immediately needed, languages of Arabic and Sanskrit for future study.

I regret to see, that of the Honorary Rewards of this year, so many have been a judge for the art of penmanship, to gentlemen who do not appear in other respects to have obtained any distinguished eminence in the knowledge of the languages. The art of ready writing, when combined with a knowledge of the languages, is invaluable, and, even in these days, when a knowledge of the languages is extensively diffused, will confer marked distinction on its possessor, will always prove of the greatest advantage and comfort to himself, and may be productive, in particular emergencies, of material benefit to the State. But I would wish you, Gentlemen of the College of Fort William, to remember, that mere penmanship, that is, the drawing or painting of elegant letters, without an adequate knowledge of the language, is not alone a worthy object of attainment, and that when Honorary Rewards were instituted for this art, it was with a view to encourage, not the mere dexterity of the pen, but an accurate knowledge of the language for useful purposes, which cannot be said to be attained, without the talent of ready writing be connected with that of composing.

I cannot conclude this review of the proceedings of the past year, without offering to the Gentlemen of the College Council and the Officers of the College, my warmest thanks for their zealous and honorable exertions.

I much fear that we are about to lose the services of Doctor Lumsden, the distinguished Professor in the Arabic and Persian languages, and one of the chief ornaments and supporters of the College from its foundation. He has quitted us on leave of absence, and probably will not resume the Professor's Chair, his health being much impaired by his valuable labours in the institution; but in the hope of his possible return, I will not now anticipate the period of his final departure.

In the course of this year a valuable donation of Books on Scandinavian Literature has been received into the College Library, from the University of Copenhagen, in the return for the collection of Oriental works, presented by this Government in the name of the Honorable Company. The managers of the Danish University, and the Commissioners for its library, have expressed themselves in the warmest terms of acknowledgment for the present we sent them, and have signified a strong desire to promote an intercourse between the two institutions, for which there is a corresponding inclination on our part.

I am most happy to have it in my power to announce, that a Sanskrit and English Dictionary, by that distinguished scholar, Mr. Wilson, is completed, and will issue from the Press in the course of a few weeks. This work, which is the translation of an extensive compilation prepared by learned natives for the use of the College, comprehends the whole body of words to be found in the original Dictionaries yet extant, to which particular reference is made under each term extracted from them. It also contains the radicals of the Sanskrit.

language, which are uniformly omitted in the original works, as being the subject of separate collections, and it comprehends many other additions that will no doubt prove highly useful to the Sanskrit student, by whom the want of such elementary aid has long been sensibly felt. The appearance of this Dictionary forms an important event in the cultivation of a very ancient and interesting language, and adds another national claim to the thanks of the literary world, to whom the successful labours of the company's servants in India have made that language accessible and known. To Mr. Wilson we are under the greatest obligations for giving to us so important and valuable a work.

Mr. SUTHERLAND, of the civil service, a gentleman distinguished in the annals of our College, is about to publish English translations from the original Sanskrit, of the Duttaka Meemansa and the Durraka Chondrika, two esteemed treatises on the Hindoo law of adoption; to which the translator has added numerous notes, illustrative and explanatory, and a brief synopsis of the law. Mr. Sutherland has pursued the study of Sanskrit since he quitted the institution, and is an example, gentlemen, worthy of imitation.

Captain ROEBUCK is adding to his stock of Hindoo-tantr knowledge, by preparing for publication a third edition of his English and Hindoo-tantr Naval Dictionary and Grammar, greatly augmented and improved since its first appearance in 1811, especially by the addition of a Hindoo-tantr and English Dictionary.

As I am going to you, gentlemen, who are about to enter the public service, a few words of advice and exhortation, I indulge a feeling which might not misbecome paternal interest. I look to your career with anxious solicitude, though with comfortable augury. The first impressions you will occupy will be of a subordinate character; but the highest offices in the service to which you belong, are of importance, and are attended by duties of considerable responsibility. It may, however, fall to the lot of any of you to be employed at an early period in stations of elevated description. In no other part of the world do duties of such high trust devolve on such young men. You will have a large population looking up to you for justice and protection. You will have the rights and interests of your Government and the prosperity and happiness of its subjects committed to your charge. With such duties before you, you will readily see that a knowledge of the Native languages is not the only qualification required of you. You must have to exercise temper, judgment, and perfect impartiality, together with zeal and devotion to public business. You are called on to love and cherish the people under you,—to enter into their feelings, pay attention to their peculiarities, and view with gentle charity their prejudices and weaknesses.

The eyes of Government will be upon you: yet I depend on your spontaneous honorable impulses, much more than on any effect of superintendence.

A very well-ordered mind must be conscious that where Providence has bestowed wisdom, it has attached deep and inseparable conditions to it. The sacred duty of promoting the welfare of those over whom rule is exercised will be acknowledged by all: But there may be peculiarities of circumstances which will give to that duty a more than ordinary claim. Such circumstances do distinguish our position in this country. Our domination is altogether unprecedented in its nature. History records nothing parallel to it. Britain holds here an empire not by national force, but by the confidence which the most energetic and intelligent portion of the Native population reposes in us. We have attained this height of power, not through plan, not through foresight, but from the result of various unprovoked and unexpected contests; some of every one of which was rendered favourable to us, by the fi-duty of natives in our employ, and the advantageous prepossession which the inhabitants in general entertained respecting us. While we bless the bounty of Heaven for these successes, our gratitude ought to be sincere towards a people, whose reliance on our justice made them, in spite of habitual prejudices, connect their own comfort with the advancement of our dominion. Superadded to the generally recognized demands of attention to the happiness of the governed, we have the special bond of justifying that opinion which so decisively facilitated the extension and stability of our interests; and since the extraordinary extension of this fabric of power must attract the wandering gaze of the world, we have to remember, that we are thence, only the more under obligation as to the time in which we set for our country. It is not the character of us petty individuals that is at stake. It is Britain that stands responsible to mankind for the mode in which this unexampled preponderance shall be used; and we have the proud, but vain conception, that our Country's renown is so far committed to us, that not one of you, young men, who will not fail, even at your duties, to take an active part in the discharge of this vast obligation. I shrink you are now to the situation. You ought to go forth with a potential power towards the natives, contented with the suzerainty of your own empire as only prescribing the allowances which should be made to the natives in the absence of similar advantages. You will have to meet a community unhabitually demoralized and debased in a considerable degree. If you will reflect that this is the consequence of their being neglected by vicious and tyrannical Governments, it will be your duty, as it is your duty, to habituate them to a different mode of conduct, and to be sensible that patience, kindness of manner, and lenity of conduct, will open the way towards reclaiming them still more than even equity, which, if dry and repulsive, will work but little on the feelings of such a population. Be the protectors, the counselors, the cheerers, of those around you. There has been a Cleveland. Imitate him.

Of you, Gentlemen, who have done your utmost in the college to quantify yourself for the public service it may be fairly presumed that the applause of your own conscience has already taught you the happiness arising from a faithful discharge of duty, and that there is no danger of any deviation from the meritorious path you have hitherto pursued - prosper and prosper. An approving Government will not overlook your toils, or neglect your services; and I trust that success will crown your endeavours, and that your names will be enrolled in the number of those who do honour to the service to which they belong.

Each of you will have more or less the means of promoting the means most important towards the general improvement of the natives, mean, the dissemination of instruction among them by the establishment and encouragement of schools. I therefore recommend this object next to you a first attention, and you must be used in the prosecution of it, not to reveal the prejudices of the natives, by controversial arguments against their notions. Instill the universal principles of morality upon the minds of the rising generation, enable them to exert their reason, and obnoxious customs will slowly die away before the light of reason. By this simple prudence you will avoid exciting any jealousy which would obstruct your beneficent purpose. It is a high satisfaction to me to inform you that the persons whom I sent to establish schools in Rajpootana, have met the most cordial countenance. When they had explained to the principal men the nature and extent of their object showing that it did not in any degree interfere with the habits and persuasions of the people, the project was received with fervor; and it was professed that there was no other mode in which the British Government could have so strongly testified its anxiety for the welfare of those degraded countries.

These gentlemen who must be sensible that they have neglected to avail themselves of the advantages of the college, may yet indulge in the consolation that the doors are open for improvement. Let them make amends for past idleness by application to the duties of their respective offices. It is in their power to retrieve the past and still to distinguish themselves so as to gain honor as public servants.

You, gentlemen, who remain attached to the college, have before you, at no distant period I hope, the same prospects that I have been pointing out to your companions now quitting us, and you cannot think too much of the importance of the duties which await you in the employ of the state. In the mean time, your principal attention should be devoted to the means now in your reach of qualifying yourselves by an adequate knowledge of the languages. The character of the college is at present confided to your hands; and I trust that you are determined to make the coming year brilliant and distinguished in our annals, as well as honourable to yourselves.

NAUTICAL NOTICES.

The arrival of the Dadalov, from Bengal, has set our minds at rest with respect to the ship at anchor off Malwan, for she proves to be the identical ship, and her report states her having been seventeen days at anchor; that she lost two anchors, and, finally, was enabled to make her way to this port by taking a favorable blast of wind to attain an offing.

The circumstance of a ship getting near that part of the coast at this time of the year, though unusual, has happened before, and can only be attributed to an error in their reckoning. A remarkable instance of this happened about the year 1782, which it may be as well to quote premising that neither Lunar observation or Time-Keepers were much in fashion.

The Ship Henry, Captain George Galloway, bound from Madras to Bombay, in the S. W. monsoon being by their reckoning sufficiently to the westward of the Lacadvias, and on the Equator, hauled up North for Bombay when to their great surprise they made Page's Island in Latitude 14° 23' N. finding an error of 10 or 11 degrees in their Longitude; but now they escaped being wrecked, on the numerous Islands and shoals they must have passed—excites wonder and merriment. This Ship the Henry after beating about for some days arrived at Bombay in safety.

But does not appear however to be the case of the Dadalov, for her reckoning appears to have been corrected by a sight of the Eagle Islands, and that she actually, came up to the Westward of the Lacadvias.—and that after getting to the North ward of them, she was set on the coast, by light winds, and a heavy swell setting on the shore.

The Indiamen sailed on Saturday, for China, and the Elizabeth for England, on Sunday.

Madras

THE FUNERAL of the late Nobob of the Carnatic took place yesterday at Noon.—The ceremony was conducted with appropriate Military Honors.—The Flag at the Fort was hoisted half-mast high the whole day.—Minute Guns, the number corresponding to the Age of His Highness, were fired from the Saluting Battery, when the Procession began to move.

The Corpses was carried from the Palace of Shady Muhl to the principal Mosque in Triplican, through a street formed by the B. G. Guard of the Right Honourable THE GOVERNOR; the very small distance between the Palace and the place of interment, admitting the formation of a greater number of Troops. The Nabob was raised to the Musnud on the 31st July 1819, and during the whole period of his holding that elevated position, the conduct of His Highness was distinguished by the most perfect attachment to the Honorable Company.

The loss of this benevolent Prince is deeply lamented by the Government, by the Members of his illustrious Family, and his numerous dependents.

Accounts were received at the Presidency on Friday from Port Louis, of the death of Sir ALEXANDER ANSTROTHER, Recorder of Bombay—Sir ALEXANDER had long been ill of a dangerous complaint, and has proceeded to the Isle of France for the benefit of his health; but he expired on the 16th ultimo.—In consequence of this event Sir GEORGE COOPER to the Honourable Judge of this Bench, is making immediate preparations to proceed overland to Bombay by Tattal, to fill the vacant station; the learned Judge intends to leave the Presidency in the course of the week.

Two new Judges have been appointed to Ceylon in the room of the late Chief Justice,—Sir ALEXANDER JOHNSTON, who has retired, and the late Sir WILLIAM COKE—Mr. Justice GARRAN, the late Advocate Fiscal at Columbo, is appointed to the Puisne Justiceship.

The despatches for the Windsor and General Kydd were expected to be closed last evening, as they are reported ready for sea, and they will probably sail for Penang and China in the course of this day or to-morrow. They are unusually late this season.

PASSENGERS.

Per General Kydd—Major Buchanan, H. M. 30th Regiment, for England—Captain J. Reddie, for Penang.

Per Windsor—Mrs. Jourdan; Master Jourdan; Lieut. and Brevet Captain H. G. Jourdan, of the 10th Regt. N. I. for England—J. Blackburn, Esq. J. Shaw, Esq. and Mr. C. F. Miller, China.

The Carnatic and Thomas Grenville are expected to sail for their ultimate destination in about a fortnight.

The Catherine, Captain Knox, taken up by the Honorable Company for one voyage, will probably be the next arrival from England—she was at Deal on the 21st of April.

His Majesty's Ship Curran, came in from Masulipatam on Sunday.

MARQUIS OF HASTINGS.

It has been currently reported that a grant of £5000 a year had been granted to this Nobleman by the East India Company, but we find on looking over our despatches that a Court of Proprietors was held on the 21 of April at the India House to consider the propriety of granting an annuity of 50000*£* on the territorial revenues of India for twenty years to the Marquis of Hastings, in such a manner as the Directors might choose. Mr. PATRICK the Chairman informed the meeting that he had received a letter from the President of the Board of Control, stating that he forwarded the opinion of the Attorney and Solicitor General respecting the illegality of this grant. Mr. PATRICK then moved the adoption of another proposition which had been submitted to the Directors—to grant 50000*£* to the Marquis to be vested in Trustees for his benefit. He thought this plan would be more acceptable to the Marquis than an annuity. This motion was objected to as irregular, and Mr. JACKSON therefore moved an adjournment, which was carried.

The Albion, free trader, was to leave England on the 5th of May for Madras, calling only at Madeira.

The free trader Mary, Captain Browne, was under an engagement to sail from Gravesend for the like destination about the end of the month.

The Indianmen which arrived on Thursday Evening brought several boxes of Letters, which are ready for delivery.

The Carnatic spoke the Mattidi and Commander to the Albatross in Latitude N. 15 50.—Long. W 25° 42'. After the Albatross spoke the Canterburgh, for China, in Lat. S 37°, 20'—Long. 82° 45'. The Albatross spoke H. M. Ship Magicienne, from St. Helena for England, and learnt that the H. C. Ships Bombay, Hertsfordshire, and William Pitt had arrived at St. Helena. Nothing particular regarding Napoleon.

The Catherine, Captain Knox, bound for Madras, was at Dead on the 19th April, ready for sea.

A CASE, NOT, INCURIOUS AT WHIST.

MR. EDITOR,

An insertion of the following in your next Gazette, will oblige

WHISTONHIL.

In the event of a Revoke, says Father Hoyle (Quere, whether exactly so in the first edition) "the adversaries may add 3 to "their own score or take 3 tricks from the revoking party, or "take 3 tricks from their score."—Now, the first and last of these methods are unexceptionable, never, in any case, I believe making the penalty more than a loss of 3 points, which is all intended. The middle mode, I think, should be discarded, because it will sometimes happen (not always) that the interest of the game to the revoking party is lessened 4 points instead of 3. B G A & B are parties at Whist—A. the revoking party, we say, has already 4 points scored—B nothing, at the end of the hand in which the revoke is made.—A we say, has 7 tricks, and B 6. In consequence of the revoke, B takes 3 tricks from A's heap and puts it to his own, and is thereby 3 by cards, which he scores.—A remains at 4. This makes a difference of 4 points in the interest of the game to A instead of 3 as had no revoke been made, he would have scored 5 and B. nothing. Take the other method, Let B. take down 3 from A's score, at the conclusion of the hand. A with his odd trick scored, will be 2. and B. nothing. In one case, then, it stands (the middle mode) A. 4. B. 3. the other A. 2. B. 0. Now, Mr. Editor, if I am not otherwise, instead of Cockerwise, there is a difference of one point between these statements. Q. E. D.

The fall of rain during this last week has been very great, and in general there has been a want of wind, particularly on Fridays the Tides have been strong and the water smooth, so that the ships experienced no difficulty in getting to sea.

Gulf of Persia—Accounts brought from this quarter by the Cornwall, who came in on Saturday, mention that the Imam was preparing for the invasion of Kas el Khyma, both by sea and land. A letter from Bahrein states that two Joasmees boats had been there, for the purpose of disposing of their Prize goods chiefly consisting of piece goods both European and Indian, and of property plundered from the Madras Brig.

Our readers may also recollect, the report of a ship, having been burnt off Cape Ras-el-had, this has been confirmed by the arrival of the Cornwall who has brought one of her crew. The ship in question was an Arab ship, bound from Bengal to Mocha, and not been able to repulse the attack, of several Joasmees pirates, the Nocada gallantly blew her up, but not so effectually as to prevent the Joasmees taking possession of her after the explosion; they accordingly plundered her and then sunk her, taking out such of the crew that has escaped the explosion, some of whom, with the person who arrived here in the Cornwall, were taken out of the Joasmees boat, by the Honourable Company's Cruiser Mercury.

Mocha.—The Anglo Indian ship Rattch Islam, arrived on Sunday from this place. She brings no news of consequence either political or commercial. The ship that arrived on Saturday from Gulf of Persia.—The report of the Imam's preparations for the attack of Kas el Khyma, but how far his political intentions first lesson in reading the Persian or Arabic Alphabet, which was followed by the Shurgusht or grand procession round the city by the torch light which was truly splendid, consisting of many thousand Torches, coloured Lanthorns, transparent figures, blue lights, fire works and every variety of show that could be seen in an eastern Sowaree. The latter part of this ceremony was celebrated by a very splendid Dinner given by the Newaib at his palace to the European Gentlemen then at Ellichpore; sit pains was spared to make everything most agreeable and pleasant. The two Grand Halls which face each other, were splendidly put up by beautiful Chandeirs, and an immense number of large Lamps and wall Shades, which being most tastefully fixed in the Hall and Verandah, formed a pleasing contrast, and a set of the Eastern Architecture to the greatest advantage. The enclosed Court or Garden between the two Halls was grandly illuminated by many thousand little Lamps placed on each side of the Court (which is more than 300 feet long) on the palisades in two rows and their reflection from the large fountain and Jet d'eau in the centre had a grand effect. The native Music and Nauteh added much to the hilarity of the Evening as they had put on rich Dresses and entertained us with a few Persian songs. On our going away we were presented with utter and garlands of flowers. The old Newaib and his family shook hands with us, and we departed highly delighted with the attention and pleasure we had experienced, and which would have done honour to the most lightened European nobleman. The old Newaib though more than sixty years old, is very active, and perhaps as good if not a better horseman than any of his Sitadars. His kindness and wish to please all ranks of society makes him much liked by all who have any communication with him.

P. S. It is rather extraordinary we did not feel the shock of the Earthquake of the 17th June at Umrutse, but it was sensibly felt at Ellichpore, about 30 miles N. Westerly, and water was thrown out of the fountain in the palace, &c. &c.

The Cholera Morbus, still continues about us, there has been no material variation here for some weeks in the number of cases which occur daily, and this formidable disease is not certainly so generally prevalent on this island as it was in the month of May, but we are sorry to hear that of late some very serious cases have occurred on Colabah. An officer of H. M. 47th Regt. a few days ago, had a very serious attack, and his life was saved only by immediately administering the proper medicines, three privates also of the same regiment have died of it.

It appears from the latest account, that this disease has abated for some weeks past generally in the northern and southern Konkan, and also on Salsette; it still exists, however, in those districts and continues prevalent in the Calian, and Bhewady districts in particular.

exceptionable, never in any case, I believe

With the Pacha of Egypt will allow him to act, is not yet ascertained; for that some jealousy already exists between those powers, and that the Pacha has been temporizing since his occupation of Dheriah, is evident enough; and, after all, it is perhaps the best policy as the Religious prejudices of the Mahomedan would condemn the whole nation of the Wahabees to extirpation. We are convinced that a treaty of commerce may be entered into with these states that would be beneficial to both parties. The size and equipment of their vessels might be so prescribed as to make them unfit for the purpose of war, and a factory might be established at their capital.

On Friday last, the friends of Lady Grant Keir, gave her Ladyship's farewell Ball and Supper at Lowjee Castle.

The Ball was opened by Mr. Bell, and Lady Keir, and followed up by all the beauty and fashion of our little Island, through several successive sets. At 1 o'clock about 200 persons sat down to an excellent Supper.

After the usual toasts were given, Mr. Bell addressed Lady Keir in a neat and appropriate speech, expressive of his regret, and of that of the whole settlement in the prospect of losing her Ladyship so soon.

And on "a speedy and safe passage to her Ladyship and the Katharine Forbes" being given, the acclamations made the welkin roar.

After Supper the merry dance was resumed, and kept up to an early hour.

DEAR SIR,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt, through you, of a letter from the several Ladies, Officers of H. M. 24th, 59th, 87th, 11th, 8th, H. C. 4th, 26th, and 28th Regiments, and Passengers, who did me the honor of taking their passage in this Ship from England, conveying their unanimous intention of presenting me with a Piece of Plate, value One Hundred Guineas.

I have to request, my dear Sir, that you will do me the favor of assuring the Ladies and Gentlemen, that I feel deeply impressed with this flattering mark of their attention and kindness to me, and that I beg they will accept my unfeigned thanks.

It was my good fortune to have had a party whose gentlemanly behaviour, and undeviating good fellowship, so essentially contributed to the harmony, which has happily pervaded our society throughout the passage.—I feel this the more, as from their partiality and kindness, they have greatly overrated, any little attention I may have had the pleasure in shewing them.

Allow me to offer you my cordial thanks for the very handsome manner you were pleased to, communicate the sentiments of those Ladies and passengers, for whom I shall always entertain the greatest respect and esteem.

I have the honor to be,

DEAR SIR,

With esteem, your obliged and faithful humble servant,

CHARLES B. GRIBBLE.

We collect from an advertisement, that an European, is about to open an Office, in one of the principal Bazars of Calcutta, for the purpose of ascertaining the quality and prices of provisions, purchased for families. We sincerely hope that he may experience encouragement,—for, the impositions to which the public are now subject, from Consummahs and other persons, who purchase Articles of daily consumption, are almost insupportable. It may be expected, that the parties who are likely to suffer by this attempt to check or diminish their regular profits, will oppose its operation by every means in their power,—and much time must elapse, before the opposition can be effectually overcome; but, a temperate and steady perseverance, on the part of the person, who has undertaken the office alluded to, assisted by the patronage of the principal families, and the support of the Magistrates, when frauds may be detected—will, in time, overcome all improper opposition. We are surprised, that among the many Europeans, who are now in Calcutta, it has not occurred to any of them, to establish themselves as Butchers and Bakers. We are persuaded, that if establishments of these descriptions shall be formed, they will receive every proper encouragement

Extract from a Letter dated Moorsshedabad.

“ On the 27th of last month, a Boat laden with sundry Europe articles at the risk of the River Insurance Company, proceeding to the Upper Provinces, was attacked by a body of Decoits at Balloogunge near Sooty, who after wounding three of the dandies, robbed them, the Manjee and Peon of all their money and clothes, and broke open one of the chests, but finding that it contained Beer, they left it in that state and examined no further.—Report was immediately made to the thannadar of the district and acting magistrate Mr. F. MAGNIAC, who ordered immediate measures to be adopted to secure the fellows if possible and to prevent alike occurrence. ”

“ Whilst upon this subject, I have great apprehension that the River Insurance Company will suffer much this year from the number of losses I have heard of. A few days since one of their Boats, having on board a considerable number of Dollars, was sunk about 3 coss from Gysabad, by the banks falling on her as they were tracking up; by which means one of the Brijebossies was drowned, and much fear is entertained I understand for its recovery.”

We understand that the Honorable Sir George Cooper will proceed with Lady Cooper and Family, to Bombay by the Recluse, which sails for that Presidency about the end of this month, and by which he will probably arrive there as early or nearly so as he could have done by going overland to Mangalore, as originally intended.

Bombay.

On Wednesday evening, the Hon'ble Company's ships Bombay, Captain Hamilton, and Herefordshire, Captain Hope, anchored in this harbour, from London, and St. Helena. They left that island on the 11th June. The ex-Emperor Napoleon it was said was well but inaccessible. We are ignorant whether this difficulty of approach to him arises from the sullenness of offended dignity in Bonaparte, or from the restrictions imposed by his jealous keeper.

The Phoenix free trader, from this port 31st March last, for London, had arrived off St. Helena about a week before the departure of the H. C. ships. We have not heard of any other news these ships have brought. the letters and account from England by them are of course all of an old date; but we find that in perfect conformity with the late system of forwarding letters by which all considerations of dispatch and regularity are disregarded, a packet mail was received, subjecting the persons to whom the letters are addressed to the high rate of 1s. 6d. a single letter, and to the absolute certainty of their being more than six weeks longer than usual in the passage.

We regret to learn that letters from Fort Victoria state the epidemic which has so long prevailed throughout India, to have visited the districts round that station with increased violence during the last few weeks. This disease has been for many months past prevalent with more or less violence along the whole tract of country between Bombay and Fort Victoria, and seem to be travelling gradually southward, having already reached Chiptoor and Anjeunwell.

Upon the appearance of this fatal malady in a village, the natives generally abandon the place for a certain time and take up their residence at some other; the disease is described as being in general but little felt after their return. The cases are less numerous this season than last, but unfortunately they are more fatal.

The following extract of a letter has been kindly handed to us.

“ Kaira, 24th July, 1819.

“ The last post from Bombay was dated the 7th instant, so that we have 18 posts due; you must have had immense fall of rain to the southward, which must have caused that delay of the post here—We had last night about 8 o'clock a great fall of rain accompanied with lightning and thunder, the lightning killed a Dragoon of the 17th Regiment and scorched two others that were with him. About half past ten, there was a slight shock of an Earthquake felt.”

SEPTEMBER 12.

The Sheriff of Calcutta, under the sanction of Government, has convened a public meeting, to enable the parties interested, to discuss and determine the long pending Vestry Question. Our sentiments on the points in dispute between the Gentlemen who now act as a Select Vestry, and those who complain of expulsion from offices to which they have been elected, have been repeatedly submitted to the public, and continue to be unaltered by any statement or argument that we have read or heard, in support of the acts of the parties who now execute the Vestry functions. The objects of the intended meeting are distinctly stated in the letter from the Sidesmen to the Sheriff, which has also been published; and as Government has authorized the Sheriff to convene the inhabitants, for the purposes stated in that letter, it is manifest, that all that has been said and written, to prove that Government has APPROVED of the conduct of the late Vestry, must have been founded in misconception. It appears to be now placed beyond a doubt, that Government has not interfered in the controversy, further than interference became unavoidable—from an appeal to its authority by the contending parties: and it is evident, that by suffering a public discussion of this question, the Government has disclaimed all authoritative jurisdiction in a matter which seems to be purely parochial. We therefore trust, that in the approaching discussion, the points in difference between the late Vestry and the expelled Sidesmen, will be considered according to their merits; and that no allusion will be made, by either party, to the correspondence that has been entered into on this subject, with the officers of Government. The letter of Mr. Secretary LUSHINGTON, authorising the Sheriff to convene a public meeting, has permitted the parties interested, to discuss, and virtually to determine, the matters in dispute.

The subject to be considered by the approaching meeting, must be so familiar to our readers, that we shall not repeat, what has been often stated by ourselves and by our correspondents: But, we may be excused for observing, that the principal question to be determined, is, Whether the Gentlemen who now officiate as Vestrymen and Sidesmen of St. John's Church, were justified in expelling from the Office of Sidesmen, two gentlemen, elected by a Majority of Inhabitants, who attended the last Easter Meeting? Considering this question, it will be necessary to refer to the only Constitution which St. John's Church seems to possess—under the authority of which, the late Vestry must have obtained, or ought to have obtained, their right to administer the funds of the church. If that constitution is valid for any purpose, it ought to be deemed valid for all purposes, which it professes to contemplate, unless contrary to law. Whether it be considered as a code of regulations established by the Governor General in Vestry—or as a private trust deed or agreement entered into by the parties who built and dedicated St. John's Church, it ought to be considered binding on those who have accepted offices, in conformity with the terms of the regulations,—or who have undertaken trusts, to be performed according to the stipulations of the agreement: and those, who at the ensuing meeting, intend to justify the expulsion of the Sidesmen, must be prepared to shew—either that the late Vestry, did not derive their authority from the Constitution established by Lord CORNWALLIS and the Vestry—or that by the regulations of that Constitution, the election of Messieurs FLOWDEN's was void. If it shall be admitted, that the Constitution so established, is yet in force, and that the late Vestry were subject to its regulations, many other questions will arise, of great importance to the community, respecting the manner in which these regulations have been performed; but on which we forbear from offering any observations at present.

To the Editor of the Courier,

SIR,

A circumstance has lately occurred to me from the operation of the India Letter Act, which I think ought to be publicly known. During the late Mahratta Campaign, I transmitted some of your papers to my friends in England, folding them up with the ends open and writing on the back the word "Newspaper," in order that they might be charged only three pence each according to the Act. Mr. Freeling however charged every one of them as a double letter, and stated in reply to a remonstrance, that the government never intended that unstamped papers should be transmitted for three pence.—So that according to this Secretary's interpretation, news-papers may pass from England to India, but not from India to England.

GOVERNMENT ORDERS.

General Orders by Government: Fort Cornwallis, August 8, 1819

Under the most sincere feelings of affliction and regret, it becomes the painful duty of the Government to notify the decease, on the evening of yesterday, of the Honorable Colonel Bannerman, the late Governor of this Presidency.

By this melancholy and deplored event, the Government has been deprived of the services, and the public at large have to lament the loss of one whose zeal and anxiety to promote the public welfare were ardent and unceasing, and whose useful and honorable labours, marked alike by integrity and every manly virtue, were not confined to the sphere of this Presidency, but have been exemplified and often publicly appreciated during a period of upwards of forty-three years passed in the service of the Honorable East India Company, in various stations of difficulty, honour, and responsibility.

To mark the public concern on this mournful occasion, the Government directs, that the Flag of the Garrison of Fort Cornwallis be hoisted at half-staff immediately, and that it so continue till sun-set.

The whole of the Troops to be paraded to attend the funeral of the late Governor, which will take place this evening at 5 o'clock; Minute Guns to the number of 81, corresponding with the age of our late respected Governor, will commence firing from the Fort at that hour, and continue during the funeral procession from the Church to the place of Interment.

The Commanding Officer of the Troops is requested to frame and issue such subsidiary arrangements as may be requisite for carrying the above Order into effect, in the manner best becoming the memory of so old and distinguished a Soldier.

COLOMBO, AUG. 7.

The small pox, we are sorry to state, has appeared in Colombo and the neighbourhood, but not by any means in an alarming degree.

The epidemic has again broken out at Trincomalee and at Galle; three privates of the 45th at the former place, and one of the 19th at the latter, had fallen victims to it:—we are happy to add, however, that this fatal disorder has not re-appeared in any other parts of the Island.

Alipoot, 28th July.—"We yesterday had a singular occurrence, or rather a phenomenon in this part of the world, viz. a fall of hail-stones, larger considerably than the common size of a pea.

"The former part of the day was particularly close and sultry, with a hazy sky: about 1 o'clock, claps of distant thunder, no uncommon thing, were heard to the N. E. and showers of rain fell among the mountains; about half past 1 or towards 2 o'clock, the sky became overspread with dense black clouds, with loud peals of thunder very near, preceded by vivid lightning: from the N. W. where the clouds seemed to concentrate, a hurricane of wind and rain approached us with a noise which was heard at a great distance; our houses were partly unroofed by the first gust, and a cloud of dust from the square of the Fort, with tallipot leaves (the materials which formed the covering of our houses,) was flying before the storm; the rain fell in torrents; the wind veered in a short time towards the North, when hail-stones were observed rebounding from the ground, and were picked up in numbers, considerably larger than peas. I am happy in having to communicate to you, that sickness has disappeared almost entirely at this post. We have at the present time only one European in hospital, who, with three Malays, with trivial complaints, form the whole of our sick; most of the Europeans, who were lately ill with fever, have recovered. The Native Troops in Wellesly continue as yet very healthy; the season has been particularly wet, which may have suspended the cause of fevers."

By recent advices from Graham's Town, it appears, that every thing there is proceeding quietly, and that Lt. Col. Willshire's arrangements are in as much forwardness as the circumstances of the season could have given reason to expect. The Commando from the Cape District marched to Junction Drift on the 24th of last month: Junction Drift is so called from the Post being situated near the spot where the Little Fish River falls into the large stream of that name. The Horses of this Detachment are reported to be in very good order. The Stellenbosch Commando arrived at Graham's Town on the 15th May, but their Horses were much fatigued and very poor.

The Caffers had been for some days perfectly quiet, but on the 8th of last month they shewed themselves, in considerable force, at the Upper Caffer Drift Post, which they surrounded and attacked. Captain Birch, of the Royal African Corps, (who estimates their number at between 3 and 4000,) received them so warmly, that they were not disposed to persist in the attempt to carry the Post, and after skirmishing for about an hour, he drove them off, with considerable slaughter. We had one man slightly wounded in this affair. This Post is situated on a high bank of the Fish River, about 12 miles from its embouchure; it commands one of the principle Fords used by the Caffers in their incursions into the Zureveld.

Detachments of the 38th and 54th Regiments have sailed to reinforce the Army on the Frontier.

JUNE 26.

Every thing on the Frontier remains quiet; the Caffers have ceased their Depredations and Incursions for some time past; but the armed Inhabitants are anxiously awaiting Col. Willshire's orders to move beyond the Fish River. The Horse sickness has disappeared, and the Horses for the remount of the Zwellendam Command, and of such Burghers from the other Districts, as have lost their Horses by the fatal distemper, have proceeded towards Graham's Town. Meanwhile Commandant Linde, impatient at inaction, has led a strong dismounted Patrole through the thick wood at Trompetter's Drift, and having fallen in with a party of Caffers lurking there with plunder, he succeeded in recapturing above 200 heads of Colonial Cattle; 12 Caffers fell in this rencontre.

Mr. Anderson, the Missionary at Griqua Town, has by His Excellency the Governor's desire, communicated with the Tribes of Briquas and Bishuanas, and with the numerous Bastards in his own vicinity, on the subject of establishing a Fair at the Kooksolem, in the Beaufort District, in conformity, to the Proclamation of 27th Nov. last, & the Tribes have expressed their great satisfaction at the proposal. The months of April and Sept. are considered the best for this purpose; but they have particularly requested, that Wednesday the 4th of August next may be the day fixed for their repairing to the Kook: the Landdrost of Graaff-Reynet has very properly notified to them his acquiescence in this request, and the 4th of August next is therefore, the day fixed for the First Fair on the Borders of this Colony.

SEPTEMBER 20.

We have received very little intelligence during the last week, either from the interior or the sister presidencies. Some arrivals from England, will be seen under our shipping head. To the Government Gazette we are indebted for a report of the proceedings at the last meeting of the Asiatic Society, and we have extracted a few paragraphs from other Journals of the last week. Letters from different parts of the country contain the most cheering assurances, that a considerable fall of rain, has dispelled the apprehensions which were very generally entertained. A considerable scarcity still prevailed at Narsingpore, but the country in that neighbourhood had also been blessed with abundant rain. At Nagpore, we are happy to learn that the distress of the poorer classes has been alleviated by the employment of numerous men, women and children, in the construction of roads and other useful works; and while those who are able to labour, are thus relieved at the expense of the Circar, it is gratifying to be assured, that about sixteen hundred of the old and helpless, are daily fed at the expence of the European community at Nagpore, aided by the subscriptions of the wealthy native inhabitants of that city. A letter from the force under Col. LUDLOW, notices an attempt to assassinate Major BUNCE of the 1st Local Cavalry, by a man of that corps, who was about to undergo the sentence of a Court Martial. The Major was thrown to the ground, and thrice struck with a dagger, but before the assailant could effect his purpose, the officers and men rushed from the ranks, and "cut him to pieces."

The Lord Bishop of Calcutta has published a proclamation, creating a new Court in Calcutta, to be styled "The Consistory Court within and for the Archdeaconry of Calcutta in the Diocese of Calcutta;" and Friday, the 15th proximo, is fixed for opening, constituting, and forming the Court.

A general meeting of the Calcutta School Book Society, has been advertised for to-morrow morning, at the Town Hall, when, it is expected, that all the members now in Calcutta will attend. The principles and objects of this truly excellent institution, have been frequently explained to the public, and must be well known to our readers; but, it may not be so generally understood, that the Society has already been enabled to accomplish much of the benefit which was contemplated by its projectors. Many useful books have been prepared and distributed, and knowledge has begun to diffuse its light and blessings among the rising generation of this portion of the globe. We understand that the Society, at its meeting to-morrow will receive a report of what has been recently done, by its executive members, in furtherance of the objects of the institution;—a report, which is likely to prove highly gratifying to all who are interested in the moral improvement of the natives.

A meeting of the British Inhabitants of Calcutta was holden on Monday last, in pursuance of a public notice, for the purpose of taking into consideration the best mode of expressing the respect entertained for the character and memory of the justly lamented WARREN HASTINGS. The object of the meeting was explained by the Sheriff, when Mr. LARSSON took the Chair, and delineated the character of Mr. HASTINGS, and his conduct while he presided in the Supreme Government,—concluding, with observations on the prosecution which followed his return to his native country. Mr. PALMER, Mr. WYNCH, Captain BRYANT, Captain

LOCKER, and Mr. YOUNG, also addressed the meeting, and the motion of Mr. WYNCH, seconded by Captain BRYANT, for the erection of a Statue, was unanimously agreed to. The speeches delivered on this occasion, have been published at length in the Calcutta Journal, from which, we have taken the names of the gentlemen who were appointed a Committee, to conduct the subordinate arrangements,—and the resolutions which follow :

Mr. LARKINS	Captain LOCKETT
Mr. PALMER	Mr. JAMESON
Mr. FENDALL	Mr. WYNCH
Sir C. D'OYLEY	Mr. T. PLOWDEN
Mr. MAITLAND	Mr. JAMES BARWELL
Mr. J. YOUNG	Colonel DICK
Major BRYANT	Colonel HARDWICKE.

The following were the Resolutions then agreed to, nem con., and these last have been officially communicated :—

1. Resolved, that a Book be left open at the Town Hall for Subscriptions.
2. Resolved, that the Committee communicate these Resolutions to the principal Stations under the Presidency of Bengal.
3. Resolved, that Messrs. PALMER and Co. be appointed Treasurer, and authorized to receive the amount of Subscriptions.
4. Resolved, that the Thanks of this Meeting be given to the Sheriff, for his prompt attention in calling the Meeting together.
5. Resolved, that the Thanks of this meeting be given to the Chairman, for his able conduct in the Chair.

(Signed) J. P. LARKINS, Chairman.

ASIATIC SOCIETY.

A Meeting of the Asiatic Society was held on Saturday evening the 5th instant, the Marquis of HASTINGS in the Chair. The long interval which had taken place since the preceding one, was occasioned by the Society's Rooms being under repair. The consequence has been an accumulation of papers and documents of various interest, which we shall now notice.

Mons. LANGELIS of Paris, presented to the Society the thirteenth and fourteenth numbers of the Monuments Anciens et Modernes de l'Inde, through the medium of Mons. PICARD.

A letter was read from H. C. ØRSFELD, Secretary to the Royal Society of Copenhagen, transmitting a volume of their transactions.

A duplicate of the beautiful Medal of MALHERBE was received from the Society of Agriculture and Commerce at Carn, together with two volumes of their Memoirs, and several other works published by them.

H. H. WILSON, Esq. has been nominated Corresponding Member of that Society.

The first number of the Revue Encyclopedique ou Analyse Raisonne, and an Esquisse d'un Essai sur la Philosophie des Sciences, from M. A. JULLIEN, of Paris. The Revue contains several curious articles, some of which we intend to notice on a future occasion.

From M. ROUSSEAU, of the Academy of Sciences at Marseilles, the Society has received two works of his own composition. A Mémoire sur les trois plus fameuses sectes du Musulmanisme, les Wahabis, les Nossairis, et les Ismaélis and a Notice Historique sur la Perse, ancienne et moderne.

Copies of all the different tracts published by the Calcutta School Book Society, were presented by Lieutenant T. JARVIS, the Secretary to that laudable Institution.

COUNT VOLNEY, the author of a Voyage en Syrie and Ruines, presented to the Society a new work called L'Alphabet Européen appliqué aux Langues Asiatiques. In the dedication of this volume, to the Asiatic Society, the author describes the singular ordeal passed by his system of orthography. When the French Government was engaged in publishing the sumptuous work, Descriptive of Egypt, it was deemed necessary to annex to it a geographical map, and it was also of importance that the Arabic and French nomenclature should correspond as literally as possible. The Parisian Arabistes finding this impracticable, VOLNEY who had an intimate knowledge of the subject, was consulted. As there were however many Orientalists who opposed his theory, he suggested that a sort of Jury might be appointed to sit and decide between the parties in this literary suit. The case was a difficult one, and VOLNEY proposed three eminent men, distinguished for their knowledge of Mathematics, to assist at the trial. The Government was of opinion that the commission should consist of twelve, and twelve persons of literary distinction were accordingly appointed. The cause was investigated, and VOLNEY's system of European transcription admitted to be the best. It is this system which is described in the volume now transmitted to the Asiatic Society.

Colonel MACKENZIE presented a specimen of the curious remains of Sculptured antiquities at Amri-waram in Guntoor. It was taken, with a few others, in the possession of that distinguished Antiquarian, from the mound called Deepul Dinna or Mount of Lights, first described by him in the 9th volume of the Researches.

The Secretary presented a copy of the first part of Mr. H. T. COLERBROOKE's Treatise on Obligations and Contracts, in the name of the Author.

A letter was read from Mr. W. H. MACNAGHTEN, transmitting ten rupees, taken from a number (204) discovered in an earthen pot, by a poor man while digging on the bank of the Mahanunda, near Maladah. They appear to be of the age of Shah Jahan.

A model of a Kurad, or Turner's Lathe, used by the native Turners at Patna, was presented by a Lady; also some seeds of the Candleberry Myrtle, with two candles made of the wax produced by that plant. The plant grows at the Cape, and the candles are in general use among the Dutch at that place.

Capt. P. G. BAKER has added to the stores of the Museum a box of Minerals, the produce of Rajpootana.

A Sponge plant from the shores of Singapore, was presented by Mr. PALMER, and the skin of a Snake about twelve feet long, by Colonel PATON.

A letter was read from Dr. WALLICH transmitting descriptions of several plants by Dr. GOVAN, Superintendent of the Botanical Gardens at Saharanpore, to which additional remarks are appended by Dr. WALLICH. In the observations on the Aconite, called by the natives Beekh, or Bées, it is said that the idea of its effluvia affecting the air, so as to produce deleterious effects upon those exposed to it, is very prevalent among the inhabitants of Bissepore and Gurbwah. Dr. GOVAN having been himself, as well as all those who accompanied him, repeatedly exposed both during the day and night to its influence, without having ever experienced any inconvenience, he is inclined to attribute this belief to the circumstance of the plants always occurring at very high elevations where we are informed by the highest authority, great inconveniences, similar to those believed to be produced by it, are often felt, viz. giddiness, fainting, somnolency, and difficult respiration, the latter of which symptoms has been usually ascribed to a saturation of the air, and said to occur when the body remained perfectly at rest. The plant occupies the highest situations in the forest belt investing the sides of the Himalaya. Dr. GOVAN never having met with it much below where the Barometer stood at 19 inches. With regard to his own personal experience of the effects above mentioned, and that of the people who accompanied him in crossing the Himalaya by the Rote or Pannung Pass in Bissepore, where the Barometer stood at 17 inches,—after passing the night, at what he conceived the upper limit of perpetual snow, he can assert that no other inconvenience, or difficult respiration was felt, than what was the necessary result of the exertion in ascending, and which ceased whenever the body remained at rest. On one occasion a degree of sickness and giddiness were experienced, with anxiety of respiration, not during the exertion of ascending, and several of the servants would willingly have remained behind to sleep for a short time on the snow, but here the plant was not to be found for many miles, and as the situation was much inferior in elevation to that above mentioned (the Barometer having only sunk to 19 inches) Dr. GOVAN could not help attributing the sensations experienced, to the exertion of walking more than ankle deep among snow for nearly six hours, during which the feet were benumbed, and the head exposed to the very powerful action of the rays of the sun. This was in crossing Manjee-kehanda, between the Tonce and Tumaoutri, in the beginning of October, 1818. Aconite is imported into the plains, and sold at the rate of one rupee the seer. It is used in Chronic Rheumatism by the native practitioners.

A collection of Fossils found on one of the Carryharce cliff, bordering on the Buthampooter, was presented to the Society by D. SCOTT, Esq. Commissioner at Cooch Behar, through the medium of Dr. WALLICH.

A specimen of a singular conformation of a human bone, with a description of it, was received from Mr. JOHN TYLER.

A letter was read from the same gentleman communicating a paper on the Binomial Theorem, the discovery of which had been attributed to Sir ISAAC NEWTON. It was afterward ascertained that NEWTON was not the inventor of it, but the first who applied it to fractions. The paper in question professes to shew that the theorem was known to the Arabians, as it is to be found in two of their Arithmetical books, viz. the Miftch-ul-Hisab, or key of Arithmetic, composed by Jam-id ben Masaoud in the reign of Ulug Beg, grandson of Timur. [about 1450], and in the Youn-ul-Hisab, or Rules of Arithmetic, composed by Abdounoud Banker, in the reign of Shah Abbas the I. about the year 1600. The rule is said to be derived from authors of still more ancient date. Mr. REUBEN BURROWS in the VII. vol. of the Researches suspects that it was known to the Hindoos.

Lieut. E. FILL, transmitted a description of an ancient stone fabric near Bulsa, with drawings of the sculptures found there.

The Secretary communicated an account of Human Sacrifice as practised at Puchmurre, from Lieutenant R. A. McNAGHTEN. From this account, which contains a peculiar feature of superstition, we gather the following particulars.*

Among the many natural curiosities to be found at Puchmurre is an Archea Cave, sacred to Maha-deo. It is about one hundred feet in length, and twenty in height, and is a natural excavation at the bottom of an immense solid rock. It is situated in a deep narrow dell, and the surrounded rocks are from 150 to 200 feet above the level of the cave. The floor of this cavity is covered with water about knee deep, which is the effect of a constant dripping from the roof, but for which it is difficult to account, as the upper surface of the rock is perfectly dry, and as there is no water visible any where near it to supply the perpetual filtering.

At the further end of the cavern is an Idol, to which the Pilgrims, who annually resort thither in great numbers, pay their devotion, bathing themselves at the same time in the water which drops from the roof. Another rock, which contributes to form the dell above alluded to, is consecrated to Bhowanee, there called the wife of Mathadeo. This rock is devoted to a purpose similar to that of mount Leucas of old, from which Shappho precipitated herself into the sea. When a woman has been married for several years, and is unblest with offspring, she pays her devotions to Mahadeo to remove her sterility, and vows to sacrifice her first born child to the God, by throwing it from the top of Bhowanee's rock, which is about 170 high, and nearly perpendicular. Lieut. McNAGHTEN, was at Puchmurre in last April, at the time the annual pilgrimage takes place. A woman had arrived there for the purpose of sacrificing herself in conformity with the horrid superstition just described, and Lieut. McNAGHTEN, excited by curiosity, proceeded to the spot to witness the circumstances of this dreadful ceremony. He was accompanied by a Hurkain named RAM SING, charged by the gallant Colonel ADAMS, to use every effort in his power to dissuade the deluded woman from putting in execution her frantic resolution. When they reached the rock, about four miles south west of Puchmurre, the voluntary victim was sitting on the ground, waiting the arrival of the Brahmin who was to assist at the ceremony. She was of the Rajpoot cast, and seemed to be about thirty years of age. It appeared that her father and mother were both dead; that her mother had formerly vowed to sacrifice her first child to Mahadeo, agreeably to the established custom, but on the birth of the child, a daughter, she neglected to fulfil her vow. The daughter grew up, and was married; her husband died, and she married again. Her second husband also died, and being without off-spring, the accumulation of misfortunes drove her nearly mad. She would dance and sing all day, and eat any thing from any body, by which she lost her cast, and became entirely neglected. She at length felt persuaded that her misfortunes arose from the circumstance of her mother having broken her vow, and therefore, she determined to immolate herself without loss of time. She had seated herself at the foot of the rock, surrounded by those who had accompanied her from Hurdah, the place of her residence, calmly expecting the arrival of the Raj Gooro, or Chief Priest. She was perfectly sensible, and had neither ate nor drank any intoxicating or stupifying drug. Indeed her appearance indicated perfect selfpossession, and her friends positively asserted that nothing of the kind had been administered to her. There was a bottle of common Bazar spirits near her, which they said was to be given to her, if she asked for it, but not otherwise. She held in her right hand, a cocoa-nut, and in the left, a knife and a small looking glass, into which she continued to look, excepting when she turned her eyes towards heaven, exclaiming "Doe B,hutjee," which she did very frequently. It is evident, that her resolution entirely originated in her own breast. When RAM SING began to dissuade her, she became exceedingly angry, and told him that his interference was both useless and improper. He however continued his expostulations, in which, it is worthy of particular remark, he was heartily joined by her own people, who declared, that they had previously used all their endeavours, to induce her to relinquish her design of destroying herself. One of them, an old Brahmin, seconded RAM SING so earnestly, that she threw the cocoa-nut at his head, with such violence, as would have been productive of serious consequences, had her aim been sure; but fortunately it erred, and the nut was broken to pieces against the stones, on which it fell full three hours. RAM SING continued his expostulations, and she was still immovable. So reluctant was she to attend to him, that she repeatedly, and angrily, ordered the Musicians, who were present, to commence playing, but his voice might not be heard. Lieutenant McNAGHTEN, considering it a hopeless case, returned to camp, leaving RAM SING to do all he could to delay the threatened sacrifice. In a few hours afterwards his servants brought him intelligence, that RAM SING had succeeded, and was bringing the women into Camp. On ascending the said rock, from which she was to precipitate herself, he had fainted away, from exhaustion both of body and mind, and continued senseless for nearly two hours. On recovering she cried bitterly, and appeared to hesitate. Every one present, seized the favorable opportunity, and implored her to abandon her resolution; and, what was still more effectual, the Raj Gooro told her, she had Manfoo forgiveness! Soon after her arrival in Camp, she was sent off to Hurdah, provided by Colonel ALAN with money to defray her expenses on the road, and a letter to the Somahar of the province, who had in the first instance tenderly endeavored to dissuade her from her purpose, to see that she suffered no indignity or wrong, in consequence of having abandoned her resolution.

* In the seventh volume of the Asiatic Researches Mr. COLEBROOKE, in his dissertation on the religious ceremonies of the *Hindoo*s, thus alludes to the same subjects. "I must also take this occasion of announcing a very singular practice, which prevails among the lowest tribes of the inhabitants of Bihar and Gondwanina. Suicide is not unfrequently vowed, by such persons, in return for boons solicited from idols; and, to fulfill his vow, the successful votary throws himself from a precipice, named Qalabkatrawa, situated in the mountains between the Tapti and Narmada rivers. The annual fair, held near that spot, at the beginning of Spring, usually witnesses eight or ten victims of this superstition."

We are happy to observe, that the accounts of the Treasurer, ending the 30th of April last, show a balance in the Society's favor, of about 11,500 Rupees.

Captain LOCKER brought to the notice of the Society the exertions that had been made by SIR JOHN MALCOLM to establish a Library and Reading Room a Mho v, and suggested, that a copy of the Asiatik Res a ches should be presented to that institution. The suggestion was immediately complied with.

The application of the Principal of the University of Edinburgh, communicated by the Most Noble the President, to be favored with such articles as can be spared from the Society's Museum, of which there may be duplicates, was favorably received, and an early opportunity will be taken to transmit the collection to Scotland.

C. T. METCALFE, Esq. and Captain Hodgson, were unanimously elected Members of the Society.

The expedition to Cashmeer was not commanded by RUNJEET SING in person, as before understood, but by one of his confidential Chiefs, DEWAN CHUND. After he had received advices of the conquest of the province, he expressed his intention to proceed thither, but circumstances have since changed his mind, and he is now occupied in making choice of a faithful and able Governor!

The shrewdness and prudence, and the military skill of RUNJEET SING are well known to those who have had opportunities of appreciating his character, and it is probable that he will render Cashmeer even more productive than it has been to the King of Cabul. He has the genius and intrepidity to awe and control a great number of dissipated petty states, which are constantly on the watch to evade the payment of the stipulated tribute. While he lives, his power over those states will most likely remain unimpaired, but in the event of any accident befalling him, the Sikh Empire will in all probability crumble to pieces at once, and be divided into a thousand conflicting interests.

We have already mentioned that Mr. Lacy had undertaken to fill the situation of Organist in Saint Andrew's Church, vacant by the death of Mr. Alsager, and we are now enabled to add, that he will enter on the performance of his duties on Sunday next. With the superior excellence of the Euharmonic Organ, in Saint Andrew's Church, our readers must be already generally acquainted, and it is gratifying to think that an instrument, so well calculated to increase the solemnity as well as to improve the exercise of the most interesting part of devotion resorted to in public worship, has been committed to the management of one whose eminent professional talents will soon produce the greatest effect of which it is capable. As the improvements, which are peculiar to this organ, are hardly known as yet to the musical world, except by description, no similar one of equal size having been ever built besides, it must be some time before Mr. Lacy can avail himself fully of their assistance. We have listened, however, to his performance already on the instrument, under great disadvantages, and we feel convinced, that in the earliest exercise of his functions he will give high satisfaction, while practice will enable him at no distant period to communicate the greatest delight to those who are lovers of sacred harmony.

The Prince of Orange spoke the ship Amboyne, from Calcutta, bound to Madras, on the 8th inst. off the Jagermoot Pagoda,

She has brought from Pondicherry the Galle, a part of the first Ceylon Volunteer Battalion, consisting of five officers, 206 rank and file, and 39 followers. We also find mentioned as passengers on board of her, from Pondicherry, Captain Sartorius, Mr. F. Semts, 1st officer, and five of the crew of the late ship Hayston. This vessel, it will be recollected, had left the Isle of France on the 1st July, for Madras and Calcutta, and we have been looking for her arrival here, since the beginning of the present month; She was not destined, however, to return, and the following is the account that has been kindly handed to us respecting her loss.

She was wrecked on the 20th July, on a reef of rocks, to the westward of the Maldivé Islands, and in about 6° of North latitude. She had crossed the line on the 14th, in long. 69° E. and saw nothing until after she struck, and then only the reef on which lay at low water. They report its extent as great, being as far as the eye could reach, both North and South.

The breakers were discovered at eight o'clock, on the evening of the above day, and she was immediately hove in stays, but she struck in coming round; and the rudder was knocked off by the shock. All the efforts of the officers to get her off proved unavailing. The boats were stove by the violence of the surf, and the Captain, with part of the crew, reached one of the Maldivé Islands, about thirty miles distant, up a raft, from whence they were sent by the native chief to Point de Galle.

Letters have been received in town from Manilla, brought on from Penang by the Shaw Alton. These mention the arrival at the former port of the ship Mary from Acapulco, and state, also, that the Carmo, Santa Rita, and San Ruperto, were left at San Bas, nearly ready to return to Manilla, laden with dollars, bullion, and copper, to a great amount. Mexico is represented to be in a state of profound tranquillity, and the mines in 1818 had produced eleven millions of dollars.

AUGUST 25, 1819.

The Commander in Chief has much gratification in publishing a Letter from Major General Sir Henry Torrens, K. C. B. Military Secretary to His Royal Highness the Duke of York, and his Excellency has consequently directed a Letter to be addressed to every officer who served under his personal Command on the 21st December 1817, and whose Name was submitted to His Royal Highness, to receive the honorary distinction of a Medal.

Copy of a Letter from Major General Sir Henry Torrens, K. C. B. Military Secretary, addressed to His Excellency Lieutenant General Sir Thomas Hislop, Bart. and G. C. B. &c. &c. &c. dated Horse Guards, 15th October 1818.

I have the Commander in Chief's Commands to acknowledge the receipt of your dispatch of the 7th January last, addressed to the Adjutant General, transmitting a Return of Officers personally and particularly engaged in the Battle of Mahidpoor, whom, under a view of the continued existence of a system of granting Medals of distinction, you consider worthy of bearing banners commemorating that glorious event.

I have His Royal Highness's Commands to assure you, that he appreciates in the highest degree the bravery and discipline which so signally distinguished Sir John Malcolm, and all the officers under your Command in the Battle of Mahidpoor, as well as the valor, ability, and promptitude, with which you directed their zeal, in leading the Troops, to the accomplishment of a splendid achievement, which has mainly served to the overthrow of a confederacy that aimed at the subversion of the British Power in India ; but it is incumbent upon his Royal Highness to

I acquaint you, that when the Military Order of the Bath was extended, His Majesty's Government thought proper to decide for reasons which it is unnecessary here to detail, that the system of granting Medals of distinction should be abolished, and under these circumstances His Royal Highness is reluctantly compelled to explain the impossibility of his giving effect to the wishes you have expressed in regard to the Officers whose names you have transmitted.

You will find, however, that the Order of the Bath, as far as its statutes and regulations could permit His Royal Highness and the President of the Board of Control to recommend the grant of it, has been conferred on the Officers of the King's & the Honorable Company's Service, who have been principally distinguished under your Command, and should the circumstance of your having recommended the grant of Medals of distinction, have been made known to the Army, His Royal Highness trusts you will give such explanation to the Officers, who were under your Command at Mahidpoor, as may convince them that this kind of distinction is withheld in compliance with General Regulations, and not from any failure in the due appreciation of their distinguished conduct.

I have the honor to be, Sir, Your most obedient, humble Servant,

Penang.

On Thursday evening came in H. M. S. Topaze Captain Lumley, from Manilla. A friend has furnished us with some interesting articles of intelligence brought by this opportunity, of which we have only time and space to give the following heads:—

Accounts from Rhio, dated 29th June, state that the Indiana, with the Hon'ble Stamford Raffles on board, grounded in going into that place on her way to Bencoolen, and was obliged to start her water. The Dutch Resident furnished her with a fresh supply, and she continued her voyage on the next day—all well.

The Dutch have hoisted their flag on the Rajah Mooda's Fort at Rhio, and almost all the inhabitants have in consequence, left it to reside under Major Farquhar at Singapore—the Rajah Mooda himself has retired to Lingin.

The Dutch Frigate Wilhelmina was at Rhio when the Topaze passed. The Eclipse (Sloop of War of that Nation) was lately at Lingin with 40 Soldiers, whom she have landed, but the Rajah, it is said, would not receive them.

Accounts from the Eastward confirm the report of the Dutch having been driven out from Pallingbang with great loss; and also of a revolt of the Natives against them on the Island of Banca.

AdVICES from Manilla, of the 14th June, mention, that two thirds of their crop of Sugar had been destroyed by Locusts. Government had sent for several thousands of the Martin Bird, in hopes of destroying them.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE GOVERNOR.

It becomes this week our melancholy duty to record the death of our late respectable and respected GOVERNOR, the Honorable Colonel JOHN ALEXANDER BARNESMAN, who after an illness of a fortnight, expired on Sunday Evening last, the 8th instant, in the 61st year of his age, of a supposed schirous in the pylorus, of lower orifice of the Stomach. He had been Governor of this Colony about 20 months, and had ably and faithfully served the Company in various situations of the highest responsibility during the long period of 43 years—during 9 of which he held a seat in the Direction. He has left a Widow, and 3 Sons and 5 Daughters to mourn his irreparable loss. Every possible respect, so justly due from this community, was publicly paid to his memory; the funeral procession being attended not only by all the European Inhabitants, but by a prodigious concourse of Natives of the various Eastern Nations of which our population is principally composed—Captain LUMLEY, too, of H. M. Ship Topaze Captain WEASTED

RAWES, and LARKINS of the H. C. Ships General Harris, Warren Hastings, and Marquis Camden, and many of their Officers, together with the Commanders of several other Vessels there in the harbour, united in paying the last sad honors to the mortal remains of our late Governor. The Pall was supported by Sir RALPH RICE (the Recorder) W. A. CLUBLEY, Esq. (Member of Council) R. LEBBETSON, Esq. (High Sheriff) COLONEL SHOULBART, DAVID BROWN and JAMES CARRICK, Esq. CAPTS. LUMLEY, WESTERMAN, and other principal Gentlemen present. Minute Guns corresponding with the age of the deceased were fired from the Rampart of Fort Cornwallis during the procession from the Church to the Place of Interment, and the Flag remained, throughout the day, hoisted half mast:—the same mournful compliment was also paid by the Frigate, the Indiamen, and other Ships. COLONEL SHULBART had ordered out the whole of the Troops, who concluded the painful ceremony by firing 3 volleys over the grave. The Colonel lies close to the tomb of Mr. PETHIE (one of his predecessors) and 3 other Governors are buried in the same line: for it is remarkable, that of 14 or 15 Chief Magistrates of this Island, on y^e 2 (we understand) ever lived to re-visit their native land; of whom one is the present Governor of Mauritius, and Sir GEORGE LETHBRIDGE, the other. Three of them have died at Sea, and the rest, we believe, in different parts of India.

Though we hope that COLONEL BANNERMAN'S Friends in Europe will give to the public a more detailed account of his very useful life and important services, yet we are in the mean time, desirous of recording, even in our fugitive publication, a few particulars which have come to our knowledge—only regretting our inability to furnish a more complete memoir. As a Military member he had seen, we know, a great deal of service under Sir EYRE COOKE, Sir HECTOR MUNRO, and LORD CORNWALLIS. Indeed he had scarcely arrived in India, and was yet a Cadet of Infantry on the Madras Establishment, when, in the year 1779, he was made Assistant to the Engineer at the memorable siege of Pondicherry under Sir HECTOR MUNRO. He afterwards served in the arduous and severe Campaign with General GODDARD'S Army, and also under Sir EYRE COOKE; was again at the reduction of Pondicherry in 1793, and commanded a Battalion at the Capture of Ceylon in 1795. During the different Carnatic Wars he was repeatedly and severely wounded. In the year 1788 he was employed by Sir ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL—then Governor of Madras—in a diplomatic situation of great importance with the Rajah of Travancore.*

Lastly, and even after he had taken his passage for Europe, he was selected by MARQUIS WELLESLEY to reduce the Polygars of Pungallah Cooruche; and having accomplished this service with distinguished credit, he returned home in 1801. In 1806 we find him a Member of the House of Commons; and after having been presented with a superb service of plate by the Court of Directors for his services in India (in the inscription on which his "spotless integrity" is particularly eulogized.) he was elected a Member of that Court in 1808. He continued in the Direction for 9 years, commanding the esteem and applause of all parties, until appointed, in 1817, Governor of this Presidency.

COLONEL BARNARD was in close friendship with Sir JOHN MALCOLM; General MUNRO, Colonel WILKS, and many other eminent Indian characters; and was on terms of personal intimacy and confidence with MARQUIS WELLESLEY, the DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Mr. W. POLE, Lord CLIVE (the Governor of Madras) and the late EARL OF BUCKINGHAMSHIRE, from all of whom he had received many proofs of particular esteem and regard.

But while so much may with great truth be said of his unshaken firmness and impartiality, of his "spotless integrity," and extraordinary zeal, ardour, and devotion in the public service: his private life cannot be forgotten or passed over in silence, distinguished as it was by manly worth, and soldier-like frankness and candour on all occasions; together with such affectionate and lively feelings as rendered him almost, as it were an object of adoration to his immediate family and friends. To sum up all, we are assured by the Clergyman, who, by his own desire, attended him almost in his last moments to administer one of the most holy ordinances of our religion, that though he had been called upon, in the course of his professional duty, to visit many persons in the same affecting situation, yet he never remembered to have witnessed patient composure and perfect submission to the dispensations of Heaven, exemplified in a more admirable and surprising degree: thus affording to his surrounding children, notwithstanding the agonizing pains of his last sickness, a most impressive and a most consoling lesson of Christian fortius resignation.

"Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like his."

THOMAS McMAHON,

Col. A. .

SEPTEMBER 27.

The letters received during the last week from the Upper Provinces, confirm the previous accounts of copious falls of rain, but in many places es, this blessing was bestowed too late in the season, to move immediate pressure,—and the prices of grain, particularly of rice, continued to place that article beyond the reach of the poorer classes. In one station, it was selling at a higher rate than wheat. Hopes are said, however to be generally entertained, that the scarcity will not be increased, and that those who have stored large quantities of grain, in expectation of profiting by the anticipated dearth, will gradually bring their stores into the Bazaars.

The Bombay papers continue to publish details of Earth quakes. A letter from Camp near Booj, dated the 1st ultimo, states that several other shocks have been experienced. The writer indulges in a considerable vein of jocularity, somewhat inconsistent with the situation, in which he is placed. He says, that “at one time, the earth rocks like a ship in the sea,—at another time, it trembles as if it had an ague-fit—and again it bumps as if it was “striking on a shoal.” We know not whether this gentleman is, or is not “a little poetical in his prose,” but the condition of the people in Kutch must be truly deplorable if they are compelled during the rainy season to abandon their houses—and to sleep every night, in temporary huts constructed of grass!

We have received by the Kent, Penang Journals, but they contain little besides shipping intelligence, which will be found under our usual head. Of late we have not been much edified, by interesting and romantic details of proceedings to the Eastward.—The mine of confidential correspondence appears to have been sprung by the imprudence of those who had been entrusted with the train—and the explosion at Penang, will perhaps be felt at Calcutta. The gold-mine lately discovered at Singapore will, we trust, be worked in a more skillful manner, and it may hereafter serve to relieve the embarrassments of our mother country, by facilitating the success of Mr. Ricardo's ingot scheme. The China Ships from Madras, had reached Penang, and the Watertoo from this port, had relieved the Artillery on that Island.

The Meeting of the Inhabitants of Calcutta to consider of the Vestry differences, which we have frequently mentioned, took place on Wednesday last, at the Town Hall, and was most numerous and respectfully attended. An account of the proceedings at this meeting has already appeared in the daily papers of Thursday, and a detailed report is to be published in the Calcutta Journal. Our readers in Calcutta have been sufficiently informed of the discussions and of the result, and to our Country Subscribers, we shall merely that the resolutions which were adopted on Wednesday, have satisfactorily shewn, that, in the opinion of the meeting, Messrs. Frowd & Co. were duly elected Sidesmen, and were improperly expelled from their office. The Inhabitants, it may now be said, as far as they can, have adopted and confirmed the Regulations of 1787, established by the then Governor General in Vestry: and have resolved to pursue all competent measures to enforce the regulations—to vindicate their authority—and finally, to place the establishment on a footing analogous with similar institutions in England. We have not yet seen the resolutions,—but understand, that by one of them, it is resolved to make an application to Government, to interfere with the persons who now exercise the office of Vestrymen. Should this be true, we conceive that the meeting has departed from its constitutional ground. We think, for reasons, that have been repeatedly stated in this paper, that the Supreme Government cannot—and will not interfere in the affairs of the church. Assuming the Regulations of 1787 to be valid and operative,—the Governor General and Members of Council are ex officio members of the Select Vestry:—but, as a body distinct from the Vestry, it is not likely, that the Government will interfere with the business of the parish. If the resolution was intended merely as a mark of respect to Government, we shall not quarrel with it,—but, as the Government authorised the Inhabitants to meet, to consider of the best means of restoring the expelled Sidesmen to office, it appears to us, that all authoritative interference with the litigating parties, was thus virtually disclaimed. Until, however, we see this resolution, we shall not make any other observation on this point. We are most happy to learn, that the warmth of debate, did not prevent the speakers—or the meeting—from doing all that was practicable, to prove that the controversy between the men in office, and those expelled, was founded on public grounds, untinged by private feeling. We understand, that one of the resolutions conveys a most liberal acknowledgement, that the conduct of the late Vestry, as such, has not in any degree diminished as any the respect and esteem entertained for them as private individuals. This, was as it ought to be. The late Vestry have, in our opinion acted wrongfully, and have, almost perversely, gone to their error—but, although we think they ought to have been long ago converted—and that they have pushed the controversy too far,—we are disposed to make great allowance for the tenaciousness,—with which they have adhered to a system, which, we believe, they considered to be right. Men are apt to repose on their first creed—and he who ventures to disturb their slumbers—is generally considered an officious intruder; and we are taught by daily experience, that few possess sufficient meekness to endure the eradication of errors—without contortion—and few still, can command magnanimity enough, to act in opposition to their own opinions.

PROCEEDINGS

CALCUTTA SCHOOL-BOOK SOCIETY

On Tuesday the 21st, took place the Second Annual General Meeting of the CALCUTTA SCHOOL BOOK SOCIETY.

Though at an unfavourable time, the number of Native was considerable; and among the European friends to the Institution present were some of the principal Gentlemen of the Settlement.

W. B. Bayley, Esq. being called to the chair on the motion of the Honorable the Chief Justice, read the Report of the Committee's Proceedings since the general Meeting of July 1818: whereupon it was Moved by the Honorable J. Adam, Esq. seconded by Sir E. H. East, and resolved unanimously,

“That the Report be adopted by the Meeting and printed under direction of the Committee for distribution.”

The Chairman then announced that agreeably to what had been a frequent object of the Committee's wishes, he had obtained the consent of the Most Noble the Marquis of Hastings to be formally placed at the head of the Institution as Patron; observing in substance that for his Lordship not to have manifested his decided esteem for such associations would indeed have been inconsistent with the well known benevolent attention constantly manifested by him for the best interests of the Natives of this Country. To this the Meeting with common acclamation requested Mr. Bayley to present their warmest thanks for the honor thus conferred on them.

Sir Edward Hyde East next addressed the Meeting in an animated speech, of which we can only offer the leading ideas. Regarding with heartfelt delight a spectacle so gratifying and uncommon before him as a Meeting composed of some of the principal European Gentlemen with the most respectable Natives, Hindoo and Moosulman, in disasminating useful knowledge throughout the country, he naturally adverted to the illustrious Patron of this Association; instituting a happy comparison between the dazzling glories of his Lordship's military fame, and the milder but more lasting honors of this engaging feature of his Lordship's administration; since by withdrawing the minds of men from war to the moral improvement of their fellow creatures, he was establishing a name which would live in the annals of this and similar Societies to the latest posterity.—In short; in thus presiding over and fostering the various endeavours now making to diffuse that knowledge which should tend to improve the moral condition of the many millions placed under his care, he knew no man who could more justly say of himself,

"Eregi monumentum ære perennius."

Having expressed thus much, he could not refrain now from adding the slender but hearty tribute of his applause to the worthy Chairman, who might with justice be termed the "foster father" of the Society; as it was well known that notwithstanding so much of his laborious life was unavoidably consumed in the important duties of his high station, he had uniformly manifested the same attention to the interests of the Society, and had found time for regularly attending the stated meetings of its Committee.—He felt it was a striking feature of this Association that here was no room for the exhibition of pride and vanity, or the indulgence of those passions which disturb the peace of man, but it was a union of the most benevolent nature, productive of solid advantage, and in a word a Society which could not but be pleasing in the eyes of God.

The Chief Justice then concluded by suggesting the expediency of a modification of such of the Society's rules as were inapplicable to its present relations, and the recent accession to its respectability and efficiency. He had therefore to propose for the sanction of the general Meeting,

That a President and four Vice-Presidents be elected in addition to the Members who have hitherto formed the Committee, and that the former Rules V. VI. and VIII. being rescinded, the following be adopted in lieu of them as Rule "V. That the business of the Institution be conducted by a Committee, which shall comprise a President, 4 Vice-Presidents, and 20 Members 10 of them being Natives, to be annually chosen at a general meeting in July, who shall associate with themselves as Members ex-officio, a Treasurer, a Collector, a European and Native Recording Secretary, and an European and Native Corresponding Secretary, with as many other Secretaries as the Sub-Committees it may be expedient to form shall require."

The rule was accordingly generally adopted.

Mr. Forbes proposed in consequence that W. B. Bayley, Esq. be elected President of the Calcutta School Book Society, which motion was seconded by Hol. McKenzie, Esq. and unanimously adopted.

And Mr. Sherer, seconded by Mr. Lushington, moved that the following Gentlemen be also elected Vice-Presidents :

Honorable Sir Edward Hyde East,

William Edward Rees, Esq.

Charles Theophilus Metcalfe, Esq. & W. H. Trant, Esq. and the same were elected accordingly.

Various other resolutions were then unanimously adopted, the detail of which will appear hereafter in the report.

Most of the Hindoos present were able to understand the English report ; and the Moosulmans were gratified by a summary abstract prepared and read to them by Mowlavee Vilayat Husun, Mooftie of the Calcutta Court of Appeal, which called forth interesting remarks expressive of their thanks and good-will to the Society.

The table was spread with the different publications by and for the Society, of which there appeared during the past year,

13 new editions, and 6 new works, completed with specimens ; also of 7 new works in the press, exclusive of works ready or preparing for press.

The President representing the exhausted state of the funds after an expenditure since the last annual meeting of 20,000 Rs. on the objects of the Society, the European Gentlemen present put down in Donations and Annual Subscriptions upwards of 5,500 Rs.

With reference to the funds of this Society and the general appeal about to be made in its favor, it may be observed that it has not, properly speaking, called on the public at large for a space of two years. The support given it on being brought forward in 1817 was so liberal that the Managers then felt they had the more difficult task of procuring the execution of work proportionate to the extent of the funds. In the first year the expenditure was 5,000 Rs. leaving on the 4th of July, 1818, a favorable balance of 13,000 Rs. in Cash and Government Securities.

Soon after, three new Institutions in this Metropolis arose to claim that support from the Public which they obtained as well as merited. The Managers of the Calcutta School Book Society, considering therefore that the Institution under their charge was in no immediate want of funds, felt the propriety of refraining from bringing forward its claims to public notice. Circumstances are now however quite altered. The Institutions in question are established on a firm basis, while the funds of this Society are brought to a low ebb; the demands on it for new works and new editions in 6 Languages, for the supply of seminaries of all descriptions mean time progressively multiplying. To carry through the works actually printing or ready for press would alone require a large sum.

The Society's complete organization and arrangements will now enable it to expend with effect even the most ample pecuniary supplies; which, after the experience gained, arrangements adopted, and connections established up to the present time, are alone now wanting. Whatever then might be the natural fear of a failure of the funds on this occasion, the liberality of the Community of this Country will surely not allow such a cause to bar the attainment of the many important objects obviously within reach of the Society's immediate accomplishment.

Accounts from Hyderabad mention that the rains have been unusually heavy in that quarter, and have destroyed the crops of small grain, which form the principal food of the lower classes. A rebel Zemindar, named KONA RAO, who has long been in a state of hostility with the NIZAM, is said to have abandoned all resistance to the government, and that now the whole country acknowledges the authority of the Prince.

It is reported that the Shah Alum brings information from Penang that a Gold Mine has been discovered at Singapore. This is probable enough, but no accounts have yet been given of the productiveness of the ore.

The ship Hayston was wrecked on the 20th of July last, on a reef of rocks lying about 30 miles to the west of the Maldivé islands. The Captain, passengers and crew, having effected their escape upon rafts, were hospitably treated by the Chief and inhabitants of one of the islands. One of the passengers, Mr. MERR, was unfortunately drowned in attempting to cross the surf.

The Loper Assn., the School Branch of the Cal. Diocesan Committee, and the Calcutta School Society.

We regret to state, that a melancholy accident occurred on Sunday night last, on the river, opposite to Mr. Smith's yard in Clive Street. About half past ten o'clock, a young man, named Barnes, an officer of the free trader Northumbrian, having been on shore with a Mr. Tod, was returning on board, accompanied by the same gentleman, when the tide hurried them athwart hawse of a brig called the Sarah Anne. So great was the rapidity of the stream, that the dingy in which they were, was shattered to pieces, and they were precipitated into the river where they found a watery grave.

NAUTICAL NOTICES.

The Diana of this port from Liverpool the 22d April, fell in with and spoke the American ship (Huntress) from New York to China, with a cargo of East India Cotton; also reported that several other ships were taking in similar cargoes for the same destination.

In Latitude 00-20 S. and Longitude 21-20 W. she fell in with the Comet of Greenock homeward bound from Calcutta.

On the Coast of Brazil the Diana was boarded by a Spanish Frigate; a Line of Battle ship and a Sloop in Company, lately from Europe.

The paragraph respecting the Orient, having been at Madeira, is a misconception altogether; that ship could not have left England before the 15th May—and we observe in the Times of the 26th April, she is advertised to sail about that time.

The H. C. Cruizer Ariel, with the Overland despatches went to Sea on Saturday.

The Helen, Governor Petrie, and Volunteer, for Bengal, got to Sea on Monday Evening, the Loyalty, yesterday Morning.

Madras.

With feelings of deep regret we announce the death of the Reverend J. Mousley D. D. Archdeacon of Madras, who died after a severe, but not protracted illness, at his garden house on Tuesday morning. Many will lament the premature death of Dr. Mousley, though, probably, but few can duly appreciate the value of so excellent a character. He was mild and unaffected in his deportment and conversation,—cherished a benevolent and charitable disposition,—and evinced a simplicity of manners, often the attributive of transcendent merit.—To sum up his character in few words, he was a pious Christian, a zealous Churchman, a liberal Scholar, and an accomplished Gentleman.

Dr. Mousley died in the 48th year of his age. His remains were interred in St. George's burying ground on Tuesday evening, with every mark of respect. The funeral was attended by H.

The Commander in Chief, the Judges of the Supreme Court, and the principal Civil and Military Gentlemen of the Settlement, the Honourable the Chief Justice following as chief mourner.

The Drawing of the Madras Lottery commenced on Wednesday, when the following Prizes above 250 Rupees were drawn. No. 3354 a Prize of 40,000 Rupees; No. 780 a Prize of 20,000 Rupees; Nos. 3513, 4139, 4342, 4690, 5540, 3253, 3642, Prizes of 500 Rupees each.

From Ceylon we have nothing of importance - Major General Sir Edward Barnes had left Columbo on a tour through the interior Provinces. - His Excellency the Governor and Lady Brownrigg had set off on a similar excursion.

The Packets for the homeward bound Ship Mary were closed on Saturday evening, and the Ship got to Sea on Sunday.

The Surrey and Lloyds, have both sailed for Calcutta since Friday.

The Reliance, Captain Pike, is expected to sail for Bombay about Sunday next.

The Danish Ship Luwig, Captain Beck, came in from Copenhagen on Saturday last, from whence she sailed on the 15th April.

As a Tribute of respect to the Memory of the late lamented Dr. MOUSLEY, Archdeacon of Madras, a Funeral Sermon was preached on Sunday morning last at St. George's, Choultry Plain, by the Reverend E. Vaughan, Senior Chaplain, from the following Text, taken from Hebrews, Chap. 13, Verse 7.

"Remember them which have the rules over you, who have spoken unto you the Word of God; whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation."

The Packet Ship Mary sailed for England on Sunday last.

The Rochester from this place, is stated to have been in the Downs on the 4th of May.

In addition to the H. C.'s chartered Ship Catharine, the Ships Blenheim, Aurora and Elizabeth, proceed to England from this place before the Monsoon.

Bombay.

On Saturday last the H. C. chartered Ship Marquis of Hastings, in Mr. Charles Arkcoll, from the Downs 4th May; and yesterday morning the ship Dina, of this port, Captain Williams, from Liverpool the 22d April, arrived here. The latter ship spoke on the 11th June, the ship Content of Greenock, bound to Calcutta; and in lat. 22° 9' N. and long 47° 3' W. she was boarded by a Spanish line of battle ship, a frigate, and a sloop of war. These arrivals of course furnish nothing new in the shape of European intelligence.

During the early part of the last week, the weather was more boisterous and squally than is usual at this season of the year, and we are sorry to have to mention the occurrence of a most distressing accident. On Monday afternoon, as the ship Helen was working out to sea, the hundred boat which she was towing to windward, and in which were twelve men, was upset by the stroke of a sea. Every effort was made by the Helen to save the boat's crew, her jib was lowered down, and the first officer, Mr. Gover, with some lascars, endeavoured, at the imminent hazard of their own lives, to pick up the drowning people; they only succeeded in rescuing one man. Another clung to the ship and was saved. Two others got hold of the upset boat, which had been cut adrift upon the accident occurring, and one of them was taken off of her the next morning by the jolly-boat of a ship at anchor in the middle ground, past which the upset boat was driving. He was nearly exhausted but by immediate medical assistance was recovered; his companion had been washed off during the night, and with seven other poor fellow met a watery grave. The Helen in consequence of this sad accident was obliged to return to her anchorage in the middle ground."

Bombay, 26th July, 1819.

MR. EDITOR,

Having done myself the pleasure of communicating to you, the circumstances which attended the Earthquake, at this Port on the 16th ult. I now describe its continual operations.

"These annoy us but do not create alarm."

I have ascertained, that the shock of the 16th ult. lasted exactly a minute. I have done this by taking a watch in my hand, and acting as I did during the Shock, so that I have ascertained the true time, within one or two seconds.

It has been observed in Europe that the Shocks generally last a minute.

On the 13th, 14th, 15th, and 16th ult. there were frequent tremors in the Earth, generally about 10 a. m. and at midnight.

16th. It is now a month since the great Shock, and yet its effects are still felt. At 10 a. m. and at noon, there were strong tremors in the Earth.

17th & 18th. Frequent tremors in the Earth. High gusts of wind, passing with hollow sounds, much lightening, though but little thunder.

19th. The sp. inrs commenced to-day, at 10 a. m. there was so strong a tremor, or shock, as to induce Lieut. Lardner and myself to quit our rooms at the same instant, though we were in different houses.

Between 10 and 12 o'clock at night, there were repeated tremors, or shocks in the Earth, which caused me to quit my bed three times.

The tremors have at different dates, produced various sensations, as felt from the bed on which the person reclines, sensations such as slight fits of an ague, on the body; at others strong throbbings, like the pulsation of a great artery; and, at others, short pushes or jerks. I imagine the long rolling motion, formerly noticed, to have been produced by wind; the tremors by the action of fire, and the throbs, by that of water, or by large metallic substances, melted by the subterraneous fire, and dropping into some abyss below.

The sensations have been most felt while reclining on the bed, because the body there retains the sensation of at least a square feet of earth, on which space a camp cot stands, whereas, while the person is standing erect, there is little more than a single square foot stood on.

The sensations in upper rooms have been much greater than those on the ground floors, from the same principle which causes the motion on the top of a mast, to be much greater than that on the deck.

We have been quite free from our former unpleasant personal sensation since the ceasing of the rolling motion in the Earth.

20th & 21st. Frequent tremors, throbs and jerking motions in the Earth, generally between 10 and 12 in the morning, and at the same time at night.

22d. Tremors, as usual.

23d. A little after sun-set, I complained of feeling oppressed by heat, I felt a moisture on my brow, though it rained at the time, and I was sitting still. Two hours afterwards, or about 9 p. m. we were a little annoyed by strong tremors, which continued three quarters of an hour; about 10, we were alarmed by strange sounds in the air, like the rolling of heavy carriages, coming with short gusts of wind, and accompanied by a shock which shook the door, and caused us to jump out of our beds.

For the last twenty days, we have had regular monsoon weather.

24th. Slight tremors in the Evening.

25th. Ditto, Ditto.

26th. At 1 o'clock and at 7 p. m. there were strong tremors, and throbbings. The former shook the doors and caused us to leave our beds. Monsoon weather.

Your's most obedient,

C. W. ELWOOD.

Northern Ports. Accounts from Surat and Broach continue to lament the devastation made by the unusual fall of rain, during this last month, in both the Cotton and Pulse Grounds in the neighbourhood of those places. This on referring back, we find to be a very usual complaint, and that every year a quantity of seed is sown in the end of August, or even as late as the end of September, to replace what has been washed away.

Penang.

A constant friend has favored us with the following items of intelligence from the Eastward. We should, under any circumstances, have been obliged by this mark of kind attention, but are more particularly so on the present occasion, when for want of fresh arrivals, we have really nothing else that is new to offer to our readers.

Accounts from Singapore state, that Major FARQUHAR was about to proceed in the Schooner Enterprize to survey the Straits and Island. Captains ROSS and CRAWFORD were at Singapore on the 6th instant, after having surveyed the Straits of Banca, Dryou, and Malacca, and the Island of Lingin, and were on the eve of returning to China.

The Dutch have taken complete possession of Rhio, and have pensioned the Rajah MOODA with 1,200 Dollars per month. The Rajah MOODA is son of Rajah AZI, who was killed by a cannon ball at the siege of Malacca in the year 1784.

The arrival from Madras of the H. C. Ships General Kyd and Windsor, has put us in possession of Europe intelligence to nearly the end of April.

The relief of Artillery arrived here from Bengal on Tuesday last in the H. C. Ship Walcote. The Ships Kent and Milford, are under dispatch to convey the returning Division.

SEPTEMBER.

3. At Saugor, in the 27th year of his age, Lieutenant Edward Stretzell, D. A. Q. M. G. In the death of this gallant young Officer the Service has met with a severe loss, and society one of its greatest ornaments. For zeal and bravery in the discharge of his military duties, the name of Lt. Stretzell has been often eminently borne on public record—while for talent and affability of manners, and high sense of honourable and virtuous principles, he was selected as a sincere friend and valuable companion. Some unforeseen misfortunes bore heavily upon the mind of this excellent young Officer, and being connected with an attack of fever, after a painful suffering of a few days illness, he was carried to the grave by his friends who will never cease to forget the many good qualities which distinguished him in every public and private department of his life.

5. At Pulta, Phillip Brady, Esq. deeply and sincerely lamented by a numerous circle of friends and acquaintance, to whom he was justly endeared by a long intercourse of kindness, and by the many excellent qualities of his head and heart.

10. Mr. William Eyes, of Liverpool; aged 20 years, of a bowel complaint, much regretted by the small circle of his acquaintances.

Mr. James Morris, 2d Officer of the Ship Sappho; aged 23 years.

11. Mr. William Collins, late Coach-maker; aged 33 years.

15. At the Mission House, Serampore, Mr. J. Randall.

17. At Bombay, at the house of her brother, the Revd. Mr. Payne, Mrs. Vibart, aged 9 years.

James Donnithorne, Esq.—aged 20 years.

19. Arthur Jacob Macan, Esq. aged 45. If it be the happiness of our confined community to believe, and to know, that there is no spot on earth where the sweet charities of life have so luxuriant and active an expanse, it is proportionately more necessary to feel acutely the condition of our existence—to note the period of benevolence—to contemplate the passage to the grave of the fountain of compassion and of kindness—and to announce that the hand ever open to melting charity is now motionless, or a heart cold, for the first time, to the noblest feelings of our nature. In Arthur Macan, his friends and relatives—the community of Bengal—and the wide family of unhappiness and woe have lost a protector and a friend—an example and a benefactor.—Pious from a confidence in his Creator, kind from the sympathies of a warm and affectionate disposition—charitable, because he felt that the chain of existence embraces every child of misery and distress,—his earthly career attempted to rise equal to the dictates of his religion, and actively obeyed the feelings of his heart.—The voice of Arthur Macan never gave expression to an unworthy thought—his countenance never gave protection to an ignoble action; but, lofty in his principles of honour—firm in his opinions of moral obligation—and immutable in every just relation of social life; he lived—as a man would wish to live—honoured, respected, and beloved;—he died—as man would hope to die—confident in a well spent life and the mercy of his God; and attended by the tears and prayers of his fellow creatures, that his spirit live for ever among the blessed and the Just,—May we all be so well prepared to die.

20. Mr. Henry Thomas, aged 26 years, after an illness of three months, whose death is sincerely regretted by his surviving partner.

Mr. Laurent Brent—aged 30 years—leaving a widow and two orphans to bemoan his loss.

24. At Allipore, of a bowel complaint, Mr. Thomas Seymour Conway Delany, of Ireland, aged 56 years and 9 months.

Mrs. Anne Grant, widow of Major P. L. Grant, Officiating Town and Fort Major aged, 28 years.

At Madras Mrs. Anne Ranken, the wife of Mr. R. Ranken.

Same place, the Infant Daughter of Lieut. D. H. Mackenzie, of Artillery.

1. The Public are hereby notified, that the Sub-Treasurers at Fort William, Fort St. George, and Bombay, the several Residents at Native Courts, and several Collectors of Land Revenue, under those Presidencies have been authorized to receive, until further orders, any sums of Money, in even Hundreds, not being less than Sixty Rupees One Thousand, which may be tendered on Loan to the Honourable Company, at an Interest of Six per Cent. per Annum, as hereafter specified.

2. Subscriptions will be received to the Loan in Cash at par, at the Presidencies of Fort William, Fort St. George and Bombay.

3. The Treasury Notes outstanding at the several Presidencies will be received in Subscriptions to this Loan, as Cash for the principal sum, with the proportionate Interest that may have accrued on them. Subscriptions will be received in accepted Bills of Exchange, drawn upon the Governments of Fort William, Fort St. George, and Bombay, after deducting Interest at the rate of Six per cent. per Annum, for the period such Bills may have to run. Bills for arrears of Salary, whether or not shall have been advertised for payment or not, and generally all authorized Public Demands, will be received at Par.

4. The several Paymasters of the Army, under the Presidencies of Fort William, Fort St. George and Bombay, are also, authorized to transfer any demands, which may be payable by them respectively to this Loan, and to grant Drafts at the Presidencies of Fort William and Fort St. George, for the amount, in the usual manner, on the Accountant General, and at the Presidency of Bombay on the Military Paymaster General, which Drafts shall be received by the several Officers above-mentioned, in payment of Subscriptions, or being tendered to them for that purpose.

5. Farruckabad, Lucknow and Benares Rupees will be received where respectively current, as equal to the Calcutta Sixty Rupees, Madras Rupees at the rate of 150 for 100, 172 Calcutta Sixty Rupees, Bombay Rupees at the rate of 100 for 100 Calcutta Sixty Rupees.

6. The Acknowledgements granted by the Public Officers at Fort St. George and Bombay shall be expressed in Calcutta Sixty Rupees, at the rates of exchange above-mentioned.

7. The Accounts of this Loan will be closed on the 30th June, 1820.

8. The Interest which may be due on the Accounts on the 30th June, 1820, will be paid at either of the Presidencies in Cash, or in Bills of Exchange above-mentioned, or the amount will be Principal, the holder of the Acknowledgements received, at his option, the fractional part of 100 Rupees in cash, or in kind, the Notes ultimately to be granted by the Office, may be for sums in even Hundreds of Calcutta Sicca Rupees. The Acknowledgements, after the Proprietors shall have received the interest due to the 30th June next, are to be transmitted to the Deputy Assistant General at Fort William, to be exchanged for Promissory Notes, (not being less than 1000 Calcutta Rupees) of one Hundred of Calcutta Sicca Rupees each, on the 1st day of June, 1820, which notes will be numbered in the order in which they are presented at his Office.

The holder of the Acknowledgements at Fort St. George and Bombay, may, at his option, transmit the Acknowledgements to the Deputy Assistant General at Bengal, to be exchanged for Promissory Notes, for the same sum or the whole or whatever. The Proprietor, however, must in every case, either receive the Interest due on the Acknowledgements, or subscribe it in the manner above-mentioned, before the Acknowledgement is transmitted to Bengal, and must also express thereon the number and amount of the Promissory Notes, which he wishes to receive in exchange for it, and which will be issued accordingly, to the amount of the Acknowledgement, for any sums in even Hundreds, of not less than 1000 Calcutta Sicca Rupees.

11. The Notes of this Loan shall not be paid off without a previous Notice of Sixty Days being given to the Public, by an Advertisement to be published in the Government Gazette; such Notice shall be considered as equivalent to a tender of payment, at the period appointed for the discharge of the Notes so advertised for payment, and all Interest thereon shall cease from the expiration of that period.

12. The Promissory Notes to be so granted, shall be numbered and placed upon the General Register of the Registered Debt of this Presidency, in manner aforesaid; and when the Notes of the Loan shall be in course of payment, the Principal shall be discharged, either in Cash at the Presidency of Fort William, or by Bills of Exchange (at the option of the Proprietor,) to be drawn on the Honorable Court of Directors, at the exchange of Two Shillings and Six Pence per Sicca Rupee, payable Eighteen Months after date, with liberty of the Honorable Court to postpone the Payment for the further term of One, Two or Three Years, from the date on which the Bills shall have become due; Interest being allowed from such date, at the rate of Five per Cent per Annum, and payable half yearly, to the period at which the Bills may finally be discharged. It is at the same time expressly stated, that the Public Creditors shall not have it in their option to demand payment by Bills at any time, it being intended only to allow them this alternative, when the Loan shall actually be in course of payment by Public Notice to be given for that purpose.

13. The Notes shall be advertised for payment, according to the order of priority of Date and Number, in which they shall have been placed upon the General Register, with the special reservation hereinafter noticed; but all Notes advertised at the same time for payment, shall become payable on demand, without regard to priority, at the expiration of the notice; Government shall also be at liberty to advertise other Notes for payment, without waiting for the expiration of pending Notices, and to discharge the Notes so subsequently advertised, at the expiration of the Notice relating to them, notwithstanding the holders of Notes comprized in prior Advertisements may have omitted by themselves, or their Attorneys, to apply for payment.

14. It is clearly to be understood, that Purchases by the Contributors of the Sinking Fund, and transfers of the Notes of the present Loan into any future Loan in the manner hitherto used, shall not be considered as infringements of the stipulation in the preceding Clause, with respect to priority of payment.

For the accommodation of Proprietors of Notes residing at Fort St. George or Bombay, it is hereby provided that on application to the Accountant General at either of those Presidencies, they shall be entitled to have the Original Note issued by the Government, exchanged for another Note for the same sum in Currencies, and of the same tenor in every respect, or to be consolidated into one or more larger Notes, or to be subdivided into smaller Notes, (not less than 1000 Calcutta Sicca Rupees) on payment of the usual charges of exchange.

The Interest on the Promissory Notes shall be payable half yearly on the 31st of December, and the 30th of June from year to year, until the Principal shall be discharged; and the Interest shall cease on the expiration of the Notice of Redemption expressed in the 11th Clause; and it shall be optional with the Proprietor of the Note, to receive payment of such Interest in Cash either at Fort William, Fort St. George, or Bombay, or to be drawn on the Honourable Court of Directors, at the Exchange of Two Shillings and Six Pence per Calcutta Sicca Rupee, payable Twelve Months after date,—provided always in the latter case, that the Interest, for which Bills may be so required, amount to the sum of Forty-five Pounds Sterling at the least, and no Bills will be granted for any smaller Amount.

17. The Proprietors of Notes which may require the Interest to be paid at Fort St. George, shall be entitled to receive payment at that Presidency in Cash, at the exchange of 335. 172 Calcutta Sicca Rupees per 350 Madras Rupees; or if the holder of a Note at that Presidency, be desirous at any time of receiving the Interest in Bengal, the Sub-Treasurer at Fort St. George will grant him a Draft on the Sub-Treasurer at Fort William, payable at sight for the sum, in Calcutta Sicca Rupees, which may be due upon the Note, on account of Interest to the period of the last half yearly Instalment.

18. The Proprietors of Notes who may require the Interest to be paid at Bombay, shall be entitled to receive payment at that Presidency in Cash, at the Exchange of 100 Calcutta Sicca Rupees per 105 Bombay Rupees; or if the holder of a Note at that Presidency, be desirous of receiving the Interest in Bengal, the Sub-Treasurer at Bombay will grant him a Draft on the Sub-Treasurer at Fort William payable at sight, for the sum in Calcutta Sicca Rupees, which may be due upon the Note on account of Interest, to the period of the last half yearly Instalment.

19. For the accommodation of Proprietors of the Government Securities, whether such Proprietor be absent in Europe, or be resident in India, certain Regulations have been established, (published in the Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary of the 31st December 1819,) under which the Accountant General and Sub-Treasurer at each of the three Presidencies, are empowered by the authorities and directions of the Honourable Court of Directors, to act in the management of all property invested in the Government Securities, and those Officers will accordingly, under the Regulations in question, receive into their custody under the responsibility of the Honourable East India Company, the Promissory Notes of the Present Loan, on application being made for that purpose by the Proprietor, his constituted Attorney or Assign, and will remit the Interest (and the Principal also when remittable), as it shall become due, according to the instructions which they may so receive for that purpose.

OCTOBER 4.

The Europe arrived in England on the 21st of May. Mr. ALEXANDER late member of council at Madras, was one of the passengers on this Ship.

The H. C Ship, Strathmore. Captain HAVISIDE, and other ships, that for some time past have been detained at Saugor, have proceeded to sea.

The William Mills arrived at Madras on the 21st of May,—a list of her passengers we have published. She was expected to sail for this port about the 1st instant.—A Funeral Sermon has been preached at Madras, as a tribute of respect to the memory of the late respected and lamented ~~Amendador~~ of this Settlement, Dr. MOUSLEY. Our private letters from Madras, mention the probable successor of ~~the Amendador~~ but we do not feel ourselves at liberty to mention the name of the Reverend person: but, if our correspondent's information be correct,—a more worthy choice, can scarcely be anticipated. Sir GEORGE COOPER and family embarked on the 12th instant for Bombay, to perform the duties of the Office of Governor at that Presidency. The Bombay Journal continues to notice the Desatir. It would be well if they could stimulate MULLA FIROZ or his friendly assistants, to give some reply to the observations that have been made on that topic in the Calcutta papers—if not—the work and the labourers had better remain satisfied with the produce of their exertions, and the praises which they have received! We have much gratification in republishing some excellent remarks which have appeared in the Bombay Journals, illustrative of the character of the late Sir A. ANSTRUTHER. From Ceylon, we receive little intelligence worthy of particular detail. The Governor and his Lady have made another Journey to Kandy; we trust that His Excellency's friendly reception by the Dessaves—the Adigars—the Headmen, and the other Kandyan Chiefs—which appears to have been as loyal and respectful as on a former occasion, will not be followed by events similar to those which happened immediately after the last visit to Kandy. The gallant General BARNES was also on a tour through the interior provinces, and intended to proceed to Kandy. Our accounts from the Isle of France reach to the first week in August.—The 22d Regiment had left that Island for England, having served there since 1810. Colonel DALRYMPLE, the Commander of the Regiment, is represented to have received the highest testimonials of regard and respect, from the Inhabitants of the Island, previous to his embarkation.

Our supply of local intelligence during the last week, has been again particularly scanty: Letters from Hyderabad state that the Nizam's dominions have been visited with more rain than the country required, and that the crops of small grain, which constitute the chief articles of food, with the poorer inhabitants, have been nearly destroyed. These accounts, are not however of a very late date, and it may be hoped, that the injury has not been so great as was apprehended. From Dinapore, we have received a letter dated the 22d ultimo. The heat of that station was then very great,—the Thermometer at 2 P. M. being as high as 90. Some cases of Cholera had occurred, and five or six natives had died of that disorder, but it was not alarmingly prevalent. A great want of rain was experienced at Dinapore. A gentleman at Patna in possession of a rain gauge, had ascertained that only one inch and three quarters, had fallen at that place since the month of June. At Chunar a considerable quantity of rain had fallen during the month of September, and the crops were promising. Grain was however very dear, and rice was selling at nine seers for a rupee; although it is stated, that the dealers possessed a great abundance of the article. At Berhampore the Rain has not been so abundant, as was expected about the commencement of the last month,—but it is said, that there has been sufficient to nourish and preserve the paddy crops in that neighbourhood. The price of grain, continued to encrease, and the poor inhabitants were suffering considerably. The diminished supply of rain has however been favorable to the Indigo planters in the vicinity of Berhampore, and it is said, that they are likely to have a very productive season.

The following Extract on the Report of the College of Serampore has been published in the Government Gazette, and conveys a correct account of what has been already accomplished by that institution; together with some of the most interesting parts of the Report:—

The first report of the College for Asiatic Christian and other Youth, instituted at Serampore in August 1818, under the patronage of the Marquis of Hastings, has just been published. The committee observe that slow as may have been the progress it has made they can say with truth that every view they have taken of the subject has served more fully to impress them with the necessity of weighing with the utmost care, every circumstance respecting an Institution, the judicious planning of which, or the reverse, must in a great measure decide whether it shall ultimately fall useless to the ground, and like a heap of ruins remain only to discourage others from attempts of the same nature, or abide a blessing to the various tribes of India.

We quote with pleasure the following passages, which show that the immediate and distinct object of the college is liberally to ex-lighten the people of India, and to diffuse a competent knowledge of arts and sciences, unconnected with any exclusive system of religious instruction.

"The Committee observe, that they are fully convinced of the importance of supporting native youths who are not Christians while they prosecute their studies, as well as those who are. This will be attended with little disadvantage. As a brahmin cannot without losing caste, eat with a soodra, nor even under the same roof with a brahmin of another province, all youth who are not Christians must live separately, and of course without the walls of the College, in order to preserve inviolable their own ideas of cast which it is not the design of this Institution to constrain them to violate in any degree. But without being thus supported a youth of the highest talents might be wholly debarred those advantages which might hereafter render him a blessing to his country; and to lay this as an additional burden on his generous European Patron who, after subscribing to the College, may have sent thither from the most distant parts of India, an ingenious native youth for education, from regard to the faithful services of his parent, perhaps a trusty and valued domestic, would be placing a barrier in the way of his obtaining knowledge of the highest kind, which in most instances would scarcely be surmounted. An Institution which ought to combine within itself every advantage for instruction, ought to be as free as the air; and no native youth ought to be deprived of its benefits, for having the misfortune to be born and brought up within any particular circle; the barrier to admission ought to be none, beyond the inability of its funds to support and instruct more.

"They are equally convinced, that no Native Youth should be constrained to do a single act as the condition of his enjoying the benefits of this Institution, to the doing of which he attaches any value of merit. As it can be no crime in any youth that he did not regulate the circumstances of his birth and of his first reception of ideas, to make it the condition of his receiving certain important literary advantages, that he shall be constrained to do what he himself deems it wrong, or to hear books read which he deems wrong to hear, is the ready way to corrupt the moral principles implanted in his mind by nature. While therefore the College are aware of the necessity of guarding against the omission of College duties, or of mere idleness under the pretence of conscience, they are fully convinced, that to compel any Native Youth to violate his sense of right and wrong, would be to teach him to act against his conscience for the sake of advantage;—and that to deprive him in the least degree of the benefits of the institution for refusing it, would be, to turn a desire to act rightly into a crime, and to be guilty of the most flagrant injustice: In their view nothing but incorrigible negligence, or immoral conduct, can form a just reason for depriving any youth, whatever be his religious prejudices, of the advantages of this Institution.

+ In the Prospectus, published in August, 1818, it was mentioned, that any gentleman who might send to the College a Native Youth not a Christian, would have to support him while there, in addition to his Donation or Subscription. This has been since weighed by the Committee for managing the College; and, on more mature consideration, it appears to them, that the Donation or Subscription which entitles any gentleman to send a youth to the College, ought to support him while there whether he be a Christian, or not. Hence the above article.

"They also feel the propriety of introducing into this College, all the Science now possessed by the Natives themselves. To an institution intended to convey superior information to native youth of the highest casts, it is desirable that there be that respectability attached in the eyes of the most learned among the natives, which shall prevent their undervaluing the instruction conveyed, because it is not that they have. All the science they really have, ought to be preserved, and not a particle of it lost. If they have pursued the study of any branch of knowledge beyond us, this circumstance ought to be acknowledged and improved; if they have merely trodden in the same path, a knowledge of the science they possess will enable us to take it up where they fall, and carry it to its proper extent; while the terms they now possess, and the terms in which they express them, will facilitate the communication of superior ideas. This especially applies to Grammar, and to Astronomy, which latter science, from its connection with their religious festivals, is cultivated by them with peculiar eagerness."

There are thirty-seven students attached to the College, of which nineteen are Christians or of Christian families,—fourteen are Hindoos of cast, and four have neither cast nor religion. Of the fourteen Hindoos of cast eleven are Brahmins; nine of whom have attached themselves are omission thoroughly acquainted with Astronomy and Geography, and who receive for their monthly support three rupees each. They are now employed in studying the Lilavate the first Astronomic work usually taught in India, preparatory to being made acquainted with European Astronomy.

Since the institution of the College the Committee have decided upon printing

"The Four Vedas, the great palladium of Hindoism, around which superstition, for obvious purposes, has thrown such a degree of veneration, that the Soothra who dares only listen to them, was deemed guilty of a crime to be expiated only by melted lead being poured into his ears. These days of darkness however, are now evidently passing away: every thing sacred in the Scriptures has been exposed to public view; and the enlightened among the Hindoos themselves do not hesitate to acknowledge that darkness and concealment can add no real worth to any work, but rather tend to create suspicion that every work must found its claims to intrinsic worth wholly on its contents; and that these claims can never be substantiated as long as its contents are withheld from public view.—The expense of printing this work will undoubtedly be great, as it is voluminous, and its completion must necessarily occupy many years: nor do they expect that the College will ever be reimbursed for the expense of printing it; since, with the exception of learned bodies in Europe and America, who may wish to enrich their libraries with a copy of a work so ancient, few purchasers can be expected. As copies of the Vedas however, are already so scarce, and are likely to become far more so, the Committee think it highly proper to take measures to preserve this ancient monument of Hindoism from complete oblivion."

The Committee having purchased a spot of ground on the banks of the river, exactly facing the country residence of the Governor General, at Putrackpore, which cost 11,500 rupees, have determined on erecting the Buildings for the College, to consist of a centre buildings which shall include a large Hall for public examinations and the dispatch of public business, rooms for the various classes, suitable rooms for the Library & the Museum, and an Observatory above; and of two wings for the accommodation of the Students and Professors. The building will contain two stories, it being intended to render the rooms on the ground floor equally habitable with those above, with the view of combining the strictest economy with the greatest convenience and neatness. On the same principle the erection of a double row of rooms has been preferred, a single row involving a certain waste of expense, and a triple row being so inconvenient for those who should occupy the middle story. The central building will form a front of about a hundred feet, each wing an extension of somewhat more than a hundred and eighty, and the whole when completed present a front of nearly five hundred feet. Each of the wings will contain rooms for the accommodation of nearly a hundred native Christian Students, besides rooms for the Professors. The College, when completed, therefore, will be capable of containing from a hundred and sixty to two hundred Christian Students, and perhaps an equal or greater number of other students, who will preserve their cast inviolate by boarding in the town. It was intended however to build more than one wing at present: the rest of the buildings can be added as the circumstances of the College may render them necessary.

The following are the concluding remarks of the committee.

"The plan of the Institution, thus fully developed, they respectfully leave before the public. If India needs enlightening beyond almost any other blessing, as is universally acknowledged, this, if it be ever effected, must be attempted by suitable means; and to be done efficiently, it should be attempted through the Natives themselves as Europeans are too far removed from them and too little adapted to the climate, to become the immediate agents to any extent in this important work;—but if it must be done by native agents, what method more likely to effect its than that of collecting youths from every tribe and every part of India, and, restraining them from nothing but idleness and positive vice, to inculcate their minds with the love of study and investigation, lay open to them by means of an ample library and able teachers, the various stores of learning and science furnished by the west, in as well as the eastern world, and give them leisure and opportunity to pursue their researches free from interruption and distracting care, till they ultimately return to their own provinces, fraught with knowledge, and not corrupted by unreasonable expectations, to become a blessing in their own sphere to the end of life! But to accomplish this, some spot is necessary, secluded from those allurements to vice which abound in Eastern Capitals, together with a Library and Apparatus, the collection of which, with suitable Buildings, and the support of able Professors, involves too great an expence to be provided in many different places at the same time. Of the suitableness of Bangalore for this purpose, sufficiently the Capital of India and yet perfectly retired—and the fitness to accomplish this object, of the plan now so fully laid before the public, the Committee leave the public to judge; in them it might appear presumption. They merely add, that these ideas are the result of many years devoted to the consideration of the state of India and the most effectual means of promoting its best interests. To this complete disclosure of them, they have therefore nothing to add, but that every benefaction to the Institution, whether intended as a Donation for the general purposes of the Institution, or for the support of particular Native Students,—or whether it be in the form of Annual Contribution for a few years, will be received with the warmest gratitude, and applied with the utmost consideration and faithfulness."

The principal object of interest in the Lahore Ukbarah continues to be the conquest of Cashmeer. At one time DEWAN CHOND, the Sirdar who commanded the Sikh troops on the occasion, was under considerable alarm, in consequence of the hostile preparations of BROJA SING, who seemed resolved to resist his advances, and counteract his measures. The Sirdar requested the presence of RUNJEET SING, to frustrate the attempts of this daring enemy. The Lahore Chief, however, thought it best to stay in his capital, and appointed MOTIR-PAN the Tehsildar of Cashmeer, aided by 500 Sepoys, to secure the collections of revenue. The brothers of KHOSHAL SING are appointed to preside over the Civil and Criminal courts of the province. It appears that the expence of keeping the Sikh troops at Cashmeer is estimated at two lacks of rupees per month. The suwas are said to be 2,000 in number, the city and neighbourhood being surrounded about the movements of BROJA SING. His encampment is now close to Cashmeer, but his force is probably of no great extent and equal to cope effectually with DEWAN CHOND.

The mountainous country between Lahore and Cashmeer is not favourable to the interest of the Sikhs. The numberless petty chiefs in that quarter have manifested strong repugnance to the encroachments of RUNJEET SING, steadily refusing the demanded tribute.

Peshawar is still in the hands of an Officer in the service of MAHOMMUD UZZEM KHAN, who had proceeded to Cabul. It is said to be the intention of RUNJEET SING, to send an expedition to the former place immediately after the close of the rains, as the Afghan people are reported to be weary of their present ruler.

Government Gazette Extraordinary,

PROCLAMATION.

It is hereby Proclaimed under the sanction of The Most Noble the Governor General in Council, that His Highness the Prince AZUDJAH, OMDOOT OOL OMRAH, MOKHTAR OOL MOOLK, ROOSHUN OOD DOWLAH, MOHAMMED MOONWUR KHAN BAHADOOR, BAHADOOR JUNG, the eldest legitimate Son of his late Highness the Nabob AZIM UL DOWLAH BAHADOOR, has succeeded to his deceased Father in the rank and title of Nabob Subahdar of the Carnatic.

Published at Fort St. George the 11th September 1819.

By order of the Right Honourable the Governor in Council.

G. STRACHEY, CHIEF SECRETARY.

The Fourth Law Term for the present year commenced yesterday at noon, with the accustomed forms and ceremonies before their Lordships—the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice STANLEY.

The Honorable Sir GEORGE COOPER embarked with his family on board the Reliance, Captain Pike, on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. The embarkation of his Lordship was announced by the salute due to his rank. The Vessel sailed shortly after for Bombay, to which place Sir GEORGE COOPER has proceeded to perform the important Judicial duties which have been suspended by the death of the late Recorder. The voyage at this season of the year will probably consume a month.

The following Passengers proceed by this opportunity for the opposite Coast.

PASSENGERS.

Sir George Cooper and family, for Bombay; John Babington, Esq. and family, and Miss Babington, for Calcut; Mrs. Colonel Smith, for Bombay; Colonel Taylor, and Dr. Shepherd, for Goa; Lieut. Warre, in charge of a detachment of troops, for Bombay.

The Madras roads presented a melancholy spectacle on Sunday, in as much as it shewed the inactivity and stagnation of all Commerce at this Port. With the exception of the H. C. Ship Catherine, now loading for England, not a Vessel besides Country Craft, and of these even there are few comparatively, remained in the Roads.

The drawings of the Madras Lottery continued on Friday and yesterday. The following prizes of 500 Rupees, and upwards were drawn on Friday.—We are sorry to observe that the prize of 50,000 Rupees, and one of 5,000 Rupees were unsold Tickets:

No. 5386, a Prize of 50,000 Rupees.

No. 2899, a Prize of 30,000 Rupees.

No. 1266, a Prize of 5,000 Rupees.

No. 2424, a Prize of 5,000 Rupees.

No. 3663, a Prize of 1,000 Rupees.

No. 2596, 1777, 2296 and 4842, Prizes of 500 Rupees each.

The Calcutta papers contain various remarks on the letter of Mulla Firoz, and on the paragraph alluding to the Desatir, which appeared in our paper of the 31 July. We take this opportunity of correcting a misconception occasioned by the use of the word translator. We did not allude to the learned Editor, Mulla Firoz, when we spoke of the translator of the Desatir, but to the Gentleman, by whose unwearied labors, extensive acquaintance with oriental literature and disinterested assistance, Mulla Firoz has been enabled to present the world with the English translation.

Mocha—Accounts of the middle of August, from this place by the Durra Beggee, confirm the fact of the acknowledged surveillance of Ali Pacha. The Troops of Ali Pacha were as boat to return homeward to the great joy of the Inhabitants, as their conquests were marked by great devastation; the Government of the conquered country is vested in the Imam of Senna, on condition of paying an yearly tribute of 100,000 German Crowns.

From this place we also learn that Ibrahim Pacha is about to perform a pilgrimage to Mecca, and that before he sets out he delivers over Katif and Laissa to its former governors.

The Anglo-Indian trade was collecting at Mocha, by the Honourable Company's Cruizers Aurora and Prince of Wales, and it was expected to depart about the end of August. Coffee, and Aloes were high, and the original price of Indian goods excessive.

Bushie—From this place we learn that a Russian envoy had arrived at Tebran with a message to the King, from the Russian Embassy, but which had not been favorably received, and set off on his return immediately.

Another Frigate, for His Majesty's Service, the Seringapatam of 46 Guns, was floated out of Dock, on Sunday morning.

This Frigate is constructed on a theory to combine the greatest stability with the least possible resistance to velocity under every point of sailing, and from this prime quality, as also from possessing strength and durability, she may justly be pronounced one of the most formidable Ships of War of her class in the known world.

The carve work on the Prow appears to be chiefly designed in compliment to the natives of Hindoostan, and represents the Mysore Rajah, attended by his Kitson bearers, and on the Trailboard, is a banner ornamented with a Lion, as emblematical of the Rajah's Arms.

A Keel of a twenty-four Gun Ship for the Honourable Company, is in a state of preparation, and will shortly be laid down in the Dock from which the Seringapatam was floated.

The weather during the last week has been mild as we could wish, and the Rain has fallen only in occasional showers, and we are happy to be able to state that it has already had a favorable effect on the Cholera; the number of casualties being sensibly diminished.

On Sunday the 5th Instant, the following Gentlemen were duly ordained Elders of the Scotch Church at this Presidency.

Major-Gen. Sir William Grant Keir, K. M. T.

James Ritchie, Esquire.

Captain William Black, B. N. I.

George Ogilvy, Esquire.

It is with feelings of unfeigned sorrow that we announce the death of the Honourable Sir Alexander Anstruther, Recorder of Bombay.

Sir Alexander had for some time labored under a complaint in the lungs, and he left this place in March last by the advice of his medical friends, and proceeded to the Isle of France, in the hope that the voyage and the change of air would restore him to health. That hope proved vain, and he expired on the 16th of July, in the 50th year of his age.

Sir Alexander was the second son of the late Sir Robert Anstruther, Bart. of Balcaskie, Fifeshire, by Janet, youngest daughter of Alexander Erskine, 5th Earl of Kellie; and brother of the late gallant B. General R. Anstruther, who, in the prime of life, and in the highest prospects of military renown, opening to his view the most arduous and fatiguing he endured in the gallant and successful discharge of his duties as commander of the rear-guard of General Moore's army, on its retreat to Corunna.

Sir Alexander in early life devoted himself with assiduous attention to the duties of his profession; and in 1792 engaged in the publication of Reports of adjudged cases in the Court of Exchequer, which he completed in 1797 in three volumes. In 1798 he came out to Madras, and in 1803 was appointed Company's Advocate General at that presidency; in 1803 he married Sarah, the sister of Guy Lenox Prendergast, Esq. member of council at this presidency. On the 25th of March 1812 he was appointed to succeed Sir James Mackintosh as Recorder of Bombay, and on the 10th March 1813 took his seat on the bench in that capacity.

As a private member of society, Sir Alexander exhibited those qualities of heart and mind, which, under the due influence of morality and religion, give charm and value to all the 'endearing relations of private life. His manners were gentle and unassuming; his temper mild and cheerful; and his heart kind, affectionate and generous.

In his public capacity, his conduct displayed the most essential and proper virtues of a Judge. His understanding was acute and vigorous; his judgment sound and correct, and his learning extensive. They who had the pleasure of practising under him, and who have now the misfortune to regret his loss, will bear testimony to his eminent patience on the bench, his independence of spirit, his strict impartiality, and his uniform integrity.

GENERAL ORDERS, BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE MOST NOBLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM; 25TH SEPT. 1819.

The return to England of the 2d and 3d Volunteer Battalions, and of part of the 1st Battalion from Ceylon, the remainder of which may be expected at an distant period, enabling the Most Noble the Governor General in Council to dispense with the further Services of these Corps; His Lordship in Council is pleased to direct, that they shall be reduced, the 3d Battalion from the 1st of November next, and the 1st and 2d Battalions from the date of their being assembled at the Stations of Barrackpore and Benares respectively.

In consideration of the alacrity with which the 1st, 2nd, and 3d Ceylon Volunteer Battalions rendered their services to meet the views of Government, and of the manner in which they have conducted themselves since they were embodied, reflecting a great degree of credit on the character of the Army to which they belong; the Governor General in Council has ordered, that the Native Officers and men a gratuity of one month's pay and full Batta, which is to be drawn for, and paid to them on their reduction.

The European Commissioned Officers will rejoin their respective Regiments, with all convenient expedition, after they shall have adjusted the accounts of the Men, and such as are entitled to Boat Allowance by existing Regulations, having volunteered from their Corps, or joined at the Presidency by water under the sanction of Government, will draw that allowance on their return.

The Native Officers and men are to be permitted to select the Corps of the Line which they may be desirous of joining.

Leave of absence for the purpose of visiting their Homes, will be granted to each Individual with the indulgence of half Batta during the period of authorized absence, which is to be regulated by the distance of their places of residence from the Stations at which they are to be disbanded, and from the Corps to which they shall be transferred. In no instance, however, is the leave to exceed eight Months, which extended period is to be granted only to those men, who, from the distance they have to travel, may have a claim to this particular indulgence.

His Excellency the Commander in Chief will be pleased to issue such further orders as may be necessary on the occasion, and to make such arrangements as may be required for the purpose of equalizing the Corps of Native Infantry, and thereby obviating the inconvenience which might arise, from any particular Battalion receiving too large a proportion of Supernumerary Native Officers or Men.

OCTOBER 11.

The following communication has been sent to us by a Correspondent. We intended, several weeks ago, to have noticed the New Race Stand, and to have offered our congratulations to the sporting community, on their determination to follow an example, which has long since been exhibited at the Mount Race Stand, near Madras; but, as an engraving of the new building, now constructing at this presidency, had been published, from the office of the Calcutta Journal, we were fearful that our congratulations would have been too late in the day. We have great pleasure, however, in publishing the statement of our correspondent, in his own language.

We understand that the community at large are highly delighted with the rapid progress of the new Race-stand. This beautiful building will do infinite credit to the members of the Calcutta Jockey Club. Such a building was certainly very much wanted, and from appearance, it promises to be remarkably well calculated for the purpose. Independently of the advantages which it will possess, in regard to the comfort and accommodation of our fair country women, it will be admired as a very elegant ornament to the race course. From every account, the ensuing cold season promises much interesting amusement—more perhaps, than ever was witnessed at any period, within our collection.

"It is much to be lamented, that we have not here, as at Madras, Bombay, and several other places, more frequently the amusement of Pony Races—than which, nothing can be more entertaining to every class of society, particularly, when there is a start of 12 or 15, of those surprising little animals, of all shapes and colors—and running in every direction, but the right one. It would likewise be a source of much amusement, to have Donkey Races—This sport, when well managed, never fails to excite much merriment—also, Boys running for small prizes, will make a pleasing variety.

"It may be fairly presumed that, ere long, this most noble and manly amusement of Horse Racing, under the auspices of our Jockey Club and Amateurs, at Calcutta, will eclipse our sister pretensions.

Our letters during the last week from the different stations in the country, afford us a few articles of intelligence. At Muttra, a considerable fall of rain had been experienced in the month of August, and the country in the neighbourhood, had derived considerable benefit. At Benhamptore, the weather had been very hot and oppressive, but about the end of the last month, considerable rain had fallen. We are sorry to hear that great sickness prevails among the Officers and men of H. M.'s 59th Regiment, who had recently joined from Ceylon. A letter from Dinapore, dated the 30th ultimo, mentions the establishment of a "Bank for Savings," in the H. C.'s European Regiment.—This measure, we understand, has been suggested and carried into effect by Major Broughton, the Commanding Officer of that Corps;—and there is every reason to expect, that it will be productive of the benefit which was anticipated—by encouraging habits of sobriety, prudence and economy. The principle and objects of Saving Banks, have frequently been alluded to in the India Gazette, and we are much gratified by learning, that the advantages of the system, are likely to be extended to the army. Should the experiment now made at Dinapore, prove successful—and we understand there is every probability in favor of its success—it is likely, that the example will be followed; and if the measure be generally adopted, it may be reasonably expected, that the same effects will result—as have been already experienced among the lower classes in England. The augmentation of the sums that have been set apart in the Saving Banks there, far exceeds all previous calculation—and the money that has thus been stored for the "winter's day," and the "evening of life"—instead of having been squandered in the pursuits of vice and ebriety, will serve to avert the pres-time of calamity; and to insure comforts and consolation—when the season of service and labour shall be past. The habits which economy must induce, in military life, are too obvious to require illustration; and we believe, it is almost proverbial in the army, that non-commissioned officers and soldiers, who are provident and saving, are the men who best discharge their duties in garrison and in the field. We therefore heartily recommended the adoption of Regimental Saving Banks to the attention of those, whose influence, may easily be directed to the explanation and recommendation of a measure—simple in its operation—and the benefits of which, wherever tried, have not yet disappointed expectation. A letter from Mow, dated the 27th ultimo, states, that up to that period, the rains had continued: and that some of the crops in the vicinity had been injured by the quantity of rain which had then fallen. Accounts from the Deccan state, that the damage occasioned to the grain had been very considerable; but according to the latest intelligence received at Mow from the Deccan, the rains had ceased in that quarter. Letters received from General Doveton's Camp, state that a great scarcity of grain, had rendered the condition of the poorer kind of Camp-followers truly deplorable. The European Officers had very generally subscribed considerable sums for the relief of the sufferers—but the accounts which we have received of the conduct of General Doveton on this occasion, are deserving of every possible publicity, and must excite general admiration. The General, we understand, not only subscribed One Thousand Rupees to the fund which was formed by the contributions, to which we have alluded,—but caused extensive purchases of grain to be made, at his own expence, in quarters, which, although not very distant from the Camp, were, for the time, beyond the reach of the common people. The grain thus procured, was distributed daily at the rate of half a seer per person, to a number exceeding 12,000; and one of our letters mentions 11,000. The relief which was thus afforded to the famishing camp-followers, need only to be stated to be appreciated; and the conduct of the General on this occasion, affords a noble contrast to the acts of others, whose names have been recorded,—and some of whom, contrived to carry to Europe, large fortunes which were realized by the purchase and sale of grain, during the pressure of a similar calamity! We collect from the Hurkaru of Friday last, that although a few Indigo Planters may have been disappointed by unfavorable weather, the produce during the last season, has been generally abundant—and that in some factories, the excess over the quantity obtained during any preceding season, has been great beyond the most sanguine expectation. We have not, of late, received any particular communication respecting this subject; and we therefore quote the information from the authority referred to.

Extract of a letter from Nusseerabad, under date the 5th of September, 1819.

‘We have had no reason to complain of the want of rain at this place: the showers have been heavy as well as numerous; in fact we have had a most plentiful supply this season.—I wish other parts of the country had been equally fortunate, At Cawnpore, Allahabad and in Bundelcund, grain is very dear.’

Extract of a letter from Keitah, in Bundelcund, dated the 18th of September, 1819.

‘Grain of all descriptions is extremely dear, as a proof I have only to relate that Attah sells per rupee at the rate of 3 seers only; Gram at 12 seers; Table Rice at 4½; Wheat under 10 seers, and every thing else in proportion.’

Bombay

On Wednesday last, William Milburn Esq. took the oaths and his seat on the Bench as an Alderman of the Recorder's Court of Bombay; and Graves Channey Irwin Esq., Barrister at Law, took the usual oaths on his being admitted to practise in this Court.

Our elegant little Theatre is at present appropriated to the exhibition of an excellent and extensive collection of paintings: whilst we applaud the liberality of the Managers in thus dedicating a public edifice to the furtherance of the fine arts and the gratification of pure taste, we must regret that this circumstance obliges us to infer that we cannot expect at any very early period to be delighted spectators of the successful exertions of our dramatic corps of volunteer amateurs. We regret this the more, because we have lately witnessed with considerable pleasure the happy attempts of another dramatic corps, whilst laboring under many obvious disadvantages of want of the material of the stage, &c. from which the Bombay Theatre by the liberality of the Bombay public is exempt. At Fort George Barracks, by the permission of the commanding officer, were performed on Thursday evening the comedy of 'Lover's Vows' and the burlesque heroic farce of 'Chrononhotonthologos.' A labored and detested critique of the performance will not be expected from us; but we cannot refrain from stating, that all the performers exerted their best powers to please their numerous audience, and they completely succeeded in keeping the whole in good humour and amply gratified by their evening's entertainment.

The ship Pascoa, Captain Ashmore, from Calcutta the 9th July, anchored in the harbour on Thursday evening. She is the only arrival at this port during the last week.

We understand that the H. C. chartered ship York will sail early in October.

The free traders Kingsmill and Westmoreland, which arrived at this port sometime back from England, have obtained a licence from the Supreme Government at Calcutta to proceed to that Presidency. These ships, we understand, were licenced only to the port of Bombay, and not as ships usually are to the principal settlements in India, a circumstance which, in the opinion of the Law Officers at Bombay, precluded the grant of a licence to proceed to Calcutta, as the local Governments in India had not the power to extend the licences granted for the purpose of trade by the authorities in England.

We are most happy to hear that the Cholera has so completely disappeared in many of the Northern Districts as to authorize the discontinuance of the Medical establishments temporarily entertained for that purpose.

GENERAL ORDERS, BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE MOST NOBLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM; 2D OCTOBER, 1819.

The situation of several of the Cavalry Regiments affording facilities for procuring Horses, which if not purchased on the spot would be lost to the Service, the Governor General in Council deems it expedient to avail himself of the well known zeal of Officers commanding mounted Corps in aid of the Commissariat Department in the duty of supplying remount Cattle, and is pleased to publish the following Rules on the subject.

1st. Officers commanding Regiments of Cavalry serving, or stationed, beyond the Jumna, are permitted to assemble Regimental Committees for the admission of Horses, whenever any may be wanting to complete the authorized establishment of their respective Corps.

2d.—The Committees in all practicable cases are to be composed of five, and never of less than three Officers in Command or in charge of Troops. The Officer in Command of the Regiment is never to form part of the Committee.

3d.—The Regulations of the Service respecting the Age and Height of Mount Horses, are to be strictly attended to; and the Horses after having been branded in the presence of the Committee with the admission mark and Regimental number, are to be allotted to Troops, by a Regimental order, without delay.

4th.—The reports of Committees assembled under the present Regulation are to be prepared in triplicate agreeably to the annexed Form. One copy is to be kept as a Regimental record, and another is, by the Officer Commanding the Corps, to be transmitted to the Officer conducting the Field Commissariat Office of Accounts. The third copy the Officer in Command of the Regiment will forward to the Adjutant General of the Army, through the Deputy Adjutant General in the Field, that under the authority of the Officer Commanding in the Field he may communicate to the Deputy Commissary General the number of Horses admitted with each Regiment, to enable the latter Officer to regulate his purchases.

5th.—The Officer Commanding in the Field will likewise direct the Deputy Adjutant General to notify to Officers Commanding Cavalry Regiments beyond the Jumna, the number of Horses procured through the agency of the Commissariat and allotted to their respective Corps, that they may not admit Horses beyond the number actually wanting to complete.

6th.—The price of each Horse passed by the Regimental Committees, is not, on an average of the number admitted at one time, to exceed the regulated price and the individual from whom the Horses are purchased is to be paid in the following manner:

7th.—If the individual is desirous of being paid on the spot, and there shall be any Commissariat, or Pay Officer present, having public funds sufficient to meet the demand, the President of the Committee will draw a bill on him, according to the subjoined Form, payable at sight, in favor of the owner of the Horses.

8th.—But should there be no Officer in charge of Public Treasure at Station where the Horses are admitted, or the Horse owner be desirous of receiving the money at some other place, the bill is to be drawn at ten days after sight on the Station selected by the individual, or the nearest to it at which there may be a Commissariat or Pay Officer able to discharge the amount. The Bills are to be countersigned by the Officer Commanding the Regiment.

9th.—In all practicable cases the bills are to be drawn on Commissariat Officers, in preference to Officers of the Pay Department; and the Governor General in Council deems it of importance that every facility should be afforded to the owners in getting payment for their Horses to whom the price agreed on is to be paid without deduction, on account of fees, duty, or on any other account whatever.

10th.—The bill drawn as above directed is to be given to the Horse owner, and at the same time a duplicate of it, after a copy shall have been entered into a Regimental Book kept for the purpose, is to be transmitted by the Officer Commanding the Corps, by Dawk, to the Officer on whom it is drawn, who, when paying the amount, will take a receipt in duplicate; one copy of which he will retain as a voucher, and transmit the other with the bill to the Officer at the head of the Field Commissariat Office of Accounts, in which department the expenditure under this arrangement will be adjusted.

11th.—The remount of the Horse Artillery Brigades wherever stationed, and of the Dragoon and Light Cavalry Regiments within the Jumna, to be conducted as at present.

of a Regimental Committee assembled by order of Major A.—Commanding the Regiment of Light Cavalry, for the admission of Horses tendered for the Service.

GENERAL ORDERS.

Lieutenant Leeson of His Majesty's 21st Dragoons is relieved from the duty assigned to him in the General Orders of the 20th ultimo (No. 1818.) in consequence of his appointment in the Honorable Company's Service on this Establishment.

By Order of the Most Noble the Commander in Chief.

Head Quarters, Calcutta; 12th October, 1819.

GENERAL ORDERS.

The Most Noble the Commander in Chief is pleased to publish for the information of the Regiments composing His Majesty's Army in India, the opinion of the Law Officers of the Crown, regarding the construction which has been put upon the 20th Section of the Articles of War in a recent case, and confirmatory of the course adopted against the Major of one of His Majesty's Regiments in this country, for having administered to the estate of a deceased officer of the same Corps

A case on this particular subject having been prepared for the purpose of ascertaining whether the construction above referred to was justifiably put, as to limiting the functions of the Major to the Regiment only, of a deceased officer, a Copy of the Attorney and Solicitor General's opinion thereon is herewith annexed, which appears to coincide in the legality of the proceeding adopted against the Regiment. Major alluded to.

On the 19th The Article of War, Section 19, Art. I does not give the "Major of the Regiment a power to collect the general effects of the officer dying; but only such effects, or equipage that he has in Camp or Quarters, and out of those to pay his Regimental debts, and Quarters, and to pay the surplus of such effects to his legal representative. By the statute referred to in the case, the Registrar of the Court is made the legal representative of British subjects dying in India, whether Military, or Civil, under the circumstances therein stated, and we think, that if the power of the Major extended to the general effects, still he would be bound to pay the surplus to the Registrar, who had Letters ad Colligenda granted to him as the legal representative in India of the deceased. But we are also of opinion that the Articles of War attend only to such specific effects, and equipage as are in Camp, and quarters, namely, Camp equipage, or moveable, or money, actually found in Camp or in his quarters, and not to effects debts, or money in the hands of third persons,

Dated at Serjeant's Inn,
22d of April, 1819, }

This order is to be recorded by every Regiment of His Majesty's in India.

OCTOBER 18.

The tragedy of The Revenge was performed on Friday last at the Chowringee Theatre.—We were not enabled to witness the representation, but we collect from general report, that the audience was very numerous, and that the performers fulfilled every expectation, which had been previously created. The part of Zanga, is stated to have been most successfully sustained.

RAMMOHUN ROY, whose indefatigable exertions to dispel the prejudices of his countrymen, have frequently been noticed in the India Gazette, has just published a translation into English of "The Kuth-opunishud of the Ujoor-ved, according to the gloss of the celebrated Sunkuraclaryti." We collect from the preface that a translation of this work, in the Bengalee language, has been already published—and that many copies of it, "have been distributed as widely as RAMMOHUN'S circumstances would allow, for the purpose of diffusing Hindoo Scriptural knowledge among the adherents of that religion." RAMMOHUN states that the object of his English translation, is intended to assist the European community in forming their opinion respecting Hindoo Theology, rather from the matter found in the "doctrinal scriptures, than from the Poorans, moral tales or any other modern works,—or from the superstitious rites and habits daily encouraged by self-interested leaders."

We are happy to find, from the preface, that a great body of RAMMOHUN'S countrymen, of good understanding—and "not much fettered with prejudices," have been satisfied with the truth of the doctrines contained in this—and in other works, which he has translated and distributed among them;—and that convinced "of the gross errors of the puerile system of idol worship which they formerly followed"—they have altered their religious conduct in a manner becoming the dignity of human beings.

We shall content ourselves at present, with this brief notice of RAMMOHUN ROY'S meritorious labours—although, we feel inclined to write much on the subject. It appears to us, that he has adopted the true mode of diffusing light among his countrymen; and we trust, that the discretion and moderation which have hitherto guided his conduct, will ultimately attain that, which has long been desiderated—an end which has hitherto been sought by less practicable means.

Yesterday, pursuant to notice, the Consistory Court met, at ten a. m. at No. 4, Garstin's Buildings, when the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop, having taken his seat, accompanied by the Venerable H. L. Loring, DD. Archdeacon of Calcutta, proceeded on the business of opening and establishing the Consistory Court within and for the Archdeaconry.

at Calcutta, in the Diocese of Calcutta. Dr. Loring was sworn in Commissary, and W. H. Abbott, Esq. Registrar, who both severally subscribed the articles. His Majesty's Letters Patent were then read aloud by the Registrar and the following gentlemen took the oaths as Proctors, viz.

R. W. Poe,
C. Trebeck,
W. H. Smout, Esqrs.
G. Hamilton.

The Bishop addressed the Court in a most able and appropriate speech; after which the Court adjourned sine die.

It is stated on the authority of private letters, that it is in contemplation to establish a Supreme Court at Bombay, instead of the Court of the Recorder.

Our readers will perceive by our extracts from the Bombay Journals, that an expedition to be commanded by Major-General Sir GRANT KEIR, is about to proceed from Bombay against the Joazeiro Pirates, whose depredations, have of late been so audacious and frequent as to call for this exertion on the part of the British Government. Some particulars of the journey of Capt. SADLER towards the Camp of Ibraheem Pacha, will also be found among these extracts. It will be seen that a strange rumour had reached Bombay from Mocha, that the Russians had taken Constantinople—and that an universal panic had seized the Turks in the Red Sea. This account will be found in our extract from the Bombay Gazette of the 22d ultimo.

It appears from a Mauritius Gazette lately received, that Capt. JONES, who commanded the Iris, free trader, bound to Bombay, and wrecked on the Solomon Isles, has retracted a considerable portion of the statement, which was published at Calcutta some months ago. A Notarial Instrument has been drawn up, and a copy of it published in the Mauritius papers, in which, Capt. JONES acknowledges that his principal accusation against Capt. LEGOUARE, was unfounded.

It is stated that the government of Batavia has dispatched an expedition against Palembang, consisting of a sixty-four gun ship, a frigate, several gun boats, and 2000 men.

From some of the latest newspapers received from Botany Bay, we collect that Banks for Savings have been established at Sydney, under the recommendation and patronage of the Governor. Several missionaries, with their families, who had arrived on the Barang in New South Wales, were about to proceed to the new settlement in New Zealand, —accompanied by the Revd. SAMUEL MARSDEN.

We learn by a letter from Ellore, of date the 26th September, that Lieut.-Colonel Doreton, with the Russell Cavalry, and flank companies of the Russell brigade, marched from Hyderabad on the 18th ultimo, against the fort of Kurnilla. The line companies of the brigade, with two 18 pounders, and some field pieces, were to follow on the 1st instant, which is the earliest day the guns can be got ready. The whole of the force from Hyderabad was to have marched at the same time on the 1st, but the cavalry and flank companies have been sent in advance, in consequence of information that the Killadar was collecting troops and plundering the country. The force from Hyderabad is to be joined by a battalion of infantry and 1000 reformed horse of the Berar division of the Nizam's troops.

Kurnilla is about 230 miles to the west of Hyderabad on the Poona frontier of the Nizam's dominions. It is said to be a stone fort, of a circular form, with bastions and ditch, but no glacis. It is spoken of as the general opinion of the natives, that no opposition will be offered, but that the Killadar, convinced of the folly of resistance, will surrender the fort on the approach of the troops. The Killadar is son of Rao Rumba. He has been for some years part in rebellion against his father, whom, in conjunction with his mother, he expelled from his lands. His father resides at Hyderabad.

The same letter speaks of great apprehensions being entertained of a famine, and that a subscription has been set on foot at Hyderabad by the European gentlemen, to buy grain to distribute amongst the natives.

A Salute of 13 Guns was fired from the Fort Battery on Tuesday forenoon, on the occasion of M. LE BARON RICHMONT DESBASSAYNS, Inspector General of the French Possessions in India, visiting The Right Honourable THE GOVERNOR.

The Weather at the Presidency, and its vicinity lately, cannot be considered as seasonable; it has been less sultry with more rain than usual; there has also been a good deal of Lightning, which has done some mischief—At a place about 30 miles off, we have heard of a Building having been struck and thrown down; and at the Presidency on Monday night, the electric fluid fell near a House on the Mount Road, and in such quantity as instantly to set a Palmira-tree, which it struck, in a blaze; the Thunder which followed was extremely loud and awful; the fluid, was also attracted by some of the Ships in the Roads, but we have not heard that any mischief was done; or that any ships have been lost.

Bombay.

On Thursday morning H. M. sloop of war Curlew, Capt. Wabpole, from Bushire the 2d September, and Muscat the 9th September, anchored in this harbour. By this vessel we understand that letters have been received from Capt. Sadlier, of H. M. 47th Regiment, who was some months since deputed by the Supreme Government to the camp of Ibrahim Pacha commanding the Turkish troops, which had subdued the Wahabee power in Arabia, and occupied the tract of country bordering on the Persian Gulph. Capt. Sadlier landed at the port of Kaiti, which he found in the possession of the Arab Shiekh, on the 11th July, and after very considerable difficulties arrived at Ul Aha, under the escort of a Bedouin Shiekh, whose protection seemed of a very suspicious nature. Capt. Sadlier was to proceed forward on the 22d July, to join the Pacha's camp, which was said to be at the distance of 10 or 12 day's march from Ul Aha. — The Pacha seems to be withdrawing the whole of his forces from the shores of the Persian Gulph, after finding himself not powerful enough to retain his conquests, or that their possession would cost the expence. The whole of the Deryah, lately a populous city, had been razed to the ground. The country there, which Capt. Sadlier passed, is stated to be an entire desert, inhabited by the wildest race of Bedouins. Contentions between the different tribes were frequently occurring even in view of his tents, attended with much slaughter.

The hot weather in the Persian Gulph is represented to have been much more intense than has been known for many years.

The Imam of Muscat was blockading the port of Rasul Khuma; against which a considerable body of his troops had advanced by land.

The Honorable Company's ship Ernauld, Lieut. David Jones, from Calcutta the 25th June, and Isle of France 31st August, arrived here on Wednesday — Passengers: — Lady Anstruther — Lieut. Shaw, H. M. 17th Dragoons — Wm. Currie, Esq. Assistant Surgeon Madras Establishment. Mr. Silvestre and Mr. Allord.

The Governor in Council is pleased to permit Lieutenant Colonel Milnes of His Majesty's 65th Regiment, to resign his command of the troops in Cutch, in order to accompany his Regiment proceeding on foreign service.

By order of the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

J. FARISH,
Sec. to Govt.

The Expedition for the Persian Gulf is at length fairly entered on; the proposed force will be found in the General Orders of the day. Ships have been tendered for the service and are about to be surveyed.

The weather for these some days past, has been fine, but already do we complain of the absence of rain; for though the mornings and evenings are delightful, the middle of the day is excessive hot. The Coasting Trade had already commenced, and boats arrive and depart daily.

Mocha.—Accounts from this place brought by the Honourable Company's Cruiser Aurora, confirm the former ones, of the whole coast being under the control of Ali Pacha. A Rumour was prevalent at this place that the Russians had taken Constantinople. We can scarce credit this report, but we are told that a universal panic had seized the Turks in the Red Sea. Ali Pacha's ships were all dismantled and laid up at Judda. The commercial accounts, from this place, are satisfactory on the whole: though Coffee continued high, yet Indian goods, yielded large profits.

Kutch.—We are concerned to state, that there has been a dreadful Hurricane in the Western part of this country. It lasted one day and two nights; every tree has been torn up by the roots, and every kind of cultivation laid waste, towns and villages have been deluged and all perfectly destroyed. But few people have lost their lives, cattle however, of all descriptions, excepting Buffaloes, have in many places been nearly extirpated; the water generally in the open country, was running four feet deep, and carts in the fields were carried away many miles; by the force of the wind. The hurricane had not been felt at Bhooj on the 29th of last Month, but they had experienced eight days of high wind, rain and such constant clouds, that the Sun was a stranger to that Capital. The rains, though, not heavy, had yet been constant, since the 12th of July; not a seed of Cotton had been sown up to the former date, whilst the grain crops had rotted.

Accounts from Scind, state Ranjat Sing to have conquered Kashmeer.

We have no authentic accounts relative to the hurricane said to have occurred in Cutch; our private letters from Anjar dated 30th August, make no allusion whatever to it. We learn from good authority that no eruption of a volcano 30 miles from Bhooj, took place after the earthquake of the 16th June.

The Calcutta Editors are waging a rather severe paper war on each other. One of the subjects of contention is the Liberty of the press at Calcutta. The Journal has maintained that the office of censor of the press is abolished and that all restriction on its freedom there have been removed; and the Editor has not been sparing in his praise of the liberal and enlightened policy which conceded such a measure. The assertion that there is no greater restraint on the press in Calcutta, than what exists in Great Britain, is, however, denied by other papers.

Ceylon.

On the 13th ultimo a sudden and violent hurricane came on about 2 o'Clock in the afternoon at Alipeot in Lower Ouva—it began with thunder, rain and hail from the S. W. and the Thermometer which had been at 82° sunk in a quarter of an hour to 45°. Some of the hailstones, or rather pieces of ice measured $\frac{1}{2}$ of an inch in diameter.—In less than an hour the whole of the European Barracks and Hospital, was unroofed, one half of the Stores and the Commandant's house laid in ruins, and a Bungalow near the latter levelled with the ground.—The Malay Huts were also entirely destroyed, but the Caffre Huts and the Bazar escaped, being less exposed to the violence of the storm. The largest jack-trees in the neighbourhood were torn up by the roots, or snapped off in the middle of the trunk. Two Singalese boys were unhappily killed by the fall of a house into which they had fled for shelter: but considering the suddenness and extreme fury of the hurricane, it may be regarded as fortunate that no more lives were lost.

The utmost exertions were making by Capt. Ritchie to repair the buildings and get the Stores under cover before another fall of rain.—The Europeans are quartered in the Bazar, and the Malays have got a shelter among the ruins of their own huts.

OCTOBER 25.

On Friday last, the fourth Session of Oyer and Terminer and General Gaol delivery, commenced with the usual forms—and the following gentlemen were Sworn of the Grand Jury:—

GEORGE CRUTTENDEN, Esq. Foreman.

WALTER NEEBIT,
JOHN SMITH,
E. S. PORTBURY,
G. RYAN LAW,
GORDON FORBES,
WILLIAM DUNDAS,
DAVID TARK,
JOHN MELVILLE,
W. L. GIBSON,
HENRY MAGFANT,
GEORGE MACKILLUP,

J. W. POLTON,
WALTER DAVIDSON,
S. BRADFORD,
GEORGE TYLER,
H. T. PR
H. H. B.
NATHANIEL ALEXANDER,
L. A. D. IDSON,
ARCHIBALD SIMPSON,
ALEXANDER COLVIN, and PETER CLARK, Esqrs.

The usual proclamation having been made, the Honourable Mr. Justice BULLER, delivered a charge to the Grand Jury, which was, we believe, in substance, as follows:—

The number of prisoners committed for trial are not many, considering the length of time which has elapsed since the last Session. Some of them however, are of a very serious complexion. Six persons have been committed, on six distinct charges of Murder, perpetrated in this City, and one for Manslaughter; a greater number than has to my knowledge ever appeared in the Calendar, and they are charged to have been committed, not by the Chinese or native Portuguese, but either by Mussulmans, or Hindoos, against whom, as far as I have observed, charges of this nature have been comparatively few. One or two of the cases depend wholly on circumstantial evidence, and will require your ullest attention, and a minute examination of the witnesses but as far as I can collect from the depositions taken before the Coroner, I am not aware that it is necessary for me to make any particular observations on any of them, except perhaps one. In that, the charge rests wholly (at least as far as appeared on the Coroner's inquest) on the evidence of the Magistrate, before whom, the information on oath of the deceased woman was taken, and on declarations of hers made at other times, but after she received the mortal wound. Such official informations are only evidence, as such, when reduced to writing, and even then only against such prisoners as are present when the examination is taken. If, however, the deposition was given, at a time when her recovery was extremely improbable, and she was impressed with the danger of her situation,—then indeed, that, as well as any other declaration, deliberately made by her under such circumstances, is allowed by the law to be evidence, in cases of the nature, to which I am now alluding,—in consequence of the strong obligation a dying person must feel to tell nothing but the truth.

“ Most of the other cases in the Calendar are, I hope, not of a nature to detain you long.

“ Exclusive however, Gentlemen, of the duties you have to perform, in examining and deciding on the Bills which may be brought before you, it is also part of your office to investigate such other matters as may have come to your knowledge without the intervention of Prosecutors,—and on your recommendation, the Court will direct any Bills of Indictment to be prepared and laid before you. In this Country, I fear, many offences are committed of a nature not immediately tending to a breach of the Peace, which do not reach the ears of the Magistrates; the fear the natives have of involving themselves in trouble, in cases where they are not individually the sufferers, cuts off from the Police, that assistance in the discovery of crimes, which, in England and other Countries, it receives from the mass of the population. In the Prosecutions at the last Sessions, for Forgeries connected with the Court of Requests, it appeared that the offence had been carried on, (though I trust for no great length of time but) at all events systematically, by a connected gang of persons, with the general knowledge of the neighbourhood where the offenders resided; and that in some instances, persons had run away from their abodes, rather than give evidence in favor of the persons sued on such forged instruments. The discovery, however, of this system of fraud was not, I believe, made, till a quarrel among the offenders themselves, induced one of them to give information.

"Among other offences which may be carried on to a great extent, but of which the Magistrates, are perhaps, the last persons likely to be informed—from the fear the natives have of making complaints against persons invested with power,—are such, as I alluded to in a former address to a Grand Jury, namely—those, committed by the Chokedars and other under-officers employed in the Police. I do not remember since I have been in this Country, that any prosecution has taken place in this Court, for extortion or abuse of power by such Officers; but, (with the discretion with which they consider themselves invested, or which I have reason to believe they are in the habits of exercising;) I fear offences of that nature must be too prevalent. The danger of trusting inferior native officers with any degree of power, and the necessity of limiting their discretion, have been often the subject of reports from the magistrates of various parts of our Indian possessions; but I fear in this city, such officers consider themselves invested with the power, and perhaps conceive it to be their duty, to arrest and confine persons, till they can be brought before a magistrate; for almost every offence which one person accuses another of having committed,—for every trifling assault or affray, said to have taken place,—though the dispute is at an end, when the charge is made. The abuses to which such a power would be liable, in the hands of natives, are sufficientently manifest,—and it is to be feared it is too often made use of, for purposes of oppression and exaction. It should therefore be generally known, that the law does not trust such officers with any such authority—Where indeed, the officer ascertains that the assault is of so serious a nature, that death may be the consequence, he ought to detain the man accused, to answer the charge; and also (in order to keep the public peace of the city,) he may arrest persons committing an affray in his presence; but in such case, there is less danger of his abusing such authority, as he himself is responsible for the truth of the charge.

"In consequence of proposed alterations in some of the Gaols of this City, I took an opportunity since the last Sessions, of examining them. Defects, appear to me, certainly to exist, but the attention of Government had been previously called to them, and orders, I understand, given, for enlarging the goals and making other improvements, which had been suggested. Had this not been the case, I should have recommended it to you, Gentlemen, to inspect them, but I hope future Grand Juries will do so more frequently than has been hitherto customary. The personal examination of them and inquiry into the conduct of the Gaolers to their Prisoners, from time to time, would tend much to their good management—and the comfort of the Prisoners.

“When I came into Court, I intended to call your attention to the fees taken by the Gaoler from the several persons in his charge, and to request you to enquire whether length of time has introduced alterations, and whether any further or larger sums have been exacted, than he is authorized to take; but, I have reason to hope the propriety of abolishing such fees altogether, and remunerating the Gaoler by other means, will be taken into consideration, by the Government.—I fear, in some instances, they bear particularly hard on the criminal prisoners—on those of the lower class, who, for slight offences are sentenced to short imprisonments,—and add heavily to the punishment intended to be inflicted. All such fees have been abolished in England, and the Gaoler remunerated out of the county rates. As to all persons acquitted, or discharged on proclamation for want of prosecution, they were abolished by an Act of Parliament passed in the 14th year of his present Majesty's Reign, and in the other instance by an Act passed lately, namely, in the 54th year of the Reign. In alluding to this subject, it is said by the Gaoler, to state, that I do not do so in consequence of complaints having been made to me of abuses;—on the contrary, I have heard him particularly well spoken of, for his kindness and humanity to the persons in his custody—and I have little doubt he has in many instances generously given up the fee, which it has been customary to demand.”

The Grand Jury after receiving their charge, retired for the purpose of performing their functions; and the Supreme Court proceeded with the Civil business of its suitors, until Bills were found.

The following article has been transmitted to us by a Correspondent at Lucknow, the whole of which, is published in his language—with the exception of an observation respecting the policy of the measure, which we think, may, with propriety, be omitted:—

“We are informed by a Correspondent at Lucknow, of some particulars, relative to the Coronation of His Majesty the King of Oude. Reports had been in circulation, for several months, that it was the intention of the Viceroy to assume the title of King, provided the sanction of our Government, could be obtained, or at least that no decided opposition to the measure, should be manifested in that quarter.

Although the assumption of the regal title by the Vizier, may at first have been dictated by caprice and personal pride, without any view to the future; yet it is not improbable that at a subsequent period, His Excellency, was confirmed in his resolutions, by a conviction of the policy of the measure, and of the permanent advantages it might secure to himself, his family and his successors. Be this as it may, there cannot now be a doubt, that it was a measure dictated by the soundest policy, and having for its object an indisputable recognition of His Majesty's independence of any other power,—by placing an effectual bar against the interference of any Government, either directly or indirectly, with the interior administration of His Majesty's Government.

The Coronation took place on the 9th. General MARSHALL, with his personal Staff reached the Residency on the morning of the 8th, together with some other Officers, from Cawnpore, Seetapoor and Secrora.

At day-break on the 9th, about 60 Officers assembled at the Residency. The Resident, with General MARSHALL and the other Officers, being mounted on Elephants, proceeded to the Vizier's Palace of Furrud Buksh. The British troops at Lucknow were drawn up in line, extending along the new street. His Excellency's troops were drawn up in the interior of the palace ground. On reaching the Palace, Mr. MONCKTON, General MARSHALL and a few others, alighted and embraced His Excellency. He then mounted his Elephant, in company with the Minister, who was seated behind him. His Excellency was saluted by all the Officers as he passed. The procession to the Durgah was grand and magnificent.—We shall not trespass on the patience of our readers, by attempting to describe, that in which our own feelings are not concerned, and which we are certain can be interesting to none.—The Cavalcade returned by the same road, and on reaching the Palace gate, the Resident and the Officers in his train, took leave of His Excellency. An hour afterwards, the Resident and the Officers proceeded, in palankeens to breakfast with His Excellency. After breakfast, they proceeded to the Baradurree. His Excellency entered by a door in rear of the Throne. On ascending the first step, the Minister delivered to him a Rajial Crown, studded with diamonds and jewels of great value. He then put it on his head, and was congratulated on the occasion by Mr. MONCKTON, who saluted him as KING OF OUDH. Jewels and pearls to the value of 30,000 Rupees were then scattered over the heads of the spectators. Many were picked up by our Fair Ladies. Soon after, all of us accompassed the young Prince to a small apartment, when valuable presents were distributed to all the Officers and Ladies present.

In the evening a grand entertainment was given at Constatia by Mr. MONCKTON, who had spared no pains or expense to give eclat suitable to the occasion. The splendid apartments of the Residency were under repairs, so that the new visitors were deprived of the pleasure of seeing the tasteful magnificence for which they have been celebrated for the last twelve months.

There was dancing till a late hour; and every one retired highly gratified with the suavity and hospitality of the British Resident.

We have received Batavia Courant to the 21st of August, but we understand from a person, who is enabled to read them, that they contain no local intelligence, except an article, which we shall re-publish, on the fidelity of his translation. A subsequent paragraph, supplied to us by a correspondent, will shew, that one of the Dutch Ships of War, stationed at the mouth of the Palembang river, and alluded to in the following article, was not capable of affording much protection to "that part of the Netherland's dominions." Our readers will not fail to observe, that the Editor of the Batavia Courant, has acquired the art of puffing—and of extolling his own government. The natives of Java, if he is to be credited, are now enjoying "under the wise regulations of the present government," a degree of affluence and protection, which they never experienced before. This, we presume, is intended to counteract the effect, of different statements, which have been published in English Journals—and, perhaps, if we steer a middle course, we may approximate towards the truth, respecting the actual state of Java.

The following is the statement of the Batavian Editor:—

"Mr. Muntinghe, Member of Council and Commissary for Palembang, returned to Batavia on the 31st July in H. M. colonial schooner the Emma, to communicate to Government the treacherous conduct of the Sultan Mahmomed Badureddin.

"This Prince, who was restored to his rights by the Dutch Government, from which he had been withheld since the transactions of 1811, had a design, during the residence of Mr. Muntinghe, to recommence those atrocities which have for many years been practised at Palembang. The Officers of the Netherland's Government were constantly disturbed by numerous hordes of Malays and other foreigners, at the secret instigation of the Sultan. The Commissary demanded hostages from him for his good behaviour; but, instead of complying with this demand, he threw off the mask, and commenced an instantaneous and unexpected attack on the detachment stationed at Palembang, by whose firmness however, they were soon defeated and driven with great loss into one of the fortified places of the Sultan. Want of ammunition compelled the Dutch to cease from further hostilities, and to retire into the neighbouring island of Banca, to await the reinforcements from Java. The troops retired in excellent order, proceeding along the Palembang river. The Ships of War, after having landed them at Banca, have resumed their station on the mouth of the river, in order to protect that part of the Netherland's dominions.

“Lieut. Bishoff, of the Infantry, died in consequence of his wounds, and Lieut. Haaye, of Infantry, and Mr. Vitringa, Midshipman, were among the wounded.

“Accounts from Samarang mention that His Excellency, the Governor General and the Baroness Vander Copellius, after having visited Tagal and Paccalongang, arrived there on the 29th July, and left it on the 15th August for Souracarta and Djocjocarta, in prosecution of their tour.

“The harvest in general was very promising, and great hopes were entertained of the crops of grain proving abundant. The Natives in consequence were enjoying a degree of affluence, produced by the wise regulations of Government, and the ready sale which their goods met with, as well as by their own industry, such as they never experienced before.

At Samarang a conference was held with Mr. Muntinghe, Commissary for Palembang and Banca. Major-General De Kork, and Rear-Admiral Wotherbeck to decide upon the steps to be taken for punishing the Sultan. Rear-Admiral W. is appointed to command the expedition to be sent to that quarter.

“During the stay of Mr. Muntinghe at Samarang, the oath was administered to him on his being appointed a Member of the Supreme Council. This had not been done before, as at the time of the inauguration of the Supreme Government in January last, Mr. M. was absent at Palembang. He is now returning thither, in order to restore tranquility, and to enforce the necessary arrangements.”

A letter from a gentleman, who lately visited Rhio, describes the contrast between that place and its rival Singapore, as very striking—the one sinking fast from a previous state of prosperity, as appeared by the complete desertion of large native towns, and the other exhibiting a rapid increase of extent and population, and a most animated scene of industry.—The Rajah Mohan had abandoned Rhio, and retired to Singin—and all the people were following, the example as fast as possible.

Off the Palembang river, the ship, on which our correspondent was a passenger, was spoken by a Dutch sloop of war, who reported the recent catastrophe in that quarter;—she was when first seen, under English colours—for using which liberty, two Officers came on board to apologise, alleging as their excuse, their apprehensions of the Malay Pirates!!!

On Sunday last, a small boat which had just quitted the Calcutta side of the River with the intention of proceeding to the opposite shore, was unfortunately upset by the violence of the current; when five human beings were suddenly plunged into eternity. A native woman with two helpless infants in her arms was seen to struggle for a few moments, and then sink beneath the overwhelming tide. The other two who perished were the two boatmen belonging to the Dingee.

A Correspondent who has for some time been employed in collecting, with much labor and at considerable expense, a regular series of Mohammedan coins, from the earliest era of the entrance of those conquerors into Hindoostan to the present period, informs us that he has now completed his collection consisting of upwards of a thousand coins regularly arranged, with the names of the Kings, the year of the Hijra and the corresponding Christian era. We should be happy if it were in our power to give a more detailed account of the meritorious labors of this gentleman; but from the lively interest which we well know he feels in every thing that concerns the general dissemination of knowledge, we are persuaded that at a proper time he will adopt measures for rendering his private labors conducive to public information on a subject which we believe has hitherto not been very deeply investigated, although such studies have not infrequently proved of considerable service both to the Philosopher and to the Historian. In a letter which we had the pleasure of receiving from him a few days ago, he expressed his satisfaction at the discovery of some coins which appear highly deserving of attention, and will no doubt prove particularly interesting to the venerable Society of Masons. To avoid all possibility of error from a misconception of our friend's account of this curiosity, we shall give it in his own words. I have lately been much gratified by a curious discovery. A few days ago a Sadr from whom I occasionally procure coins, furnished me with several, each about the size of an eight ana piece, and of a composition apparently containing silver and copper. Each of the coins is distinctly impressed with some of the emblems of Free Masonry. On one is the Level, and beneath a kind of Spear, below which are two Pillars with a square object or Chest between them. On the reverse is a Square and an ancient Sungscript letter—the other figures are unknown. On another is a Plumb, and below it the Spear and Pillars, &c. On a third the square is most distinct. There are no characters, with the exception of the large one just now mentioned in ancient Dena yagme. I have not been able to obtain any account of their history or where they were found. They are evidently very ancient and appear to have been in circulation. This may lead to interesting enquiries. The antiquity of Masonry has been disputed as well as its universality. Upon these subjects the knowledge even of the brethren is very limited—but Moorcroft in his journal of an excursion to Lake Manasarwa mentions having met with a native upon whose garment were sewed the insignia of Free Masonry. (Vide Asiatic Journal, No. xix. May 1818.) The Free Masons have often been accused of being descendants of the Manichæans; and Wilford in his learned Essay Asiatic Researches, vol. ix. p. 212, proves that Manichæans formerly existed in the neighbourhood of Delhi, and other parts of the upper provinces. On a reference to the Encyclopædia Britannica, we find it mentioned that the Manichæans made use of Amulets, and professed astronomy and astrology. This remark, and the circumstance mentioned by Mr. Moorcroft forcibly recall to our recollection an occurrence which took place many years ago. The writer of this article overwhelmed with the recollection of a calamity which at an early period of his life had induced him to penetrate the most savage wilds of Africa, alone and wandering at a distance of some hundred miles from any human habitation, at length sunk down exhausted with hunger and fatigue. On awaking from a trance or sleep, the duration of which he had no means of ascertaining, he to his astonishment beheld a venerable old man whom from his dress he recognized as belonging to the nation of Fodlahs, but whose features and language were Arabian, leaning over him and in the act of attaching to his neck a string of coral beads, to which were joined at intervals several gold and ivory ornaments consisting of a torse—a pyramid—a full moon—a crescent—seven stars—a level with small gold weight—a model of a temple in ivory—a sword and a dove with extended wings. Such an apparition in the midst of such a solitude, and under such circumstances impressed the writer of this with an idea of something supernatural. On the events which followed, it is unnecessary to touch. For our present purpose it is sufficient to remark that this venerable figure afterwards explained in the most affecting manner the meaning attached to the different symbols, varying their exemplification according to the various occurrences of human life. He sometimes placed the full and waning moon at opposite extremities of the level, with the pyramid in the centre; thus seeming to inculcate that the full and wane of humane happiness were to be borne with the same unvarying equanimity, and our only hopes directed towards that point to which the summit of the pyramid aspired. Whether this man was a Free Mason or whether he was a Manichean we are incompetent to decide;—to us he was a beneficent and guardian angel.

Extract of a letter from Allahabad dated 12th October.

'The 21st N. I. expect to leave this for their station at Banda on the 4th or 5th instant, or as soon as their successors arrive. The crops are coming on in a very fine manner—but Grain still continues very dear—as yet a more favourable season than the present never occurred in India. The Almighty is very good, to send such fine weather, to render the crops wholesome, after the terrible pestilence.'

The weather at the Presidency continues unusually mild. Very little of that sultry weather commonly complained of in September has hitherto been experienced. The rains of the South West Monsoon is now over, and Southerly currents and light Northerly winds have generally prevailed for the last week.

The Fourth Law Term for the present year closed yesterday, but the whole of the causes in the paper not having been disposed of, sittings are appointed after the Sessions. The greater part of the last week of the Term has been occupied in the trial of a cause of great interest to the Public, and we regret that our time has been so closely occupied as to prevent our attempting to give even an outline of the case; it is not one that can be detailed in a few words: and unless the whole was before our readers, conclusions might be drawn, which, perhaps, are not warranted by the circumstances of the case.—We therefore deem it fairer to be altogether silent upon it.

We are truly glad to find that our predictions of last week have been partly fulfilled, and that there is every prospect of the renewal of that noblest of all amusements—the sport of the Turf—At the Turf Dinner on Thursday last at the Race Stand, there was a large assemblage of the Friends of the Sport. The meeting audited and passed the accounts of the last Committee, and proceeded to the ballot of a new one, when the former Committee consisting of Mr Fauquier, and Captains Patullo and Showers were elected. A subscription was then made, and it is with pleasure we mention that it was a most liberal and handsome one, and gave a good earnest of what is to be expected from the liberality of the Public, when the subscription book shall be sent into general circulation. At present we cannot state what arrangements are likely to be made—as to the Plates, Purses, Stakes, &c. &c. but we venture to assure the Friends of the Turf, excellent sport, if they by their subscriptions afford the Committee of the means of promoting that sport. It is incumbent on all those who wish the revival of Races at Madras to come forward liberally at the present occasion, for let it be remembered that suspension nearly approaches annihilation; and that if the present opportunity is lost, it may be long before another is afforded of reviving this most manly, noble and fashionable sport.

The Race Stand has lately undergone a thorough repair. The dancing room has been much improved, and every arrangement has been and is likely to be made that can afford comfort and amusement to the frequenters of the Stand.

On Tuesday last M. Le Barondes Bassayn de Richemont, Comptroller General of the French Establishments in India, who lately arrived at the Presidency, paid his first visit of ceremony to the Right Honorable the Governor. His Excellency was received under the honors due to his rank.

The Packets for the Catherine, Captain Knox, are advertised to be closed this day at 12 o'clock and the Kate is expected to commence her homeward bound voyage early.

Bombay.

The late arrivals from the Isle of France, have furnished us with but few articles of intelligence. Some vessels employed in illicit trade, and slaving had been detained, and some of them condemned to M. Ships on that station.

The weather during part of last week, was extremely variable. Tuesday and the succeeding day was fine, but a squall on the night of Wednesday, indicated the entry of the Moon into the Cancerian, Battia; or in other words the Elephanta began. Thursday it blew all day a strong breeze from the S. E. with a considerable fall of the Barometer. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the wind veered again to the S. W. with rain and occasional squalls. Monday was fine but the intervening showers still continue.

Hajee Mahomet Effendi, a Turkish gentleman of great respectability, arrived a few days since in a Bugala from Judda, he has travelled from Constantinople, through Persia, and Arabia, and is now about to visit the principal places in India.

Another distinguished Native from Bengal has also lately arrived, his name is Meer Mahomed Hassan; he is a near relative of Mahomed Ali Khan's.

A new vehicle, called the Velocimanipede or Phaeton Miniature, has been constructed calculated to carry three persons. The centre, or body of the carriage, is supposed to be for a female; the front is for a gentleman to sit on a narrow saddle to guide it. At the back is a small dickey to work the hind wheels by machinery. It goes over a distance of ground of one mile in three minutes, and can be kept up at ease at eight miles an hour. It only weighs one hundred pounds.

Penang.

We understand that the H. C. Ships General Kyd and Windsor, will leave us for China, either this evening or early to-morrow morning.

The Brig Minerva, as well as the two ships mentioned in our last, may be expected in a few days from Calcutta.

By the arrival, on Wednesday last, of the Brig Census from the Eastward, we learn that Sir Stamford Raffles, arrived at Bencoolen on the 31st of July, and that he has since dispatched 300 Sepoys to Singapore in the Indiana and another ship.

The H. C. Ship William Pitt, arrived at Bencoolen on the 28th ultimo.

In our paper of this-day will be seen a Notification from the Government of Fort Marlboro', abolishing the custom Duties of that Settlement. In addition to which, we have been informed by undoubted authority, that an application has been made to Bengal, that the Import duties hitherto levied there indiscriminately may be removed; as far as respects the produce of that Coast. These arrangements, considered to the improvement of the currency, which is now calculated on juster principles than formerly, will, it is hoped, occasion a great change in the condition of our settlements in that quarter.

The Pepper monopoly at Bencoolen has also been done away—and it is stated to be the intention of the Government to improve our Establishment at Tappanooly, so as to make it a general resort of the Traders to the Northward.

The Brig Minerva came in on Wednesday last, from C.

GENERAL ORDERS, BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE MOST NOBLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM; 16th OCTOBER, 1819.

Doubts having been entertained of the true meaning of the following Extract from Minutes of Council under date the 29th November 1786, in consequence of the omission of a Parenthesis, it is re-published to the Army for general information.

"If this requisition has not been complied with, upon the next Month's Allowance is issued, the Pay Master is hereby authoriged and ordered to make stoppages from the Bills or Abstracts of that, and the succeeding Months, (Pay excepted) until the full Amount of the Retrenchments is liquidated." The Most Noble the Gov. Gen. in Council, in order to secure the due from the eventual loss which might arise from delay, and from the intermediate decrease of persons, against whom Retrenchment may stand, does hereby declare that the Officers in the Pay Department are authorized immediately, on receipt of the Auditor-General's Statement of Retrenchments, to make the requisite deductions of the Amount standing against Individuals from the Abstracts which may then be in course of Payment, or from the first and following Abstracts which they may receive, as payment becomes due.

NOVEMBER 1.

Letters from St. Helena mention the safe arrival there of the Margaret, Capt. ALLAN, and David Scott, Capt. HUNTER, from this Port, bound to London: the former succeeded on her voyage on the 8th July, and the latter on the 11th; and as the David Scott had a considerable number of passengers on board, it may be satisfactory to their friends to know that they are reported all well. — These Ships had rather a tedious passage, but met with no bad weather.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Secunderabad; June 26, 1819.

MY DEAR SIR,

We cannot permit you to quit the 2d Battalion 8th Regiment, without expressing how sensibly we have ever felt the kind, friendly, and cordial attentions we have received from you, and the long period (now nearly 5 years) we have been under your command, has given us a full opportunity of appreciating that conduct, which could alone have produced this expression of our sentiments. It is a slight testimony of our regard, and we trust, you will do us the favor to accept at our hands a Sword, which may put you in mind of the Officers of this Corps, and the feelings that have prompted them to offer it. We also anticipate, it will not be less valued, as coming from the first Corps you have commanded, as Lieutenant Colonel. We beg you will believe us with every sincere wish for your health and happiness,

My dear Sir,

Secunderabad; June 26, 1819.

MY DEAR SIR,

The testimony of esteem I have just received from my Brother Officers of the 2d Battalion 8th Regiment, on my removal to another Corps, is truly grateful to my feelings; for altho' I did not require their handsome present of a Sword, to keep me in mind of the happy days I have passed with them, I shall be delighted in wearing it as a proof of their friendship, and that duty and harmony have been so long happily combined among us.

Permit me, therefore, to beg, that you will accept yourself, and do me the favor to express the full sense I entertain of their goodness, and my sincerest wishes for their health, happiness, and prosperity.

Believe me,

My dear Sir,

Your's very sincerely.

Bombay

We regret to learn that letters from Kattiwar of the 17th ultimo, state that the disease, resembling the plague in its symptoms and fatal effects which we mention in our paper of the 29th May, as having appeared at Phœdra, has broken out with increased virulence at Limree and Dandooka. The number of fatal cases had been very considerable, and so great alarm had been caused by this awful visitation, that the inhabitants were quitting the country, leaving these two Pargannahs, in a state of comparative depopulation. The progress of the disease, it is said, can be distinctly traced as gradually proceeding Eastward.

It appears from authentic statements that the number of cases, in which medical assistance has been afforded to persons attacked with the Epidemic Cholera on the islands of Bombay and Coolabah, between the 15th Aug. 1818 and the 31st Aug. 1819 viz a period of 1 year and 15 days, amounts to no less than 24,227; of which 1150 have proved fatal, being in the proportion of nearly six in every hundred.

These statements relate to cases in which medicine has been administered by the members of the profession, or their assistants, and it is probable that some may not have been cases of the real Epidemic cholera, but on the other hand they do not include any in which assistance has been rendered by private individuals on the system recommended. The lowest calculation, therefore, that can be admitted, will make the number of cases of the epidemic administered to, exceed 20,000; and when it is considered that almost the whole of these would have proved fatal if they had been left to themselves, some idea may be formed of the great benefit derived from the liberal and extensive measures which this Government ordered to be carried into effect; and of the active zeal, skill, and humane attention of the members of the profession.

On Thursday the 23d Sept. Major Lushington C. B. and the officers of the 4th regiment Madras cavalry, gave a grand dinner at Poona, to the honorable Mr. Elphinstone, in commemoration of the battle of Assaye, in which that corps bore a distinguished part. The entertainment was given in a suite of tents tastefully fitted up and ornamented for the occasion. The transparencies at the top and bottom of the table, were extremely well executed and much admired; the one, an elephant surrounded with a wreath of laurel with the words "Wellington" and "Assaye" in English and Persian characters; the other, a highly emblazoned coat of arms, the supporters two Native Troopers in full uniform with the motto "Spectemur Agendo Mahidpore." The Standards of the regiment, bearing the "Elephant," the badge of distinction awarded those corps who were engaged on that memorable day were conspicuously displayed about the centre of the table, and immediately behind Mr. Elphinstone's and the President's chairs.

The company, in number upwards of fifty, sat down to dinner precisely at half past 7 o'clock, and found every delicacy of the season in profusion, and the wines and liquors of excellent quality. On the cloth being withdrawn, the following toasts were given.

The King.

The Prince Regent.

Duke of Clarence and the Navy.

Duke of York and the Army.

The Honorable East India Company.

To the Memory of those brave Men who fell in the service of their country in the glorious battle of Assaye. (Bumper.) Standing and in silence.

Tune, Pledge to the Souls of the Heroes.

Field Marshal the Duke of Wellington. (Bumper, 3.times 3.)

Tune, Wellington's March.

Band Marching round the table.

Previously to giving this toast, Major Lushington rose and spoke as follows.

GENTLEMEN,

In proposing to you the health of that illustrious nobleman and consummate general Field Marshal the Duke of Wellington, I can be under no apprehension but that the toast will be drank with enthusiasm.

Presumptuous as must appear the attempt, and convinced as I am, how inadequate any language of mine is to do justice to His Grace's splendid achievements and transcendent merit; yet I cannot refrain from addressing a few words to you on this occasion.

Amidst the multitude and grandeur of his victories in Europe, the lustre of that the Noble Duke gained at Assaye, may appear to be somewhat obscured; but in fact it stands unrivalled, and must ever shine with undiminished splendor. It was here that the qualities which distinguish a great commander first bore forth eminently conspicuous. Under the discouraging circumstance of being separated from half his army, undismayed by the overwhelming force opposed to him, with a decision that marked the energy of his character, and a confidence in the bravery of his troops which their subsequent conduct fully justified, he rather sought, than declined a contest which ordinary troops would have shrunk from, or a less enterprising genius than his own never have undertaken.

After a hard fought perilous day, the victory was his; a victory never to be forgotten by those who participated in its glory; and I may venture to say, almost equally well remembered by the conquered, but with very different feelings. The lesson the Duke of Wellington taught Scindia on this memorable day seems to have been well engrafted on his memory, and as we cannot, I think, attribute to any friendly disposition towards us, his forbearing to take a direct hostile part against us during the late successful campaign against the Marhatta confederates, we may reasonably conclude, that amongst other good causes, the weight and strength of the arguments urged by his Grace at Assaye, had their due share in assisting his councils.

Since the noble Wellington left us, what a career of glory he has run. For me to trace his path, or delineate his actions is impossible; nor indeed could I say any thing to heighten the admiration you all must long have left for one, who has rendered such important benefits not only to his own country, but to the world.

In addition to this admiration, those who have had the happiness of serving under him, have personal feelings towards him of a most gratifying nature. He ever was the idol of those under his command, for while he exacted the strictest performance of duty, he was kind and considerate in his manner, just and impartial in his decisions. Can we wonder then, that he gained every heart from the highest to the lowest? The Commanding Officer and the Sepoy, equally venerate the name of Wellesley, and to the honor, and respect due to him as the hero of his country, is added the affectionate esteem of all who are acquainted with his virtues.

The Marquis of Hastings and the Bengal Army. (Bumper, 3 times 3.) On this toast being drank, Captain Kennedy of the 6th Bengal Cavalry, returned thanks in a very neat and appropriate speech.

Sir Thomas Hislop and the Madras Army. (Bumper, 3 times 3.)

General Bailie and the Bombay Army. (Bumper, 3 times 3)

The next toast was—

Tune, God of Old Gunt.

Bands marching round the table.

and which was thus introduced by Major Lushington:—

GENTLEMEN,

Before I submit the next toast to you, it is necessary I should ask your permission to hear me for a few moments, for I am well aware, the instant you know it, you will be all anxious to do it justice. It is the health of the Honorable Mountstuart Elphinstone we are about to drink.

From the animation pervading every countenance at the mention of this name, I perceive it is not an ungrateful task I have imposed upon you, and I confess it is with peculiar satisfaction that I find myself the proposer of what so evidently meets your wishes.

It may be well supposed, commemorating the battle of Assaye must be a pleasing occupation; yet how greatly is the pleasure increased, by having on my right hand the companion of the noble Wellington in that arduous struggle. Yes, on this very day, Thursday 23d September, 16 years ago, a specimen was afforded to our honored guest, what British troops could do, and the recollection of their steadiness and bravery on that eventful day, must have dissipated all vain fears and doubts, if any such ever existed in his mind, as to the result of the perfidious attack of Bajee Row, on the small force under the gallant Colonel Burr at Kirkee on the 16th November, 1817, where the character of the Bombay army was nobly upheld under circumstances of a very trying description.

Though not bred to arms, Mr. Elphinstone is a good soldier. He deserves that honorable appellation from the service he has seen, and from his gallantry in action; and I am confident you all feel towards him, as you do towards those of our own profession, who, from their distinguished conduct in the field, have established claims to our particular regard.

Gentlemen, I will not anticipate the expression of the general esteem in which Mr. Elphinstone is held by society, as in a few days hence, that feeling will be most unequivocally manifested; but I cannot let the opportunity pass, for it may be long before it again occurs, of assuring him on the part of myself and brother officers in the 4th regiment, that wherever we go, we shall bear with us, a lively and grateful recollection of his uniform kindness and hospitality, and that he will ever possess our warmest wishes for his health, happiness and prosperity.

Mr. Elphinstone.—I beg leave to return my warmest thanks for the honor you have done me, and particularly for the flattering manner in which our gallant host has associated my name with the immortal Wellington's. You must permit me, Gentlemen, to give you a bumper toast. The merits and services of the 4th Light Cavalry, are too well known to need any eulogium from me, and particularly its conduct on the glorious day we are commemorating, was most distinguished and greatly contributed to the successful issue of the contest.

Major Lushington and the 4th Light Cavalry. (Bumper, 3 times 3.)

GENTLEMEN,

Were I able to express my feelings, I should not be at a loss for terms to offer my thanks, for the very kind manner in which you have drank our healths, but unfortunately happens, that the greater the demand for acknowledgements, from the warmth and sincerity of your good wishes, the less capable I find myself of making them to you in the way I could wish. I entreat you, however, to believe, that we feel your kindness most deeply, and thank you most sincerely for the honor you have done us, and which, permit me to say, has been doubly grateful to us from the medium thro' which it has been conveyed, and the very flattering manner the toast was introduced to your notice.

Sir William Grant Keir and success to the Expedition under his command. (Bumper, 3 times 3.)

Colonel Cox and the troops at Poona. (Bumper, 3 times 3.)

Colonel Cox.—I have to return my thanks for the honor done me, and I cannot but take this opportunity of expressing my regret, that we are so soon to lose the 4th Light Cavalry, who have contributed so much to enliven our society since they have been among us. May honor and glory attend them, wherever they go.

"The Healths of those Officers at table who were present at the battle of Assaye." (Bumper, 3 times 3.) Major McLeod, Ford and Captain Pain.

Major McLeod returned thanks in a very feeling manner in the following terms. I return you my sincere thanks for the honor you have done me. I consider it as the proudest moment of my life, my having had the good fortune to contribute my mite towards the celebrated victory gained by the Duke of Wellington on this day. He who was so beloved that there was not one under his command, who would not have gladly laid down his life to encrease his fame. He, who has since raised the character of the British army to a pinnacle of glory its warmest admirers, never could have conceived or hoped for, and held it up an example of heroic valor to the gaze of an admiring world.

Numerous other toasts were given, and many excellent songs were sung during the night; one very appropriate and humorous, hastily written for the occasion, and given with great spirit, by Captain Pain of the 4th Light Cavalry, and of which we have been kindly favored with a copy.

With your leave my good friends I will finish my song;
For fear you should think it is rather too long,

A toast also given by Captain Palin,
"The Helmets and Leather Breeches of the three [presiden-

The Honorable Mr. Elphinstone retired about half past one, which proceeds from the heart. Many jovial souls remained to keep up the conviviality of the meeting for several hours, and when the party at length broke up, every one departed highly pleased with the entertainment given them.

MR. EDITOR.

SIR,

I make no apology for offering you the enclosed, as I have no doubt it will afford you much satisfaction, to make more generally known, the humane exertions of an individual; Capt. GRANT is in a retired part of the Country, in Kattiwar, where Europeans are little known, or seldom seen; but where our character must stand high if his benevolent disposition is duly appreciated.

A SUBSCRIBER.

Tellen near Din, 1st August, 1819.

I had the pleasure to receive yours of the 28th of June, and am sorry to learn so much loss has been sustained by the Earth-quake, in your paper; we have had frequent returns of it here, but very mild since the first severe shock. We have also been visited by that dreadful disease the cholera Morbus, and lost about fifty persons in Kewrinur.
I gave medicine to about three hundred, out of which thirty died, but their deaths did not arise from any inefficiency of the medicine. They had been attacked six and eight hours before I saw them, and the medicine had hardly time to operate before they died. I found Laudanum and Brandy of great use, in cases of severe spasm, and sometimes in purging without vomiting; in others, with severe vomiting and purging, the Calomel, Laudanum and Peppermint appeared to answer best.
Ginger, Garlic and Mustard beaten into powder, and rubbed over the body and extremities, had always a good effect in restoring heat and circulation. I generally gave a purge of Rhubarb and Calomel after the disease had subsided, which answered well; however, I was often obliged to give cordials for some days after the attack, in consequence of the great debility that succeeded severe fits of the disease.
My medicine is all expended, and thank God the disease has considerably abated.

Yours, &c. &c.

Head Quarters, Calcutta; 28th October, 1819.

GENERAL ORDER.

At a General Court Martial assembled at Bombay on the 16th day of August, 1819, and continued by adjournments until the 23d day of August of the same year, Lieutenant John R. Stepney of H. M. 65th Regiment was arraigned upon the undermentioned Charges, viz.

Charge 1st.—“ In having formally accused, before the Officers of H. M. 65th Regiment, after dinner at the Public Mess Table, on the evening of the 3d August, 1819, an Officer of the Regiment, of Falsehood, the Lieutenant Stepney having subsequently avowed, that Captain William Hinde, his Senior Officer in the Regiment, was the person then meant by him;—such conduct being calculated, and evidently intended to provoke Captain Hinde to a Challenge, prejudicial to good order, and a high and gross breach of Military discipline.”

Charge 2d.—“ In obstinately persisting in not recalling the injurious aspersions against the character of Captain Hinde, after that Officer had endeavoured to set him right in his misconception of the conversation which had given rise to these aspersions.”

Upon which Charges, the Court came to the following decision.

Sentence.—“ The Court having maturely weighed and considered all that has been adduced in support of the prosecution, as well as what the Prisoner has brought forward on his defence, are of opinion that the Prisoner, Lieutenant J. R. Stepney, is guilty of the 1st Charge pretended against him to the following extent of having accused before the Officers of H. M. 65th Regiment after dinner at the Public Mess Table on the evening of the 3d August 1819 an Officer of the Regiment, of Falsehood, he, Lieutenant Stepney, having subsequently, avowed that Captain William Hinde, his Senior Officer in the Regiment, was the person then meant by him;—such conduct being calculated, but not intended, to provoke to a Challenge, a breach of Military discipline; but they do acquit the prisoner of all and every other part of the 1st Charge. The Court is further of opinion that the Prisoner Lieutenant J. R. Stepney is guilty of all and every part of the 2d Charge preferred against him.

“ The Court having found the Prisoner guilty to the above extent, do therefore sentence him, Lieutenant J. R. Stepney, to be reprimanded in such manner as the Commanding Officer of the Forces may think proper.”

Which Sentence was approved and confirmed by Major General Baile, commanding the forces at Bombay, and upon which occasion the Major General deemed it expedient to make the following observations.

“ In carrying the Sentence of the General Court Martial into effect on Lieutenant Stepney, the Commanding Officer of the Forces is induced to express his disapprobation of his conduct in less pointed terms, from observing the sentiments which that Officer entertained.”

on his defence, regarding the impropriety of the measures he resorted to, in bringing forward the circumstance before the Mess, which led to the present investigation; and under this impression, he simply admonishes Lieutenant Stepney to be more guarded in future, in regulating his conduct on principles more consistent with Military discipline, and particularly on occasions where the advice of his superior and Commanding Officer is given on clear and impartial grounds; for had it not been obstinately disregarded, the trouble of this trial would have been avoided."

"Lieutenant Stepney is released from his arrest, and is to return to his duty."

The Most Noble the Commander in Chief directs, that the foregoing order be entered in the General Order Book, and read at the Head of every Regiment in his Majesty's service in India.

By Order of the Most Noble the Commander in Chief.

Lieutenant Francis Strangeway, of His Majesty's 65th Regiment, placed in arrest on complaint of Captain Hinde, on the following charge, viz.

"In having supported Lieutenant Stepney when he formally accused (before the Officers of H. M. 65th Regiment, after dinner at the Public Mess Table on the evening of the 3d August, 1819,) an Officer of the Regiment, of Falsehood, he Lieutenant Stepney, having subsequently avowed that the Officer then meant by him was Captain William Hinde, by repeating the words, false, downright false, or words to that effect."

Lieutenant William Booth of H. M. 65th Regiment, placed in arrest on complaint of Captain Hinde, on the following charge, viz.

"In having supported Lieutenant Stepney when he formally accused before the Officers of H. M. 65th Regiment, after dinner at the Public Mess Table, on the evening of the 3d August, 1819, an Officer of the Regiment, of Falsehood, he Lieutenant Stepney, having subsequently avowed that the Officer then meant by him was Captain William Hinde, by repeating the words, false, downright false, or words to that effect."

Lieutenant William D'Acie of H. M. 65th Regiment, placed in arrest on complaint of Captain Hinde, on the following charge, viz.

"In having supported Lieutenant Stepney when he formally accused before the Officers of H. M. 65th Regiment, after dinner at the Public Mess Table, on the evening of the 3d August, 1819, an Officer of the Regiment, of Falsehood, he Lieutenant Stepney, having subsequently avowed that the Officer then meant by him was Captain William Hinde, by repeating the words, false, downright false, or words to that effect."

Lieutenant A. O'Donnell, H. M. 65th Regiment, placed in arrest on complaint of Captain Hinde, on the following charge, viz.

"In having supported Lieutenant Stepney when he formed before the Officers of H. M. 65th Regiment, after dinner at the Public Mess Table, on the evening of the 3d August, 1819, an Officer of the Regiment, of falsehood, he Lieutenant Stepney, having subsequently avowed that the Officer then meant by him was Captain William Hinde, by repeating the words, false, downright false, or words to that effect."

Sentence.—"The Court having maturely weighed and considered all that has been adduced in support of the Prosecution, as well as what all and each of the Prisoners have brought forward on their defence, are of opinion, that the Prisoners, Lieutenant F. Strangeways, is not guilty of the charge preferred against him, and they do therefore acquit him of the same."

"The Court are further of opinion, that the Prisoners, Lieutenant W. Booth, Lieutenant W. D'Acre, and Ensign A. O'Donnell, are guilty of the charge preferred against them, but they do not consider that their conduct in this instance proceeded from any combined or preconcerted plan, and they do therefore sentence them to be reprimanded by the Commanding Officer of their Regiment, in presence of all the Officers of the Regiment."

Which sentence was approved and confirmed, by Major General Badlie, Commanding the Forces at Bombay.

The Commanding Officer of the Forces directs, that the Sentence be carried into effect on the Parade of His Majesty's 65th Regiment, by the Commanding Officer, Major Warren, to-morrow morning and that Lieutenants Strangeways, Booth, D'Acre, and Ensign O'Donnell, be released from arrest, and return to their duty."

NOVEMBER 8.

Our letters during the last week from the stations under this Presidency, contain no information worthy of particular notice. A communication from Poonah, dated the 12th ultimo, mentions the festivities and harmony which have prevailed at that place; some account of which has been already given in the Indian papers. A general sensation of gloom and regret is stated to be felt at the approaching departure of Mr. ELPHINSTONE for Bombay. He was to quit Poonah on the 28th ultimo. That part of India is represented to be in a state of complete tranquility—and the people apparently as satisfied, “as if they had been for many years under the “British Government.” The only person, known to be in arms on the Poonah side of the Kistna, is a Jaghiredar of the Nizam’s.—It is conjectured, that the conquered countries in the Dekhan, will be placed under the management of a Board of Commissioners, but, we need scarcely remark, that this is a mere rumour.

The 4th Regiment of Native Infantry had marched from Dinapore and was expected to reach Allahabad about the 6th of the present month, to relieve the 21st, which had been ordered to Banda in Bundelcund.

Captain Manning, of the H. C. Ship Thomas Grenville, has brought out on that vessel, the Panharmonicon, which was exhibited some time ago at the Saville Rooms, Leicester Square. It contains within itself a grand and perfect Military Orchestra, consisting of

20 German Flutes,	4 French Horns,
20 Octave ditto,	Kettle Drums,
112 Diapasons,	Cymbals,
31 Clarinets and Oboes,	Triangle,
18 Bassoons,	Great Drum,
14 Trumpets,	Common Drum.

This Instrument, unique in this Country, is now being put together at a Gentleman’s Residence near the Government House—where, we understand, it will be for inspection.

We regret to notice an unfortunate accident that occurred yesterday at noon—the Brig Lynx, from New South Wales, which upset by getting across her Cable as she was swinging to the flood tide, and immediately filled and went down, carrying with her two Bhurs that were along side, loaded with casks of Rum. We have not been able to ascertain if any lives were lost—but we learn that the principal part of the Cargoes of the Bhurs were saved by the active and laudable exertions of the Officers and Crews of the Ships near the spot where the accident happened.

MADRAS APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. M. Lewin, Register to the Zillah Court at Tellicherry.

Lieutenant H. Fullerton,	} Superintendents of Lieutenant Duncan Sm,

The homeward bound private ship Prince Regent proceeded on her voyage on Sunday last.

The Tottenham, Captain Davey, sailed for London on the 14th; and on the same day the Bengal Merchant, Captain Brown, for Calcutta.

Additional Passengers by the Tottenham,—Lieut. Davies, H. M. 19th Regiment, and Lieut. Biscoe, of the Royal Engineers.

The Elizabeth will also proceed for England immediately.

The Providence, Capt. Moon, proceeded yesterday for Bombay.

The Blenheim, Captain Shirley, is also arrived on her voyage homeward—The Pilot also proceeds home direct.

Monsieur Le Baron des Basseys de Richmond embarked on Thursday evening on board the Bengal Merchant, under the Salute due to his rank.

According to annual custom, the Fort Flag Staff was struck on Friday last; and the Shipping have nearly all quitted the Roads; the Blenheim and Pilot, however, still remain—the latter is loading for England, and we trust the weather will continue sufficiently moderate to allow of her completing her loading, though we understand it is uncertain whether she proceeds before December or not. The appearances of the weather were rather threatening on Friday and Saturday—On the former day, and during the following night, it blew a fresh breeze from the North Westward, accompanied by some rain, but this has all blown over, and the horizon is now clear foreboding no harm. The temperature is very pleasant.

Since our last the homeward bound free traders Tottenham, and Elizabeth have continued their voyages for England.—The list of Passengers by these Vessels were given in our last. The Elizabeth sailed on Sunday. The Blenheim is expected to sail to-morrow.

The Bengal Merchant sailed on Thursday evening for Calcutta, having M. Le Baron des Basseys de Richmond and family on board.

The Providence bound for Bombay, parted from her anchors on Friday afternoon, and was blown out of the roads. She returned on Sunday, and sailed again for Bombay.

The Brig Wasp, ran on shore, from some unaccountable accident, yesterday morning. She grounded to the Northward of Black-Town off Royapooram and was quickly knocked to pieces?

Lieutenant JOSIAH CECIL, was arraigned on two indictments, one charging him with feloniously stabbing &c. &c. Ensign GEDDES, of H. M. 46th Foot, and the other with a common assault. This was the only trial of great public interest during the week, and we are therefore glad that we have it in our power to prepare a correct report of the trial, for independent of the notice attracted by it, which was fully evidenced by the crowded state of the Court, we think it always essential that the proceedings of Courts of Justice should be published, if an accurate report of them can be obtained, and if they sufficiently interest the public mind.

The trial commenced at 11 o'clock. The prisoner having been arraigned, pleaded—Not Guilty.

REN. V. LIEUT. CECIL.

The first witness called, was Alexander Geddes—who said he belonged to the 46th Regiment of Foot, at present residing in Fort St. George. That on Saturday the 18th of September last at six o'clock he saw the defendant who abused him, called him a scoundrel and a rascal—that on this the witness who was commanding the guard that was marching from the Wallajah Gate to the barrack, halted it—and advanced to the window where defendant was standing, who immediately flung a palanquin bearer's stick at him—witness took up the stick, and while he was talking to the serjeant who stood near him, the defendant thrust a prong into his left breast—the witness returned to his guard and marched them to the barrack where he fell at the gate—he was carried from the gate into the barrack by the soldiers.

On his cross-examination by the prisoner, who conducted his own defence, he said that about the beginning of September (he believed the 7th) he had been three times on that day at the defendant's house, the last time was at 12 o'clock—the defendant did not on that occasion desire him to conclude Lieutenant Ross, but said "I suppose then I must give him satisfaction after this"—the day after he watched the defendant while walking by Lord Cornwallis's statue when he received a note from defendant forbidding him to his house—witness wrote a note to defendant in return calling him a paper hero—that note was returned to him at Mr. Ross's endorsed unopened—10 days after, on the 17th of September the witness was walking with Mr. Ross by the defendant's house, admitted he was talking to Ross about the defendant that night—Ross endeavoured to persuade him not to do so—witness said that he did call at defendant's house that night, that he heard defendant endeavouring to fasten his door—a note was then shown by the defendant to the witness, which he admitted was his—the note was in these words: “Sir, I think you a scoundrel and coward, you know where to seek redress” admitted he put this note into the defendant’s house through the window after he had called and could not get admittance—this was at 10 o’clock at night on the 17th—He sent one of the guard to the barrack for his writing-desk to write it—never heard the defendant speak at all that night, did not hear defendant say when the witness answered to the challenge of the guard—“a friend you ought to say an enemy.”

At six o’clock on the following morning when he passed by defendant’s window, he was not at the head of the guard but by the side, the usual place for the officer—thinks he did not shake the palanquin bearer’s stick, which the defendant flung out of the window at him—did not hear the serjeant say any thing to dissuade him from not striking the defendant with it—only told the serjeant to watch what passed—admitted that 6 or 7 months ago, he asked the defendant to bring Mrs Cecil to dine at the barracks, the defendant declined to do so, but desired his refusal might not make a quarrel between them.

Serjeant Davidson—said he mounted guard at the Wallajah Gate on the morning of the 17th,—That at 1 or 2 in the morning of the 18th while he was sleeping in his cot, the sentry waked him, and he then saw the defendant with his hat, cap and great coat on—the defendant asked him if the sentry of the bazar belonged to that guard—the witness answered he belonged to the guard at the St George’s Gate—defendant then went away, but when he got as far as the officer’s guard room, he turned round and asked the witness who was the officer on guard, the witness answered Geddes, on which the defendant said “damu me, I’ll make a Geddes of him, he is a damn’d rascal to come to my quarters and disturb my family at 12 o’clock at night”—then the defendant went away—between 5 and 6 o’clock when the witness was passing with the guard opposite the defendant’s quarters, Lieut. Geddes called him to him—witness went to Geddes when he heard defendant abuse him—saw him fling a stick at him which Geddes took up, then heard defendant say “bring me my sword, I’ll run the rascal thro’”—witness desired Geddes not to strike defendant,—defendant after this plunged the pitchfork into Geddes’s left side, after that with the point he shut half the window—Geddes put his hand to his breast and said serjeant did you see that, and said quick march to the guard, while the guard was marching off, defendant said “you are a rascal and scoundrel, I say this to you at the head of your guard, you are a disgrace to your regiment.”

On his cross-examination, witness said he could say there were no grand rounds that night, but could not say whether there were any visiting rounds—can answer as to the first because if there had been any, they would have been at 12 o’clock when the witness was up—but the visiting rounds take place at 1 o’clock and at that hour witness was asleep and therefore he could not speak to them—Geddes had not time to go away before he was struck by Cecil. The only words Geddes spoke to witness when before defendant's widow, were "did you see that serjeant," which he repeated twice, first when the stick was thrown out of the window, and secondly when the defendant thrust the pitchfork into his breast—defendant's house was in the direct way from the guard house to the barracks.

John Nicholson, a private in the 46th regiment said, that Geddes sent him for his writing desk on the night of the 19th September—while he was at the Wallajah Gate guard that night, at about 11 o'clock he heard some one, but he cannot say it was defendant, say, that Geddes was a damned scoundrel for coming to his quarters at 12 o'clock at night—in the morning at six when the guard was marching back to the barrack commanded by Geddes, as they were passing by defendant's window, witness heard defendant say "ah you Geddes, you are a disgrace to his Majesty's 46th Regiment, you are a disgrace to the service"—Geddes on this halted the guard, and putting his sword into the scabbard, advanced to the defendant's house, as witness remained with the guard, he could not hear what was said, but he saw defendant throw a stick at Geddes and stab him with the pitchfork, then Geddes returned to the guard house and gave the word quick march on which they went on to the barracks.

On his cross examination he said, there were no rounds that night.

Lieutenant Cox said, he went on Saturday morning to put the defendant under the arrest of a sentry—he went a second time and removed the defendant to the main guard.—He found the prong, which was a pitchfork, produced—the points of which were bloody.

On his cross-examination he said, the defendant desired him to let him first go to his house, but witness told him his orders were to take him first to the main guard and then to the Police Office.

Mrs. Bush and Foster—said they saw Geddes after he was wounded—that it appeared to be a small wound, made by a blunt instrument, that they considered Geddes to be in imminent danger for 4 or 5 days in consequence of it.—The case for the prosecution being here closed, the defendant was called on for his defence—he begged first to examine Colonel Mole and Ensign Ross.

Colonel Mole said, that he received a letter on the 7th of September, in which defendant complained of Geddes disturbing him and his family, but as he (defendant) understood Geddes was a relation of his (Col. Mole,) he did not like to use any measures of severity against him—there was something also about Mr. Ross in the letter—Col. Mole having destroyed the letter, only spoke from recollection. Colonel Mole said being then ill, he desired Lieut. Smith, who was with him to answer it—the answer was to this effect "that Mr. Geddes was no relation of Col. Mole, and that defendant might take any steps he pleased"—by this he meant that defendant might have recourse either to the military courts or courts of law, but did not think the defendant so much of an invalid as that he might not defend himself personally. Admitted that he did not think from his knowledge of Geddes that his interference would have had any effect—which was one of his reasons for taking no part in the business.

Ensign Ross said he had visited the defendant both at Vepery and Fort St. George, and that he had never observed any impropriety in Mrs. Cecil's conduct.

Defendant expressed to him in September that he hoped his not letting Mrs. Cecil dine at the barrack on Geddes's invitation would not make a quarrel between them, and that the witness told defendant he thought he was right, and that it would be wrong in him to take his wife to any other officer's quarters—told defendant that Geddes went to Col. Mole's to resign his commission but not that he went there drunk—Geddes brought him no conciliatory message from the defendant on the 17th of Sept. Had he received such he would have been satisfied—Geddes told him of his intention of going to defendant's house, to express his opinion of his conduct, and that he was 10 minutes endeavouring to persuade him not to go—again repeated that he never saw any impropriety in Mrs. Cecil's conduct.

The defendant here read his defence, which was very long, and expressed with such rapidity that we could not follow him—after which he called Mrs. Rumburgh, who said she had lived in the defendant's family about a month—that on the 7th of Sept. Geddes came to Prisoner's house 6 or 7 times—came at 10 o'clock while defendant was in bed—Heard Geddes say he came to bring a message from Ross but could not give it except in private,—defendant said what is the use in sending Mrs. Cecil away, she will listen at the door—Geddes then said he would call again the next morning—defendant said there would be no end to this and he had written to Col. Mole, and said to Geddes tell me at once what Ross wants—Geddes said Ross was of high temper and unable to submit to any offence—defendant said, "what is Mr. Ross offended because I denied that I had tampered with you, I say so still—tell him I wish to be at peace with him and all mankind—I am astonished at his wish to quarrel with me after the kindness he has received at my house, though I never had a glass of cold water in his—tell him I am sorry he is offended." After this, Geddes went away. He returned at 12 at night, and Mrs. Cecil came out to him, asking him how he could come and disturb them at that hour. She asked him what news he brought from Ross, was it good, he replied no, and that he must see the defendant—she said he was then asleep, and she should not disturb him—She entreated him to pacify Ross—and said "Blessed are the peace-makers"—Geddes then went away and called at 8 o'clock the next morning, when the servants informed him he was still in bed—Mrs. Cecil went to him and entreated him to pacify Ross—Geddes said he would rather be a principal than a second.

On the 17th of Sept the family were again alarmed by Geddes's making a noise at the house—this was about 10 o'clock, the defendant went out to report it—at 10 o'clock an ayah in the house said Geddes was coming again—defendant barred the door with the pitchfork—Mrs. Cecil pulled the defendant by the arm to prevent his opening the door. The witness says defendant wrote a letter to the Town Major, and he said if he met with no redress from him he would write to the Governor—at 6 o'clock on the morning of the 18th, defendant picked up a letter which had been thrust through the window in the night, the letter which had been given in as evidence and acknowledged by Geddes was shewn the witness who said that was the letter she spoke of—this letter put the defendant into a great passion—the witness did not see Geddes that morning, but heard the defendant say here is the rascal coming to run me through, and she heard Geddes threaten to break the defendant's head. She said she also heard the serjeant say in the language of entreaty—don't strike him in his own house. She said she could not see whether Geddes had a stick in his hand, and that in fact she did not see him at all—for being only in her dressing gown she did not leave her own room—she said the pitchfork always used to stand where it did that morning, being employed to bar the door—she never saw any impropriety in Mrs. Cecil's conduct.

A sepoy was then called, who said he was on guard on the 17th of Sept. and that he saw at 12 o'clock two gentlemen standing near the house.—The Foreman of the Jury here addressed the Court and said all the Jury had come to a conclusion that they must totally acquit the defendant without hearing any further evidence. The Court offered to sum up the case to them, but the Jury declined giving the Judge that trouble—a verdict of acquittal was therefore entered on both indictments, and Mr. Cecil was immediately discharged.

MR EDITOR,

The Earth tremors had discontinued at this port for about twenty days, but were again experienced on the past Autumnal Equinox, a period of three months and seven days from the first shock of the late Earthquake.

The Equinox was attended with more Rain, Thunder, and Lightning, than I have witnessed at this port, at the same period, for the last ten years.

This change in the season, was accompanied on the 22d 23d and 24th instant, by midnight Earth tremors. These ceased with the Equinoctial Storms.

At 8 p. m. of the 24th instant, there was a strange sound in the air, resembling the near and rapid flight of twenty or thirty strong winged Pigeons, but a somewhat stronger sound; succeeded by sudden gusts of Wind from the West. There is something awful in these strange sounds.

Admonitions had been sent forth from the Temple and the Mosque, for the last month past warning the Hindoos and the Moosulmans, that, if previous to the Equinox, they did not Repent, abstain from Sin, and perform acts of Charity, the Earth would open at the Equinox, and swallow up the Guilty.

When the time appointed arrived, when the terrific lightning came, which penetrated the wall of a house; when the near and heavy thunder roared, the Earth trembled, a strange sound was in the air, and the dark Clouds sent forth their waters, there were some Sons of Plutus, I am told, whose feelings were not to be envied. I believe the generality of the inhabitants, were tolerably composed.

Verax's letter of the 20th ultimo, induces me to be more circumstantial on some parts of what I witnessed of the past Earthquake.

The first personal feeling which I had of the Phenomena, was, while standing on the Rampart, attending to the distant sound which came from Sea-ward, when I felt a smart shock on the soles of my shoes, it seemed to come up perpendicularly from the Earth through the whole height of the Wall of masonry which was seventeen feet, and it alone caused me, instantaneously to exclaim, an Earthquake "by G—!!!" I cannot bring to my recollection when I ever before made use of such an exclamation! it is however evident, that what I felt of the perpendicular shock (for so I may be permitted to call it) impressed me with awe for the cause, and apprehension for its effects.

The second object of my attention, or the vibrating motion of the Parapet, has already been minutely described; it was by far the most violent and awful part of the Phenomena.

By a horizontal motion, as relative to Earthquakes, I understand, the removing an object horizontally, from one place to another; nothing of this nature has fallen under my observation, though every object attracts the attention, which is not found in the same situation as it was previous to the great shock.

I have reason to believe, that the Earthquake here, was of a whirling nature, in a small degree, for I find an upper stone of the Parsonet, about seven inches square, has had its side turned to the front, or half turned round. This circumstance attracted the attention two days after the Earthquake. I cannot possibly say, that it was effected, by the Earthquake, though I imagine it was. The vibrating motion would have sufficiently opened the work, which are made of square stones, to admit of one of the stones being whirled on its own centre. The stone may have been forced out of its place, and replaced with a rong front, by any person passing by, though this is less probable, than that it was whirled by the Earthquake.

The Earthquake had different effects at different places. At Bhooj the shock of the 16th of June, instantly caused giddiness of the head, "and sickness of the stomach," but here, those unpleasant sensations were not felt, until after the slighter shock of the 17th, when probably our ground first commenced its continued heaving or rolling motion.

The only feelings which I experienced on the 16th of June, were awe and curiosity. The scene was appalling, but it did not appall.

I remain,

Your humble Servant,

C. W. ELWOOD.

The Vestry question in Calcutta is by no means at rest: a grand meeting is however to take place on the 22d Sept. which of course will decide this mighty matter. We had purposed pub.

lishing the whole of the correspondence, but as the parties are probably unknown here, it would be devoid of general interest, though in Calcutta, it has excited almost as much as a Westminster election.

On Monday morning, minute Guns to the amount of 55, were fired out of respect to the memory of Anund Row Saico-war, who departed this life on the 8th instant, in the 55th year of his age. Anund Row ascended the Musnud in the year 1800, and has been since the rebellion of Mulhar Row in 1809, under the especial protection of the British. Anund Row has been for some years incapable of taking any active part in the government, and his brother, Fattah Sing, who died about a year ago, was a long time Regent; he was succeeded in the Regentship, by his brother Syjee Row, who now ascends the vacant Musnud.

FORT WILLIAM,

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT, 6TH NOV. 1819.

GENERAL ORDERS, BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE MOST NOBLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

On the occasion of the relief of the Corps and Detachments belonging to the Presidencies of Fort St. George and Bombay respectively, which have hitherto formed the Division of the Army, under the immediate command of Brigadier General Sir J. Malcolm; His Excellency the Governor General in Council cannot refrain from offering to those gallant Soldiers, a public token of his approbation and applause.

The Troops of this Division have borne a conspicuous and important part in the glorious and decisive operations of the last two years; and have repeatedly attracted the praise due to their merits—their exemplary conduct on all occasions; their forbearance and steadiness in the trying circumstances attending the suppression of the mutiny of Bajee Rao's Arabs; their conciliatory demeanour towards the inhabitants of the countries in which they have acted; their undeviating discipline and regularity; their temper spirit, and zeal; have from time to time been reported and have excited his Lordship's cordial admiration.

Such excellent qualities in Troops reflect the highest honor on the Commander, and the Officers, under whom they serve, and from whom the tone of their character must be received.

His Excellency desires, that Brigadier General Sir J. Malcolm, and the Officers and Troops, hitherto composing the Division under his immediate command, will individually and collectively accept his warmest thanks for their distinguished and valuable services.

Though the occasion which calls forth this order, is the departure of the Madras and Bombay Troops, hitherto under Sir J. Malcolm's command, to rejoin the Armies of their respective Presidencies, and it is to them therefore, that these sentiments are most appropriately addressed, the Governor General in Council gladly avails himself of the opportunity to add, that he considers the Bengal Corps, which have formed a part of the force under Sir J. Malcolm's general command, to be also fully entitled to the same unqualified approbation and applause.

By Command of His Excellency the Governor General in Council.

And we do hereby further order that Summonses and other Writs and Processes be made returnable on such days as the said Commissioners may lawfully from time to time direct, so that if possible, the list of Causes appointed for trial on any one day, may not be so numerous that the whole cannot be heard within reasonable hours on that day. And whereas the provisions respecting the Periods of Imprisonment and the Allowance of Diet Money in the said recited Proclamation require to be altered and modified, We do hereby order and direct that in all cases in which any Judgment shall have been heretofore given, or shall be given in the said Court of Requests, for any sum not exceeding Sixteen Rupees Ten, including Costs, the person of the Debtor shall not be liable to be detained in Prison for a longer period than One Month, and where the Debt and Costs shall not exceed Fifty Rupees, longer than Four Months; and where the Debt and Costs shall not exceed Two Hundred Rupees, longer than Eight Months; and where the Debt and Costs shall exceed Two Hundred Rupees, longer than One Year.—Provided always that in every case in which the Creditor shall take out and put in force execution against the Body of his Debtor, such Creditor shall within three days after the Debtor shall be lodged or detained in the Goal of the said Court, at its Suit, deposit with the Keeper of the said Goal or his Deputy, Diet Money for One Month, at the rate of One Anna and a half per diem, and shall continue to pay and deposit with such Keeper or his Deputy, Diet Money for One Month in advance at the rate aforesaid, during the period for which such Debtor may be detained in Prison at the suit of such Creditor; that is to say, within the last three days of the first and every succeeding Month during which such Debtor shall be detained at the suit of such Creditor; and in cases where such Debtor shall have been lodged or detained in execution at the Suit of any Creditor before the 1st of December next ensuing, the advance for Diet Money shall be made and deposited as before said, within the space of One Month from and after the 1st day of December next ensuing, and so within the last three days of the next and following months, during which such Debtor shall be detained at the Suit of any such Creditor. And on failure of such Payment and Deposit with in the respective periods and in manner aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the Debtor so confined to apply to the said Court, and upon Certificate of the Goaler or his Deputy, that such Payment and deposit of Diet Money has not been made in manner and within the periods aforesaid, the said Court shall forthwith make an order for the discharge of such Debtor from Confinement, at the Suit of such Creditor so failing.—And Provided also that whenever any Debtor detained in execution for any Debt and Costs recovered against him, shall be minded to give up the whole of his Estate and Effects in satisfaction of such Debt and Costs, it shall be lawful for the said Court upon such Debtor so doing, to reduce the respective Periods of Imprisonment before mentioned, in proportion to the value of such Estate and Effects, compared with the amount of the Debt and Costs, in case such Estate and Effects shall not be sufficient to pay and discharge the same, or if sufficient, to discharge such Debtor. And also in all cases in which any person in execution for any Debt and Costs as aforesaid, shall offer good and reasonable Security for the payment of such Debt and Costs by Instalment, it shall be lawful for the said Court to order such Debtor, after he shall have given such Security, to be discharged from Confinement as to such Debt and Costs. But in all cases in which such Debtor being in execution as aforesaid, shall be discharged from Confinement before full payment of the Debt and Costs, the property then belonging to or afterwards acquired by such Debtor shall be liable to be taken in execution for the Debt and Costs, or any part thereof remaining due, and also for the amount of such Diet Money as shall have been paid and advanced by such Creditor. And We hereby further direct and order that the said Court as constituted and declared by the present and the said Proclamations above recited, and all Proceedings of the said Court, shall be and they are hereby declared to be, subject to the control of His Majesty's Supreme Court at Fort William in Bengal, in as full and ample manner in all intent and purposes as the said Court of Requests as formerly constituted by the said recited Proclamations by Law was subject to the control of the said Supreme Court, before the making of the Provisions and Regulations herein contained. And We do hereby further order and direct that in all Suits instituted in the said Court of Commissioners, from and after the said First Day of December next, there shall be received and taken from the Suits in the said Court, the Fees, Payments and Commission set forth in the Schedule hereunto annexed, and no more. And lastly, We do order, that this our Proclamation be published as the Law direct, reserving to Ourselves and our successors all such power as by Law we have or may exercise of altering, amending, abridging, or enlarging these Presents, and the said Rules & Regulations of the said Court of Requests.

By Order of the Most Noble the Governor General in Council, Madras.

The Providence, which was to sail for Bombay on Friday last, parted from her anchors on that day and was blown out of the Roads—she returned on Sunday and sailed in prosecution of her voyage.

The Brig Wasp came on shore on Monday, from some unaccountable accident.—She grounded to the Northward of the Black Town, and was quickly knocked to pieces.

Our roads are now entirely clear of the Shipping, and nothing can be more dreary than the appearance to seaward.—The Pilot was the last that quitted them—she sailed on Saturday for Colombo, and will return here immediately after the Mousoon to receive freight for England.

Only two small craft remain.

The Brig Wasp, which we stated in our last to have been run on shore off Royapooram owing to some unaccountable circumstance, was put up for sale for the benefit of the Underwriters on Friday, and was knocked down for 560 Pagodas.

The weather has been insupportably sultry for the last ten days, and very little rain has fallen. Heavy clouds, however, have been hanging to the Northward and Westward the last few days, and we trust the change of the Moon will bring with it the setting in of the Mousoon—the rains are greatly wanted.

The Blenheim, Captain Shirley, sailed for England on Friday last.

Accounts from St. Helena, announce the arrival there on the 1st of July of the Honorable Company's Ship General Hewitt—the Passengers all well. The Weather from the Isle of France until they passed the Cape is stated to have been very tempestuous. The Ex-Emperor is reported to be in good health, but still declined receiving the visits of strangers. Madame Merland is said to be still at St. Helena, and not to have returned to Europe, as was formerly stated, for the purpose of superintending the education of her children.—The Ships David Scott and Margaret, reached the Island on the 7th of July. The Hewitt sailed on the 8th and the Margaret on the 9th, for England.

Bombay.

On Tuesday last the fourth sessions of over and terminer, &c. for this island, &c. commenced before the Hon'ble Court of the Recorder.

The packet mails for the Hon'ble Company's chartered ship York are to be closed this evening at the Kugh 10:00. This ship we understand goes to sea in the morning.

The free trader Bombay Merchant, Capt. J. Clarkson, for London, will sail about the end of the present month, and the Hon'ble Company's chartered ship Marquis of Hastings, and free trader Albinia about the 1st of next month. The Prince Regent is also loading for England, and it is expected she will be ready for sea between the 5th and 10th proximo.

By the statement of the quantity of rain fallen at Bombay in several successive years which is given in our metrical column this day, it appears that we have had only a moderate fall of rain, though the lateness of the season and the continuance of wet drizzling weather seems to have impressed most people with the idea that we have had a heavier fall of rain this year than usual.

The following is the proposed arrangement for the Troops about to embark, for the Persian Gulf; though the exact number to each ship, is not yet allotted.

It is supposed that this Armament will be ready about the 29th instant.

We regret to state, that some cases of Cholera, still continue to lurk about the Ships in the Harbour.

On Monday last the Orient, Captain Reynolds, from London the 18th June, arrived here. This ship touched at Madeira & the Mauritius, at the latter island she left the Sarah, Captain Norton, bound for this place, and expected to sail in 4 or 5 days after her.

The following is a list of passengers per Orient.

Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Mackonochie; Captain and Mrs. Campbell; 2 Miss Sheriffs; Miss Moorhead; Miss Brown; Captain Crozier; Captain Cocke; Captain Hackness; Captain Newman; Messrs. Green and Grey, Assistant Surgeons; Messrs. Jones, Wilkinson, Smee, Harrocks, and Hackness, Cadets; Mr. Brown, free mariner.

Pending.

The H. C. Ships William Pitt and Larkins have arrived since our last. By the latter Mr. Macaulisela has returned, and we are very happy to add, in apparently excellent health.

NOVEMBER 22.

On Thursday last, the Grand Jury having concluded their business for the late Session, delivered a presentment to the Court, in which, among other matters, they stated that it had come to their knowledge, that farmers and holders of bazars in Calcutta, have assumed the right of demanding, under the name of Tubbazaree, a certain amount from all persons carrying forth, or merely passing with goods, within certain limits—in which, they included the streets and highways,—claiming the right of stopping goods, in order to ascertain whether they were going for sale, that in such case they might levy the exaction. The Presentment further stated, that this practice was not only, not warranted by any authority conveyed by Government to the holders of Bazars, but on a former occasion had been specially forbidden. On a subject noticed in the charge of The Hon'ble Mr. Justice BULLER, published in our paper of the 25th ultimo, the presentment of the Grand Jury, contains the following statement:

"There is another subject noticed in the charge received by the Grand Jury from the bench, in regard to which they desire to offer a few remarks, and that is the notoriety of great abuses being practised by the native police officers of this city. One charge of the kind, in which two of the inferior European agents of police are included, has been brought by private Bill before the Grand Jury, and the indictment having been found, the case will be brought to trial in regular course.

"The public may rest assured, that the Grand Jury will always be disposed to give to any cases of this nature, that may be brought forward by individuals, the most patient and attentive consideration in their power. But it must be obvious, that the check to abuse in this department, that is likely to result from the option possessed by individuals of applying to the Grand Jury for redress, must afford very inadequate security, and that the main reliance of the public must always be in the executive magistracy.

"The Grand Jury are at the same time fully sensible of the degree in which the exertions of the magistracy are continually directed to the control of their inferior ministerial agents, and as the employment of native officers is an unavoidable part of the system of police adopted, they are disposed to make every allowance for the difficulty which must be experienced in ascertaining and eradicating abuses, which it is the interest of so many to keep concealed by all manner of means.

"It occurs, however, to the Grand Jury, that much of the abuse that prevails, will arise from the undefined nature of the power possessed by the native police-officers, and the consequent ignorance of the public at all times, whether they are acting in the ordinary course of duty, or abusing the authority for other purposes, under the pretence of official exertion. In so far as the abuses complained of, may arise from this cause, the Grand Jury conceive, that an effectual remedy might be provided, by giving publicity to any rules that may now be in force to regulate the general powers and duties of police-officers, or if there should be none such already prepared in a form to be made available for public information, by causing a body of rules to be drawn up and printed in the English and Bengally language for general circulation."

We collect from a letter in the last number of the Mirror, that on the 14th ultimo, an entertainment was given on board the Ship Bengal, which has lately proceeded to Sea. The party consisted of about fifty, ladies and gentlemen—and upwards of half the number were soon afterwards seized with a dangerous fever, which has already proved fatal to eight of the party, including the commander and surgeon of the ship. It is added by the writer of this letter, that several others were on the 16th instant, in a dangerous state. This sad mortality has given rise to numerous conjectures, but we have not heard that the cause of the malady has been ascertained. The Editor of the Mirror observes, that the fever was Typhus.

The Asiatic Society held a meeting on the 13th instant, the MARQUIS OF HASTINGS in the chair, when the following Committee was elected for the present year:—

VICE PRESIDENTS.

The BISHOP of CALCUTTA, Sir E. H. EAST,		Colonel HARDWICK, W. B. BAYLEY, Esq.
--	--	---

Messrs. G. SWINTON, H. MACKENZIE, J. BENTLEY, J. ATKINSON, G. J. GORDON,		The Revd. J. PARRON, Dr. CAREY, Doctor WALLICH, AND Captain ROXBURGH.
--	--	---

Captain LOCKETT officiates as Secretary during the absence of Mr. Wilson from the Presidency.

A letter was read from Dr. McCulloch, of Baltimore, who some time ago presented to the Society his ingenious Essay on the Aborigines of America. He has been induced to make some inquiries, interesting to the history of the human family, and of especial use in the particular investigation he has long been employed upon, which he has addressed to the members of the Asiatic Society. He conceives it highly desirable to obtain further descriptions and, if possible, drawings of the Moeris (Hinder, more) and other monuments to be found in various Islands of the Pacific Ocean, particularly those of the Friendly, Society, Sandwich, and Eastern Islands. The island of Tinian, one of the Marianne Islands, (see La Perouse, and subsequent navigators), contains some singular monuments which Dr. McCulloch says are entirely unknown to him, except from the very brief description given of them by Lord Anson in his voyages.*

* The Jesuit Gobien, has published a particular history of the Indopes, or Marian Islands. See also the Supplement of De Baissey, 11492, for an ample account of the Ladrões.

The deities worshipped in the islands of the Pacific he recommends as deserving of investigation, no particular account of them having hitherto appeared.

Dr. McCulloch observes, that General Vaincy has stated in the 87th page of his Irish Grammar, (Dublin 1751,) that the Persians instead of intercalating, as is customary, one day every four years, to adjust their years with the course of the sun, they regarded no years until they amounted to 30 days, which does not take place in less than 120 years. These thirty days were then added to the year, (making a year of 13 months,) which year was called Bileek. This mode of intercalation is said by Dr. McCulloch to bear a singular resemblance to the method of the Mexicans, and he is therefore anxious to ascertain, through the medium of the society, whether there are any other parts of an astronomical system to be found among the Persians to which such a mode of intercalation would seem properly to belong.

At the last meeting, Mr. Palmer presented to the society a marine production, called the Sponge plant obtained on the coast of the newly acquired island of Singapore. Colonel Hardwicke, one of the most distinguished naturalists of this country, has favoured the society with a description of it. He observes, that in the Systema Naturae of Linnaeus, it belongs to the natural class Vermes; and to the genus, Spongia. In its form it resembles that kind of dipterocarp, or a goblet, with a well defined base or root, a cylindrical stem, and a capacious bowl or cup. Its texture is non-articulate, composed of numerous tubes or anastomosing cells; the external surface or endoskeleton is not thicker than the coats of the tubes, and covered with innumerable stellated pores, which under a lens appear to be the mouths of many vessels, and ramifications of the internal structure. The root is formed of several irregular perpendicular shoots, in their origin apparently cellular, but enlarged by an accumulation of earthy, sandy particles and broken in shells, and of rather a fragile texture. The bowl is circular or sub-conical, with several nodes or protuberances, and covered both within and without with circular pores of various diameter, the mouths which are closed with fine cottony fibres, radiating from the circumference to the centre; and the same fibrous substance extends over the surface of the bowl, giving to it when viewed with a lens of common powers, a tormentous appearance. The stem, cylindrical, of proportional height and thickness, and of the same cellular substance as the bowl.

The foregoing description is taken from a specimen something larger than the one in the Society's Museum, the dimensions being as follow. The greatest diameter of the bowl is, at its brim, 17 inches; the smallest at the bottom 7; in the middle 12½; the circumference of the stem 17, but near the root is a tumescence increasing it to a larger dimension. The cavity is capable of containing 35 quarts.

Colonel HARDWICKE further observes, that in an essay on British Sponges by George Montagu, Esq. published in the 2d volume of the Transactions of the Wernerian Society, is described a sponge under the specific denomination of Seypha, and this sponge in its characters has affinity to the subject here mentioned. The Indian species, however, is gigantic in all its parts, compared with Spongia Seypha, and a more appropriate specific distinction may perhaps be given to this, in denominating it Spongia Patera the Goblet Sponge.

Several articles have been selected as presents for the Edinburgh College Museum, in conformity with the resolution passed at the last meeting. They will be forwarded by the Marquis of Hastings &

Some beautiful models in ebony, of the instruments used, by the natives of India in manufactures and husbandry, were laid before the Society.

Colonel FITZGERALD presented through the medium of the Most Noble the President, his Travels through India and Egypt to England.

A copy of Récherches sur la découverte de l'Essence de Rose, par M. Langles, was also received.

The narrative of a Journey from Soobat'ho to Shipkè in Chinese Tartary, by Lieutenant A. Gerard of the Bengal Infantry, was presented by Mr. Mercer, at the desire of Sir David Ochterlony. The journey occupied a period from the 23d of September to the 22d of November, 1818.

Soobat'ho lies in lat. $30^{\circ} 58''$ and long. $77^{\circ} 2''$ and is 4,300 feet above the level of the sea. On the 26th of September, Lieutenant Gerard reached Gujynde, in Nawar, a small district of Buehur, famous for its numerous iron mines. It contains but few spots fit for cultivation, and the inhabitants, who are miners, live chiefly by their trade in iron. They work the mines only about three months in the year, and commence digging them in March, after the snow has sufficiently melted.

On the 2d of October he pitched his tent on the crest of the Broong Pass, 13,095 feet above the level of the sea. It is situated in lat. $31^{\circ} 23''$ and long. $78^{\circ} 10''$. The country is secluded, rugged, and barren, and the villages very thinly scattered, not more than one or two occurring in a stage. The inhabitants wear a frock of white blanket, often two fold, reaching down to the knees, and having sleeves, a pair of trousers and girdle of the same, a cap of black blanket like a bonnet, and shoes, of which the upper part is woollen, and the sole alone leather. The people are very dark and extremely dirty, the villages are generally large and the houses spacious and even elegant. They are built of stone and wood, and either slated or thatched, the last is most common. The temples of the Deotas (Deities) are magnificent and adorned with a profusion of ornaments. In Koonawur the crops are extremely poor, and in time of scarcity small peas and horse chestnut, after being steeped in water to take away their bitterness, are dried and ground into flour. Bears are very numerous, and the dogs are of a large ferocious breed, covered with wool, and generally chained during the day, otherwise it would be dangerous to approach a village. The language differs much from the Hindoo, most of the substantives ending in ing and ung and the verbs in ing and nig.

At Rispe he first saw Lemus, and near that place he passed several tumuli, from 10 to 40 feet in length, 2 broad, and about 4 high. They are constructed of loose stones without cement, and upon their tops are numerous pieces of slate of all shapes and sizes, carved with strange characters. They are called Mane, and are erected over the graves of the Lamas. There are invariably roads on each side of them, and the natives from some superstitious custom always leave them on the right hand, and will rather make a circuit of half a mile than pass them on the wrong side.

From Blackwood's Magazine for June we understand that the collection of natural curiosities at the College Museum is on the increase, and ere long promises to be one of the most scientific and beautiful in Europe. The classical Zoological cabinet of Dufresnoy of Paris has been purchased for a great sum by the college, and is now on its way to Edinburgh. The sale of Bullock's museum in London was attended by a gentleman on the part of the University, and he is understood to have made purchases to a considerable amount. "Every month," says the Editor, "collections and specimens are pouring into the museum from different parts of the world, as donations by those who feel an interest in the advancement of natural history, and in our national museum."

The course from Brooung to Shipke had been about N. E. Lieutenant Gerard arrived at the latter place on the 18th of October.

Shipke is a large village in the district of Rongashoong, under the Deba or Governor of Chuhung, a town, or rather collection of tents, on the left bank of the Sutlej. Eight marches to the Eastward. The houses are very much scattered, and are built of stone with flat roofs. There are gardens before each, hedged with gooseberries, which give them a neat appearance. Lieutenant Gerard and his brother were the first Europeans the inhabitants had ever seen. The Tartars pleased them much; they have none of that ferocity of character so commonly ascribed to them; they have something of the Chinese feature, their eyes are small, they go bareheaded even in the coldest weather, and have their hair plaited into a number of folds, ending in a tail two or three feet long. Their dress consists of a garment of bliahet, trousers of striped woollen stuff, resembling Tartan, and stockings or boots of red blanket, to which are sewed leather shoes. Most of them wear stickknives, upon which are strung pieces of quartz or bone. They have also knives in brass, or silver cases, and all carry drop pipes of the same shape as those used by the labourers at home. The weapons, whose dress resembles that of the men, literally groan under a load of ornaments, which are mostly of iron or brass, inlaid with silver or tin, and beads round their necks, wrists and ankles, and lashed to almost every part of their clothes. While at Shipke the Chinese officers, of whom there are several to regulate the affairs of the country, brought to Lieutenant Gerard and his brother, 16 seers of flour, as a present. A short time afterwards the principal officer showed them a long piece of parchment, written in a character supposed to be Chinese, and said that it was an express order from the Gurpen of Garoo, under whose authority the Debsare, prohibiting strangers from entering the country. He at the same time observed, that Lieutenant Gerard had so many people with him (nearly 100) that he could not oppose his progress, but it would cost him his head if he afforded him the means of going on, and therefore he would not supply him with provisions.

The latitude of Shipke is $31^{\circ} 48'$ the long, $78^{\circ} 48'$. The people are affable and good natured. Lieutenant Gerard exchanged a gold button for a goat, which he took with him to Soobat'hoon. The wool was extremely fine, and almost equal to what is used for the manufacture of shawls. He was informed that the best was procured further to the Eastward near Garoo, or Gartop, which is the famous mart for wool, but its fineness seems to depend almost entirely on the climate. At Soobat'hoon 4200 feet N.

King of Lar. They likewise occasionally wrap three or four blankets round the men, and thus accoutred set out on their perilous journey. No herbage is to be met with for two days. Leh or Leo is the capital of Ladak, and about midway between Cashmere and Garoo.

The Wangtea J'hoola, a rope bridge over the Sutluj, consists of 3 or 6 cables close together, upon which is laid half a hollow fir tree, about two feet long, with pegs driven through it to prevent its coming off. From this hangs a loop of 3 or 4 ropes, in which the passenger takes his seat. It is pulled across by two pieces of cotton twine, that from constantly breaking occasion this to be a tedious mode of transporting baggage. The conveyance is a pretty safe one, but greatly alarming to a novice, for the J'hoola is elevated 20 feet above the stream, which runs with great rapidity and a deafening noise.

The Sutluj has a variety of name, being called Sutlooj, Sutrooda, Samatram, Sampar, Langhlog, Kampa, Makhung, and Zung Tree, in different parts of its course. Sutrooda is the most commonly used, by which name it is known from its source to the plains. By the accounts of many people who have travelled along its banks to its source, it issues from Lake Rawunrud, called also Rawathud and Lanka which was confidently said by every body Lieutenant Gerard saw that had been there, to communicate with Munnowar, although Mr. Moore oft could not discover the outlet of the latter lake. The circuit of Rawunrud is represented as seven days journey, but it is most likely both lakes were included.

But we must abstain from further notice of this interesting and valuable paper, as it will probably be included in the 16th volume of the Recherches now in the press.

Mr. Wilson presented a copy of his Sanscrit and English Dictionary to the Society.

Several sculptured antiquities were received from Dr. R. Tytler, and amongst them 20 castles of black stone, with three female figures upon it, presented by Major Thomas, of the Bengal Infantry.

A letter was also read from the Secretary, to the Bombay Literary Society, communicating a resolution, that any Member of the Asiatic Society of Calcutta who may be occasionally at Bombay, shall have free access to the Library.

Dr. WALLIS was appointed to act as Superintendent of the Museum.

The Most Noble the President proposed Baron de Richemont as an Honorary Member.

The following gentlemen proposed at the last meeting were unanimously elected members of the Society. Messrs. George Money, David Scott, William Eaton, William Linton, and Captain Lachlan.

Extract of a letter dated Mandyghaut, 8th November, 1819:—

"The cold begins to set in pretty intensely. The Kharuf crop is getting in, and has been favorable; the Grain still keeps high, owing to the native Monopolisers, not to any scarcity. Cotton also is high, and the nominal price kept up, tho' there are few or no purchasers. The Indigo has in general not yielded above half the estimated quantity, and among several planters not so much, owing to the lateness of the rains setting in, and the cold weather coming on so soon.

Every thing betokens a most promising crop of the Rubbee, unless the frost damages a part.

We understand, from unquestionable authority, that an Amateur Performer, long a very deserved and great favorite with the Calcutta public, has returned to this Presidency on the Princess Charlotte; and that this Gentleman has most kindly consented, to add his talents to the success of both pieces to be performed on Friday next. We are confident the public only need this information to manifest their acknowledgements by giving the Theatre what is called in the phraseology of this interesting Society, "a Bumper."

The Monsoon, which was longer than usual in making its appearance at Madras, commenced about the beginning of this month, with a copious fall of rain,

We have received Batavian Journals to the 4th September, but they contain no local intelligence worthy of translation. We understand they are chiefly filled with extracts, from the continental papers, long since published at this Presidency. The Governor General of Java, was still on his tour in the interior—and the Birth-day of His Netherland's Majesty, was celebrated with great demonstrations of joy and loyalty.

The Chouringhee Theatre, was not so numerously attended on Friday last as the merit of the performance deserved. The Comedy of Wild Oats seems to have had but little attraction, though one of O'Kell's most successful efforts. Rover, the hero of the piece, the strolling player, was performed with admirable spirit, both in the facetious parts and those of a serious character. The whole play was sustained in a very pleasing manner, and received the warm applause of the audience. The Marquis and Marchioness of HARRING were present.

Mr. and Mrs. LACY's 'second Concert' took place at the Town Hall on Monday evening. The performance appears to have given general satisfaction.

Yesterday a Meeting was held at the Town Hall, for the purpose of making arrangements for the splendid entertainment about to be given by the Society of Calcutta, to the Marchioness of Hastings.

From Jubbulpore we have received the following intelligence, dated the 1st instant.

The 8th Light Cavalry march for Pertabgurh, Oude, on the 5th instant. The troops and more especially the European Officers at Jubbulpore have been very sickly of late. Grain of every description is extremely scarce and dear throughout this part of the country, so much so, that the allowance for the Cavalry horses has been reduced from four seers per diem to three, at a period when it is most desirable to increase it. Even at this rate a supply sufficient for a month's consumption cannot be procured. For the last month grain and wheat have been sold here at 8 seers per rupee. The Commissioner at Sagur it is said, sent ten thousand rupees into this district, a few days ago, for the purchase of seed grain at any rate; but his people were obliged to return as they came, not a seer being procurable. The crops on the ground are very promising, and to the credit of the Commissioner on the Nerbudda he it spoken, through his exertions tracts of land every where, have been brought under cultivation, over which perhaps, had never passed a plough before, certainly not for very many years."

POONA TURF CLUB.

FAREWELL DINNER TO THE

Hon'ble Mountstuart Elphinstone.

The testimonies of society to public and private worth cannot be too widely diffused, and we have great pleasure in giving publicity to the following account of an entertainment given on the evening of the 16th instant, by the Poona Turf Club, to their President, the Honorable Mountstuart Elphinstone.

The members of the club, dressed in the turf uniform, having assembled in the old palace at Poona, they waited to receive Mr. Elphinstone at the principal entrance, from whence he was conducted to the Gunpowder Mall, where the whole sat down at half past seven o'clock to a splendid dinner, and the party seemed determined to forget, for that evening at least, that they were so soon to lose their noble patron.

The chair was filled by Captain Tovey, who had also the honor to be supported by the gallant Major Stannton.

Upon the cloth being removed, the following toasts were given.

The King.

The British Empire.

The Duke of York and the Army.

The Duke of Oldenburg and the Navy.

The Marquis of Hastings and the Government in India.

The chairman here observed, that he had unintentionally given the Marquis of Hastings before the Honorable Company, but he hoped it would be no disparagement to them to be drunk after that illustrious nobleman.

THE HONORABLE COMPANY.

The chairman having requested the attention of the Company, then addressed them as follows:

GENTLEMEN,

I regret extremely that it should have fallen to my lot to fill the chair this evening, as I am very incompetent to do it justice, but as I could not with honor decline my tour of duty, I hope you will be somewhat indulgent to me.

In proposing the health of our Noble President, you will naturally expect that I should say a few words, but I shall merely allude to Mr. Elphinstone as President of the Turf Club. The object of the club from its first institution has been to encourage conviviality and amusement. You well know how Mr. Elphinstone has accomplished this object; he has not only been the life and soul of all our amusements, but he has diffused a happiness in our society at Rooms which has made us the envy of all our neighbours.—(loud applause)

You must all have remarked, gentlemen, that the rare manner of Mr. Elphinstone's mixing company creates a degree of enthusiasm which is only arise from a deep sense of those inestimable qualities which have made him so universally respected and beloved.—(loud applause)

I regret, gentlemen, that I have no talent for making a speech, and what is still worse, I have no champagne to give you this evening. I shall therefore imitate the example of the distinguished hero opposite to me, (Major Stanton,) and place a deserving confidence in the valour of my troops. I shall rely, gentlemen, on your enthusiasm to support me through the night, and more particularly in doing justice to the toast. I beg to propose, gentlemen, the health of Mr. Elphinstone and may he long enjoy, with increased prosperity, that happiness which he has so widely diffused among us in the Deccan.—(loud cheering)

MR. ELPHINSTONE—three times three.

TOUR—Gail of old Gaul.

The enthusiasm with which this toast was drunk cannot be described, but it will be well for persons who have a strong susceptibility of the shocks of earthquakes, to refer to their memorandum books under date the 16th (1)tober 1813, betwix the hours of 9 and 10 P.M.; in fact we shall not be surprised if the repeated cheers of the sons of the turf in the hall of Gunnish, had startled the Peshwa in his retirement at Bittoor.

When the echoes of enthusiasm had died away, Mr. Elphinstone returned his acknowledgements to the club in the following terms:

GENTLEMEN,

I beg to offer my best thanks for the honor you have done me in drinking my health. The compliment is particularly flattering from so respectable a society. I rejoice to praise of this club is, that while it makes every exertion to promote the amusements of the society, it has never encouraged any of the vices with which such amusements are sometimes attended. I have, the more particular pleasure in proposing the Turf Club, and in its continuance to prosper, and to diffuse an example of sociability and harmony to all around it.

This toast it is needless to say, was received with thousands of applause.

TOUR—Bachelor's Hall.

The Chairman then addressed the company. He said he intended to propose the health of a distinguished member of the club, a gallant veteran equally ardent in defending the liberties of his country, the field as in contending with his friends on the turf. He had recently undertaken a long and fatiguing Journey, with the view of keeping up that Fruit de Corps which has obtained him the honourable appellation of Father of the Turf.

COL. NEL MACDOWALL, and may we long be able to hail him as father of the turf.

TUNE—The High Molland Racer.

The gallant Colonel then rose, and made the following reply.

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN,

I am highly flattered by the handsome manner in which my health has been drank. I had long been anxious to visit the western coast, and a kind invitation from Mr. Elphinstone, induced me to attend your first turf meeting. This not only gave me an opportunity of becoming acquainted with my sporting friends here, and at Bombay, but it has also introduced me to a society I shall always respect and esteem. Gentlemen, the kind attention I have met with at both stations has gained to all the warm regards of my heart; but at the same time I acknowledge this, I must declare that I shall do my best to beat the horses of my friends at both meetings.

This speech and challenge from the Father of the Turf was received with loud and repeated cheers.

The Chairman rose and said, Gentlemen, I am sorry to perceive that the Club is likely to lose some valuable members, and among others one, who I am sure, will be much regretted; his reputation as an officer and gentlemanlike qualities would make him an acquisition to any society, and I beg to propose his health.

Major Lushington, and may he long enjoy in health and happiness the reputation which he has so justly acquired.

TUNE—The bold Dragoon.

Major Lushington having allowed the plaudits to subside, made the following reply:

GENTLEMEN,

The very unexpected honor conferred upon me by our worthy president, and the very flattering manner in which you have drank my health, demands much greater acknowledgements than I have it in my power to express to you. Among the many gratifying circumstances that have occurred to me since I have been in the Deccan, I can assure you the having been elected a member of the Poona Turf club is not among the least. Allusion has been made to my reputation as an officer. Any little merit I possess, I feel to have been greatly over-rated, but as whatever credit may be due to me, was principally gained in the Deccan, permit me to say, the time passed here has been the happiest and proudest of my life: (loud applause.)

The Chairman again begged the attention of the company. He said that among other members whom the club were about to lose, there was one who was upon the eve of retiring to his native country; that altho' his virtues were probably best known to a small circle of his intimate friends, he could assure the company, that his name would be reconnected at Poona when many who had run a more brilliant career were forgotten; that the person was Doctor Coats. There was not a village within 20 miles of Poona where the Doctor's name was not familiar, from the recollection of his kindness and humane attentions in the exercise of his professional duties. The Chairman said he had no doubt that the company would cordially join him in drinking Doctor Coats's health, and wishing him all that happiness in his native country which he so richly deserved.

TUNE.—For a' that and a' that.

DOCTOR COATS then rose and said, "Gentlemen, I am quite overpowered by the honor you have conferred on me, and the flattering allusion made to my humble services. I have no doubt that my successor will be found equally zealous. I shall carry with me to my native country a grateful recollection of the happiness I have enjoyed in your society at Poona; and I hope sincerely, Gentlemen, that you may long remain the envy of your neighbours."

The Chairman next proposed the health of Major Sandwith. In a short speech, regretting his absence from indisposition, and alluding to his intended journey to England with Doctor Coats.

WINE.—For England when with favoring gale.

The Chairman then alluded to the circumstance of one of the members of the club having recently quitted his solitary bachelor-state, and proposed the health of

MR and MRS SLIGHT—Tune, Honeymoon.

Mr. Slight having returned thanks, the Chairman said he had another toast to propose, one which always gave him great pleasure, as it came home to the hearts of all men, and did not require a speech to set it off.

THE LADIES.—Tune, Green grow the rushes

Mr. Elphinstone then begged leave to propose another toast, and addressed the company in the following words:

GENTLEMEN,

As we have drunk the health of some of the members whom we are about to lose, I beg leave to propose that of our honorable member who is now to become an effective one. This is not a time to enlarge on the high public character of Mr. Chaplin, or on his other estimable qualities, but I congratulate the club in the acquisition of him as a valuable member of society, and a zealous promoter of the objects of the club.

MR CHAPLIN.—a march.

When the applause with which this toast was received had subsided, Mr. Chaplin rose, and made the following reply:

I could not, Gentlemen, have anticipated the honor which you have conferred upon me. If therefore the expression of my acknowledgements is inadequate, I trust to your indulgence to excuse me. The value of the compliment is the more particularly felt on account of its having proceeded from so high a quarter, and for the very flattering terms in which it has been conveyed. I consider it an enviable felicity to have been employed under a person so eminently distinguished by public and private notice as Mr. Elphinstone. This my good fortune led me to visit Poona, where you, Gentlemen, at the last meeting did me the honour to elect me an honorary member of the club, I avail myself of this opportunity to thank you, sincerely for this favor; and to assure you, if any humble endeavours of mine can in any way contribute to promote the objects of your institution, you may always command me. — (loud applause)

The Chairman having now announced his intention of calling on one of the members for a song, Mr. Elphinstone begged first to be allowed to propose a toast, and said,—

GENTLEMEN,

I beg to give the health of Captain Tovey, who now fills the chair with the same spirit and respectability with which he fills every other situation in life.

Captain Tovey having returned thanks for the honor conferred on him, the company were then favored with an appropriate song, composed for the occasion by Major Lushington, which was received with universal applause, as well as another of the same description by that gallant veteran, Major Bingham. Mr. Elphinstone afterwards proposed the health of the gallant vice-chairman, Major Stanton, who returned thanks in a short and impressive speech, which met with loud applause.

Mr. Elphinstone also gave the health of an absent honorary member of the club, Mr. COLE, a zealous promoter of the turf.

TUNE.—Paddy o' Rafferty.

Colonel M. Duwell then gave, Mr. WARDEN, the Father of the Bombay Toast; but it is impossible to introduce the whole of the numerous toasts drunk upon this occasion, and we regret to say, that many valuable speeches have been lost from the members not being able to recollect them. We observed, however, with much satisfaction, that the chairman noticed the many obligations which the club were under to Captain Robertson, the Collector of Poona, and that he also paid a handsome tribute to his old commander in the course of the evening. In proposing the health of Brigadier General Smith, and the Poona division of the army, he said he could not refrain from observing, that his (Brigadier General Smith's) division was one of the most efficient in the field last war, and attended with the very unusual circumstances of its gallant commander having been twice engaged during the campaign, in personal combat with the enemy, at the head of his troops. This toast was drunk with loud and repeated cheers.

• TUNE.—Grenadier March.

Mr. Elphinstone retired about midnight, highly gratified with the entertainment; and the whole of the party broke up soon after, but when they awoke from their slumbers, after such a night of bliss, it was hard to say whether they felt most the effects of their enthusiasm, or the consciousness that they had bid an affectionate farewell to their noble President.

“When shall we meet his like again?”

A correspondent from Poona writes us, that the Honorable Mr. Elphinstone leaves that city for this presidency on the 26th instant. We regret that the late hour our correspondent's letter reached us yesterday evening, has precluded our inserting until next week, the interesting account he has sent us.

NOVEMBER 25.

The entertainment intended to be given to the Marchioness of Hastings, is fixed for Tuesday the 1st of Dec.

The anniversary of St. ANDREW will, 1814, be celebrated to-morrow, in the usual manner, at the Town Hall. The terms of invitation announce, that Dinner will be on the table at half past two o'clock precisely. The chair will be filled by the Gentleman who has presided at the same entertainments for many years past—Mr. R. CURRIE, Ferguson.

The mortality which followed the entertainment on Board the Ship Bengal, to which we alluded in our last paper, has been ascribed to effluvia supposed to have been occasioned by Buffalo horns, which formed part of the Cargo of that Vessel: and as letters are stated to have been dispatched to prevent that Ship from proceeding to Sea—but too late—apprehensions may be entertained, by those who are interested in the fate of her officers and crew. We understand that Buffalo horns have been frequently shipped from Calcutta, without producing any mischievous effect; and that those which were shipped on the Bengal were in a proper condition for transportation, and free from all adhesive matter. We also learn, that when this part of the cargo of the Ship in question, was put on board, no offensive smell was experienced; and that the quantity shipped was scarcely a fiftieth part of her Cargo, and was merely employed as dunnage. Numerous Cargoes consisting of Tallow, Hides and Horns, from South America, are continually transported to Great Britain, and are often in a damaged state, yet, the crews of Vessels, employed in carrying these articles, are not subject to extraordinary sickness; and as the melancholy events, which followed the visit to the Bengal, may be ascribed to other causes, we trust that no particular apprehension need be entertained respecting the health of those who have proceeded to sea on that vessel.

Packet Letter Mails are now open for the transmission of Letters to England. The chartered Ship Hughley, and the regular Ships Rose and Mnerva, are expected to sail on the 4th and 5th proximo.

Mr. CLEGHORN of the Madras Bar, has been appointed Prothonotary and Register of the Supreme Court at Madras, in succession to the late Mr. SHAW.

We collect from the Sporting Intelligences transmitted from Madras that the races near St. Thomas's Mount, are fixed for the 19th, 22d, 25th and 28th of January next. However, it is expected. The bill of fare, sent to us, is too late for insertion; but, we observe, that all English horses are excluded.

It will be seen by extracts from the Bombay Papers, that the Right Honble Sir EVAN NAPIER, Bart. late Governor of Bombay, has departed for England; and that the Honorable MOUNTSTUART ELPHINSTONE, has taken the usual oath and his seat, as Governor of Bombay.

A farewell address has been presented by the Civil and Military Officers at Poonah to the Honorable MR. ELPHINSTONE, on the occasion of his departure from the Deccan. The Bombay Courier, which contains the address, reached us too late, to admit of our inserting it in our present number.—The address is signed by Brigadier-General SMITH and a long list of names; and in our next we shall publish this document, and Mr. E.'s reply.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Comdg. Saugor Field Force.

SIR,

We the undersigned Officers and Staff of the Saugor Field Force, on the approaching separation of the corps now composing it, cannot omit the opportunity of indulging our feelings by this cordial expression of our respect and esteem, for an Officer under whose command it has been our good fortune to be placed.

In the various services on which the Division has been employed, we have viewed with sentiments of admiration the indefatigable zeal, activity, and gallantry, by which your career has been so eminently distinguished, and in these most dazzling qualities, we must not lose sight of that considerate regard for the feelings and comfort of others, which has so much conducted to the happiness of the Division, and strengthened the ties of duty, by those of attachment.

As a Member of Society your friendly attention, and urbanity, have impressed us with a high sense of your social and private virtues.

affected by these feelings, we request that you will honour us by the acceptance of a breakfast service. Place to be commissioned from England, is a small token of our regard: together with the assurance that whatever future career may be, the remembrance of General can never fail to be cherished.

TO THE OFFICERS AND STAFF,

Of the Saugor Field Force.

GENTLEMEN,

The satisfaction I feel at this flattering and unexpected mark of your favour and esteem, is greater than I have words to express. Such sentiments coming from Officers I have had the honor to command, and the good fortune and happiness to serve with in the Field, are peculiarly gratifying and bear with them a value of no ordinary stamp. The honorable notice you have taken of my services with the division is more than I feel myself entitled to, as in the execution of my duty I have been so ably supported by the Officers, and men, whose conduct, on every occasion, I have witnessed, has called forth my unqualified applause and admiration, and to whom the merit of our success is justly due.

It has invariably been my wish to study the comfort and happiness of those placed under my command, and it is therefore most gratifying to me to learn that my efforts have not been unsuccessful.

I accept the service of plate with the greatest pleasure, which I shall always set the highest value on, and which will remain in my family as a proud token of your regard, and I beg leave to assure you, that the corps and staff of the Saugor Field Force possess my warmest and best wishes for their glory and prosperity wherever their future services may call them.

I have the honor to be,

Gentlemen,

Your most obedient Servant,

 8th November, 1819. }

Our readers will no doubt have in recollection the circumstances that occurred in the Straits of Sunda, when the United States' ship of war Peacock, Captain _____, captured the country ships Union and Breo de Mar. The period fixed by treaty for the termination of hostilities between the ships of the two countries in the India Seas. These vessels having been insured in the Phoenix and Star Insurance Offices at this Presidency, application was made to the American Government, by the Secretaries, for restitution of the property thus improperly captured, and the result has corresponded with the wishes of the applicants. Full compensation has been awarded by Congress in both cases, amounting with regard to the Union, to £12,000. and in the case of the Breo de Mar, to £ 3000. A circumstance connected with this result has been brought to our notice, which argues very favourably as to the mode of conducting legal proceedings, in the United States; the whole amount of lawyer's charges in carrying the business of the Breo de Mar through the Houses of Congress, to a final and favourable decision, being only fifty dollars! If professional assistance be equally cheap in the established courts of law, that are to be found throughout the United States, no American citizen need be deterred from suing for his just right in any case; from the apprehension that his costs will exceed the sum sued for, and we should suppose that all the business of a laborious term would scarcely furnish matter of charge sufficient to fill so much as one of the Proctor's bills exhibited by Lord Cochrane some time ago in the House of Commons.

From the Police reports we learn, that the casualties by cholera morbus, among the native inhabitants of Calcutta, during the week immediately preceding yesterday, have amounted to seventy-one, shewing a considerable decrease since our last report. The deaths, however, among the Hindoo inhabitants continue to increase, as they amount to fifty of the above number. On Sunday, seven Hindoo deaths occurred, and on Monday, five: while on each of these days only one Musselman death was reported from this cause.

NAUTICAL REPORT.

The Fama, a Portuguese Ship, who left this Port, in Dec. last, for Goa, and the Brazils, was forced into Mosambique, by adverse winds and storms, where it was found necessary to unload her, and on examination it was resolved she should proceed to Bombay, to be repaired. With this intention she quitted Mosambique on the 24th Sept. in company with the St John Baptist a Brig of War, but proved so leaky that on the 1st of Sept. the Crew were forced to abandon her and take refuge on board of the Brig, who landed them at Zanguebar all safe, with the exception of the Captain, Chaplain, and a Lady passenger, who arrived at Goa, in the Brig a few days since.

A new ship of 550 Tons will be launched at Damann, on the next springs, and will be added to the Tonnage of this port.

The Bussorah Merchant, Humphries, from Muscat, the 10th instant anchored in the Harbour on Saturday, and the Honorable Company's Cruiser Vessel on Sunday. These Vessels bring but little in addition to the paragraph extracted from the last Courier.

The Expedition may now said, to be on the move; several of the Transports having proceeded to the Middle-ground, previous to their departure.

The Biramgore, who left Macao on the 11th July met with nothing but S. E. winds which retarded her getting easily into the Mindoro sea, as was the intention; with these winds she made the Coast of Cochinchina, and saw most of the Islands on the Paracels, and after a long delay got in to the Mindoro sea, and eventually to Ha sin, from whence her passage has been pretty fair, as it was too late for a regular Southern passage and too early to make Ceylon.

The Portuguese Brig Cacador from Damann and Goa arrived at Macao on the 26th June; whilst at Malacca, on the 6th instant, they heard of the Charlotte's arrival at Pinang.

Batavia.—The dangerous shoals off Man eaters Island and the Great Samnays, are without Beacons, and most of the other shoals have only small Stake on them which cannot be seen until close on board, and yet the port charges are as follows.

On a Ship of 800 Tons 1 rupee per Ton, Rupees 400
Port clearance 5
Stamp 2 21

Rupees 407 21

This Tonnage duty is levied on all Ships that anchor in the roads merely for water and refreshment; we should think a representation from our Government would procure redress as its injustice is so evident.

Shipping at Batavia roads, on the 11th September: H. N. M. Ships Nassau and Eclipse corvette, and fifty one sail of Dutch Coastwise Vessels, Ships, Brigs and Schooners.

English Ships.—The Mary, Eliza, Britannia, Unity, Betsy, Duke of Wellington, Constance, Mercury, and Morning Star, three Traders, the Biramgore, and Brigs Favorite and Three Brothers.

American Ships.—Asia, Potomac, Neptune, Augustus and brig Edward.

French Ships.—L'Couler, and brig Legere; there were also many ships laying at Samarang and Sourabaya.

Ships at Whampoa, on the 1st of July.

Bergal Ships.—Hastings, Syren, Mentor; another ship name unknown was loading for Suez, principally with Sugar to complete the speculation, entered into last year, which was frustrated by the loss of the Mysore in the China sea.

American Ships.—Java, Indus, Alexander, and brig America.

We are at length deriving benefit from the Monsoon Season, in the fall of a copious quantity of rain. Since Saturday the rains have been almost incessant, but not violent. Some heavy squalls were experienced on Saturday night, and Sunday morning, and the following night; and the wind has at times blown strong from the North-West and North-East quarters, but upon the whole the Monsoon has set in very mildly this season.

The only vessel in the Roads is a Dhony laden with Rice.

The awful sentence of the law was carried into execution yesterday evening at 4 o'clock, upon an unfortunate Malefactor named Rottenkara Vencatachettam, who it will be remembered was convicted at the late Sessions of an aggravated case of burglary. An immense concourse of Natives attended the shocking and degrading ceremony, and we trust this necessary infliction of punishment will have a due effect upon the burglarious miscreants who continue to infest this Settlement. We fear however, something more is necessary to check the constant depredations which of late years have been committed at the Settlement by burglary. Even since the conclusion of the late Session of Oyer and Terminer, we have heard of one case of this description of an aggravated nature.

The Dinner at the Race Strand on Saturday was very numerously attended by the friends of the Turf, notwithstanding the very unfavorable state of the weather. Upwards of sixty Gentlemen assembled on this occasion. The Dinner, Wines, and every thing relating thereto, were of the first order.

His Majesty's 22d Dragoons, were expected to commence their march for the Presidency about the 14th instant, preparatory to the embarkation for Europe of the skeleton of this gallant corps.

Anniversary of the Battle of Trafalgar, and Ball and Supper to the Settlement.

On Thursday evening Captains Collier and Walpole, of His Majesty's Ship Liverpool and Curlew, anxious to repay the hospitality they have experienced during their stay at this place, gave and a ball supper at the Admiralty House to their numerous friends, and at the same time celebrated the anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar. The house afforded an admirable suite of rooms, which were all thrown open for the occasion, the floor was tastefully chalked with appropriate devices, The King's and Company's Crests and Motto's, Trafalgar and Victory were the most conspicuous. The company being all assembled, country dances went through several successive sets, and were succeeded by Quadrills. About 12 the company retired to the supper rooms which had been most tastefully fitted up on the Terrace, by an amateur, whose health during the supper, was drunk with loud applause.

On this Terrace (transformed into a Fairy Scene by the help of Flags of all Nations and variegated lamps) the supper tables were laid out a la Chinoise, and covered with all the delicacies this island affords. Wit and good humour presided and arising under the proud standard of Great Britain, Mr. Warden gave the most and appropriate speech, alluded to by our brother Editor, when the healths of Captains Collier and Walpole, were drank with an overwhelming enthusiasm, with three times three, and the national air of "Rule Britannia."

The ball room had however most attraction, and the merry dance was resumed and kept up till an early hour.

It is almost unnecessary for us to state that the ball was attended by all the Beauty and Fashion of our little island, and the guests departed with sensations of heartfelt gratitude for the amusement and attention they had received from their kind entertainers.

Kutch.—Letter from Booj, mention the actual appearance of the Joasmeej on that coast, and entertain apprehensions of their supplies being cut off by them. We apprehend the letter alluded to was written before the Antelope, and her two little attendants had reached their destination; for we consider, the apprehended danger at an end, and that their cheese, beer and bams, will reach them in safety.

A subsequent letter mentions that the Pirate Fleet, consists of 64 Vessels, with a crew of 7000 men.

We copy the following paragraph from a Bengal paper, as though the former part pays Capt. Sadlier some oblique compliments, and it would seem as if the writer of it had some personal acquaintance with him, yet the latter part, not only tends to reflect on himself, but also on the Government, that appointed him to the mission, which we have no doubt he will execute to the satisfaction of his employers. We therefore take this opportunity of stating that Capt. Sadlier, of His Majesty's 37th Regiment, now on an embassy to Ibrahim Pacha, is a gentleman every way qualified by his knowledge of both the Arabic and Persian Language for this service.

"Capt. Sadlier is fortunately a man of strong constitution and a man of keen observation: but the necessity of his travelling as an European Officer, and being unacquainted with the language of the country, will necessarily confine his sources of information, though it is impossible even to pass over such an unexplored tract of country and to return in safety without the most unqualified and unobservant traveller, having much to communicate that would be both new and useful."

The policy of assuming any foreign dress is doubtful, more especially with persons in any public situation, not even a mustacho should be sported; and our young friends may rest assured that any dereliction from our national dress, and from our national habits, far from calling down any additional respect, has the contrary effect.

Since writing the above we find that Capt. Sadlier had joined Ibrahim Pacha, and proceeded with him on the pilgrimage to Mecca, from whence he proceeds to Judda, to embark for India. His reception by Ibrahim is stated to have been every thing that could be wished.

Letters from the Gulf, also mention, that the Hon'ble Company's Officer Psycho, Gen. Guy, had chased on shore, and burnt a Pirate vessel of considerable force.

Though we have seen some Armenian Military Officers, and indeed understood that in the Russian armies there are many who have attained the rank of Generals, and hold the most distinguished offices under the Russian Government; yet it has but lately come to our notice that they had ever reached to any professional skill in Navigation. We were therefore very agreeably surprized a few weeks since by an introduction to a Gentleman of that nation, who is a proficient in the Mathematics, and who at present is in the command of an Arab Ship. This gentleman had a large collection of Books, amongst them several treatise on Navigation, in the Armenian character, printed at Venice in 1809.

The Honorable Mounstuart Elphinstone arrived at this presidency about 10 o'clock on Wednesday evening from Poonah. He was saluted by 15 guns from the saluting battery at sun-rise next morning.

We had a smart shower of rain on Thursday at sunset, which lasted nearly half an hour. From the appearances of the eastern horizon during the afternoons of the last five or six days, and from the non-arrival in due course of the Bengal and Madras dawks, we conclude that the Madras monsoon has set in with some violence, and that there has been a heavy fall of rain above the ghauts.

By the arrival of the Swallow, from the Mauritius, we have received a Mauritius Gazette of the 25th of September, but it contains nothing more interesting than a list of the passengers by the Sarah, Captain Norton, viz.

Hon. Mrs. Erskine, &c. and Mrs. Conwell, Miss Marten.
Messrs. Blood, Fenwick, Brandan, and Charlton, ensigns H. M. 82d.

His Majesty's ship Carron, Capt. Furreux, arrived at Port on the 23d Sept.

A great scarcity of wheat prevails at present in this island, and we have heard of some having been purchased by the bakers for their immediate wants at the enormous price of 120 ru-poor per candy. The scarcity is attributed to large exports of wheat to the Isle of France some months ago, and to the non-arrival of any subsequent supply from the northward, where we understand there is still a considerable stock on hand, but that owing to the state of the roads immediately after the rains, it had not been practicable to convey any quantity down to the sea coast for shipment.

On Thursday evening at Bowjee Castle, at the entertainment given to the Right Honorable Sir Evan Nepean, upwards of 150 Gentlemen sat down to an excellent and well arranged dinner. H. E. Sir C. Colville, G. C. B. in the Chair. Upon the cloth being removed, the following toasts were given—

The King.

The Prince Regent.

Sir Evan Nepean, 3 times 3; drank with great enthusiasm. Sir Evan returned thanks and gave—

Health and prosperity to the Presidency of Bombay.

The Duke of the York and the army.

The Duke of Clarence and the army.

The Honorable East India Company.

The Marquess of Hastings, 3 times 3.

The Governments in India.

The Hon'ble Mountstuart Elphinstone, 3 times 3.

Sir R. King and the squadron in India.

Sir W. G. Keir and success to the expedition under him, 3 times 3.

Sir C. Colville, Commander in chief (by Sir W. G. Keir).

Capt Collier and the naval part of the expedition.

The Ladies of Bombay (by Capt. Collier).

Various other toasts were drank during the evening, amongst which were, the healths of Major General Baillie; Lady Nepean; Lady Colville; Mr. Bell and the civil service; the chairman, Sir C. Colville, &c &c.

We understand that the Arabia, Capt. Lynn, will sail positively on the 15 Nov. The Right Hon'ble Sir E. Nepean, Bart. goes passage in her.—The Bombay Merchant, Capt. Clarkson, will not be able to proceed till the latter end of next week.—The King's pack boat H. C. chartered ship Marquess of Hastings, is to be closed about the 15th of Nov.

The Hutton Castle was sold on Tuesday, by the Sheriff for one lakh and eleven thousand rupees to Cursetjee and Jejangier Arduier.

We understand that during the three days that the treasury was open for bills on Bengal, at the exchange of 107 for 100 pieces Rs. no less than 30 lacs of rupees were received.

On Monday morning the Right Hon'ble Sir Evan Nepean, held a Levee at the Government house, previous to his embark- ing on board the Albion, for England.

The Levee was most numerously attended, and immediately after, the Hon'ble Mountstuart Elphinstone, took the usual oaths, and was installed in the Government. Sir Evan, embarked about 2 p. m. under repeated discharges of cannon from the saluting battery, and H. M. Ship Liverpool, and was attended on board by all his staff and a number of personal friends. The Albion being quite ready, slipped from her moorings, and proceeded on her voyage to England; and at sunset was out of sight.

The Expedition to the Persian Gulf.

The first section of the troops destined for this service consisting of the artillery and H. M. 47th & 65th Regt. embarked on board their respective Ships early on Saturday morning displaying on their embarkation, the most perfect good order and regularity, thereby confirming the character they have on many occasions obtained of being excellent soldiers. In the afternoon the ships proceeded out of the harbour and anchored, without the Reefs, off Old Woman's Island. The embarkation of the Native troops took place on Sunday morning, and the ships proceeded to join the first division, near whom they anchored.

Monday and Tuesday were occupied in making some arrangements for taking up another ship, or two, as store and hospital ships, as it was found, that in case of sickness, the ships were rather crowded.

They were in consequence delayed for a day, to permit the transferring of some men to the new transports; but it is supposed the Expedition will sail in the course of this day, leaving a small squadron to follow as soon as they can be got ready: the Fleet now about to sail, will consist of the following Ships:—

H. M. Ships Liverpool and Curlew.

H. C. Cruiser Aurora.

Transports. Hannah, Ann F. T. Jessy, Orphans F. T. Jemima, F. T. Glencle, Bombay Castle, Pascoa, Diana, Eranda, Prinzessmann, Angelica, Carroll, and Cornwall; in all 7068 Tons, with about 1000 Troops and Followers.

A Fire broke out on Sunday evening, in the Huts occupied by a Battalion of Sepoys, near the Boree Bunder, which burnt about 200 of them to the ground, but we are happy to state, that no accident was occasioned, but we are happy to state, that no accident was occasioned, but we are happy to state, that no accident was occasioned.

By advices from Bagdad dated the 25th Aug. last we are sorry to hear that the distress of the people there had been greatly increased by the most tremendous hot summer ever known even in that parched country. The thermometers, placed in the coolest part of the house of the writer of the account, rose to 120°, and air-midnight were sometimes at 108 in the open air. There had been, in the commencement of August, a storm accompanied by heavy rain, an occurrence said to be totally unprecedented in that climate at that season, and the effect of the burning sun, already overhated by the fierce season, was similar to that of the hottest steam bath. Multitudes of people, both in the country and in the streets of the city, dropt down dead from the intense heat. One small caravan lost 82 persons in this manner in the last three days of its journey towards Bagdad; and every hour brought accounts of some fearful accident of this nature. The river rose to one night two yards and a half above its ordinary level and became of a turbid red color, the waters were so offensive that it was impossible to drink of them. The people exclaimed that the day of judgment was at hand, deprecatory hymns were chaunted from the minarets, and the utmost dismay and consternation prevailed. The extreme heat had subsided at the date of the account, but the thermometer remained then at 108.

Major General Sir W. G. Keir K. M. T. in command of the force for service in the Persian gulf, embarked on board his Majesty's ship Liverpool on Wednesday morning last. The signal to get under weigh was made immediately after, and the frigate with the ships under her convoy proceeded to sea that afternoon. The remaining ships, consisting of the Francis Warden, Conde de Rio Pardo, Orient and Upton Castle, will follow in about eight or ten days.

GENERAL ORDERS, BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE MOST NOBLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM; NOVEMBER 20, 1819.

Ordered, that the following Extract (Paragraphs 2, 6, 11, 12, 23 to 26) from a General Letter from the Honorable the Court of Directors, in the Military Department, dated the 30th of June 1819, together with copy of a Paragraph which will be inserted in the next General Letter to Bengal, be published in General Orders.

Extract from a General Letter from the Honorable the Court of Directors, to the Military Department, dated the 30th of June, 1819.

Para. 2 By our Military Letter of the 11th December, 1773, to Bengal, Officers are restricted from drawing Pay until they shall arrive at the Presidency, to which they stand appointed. As cases may occur in which Officers returning to their duty may more readily reach their Regiments by proceeding by a different route than to the Presidency, to which they are attached, we direct that in future Officers be entitled to draw Pay either on their arrival at the Presidency, or joining the Regiment, to which they belong.

6. We have permitted Mr. Russell to return to his duty as a Surgeon on your establishment.

We have permitted the undermentioned Officers belonging to your establishment, severally to remain in England till the departure for your Presidency of the first Company's ships of next season 1819-20, viz.

Brevet Captain and Lieutenant Patrick May.

Lieutenant Robert E. Loft.

Lieutenant Colonel Christopher Fagan.

Lieutenant John Fulton.

Surgeon John Shoolbred.

12. We have permitted Charles W. Welchman, M. D. and George Gordon Macpherson, severally to proceed to your Presidency, to practise as Surgeons; and we direct that they succeed as Assistant Surgeons on your Establishment; their rank will be settled at a future time.

23. It having been discovered that several men discharged at their own request from our European Corps in India, have upon their arrival in this country, offered themselves as Recruits for the service, we have judged it expedient to give instructions to our Recruiting Officers not to enlist any men of this description, and we have come to this resolution with a view of discouraging the numerous applications for discharges which, in expectation of being re-admitted into the Service, is calculated to produce, and which also entails a very heavy expense upon the Company, in the payment of the passages and other incidental charges of these men.

24. You will therefore cause this resolution to be notified to all such Non-Commissioned Officers and Private Soldiers, as may apply for their discharge after having served their contracted time, in order to guard them against a misconception of their being eligible for the Service on their return to this country.

25. We take this occasion of calling your attention to our Orders conveyed to you in our Military Letter of the 23d September, 1817, directing the insertion of the places of enlistment of each individual in his discharge, as we observe that several men have lately been sent home without the place of enlistment or even the period, of service being specified.

27. Should this be omitted in future, we shall be under the necessity of directing you to take serious notice of the neglect.

Copy of a Paragraph which will be inserted in the next General Letter to Bengal.

We have permitted Lieutenant Colonel J. Cunningham to return to his duty upon your Establishment by the ship Kingston.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

On Monday last, an Inquest was holden at the House of Correction, over the body of Doss Pooxtee, an Oorah, a crown prisoner, who was sentenced, by a judgment of the Court at the late Sessions, to eighteen month's hard labour. It appeared upon evidence, that on mustering the prisoners on the preceding afternoon, one was missing; and after diligent search the deceased was discovered to be hanging by his neck to a Denkee tracing rope, which had been affixed to a cross bamboo of the Denkee shed: when taken down from the noose, the body was still warm but life had fled. No one could account what could have led to this melancholy act, for the deceased had not evidenced any signs of derangement of mind, and as to his labour had always given satisfaction. A verdict was returned, 'Pelo de se.'

On the evening of the same day, a second inquest was holden at the Native Hospital, situate in the Durruntollah-street, on the body of one Nusseebolla, a Saes. It appeared in evidence, that the deceased had been displaying to one Shaek Bukhus, another Saes, his countryman, thirty Sicea Rupees, that he had received for wages from his late master, who had given him permission to repair to the Purneah district, his place of birth. Whilst so employed, two strangers, one a Classee and the other a Saes, introduced themselves, and solicited for a smoke of their hookah; which was afforded them. The Classee Gonce, now proposed, that he should go to procure some Toddy, and with permission would drink it in the stables—this was also consented to. When he returned, himself and his companion by the name of Caumoo, drank thereof, and was urgent with the deceased and Shaek Bukhus to partake of some likewise. The deceased drank freely, supposed about 5 or 6 earthern cups full, the latter only two, which however, he declared was sufficient to merritate him, and he fell asleep, in which he continued about half an hour when he was disturbed by Caumoo, who offered him some sherbet to drink; but upon his declining it, observing that he was already intoxicated, the other put it up to Shaek Bukhus's lips, who then struck the cup out of Caumoo's hand, which fell and broke to pieces. Shaek Bukhus was suffered to remain undisturbed for another half hour, at which period, the Classee Gonce suddenly rushed up to him and grasped his lumber-bund, feeling about his waist for money; he made some resistance, which being perceived by Caumoo, he cast himself on the cheragh and absconded. Shaek Bukhus, never helpless, secured the said Gonce, calling his tax that he had caught a Thief, which brought two other Saes in the neighbourhood, to his aid; to them, he delivered Gonce and brought the cheragh, when came to his view an earthern pot containing remnants of Toddy; some soft sugar in a phamen leaf and an empty phial, and some ganja, which was tied up in a corner of a cloth, and all lying upon the ground. The deceased was rolling about miserably intoxicated, making a great noise and feeling about his waist, as if for his money, which had disappeared, and himself in a state of nudity. Shaiek Buklus, in consequence, gave instant information at the Thana and the Police Officers arrived and took Gonce into custody, who afterwards pointed out the residence of Caunoo, who was likewise apprehended. On inspecting the phad, nothing of a narcotic quality could be perceived, it smelt like honey or a solution of sugar, but when water was put into it, it was tasteless. As the only object of the prisoners appeared to be theft, after due deliberation, a verdict was returned of, 'Excessive Intoxication.'

The weather has, for the last two days, been particularly mild, with the wind from the westward: the supply of rain, however, which we lately had, is not equal to more than one third of the monsoon fall; and as the present mildness of the atmosphere is out of season, we cannot reckon on its duration:—for a change of the wind must bring a return of the rain.

Chandah.—A very handsome monument has been lately erected at Chapulah, on the site of the breaching battery, to the memory of the late Major Goreham, by the joint subscription of the Officers of the Bengal and Madras Artillery; who served under his command at the siege of that Fortress in May 1818.

It will be remembered, that the distinguished Officer, to whom this public testimony of esteem has been offered, died from excessive fatigue a few hours only, after he had witnessed the successful result of his labours, in effecting a breach that admitted easy entrance at the same moment to the heads of two assaulting columns, composed of Madras and Bengal Sepoys, led on by the hero of Seetabuldie.

The Reliance encountered some very bad weather off Ceylon, and was upwards of six weeks reaching the Malabar Coast, where some of her Passengers were landed. The Bombay Papers have not yet announced her arrival in the Harbour.

Bombay

On Monday, his Majesty's ship Minden, bearing the Flag of his Excellency Sir Richard King, Bart. anchored in the harbour, having left Trincomalie on the 3d October, and touched at several places on the Malabar Coast.

The Minden fell in, and communicated with the Albion, on Wednesday last, and we are happy to state, that Sir Evan, was well and highly pleased with his quarters.

The Reliance, with Sir George Cooper on board, was seen off Goa, by the Minden, so that she may be hourly expected.

His Excellency landed yesterday evening under the salutes and honors due to his Rank, and we are happy in adding, in excellent health and spirits.

When we consider the general paucity of commercial transactions, at the present crisis, we cannot help thinking that positive evils are often productive of beneficial results: for if it had not been for this Expedition, against the Pirates, which has employed seventeen of our ships profitably for some months, those ships might have rotted at their Mooring; as there was no chance of employing them. It has also given our drooping commerce a pause, a kind of breathing time, that will do much towards its resuscitation. Of the precise object of the present arrangement, we have no very clear conception; but its magnitude, consider it to have in view, something more, than even, the extinction of the Joasmees. If, however, as we surmise an establishment is in contemplation, we may look forward to the re-establishing of our ancient relations with Persia, and the extension of our commerce through the provinces of that Kingdom.

That the Joasmees, will renounce the trade of Piracy, without being coerced by the strong hand of power, we have no expectation; the habits of ages are not laid by in a day, and we believe they are as proud of their profession, as any a Hengist or an Ulrick of former times. The only chance, therefore, of producing any reformation in them, is by settling near them, and inducing them by our example to become a commercial people.

Since writing the above, we have met with some accounts of the Joasmees, in a Bengal paper, which we propose soon publishing with some additional notes.

A Fire broke out in a street near the Mama Devi, on Friday morning last; three houses were completely destroyed, and nothing but the prompt assistance afforded by the Engine establishment saved the whole street and much valuable property.

Mahomed Ali Khan, accompanied the expedition as a private friend of the commander in chiefs, and not in any public capacity

Commercial—But little is doing in this way; if we except the loading of the Indiaman for the Eastern passage nothing; for strange to say we have only four Free Traders in the harbour, one only of which may be considered as in the market; our coasting trade has however been prosperous, and such the quantity of Wheat imported, that it fell at once from 120 to 40 Rupees per Candy; the resources of Bombay may be at once inferred from this.

A meeting was held at Poona on Monday the 25th October for the purpose of preparing a farewell address to the Hon'ble M. Elphinstone on the occasion of his departure from the Deccan. Brigadier General Smith having been invited to take the chair, and several outlines of an address having been submitted by gentlemen, present, the following civil and military officers were proposed as a committee to select and frame a final one from the materials laid before them.

Mr. Chaplin,
Mr. Lumden,
Lt. Col. Cox.
Lt. Col. Hoagmen,
Lt. Col. Colebrooke,]

Dr. Coats,
Major Bingham,
Major Sutherland, AND Major McLeod.

These gentlemen retired into another apartment from that in which the meeting was convened, and soon after returned with an address which was entirely approved of and immediately signed by all the party, and by proxy for many others who were unavoidably absent from duty, or being at too great a distance to attend.

A deputation composed of Gen. Smith. Mr. Chaplin and Colonel Cox, afterwards waited on Mr. Elphinstone to ascertain when it would be most agreeable to him to receive the address, when that gentleman was pleased to fix half past eight that evening.

At nine the whole of the settlement was to meet at a ball given by Mr. Elphinstone, but long before that period the room was crowded with gentlemen who were anxious to evince their respect and esteem by being in attendance at the presentation of the address. At the appointed hour accordingly General Smith, accompanied by a great number of civil and military officers, received Mr. Elphinstone in the centre of the superb suite of rooms, where the following address was read and presented to him by the General.

THE HONORABLE
MOUNTSTUART ELPHINSTONE,

Sole Commissioner,

SIR,

The civil and military officers who have had the honor and happiness of serving under your Administration, since the breaking out of the late war, viewing the near approach of your departure from the Deckan, beg leave to offer you their sincere congratulations on your elevation to the more important government of Bombay.

Permit us to assure you, on this occasion, of the exultation we have enjoyed in seeing your public services so acknowledged, and to express our sanguine hopes of seeing them still further rewarded:

Our country at large could not fail to admire your talents, but it is those who have been fortunately associated in the public service under you, who can best appreciate the amiable disposition which ever guided the zealous exercise of your official authority; and animated our exertions, whilst it secured our private happiness.

We trust we do not exceed the legitimate object of a farewell address, which disowns adulation, or flattery, when we beg to express our admiration of the magnanimity and liberal policy with which you have governed and conciliated the inhabitants of the conquered territory; and which, by softening the distresses inseparable, perhaps from such a sudden revolution of government, have laid the foundation of their confidence and attachment to British rule; and have eminently upheld the national character in its purest attributes of generosity and justice.

With this tribute to you as an illustrious statesman of the most enlightened times, permit us also to join our remembrance of your conspicuous gallantry throughout the war, in every opportunity afforded you, from the glorious conflict at Kirkee to its termination.

The complicated duties of your important commission never restrained the chivalrous feelings with which you sought military service, and devoted yourself to danger by heroic example.

Let us add to these irresistible sources of our admiration our deep and heartfelt acknowledgements of your uniform kindness and attention to us, in private life.

Even our congratulations on your advancement to a more exalted station, cannot go unmingled with our regret, on losing the universal friend of society; your liberal hospitality shown to all, rendering us as it were, members of one large and happy family of which you were the head, must be recollected with gratitude as long as memory remains.

You carry with you, Sir, to your new destination our grateful affections. The individuals who now address you, however they may be dispersed hereafter, will contemplate the fortunate period which they have served under you, amongst their happiest days; and these recollections will be accompanied with our unalterable and ardent wishes for your future fame and happiness.

GENTLEMEN,

Notwithstanding the polite intimation conveyed to me this afternoon, I find myself unprepared to reply as I could wish, to an address, couched in language so flattering and so kind; such a compliment, from the society in which I have so long resided, and to whose good opinion I attach so high a value, is the proudest testimonial I could possibly have received.

I am particularly gratified by your opinion of my anxiety to promote the happiness of our native subjects, which has always been my greatest ambition; and my wishes have been fully seconded by the ability of the civil officers, the exemplary discipline of the military, and the zeal and humanity of all.

I owe you, Gentlemen, still the higher acknowledgements for the support and assistance I have received from you in carrying the Governor General's orders regarding this country into effect. I shall never forget their services, and shall cherish the memory of the interesting period we have witnessed together, and of the happy days I have spent in your society.

To General Smith, I have often had to repeat my obligations, and I have now again to thank him for the handsome manner in which he has communicated the sentiments of the society.

It will be in the recollection of the military part of our readers, that in our number of the 31st November 1818, we gave a report of an important action brought by the Registrar on the Ecclesiastical side of the Recorder's Court against the Major of one of His Majesty's regiments. This case has been submitted to the consideration of the law officers of the Crown at home, and the opinion given by the Attorney and Solicitor general coincides exactly with the judgment pronounced by the Court of the Recorder here.

NAUTICAL.

The Equipment of the four additional Transport, is in train; they will proceed under the convoy of the Vestal as soon as they are ready.

The Honorable Company's Chartered Ship Barossa, will sail hence on or about the 1st of December, to complete her lading on the Coast.

M. 34th Regiment, is Guilty of the Charge and additional Charge preferred against him, and do sentence him the said Private James Fitzpatrick, H. M. 34th Regiment, to be transported as a Felon to New South Wales for the period of Seven (7) Years."

Which having been approved and confirmed by His Excellency Lieutenant General Sir Thomas Hislop, Bart. G. C. B. the Prisoner to be immediately forwarded under an escort to the Depot at Poonmallee, there to be confined until he is delivered into the Custody of the Civil Power.

Although the Evidence adduced on Private Fitzpatrick's trial is sufficient to warrant conviction. His Excellency Sir Thomas Hislop would have preferred a more distinct record of the period and circumstances of the Prisoner's apprehension, than is to be found in the proceedings of the Court.

The Most Noble the Commander in Chief directs that the foregoing Order be entered in the General Order Book, and read at the Head of every Regiment in His Majesty's Service in India.

DECEMBER 13.

Extract of a letter from Coel, dated 22d of November, 1819:—

“The wings of the 2d Battalion 6th N. I. from Mooradabad and Shahjehanpore, joined at Coel on the 21st Nov. after a separation of near three years; this Battalion will commence its march on the 23d, under that experienced Officer Lieut.-Colonel W. G. Maxwell, in progress to Nusserabad, in Rajpootana, via Muttra.”

Mr. ASSEY, late Secretary to the Government of Java, has recently published a pamphlet on the Trade to China and the Indian Archipelago, which contains much interesting information; on subjects closely connected with our commercial pursuits, and particularly our intercourse with China. He has taken a general view of the commerce of the Indian Archipelago, more especially among the native states, not yet under the controul of any foreign power; and has endeavoured to prove, that intercourse with them, in the manner which he recommends, will be advantageous to Great Britain, by extending the consumption of her staple manufactures, and by promoting the demand for the produce of the native states, in the China market. Mr. ASSEY has likewise pointed out the insecurity of the present trade from England and British India to China, if timely measures of precaution be not taken to meet the progress of the Americans in China, and to guard against the system of exclusive authority, which the Netherland's Government are endeavouring to establish through the China Seas.

Mr. ASSEY next proceeds to offer his remarks on the nature of the trade in the Indian Archipelago, and on the consumption of the products of these Islands in China;—and observes, that from the earliest times, the foreign trade in the Indian Islands was carried on at certain ports or emporia, to which the native traders resorted, with the produce of their respective countries, and bartered it for the commodities of Europe and China;—that Acheen, Malacca and Banca were chief places of this description, until the Dutch, by establishing a paramount authority, were enabled to force the native trade to Batavia. Mr. ASSEY, however, asserts that the native traders have at all times been compelled to proceed to the Dutch Emporium: and that whenever the weakness of the Java Government, enabled the native traders to follow their choice, this description of trade, pursued its former course. That a disposition to avoid the control of the Dutch, raised Penang to its present state of importance, and gave to the British Government an interest in the trade with the Indian Islands, which it previously did not possess. Our author, then, as anticipating the new establishment at Singapore, observes, that a “conveniently situated Port,” protected by the British Flag, would be resorted to by Malay and Chinese traders, in preference to proceeding to Batavia; because, such a course would be conformable to former usage and convenience—and because, the natives of the Eastern Islands, have evinced “a decided preference” towards the British Nation.”

The history and details of the trade between China and the Indian Archipelago, are next noticed by Mr. ASSEY; but as these must be familiar to most of our commercial readers, we shall not dwell on them; and our author then proceeds to point out “the ground that had not been occupied by any European power, at the date of the latest advices from Java.” Mr. ASSEY contends, that by the last convention between the Dutch and British Governments, the Netherland's are entitled only to the factories and establishments, which the Dutch held in 1803, and not to the possessions, which they had abandoned at that period;—that consistently with this interpretation of the convention, the Dutch are not entitled to claim Banjarmasin on the South-east coast of Borneo, and that those Islands or Countries which are not comprehended in the Moluccas or Celebes, constitute a field which is still open in the seas.

We cannot accompany Mr. ASSEY in his progress round the eastern and northern coast of Borneo to the Straits of Singapore; but the information which he has afforded of the commercial facilities, which may be cultivated in a space, to which the Dutch can as yet prefer no legitimate claim, seems deserving of serious consideration. His accounts of the piratical states, and of the booty which is annually levied by these aquatic Pindaries—must, we presume, be well known to all who are acquainted with the Ladrões of Suluh and its dependencies: and our author suggests, that by the introduction of commerce and civilization among the subjects of the Suluh government, we may terminate their present piratical system—reform and change their character—relieve the coasting trade from the dangers to which it is now liable—and thereby facilitate the collection of articles for the China market in exchange for the manufactures of Europe.

Mr. ASSEY next discusses a subject which has frequently been brought to the notice of our mother government—and which, perhaps, cannot be too much or too gravely considered—we mean the rapid strides which America has made, and is making, to acquire a superiority in the China Trade. To arrest the progress of our rivals, he recommends, that we should adopt every practicable means of procuring enumerated articles, the produce of the Indian Islands; some of which, constitute the luxuries of the Chinese—and which always find a ready sale in China; so that by regular if not exclusive supplies of his description, of opium—of cotton goods—and of the articles which are usually transported from Great Britain—we may turn the scale of competition against America in the China Market.

It appears from Mr. ASSEY's work, that in the year 1817-18, the trade from America to China employed seven millions of Dollars; and 16,000 tons of shipping—while, during the same period of time, the British trade to the same quarter, occupied 6,500,000 dollars, and 20,000 tons of shipping. The advantage in favour of America, is a matter of ready calculation; and it must be taken into the reckoning, that the American Merchant receives his return in the course of one year, although the returns to the East India Company, require nearly double the period.—Assuming these facts to be true, it is manifest that the American trade to China is already greater than our own: and it is certainly

 Their mingling smiles brighten round;
 Joy waves his bright creative wand,
 And strews with flowers th' enchanted ground.

CHORUS.

Then weave the wreath of brightest hues,
 Bathed in Affection's purest dews;
 Of freshest—sweetest—buds that grew,
 And bind it round her honored brow.

EPODE.

Bufoar! — Bid yet another strain,
 Waft its high swell from zone to zone,
 'Till the Heart — awake again,
 Bid every chord enrich its tone: —
 This is the joy-inspiring day,
 That gave th' immortal Hastings birth,
 And sped him on his destined way
 To scatter bounties o'er the Earth.

CHORUS.

Then oh! to grace this Feast of Soul,
 Fill higher yet th' overflowing bowl;
 Th' exulting Song still higher rise
 To rend with joy th' approving skies!

At intervals between the martial and enlivening strains of the band, were heard other beautiful vocal performances—affording altogether a novelty, to scenes of similar festivity.

The Tables were very handsomely decorated, and we could not fail to observe some appropriate medallions by an amateur Artist well known in the Settlement for his taste and genius.

The Marquis and Marchioness of HASTINGS retired about three in the morning, but a great number of the party continued the festivities till about five. Good humour, hilarity, and harmony prevailed.

Our letters from the interior contain more favorable accounts respecting the price of grain, and the general appearance of the crops, than we had some little time ago any reason to expect. From these we select the following particulars extracted from a letter dated Barclay, the 21st of last month. It will perhaps ultimately be discovered that no actual scarcity exists, but that the speculators in one part of the country have been hoarding up their stock of grain for the supply of other quarters, where the very same charitable intentions are probably entertained with regard to them:—

"Our crops are very promising, and we have a plentiful Khurreef Harvest, but the damage from the Southward prevents grain getting cheap here—wheat 14½ seers—coarse rice 18 seers—bajura 28 seers—chu neh 12 seers—furd—moonge 14 seers—mote 19 seers—muka (Indian corn) 26 seers—jewahur 26 seers. The rubber crops are nearly all sown, and have come up very well; a little rain, (and which it seems inclined to give us) would do much good.—Oil 3½—ghee 2 seers 2 chattacks—cotton 2 seers 4 chattacks—our seer is ponderous, being 105 rupees Furruckabad, and our punsiree 525 rupees."

"We have had two or three frosty mornings. Moorcroft has gone up by the old pass, (the one we went in 1812,) called the Nectee one. I am afraid he is too late—as few of the Bhootahs will venture across with him just now.—You shall hear if he succeeds, as I have a man with him who is to leave him the day he crosses."

Private letters from Saneapoor, received by the Isabella, report very favorably respecting that interesting settlement. From one of these we make the following extract:—"This settlement is improving wonderfully, and is a most desirable place for the Eastern trade. No less than twelve prows are now here, and five sail of ships with Eastern Produce. All the prows will be obliged to go to Malacca and Penang for cloths. This port will take all the trade from those places. The harbour is one of the finest in the world—the inhabitants amount at least to five thousand, and are increasing every day. The following are the present prices of articles here—Pepper, 13½—Betel, 2½—Ratanis, 2½, and Tin, 18 dollars per pecul.

Private accounts from Penang, by the Isabella, are more particular than the news-papers, from which we have already made extracts, in specifying the degree of severity, with which the cholera attacks the various descriptions of inhabitants there. The deaths are stated to be from twenty-five to thirty daily; about five of these among the Chinese, and nearly the whole of the remainder among those from the Coromandel coast. Very few cases occur among the Malays or Bengalees; and the native troops, as well as the Europeans in garrison, have been hitherto perfectly free from attack.

high time, that something should be done to occupy the commercial resources yet within our reach, and which may enable us the better to compete with the Americans.

The comparative cheapness with which the vessels of the United States are navigated, and the quickness with which their Merchants obtain their return cargo, are familiarly known to our readers. The smallness of their vessels also enables them to trade with facility from port to port, along the coasts of the native states. The Americans usually purchase with specie, which gives them a decided advantage in Dutch ports—and from other causes, which have been often enumerated, they can afford to give a higher price for colonial commodities, than the British merchant is enabled to offer. They therefore trade with great success in the eastern seas; and it is stated by our author, that the native trade, along the northern coast of Sumatra, is exclusively in the hands of Americans. Mr. Assay, therefore contends, that every possible means should be attempted to afford corresponding facilities to the British merchant in securing for him also, a market among the eastern Islands, and in permitting him to resort to that market freely and without reserve: and that every argument, whether drawn from domestic interest or foreign policy, seems to point out the necessity of fostering the native industry of these Islands, and of obtaining among them, a permanent intercourse.

Mr. Assay has also noticed many prospective advantages likely to be derived from the plan which he recommends, especially, a direct intercourse with Cochin-China and Japan;—but our limits will not admit of our noticing the grounds of these anticipations, which, however, appear to be rational and probable. We shall not, at present, attempt to follow him in his reflections on the policy likely to be pursued by the Netherland's Government; nor can we afford space for his considerations of the rights which that government has acquired by the convention of 1814: but we think it is very probable that the discussion which has already been awakened in Europe, respecting the commercial relations between Great Britain and Holland, in the Eastern Seas, will terminate in arrangements, that will clearly define the authorities and connexions of the two powers, in that region and establish limits to the monopoly, which now seems to be claimed by the Government of Java.

We cannot pursue this subject, but recommend Mr. Assay's work to the perusal of our readers.—The Gazette.

We are indebted to a Friend for the following description of the Splendid Entertainment given by the Society of Calcutta, to the Marchioness of Hastings on Tuesday evening, at the Town Hall.

The entrance door was tastefully decorated with gothic architecture and draperies, the centre fan containing a transparency on a light blue ground, within a border of laurel leaves in brown on buff—the name of Hastings, with the words 7th December 1819 below, surmounted by a Marquis's Coronet.

The rows of central pillars were decorated with broad wreaths of variegated colored flowers—braided in festoons between each, forming a pleasing effect. On the left, on the eastern end of the room, was a superb tent of crimson and gold drapery, surmounted by a dome of the same, and a crown.—The lining was in imitation of ermine, and on each side it was looped up and fixed to three golden spears, to which was suspended a small shield in rich gold carved work, the left representing the Arms of HASTINGS, and RAWDON, with its quarterings, and on the right the Arms of LOUDON. Behind the two gold chairs appropriated for the honored guests was suspended over two Banners representing the Thistle, and St. Andrew's Cross, a shield with the Arms of HASTINGS, surmounted by those of LOUDON, and surmounted by a Marquis's Coronet.—The platform of two steps was covered with crimson velvet.

At the opposite end was erected a Temple dedicated to the Goddess of FANCY, with white and purple draperies, the latter giving relief to a beautiful golden Lyre, and festooned with wreaths of flowers. The fluted pillars were also wreathed with flowers. A figure of the Goddess was seen in the center placed on a pedestal holding a Mask in her hand, and before her an altar with a globe lamp at each corner, emitting each a different colored flame blending into one vivid light.—Two other female figures were placed on pedestals at the termination of each of the outer divisions of the room within draperies of white. At each end of the Supper Room were transparencies in the fans with the words HASTINGS, 7th December 1819—LOUDON, 7th December 1819.

The President, Four Vice Presidents and twenty Stewards were all distinguished by the plainness of their dress, as well as by a scarlet ribbon round their necks, suspending a badge of blue velvet encircled with a gold border and containing a Marquis's Coronet, in its proper colors, and underneath a dead-silver scroll, with the word HASTINGS in furnished silver.

The first characters that struck us on entering the room, particularly as they formed a part of the bright panoply—were the figures of a Knight in full armour of dazzling brilliancy, with nodding plumes, a shield and spear, and a couple of exquisitely humorous Yeomen or Beef-eaters—in their proper costume. On the arrival of Lord and Lady HASTINGS, the President, Vice-President, and Stewards met them at the door. The President, Mr. LARKINS, led her Ladyship up, preceded by the other Stewards—the Knight Yeomen in double line thro' the centre of the room to the Throne, where having been seated for a moment, they proceeded in a circuit of the Hall, examining the various decorations.

The dancing now commenced by the President leading off the Ball with Madame la Baronne de BASSAYNE DE RICHELIEU MONT, to the new tune of the London's Fancy—which was kept up with great spirit. Among the dancers appeared a jolly Farmer and his dowdy Dame, whose figure contrasted with those of her elegant neighbours, did not appear to much advantage.

A Friar with rubicund visage, baring on his back, a frolicsome dame, paced the rooms for a long while, lookless as it appeared of his eternal burthen.

Two tall female Beauties, ancient and modern, attracted universal admiration, notwithstanding the distance which a century at least had thrown between them in point of costume; they were inseparable, but we marked that the charms of flattery were equally well received by both, and that each bore her share in the coqueting of the times they represented. An Officer in scarlet and gold was seen to divide his attentions between and to evince that a Soldier is never fearful of attacking the fair.

A Gentleman of the old School appropriately habited tottered in and kept his character to the life; he was seemingly much attracted by the shrivelled charms of an old stiff maiden Lady of his own age who paraded the room with an enormous fan, evidently, courting admiration, ogling and simpering to entice. His observations. This last character, we may without fear of contradiction, declare to be unrivalled, so much stratched dignity of countenance, for below and ruffle we never saw more happily blended, and as a admirer of Hogarth, we must (except in en bon point) declare her abundance to the old maid going to Church—in his emblematical print of Winter—Robert's shaggy dog, was a variety of Pharo's lean legs, while his long ears, and his long and certainly have been a best case.

An exceeding tall man, in a black velvet tunic, gave us an idea of the height of which the Cathedral ought to be above all its fellow churches. It would be impossible to describe within any reasonable limits an excellent Mass that appeared. Many of the choir-masters were extremely beautiful.

The supper Tables were so distributed as to allow all the party to see the honored guests. The Presidents sat between them and two Vice Presidents at the same table in the inside. Two other Vice Presidents at the top and bottom of the tables, and the other stewards scattered at appropriate distances. To the north, in front of Lord and Lady Hastings was a small Piano let into the tables, where our best professional and amateur-vocal performers had stationed themselves, and on the health of Lady Hastings being given, by Mr LARKINS, the President, an Ode composed for the occasion, was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Lacy, and several other voices.
